REASON GIVEN FOR PRESENT PRICES

LIVE STOCK COMMISSIONER LOOKS FOR HIGH PRICES FOR SOME TIME TO COME—HOGS SCARCE

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5.—As long as the price of grain remains high and farmers are forced to employ inefficient help, the price of hogs and other natural products of the farm will remain high, W. W. Fraser, Provincial Live Stock Commissioner, declared to-day. "Shipment of hogs into the stock yards all this season has been very high from the three western provinces and shows curtailment in raising of this animal on the farms. The situation is becoming alarming and a feeling of unrest is prevailing among live stock men as to where the supply of hogs will come from," Fraser said.

"Shipment of cattle to Union Stock Yards during October passed all records. Receipts were 78 thousand head of cattle. This number equals the amount shipped for the first four months of the year," Fraser said.

WOULD PROHIBIT NIGHT LABOUR FOR WOMEN AND YOUNG

CONVENTIONS DRAFTED IN WASHINGTON TO IMPROVE WORLD'S WORKING CONDITIONS.

WORKING-AGE SET AT FOURTEEN YEARS

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—Draft international conventions covering practically every item on the agenda paper have been prepared by the organizing committee of the International Labor Conference.

One draft convention proposes that young persons under 18 years of age shall not be employed at night in an industrial establishment other than an undertaking in which only the members of the family are employed. The period of rest during the night is to comprise at least eleven consecutive hours, which must include the period between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. The prohibition, however, may be suspended in the event of certain specified emergencies. July 1, 1921, is proposed as the latest date for coming into force of the convention.

Other draft conventions which will be submitted to the conference provide that: (1) children under the age of fourteen years, shall not be employed or work in any industrial undertaking other than an undertaking in which only the members of the family are employed. Proposed date for coming into force: January 1, 1922.

(2) Prohibition of the employment of women in factories or workshops for a period of at least four weeks after childbirth. Adequate maternity benefit for such women to secure proper maintenance and care of both mother and child during the period of her necessary absence from work before and after childbirth. The organizing committee suggest that this period should be calculated at not less than six weeks. No date is fixed for the coming into force of the last named proposal. The organizing committee state that in this case they are merely submiting principles for adoption as the basis of a convention.

Night Work For Women.

(3) Adhesion by all states members of the league to the Berne convention of 1906, prohibiting night work for women, without distinction of age, in industrial employment. The night rest is a period of 11 consecutive hours comprising the interval between 10 in the evening and five in the morning.

Certain exceptions are provided in the convention such as the case of "force majeure" (absolute necessity). In regard to the employment of women and young persons in unhealthy processes, the committee expresses the view that unhealthy processes can and ought to be made the subject of regulations based on the principles which the general experience of the different industrial countries has shown or may show to be effective. They recommend that inquiries be continued by the International Labor office with a view to submitting recommendations at the next and subsequent conferences.

The proposed convention on the 48-hour week applies only to industrial workers. Commerce, agriculture, the sea service and other non-industrial employments were not inquired into by the committee.

75 P.C. NEW YORK SALOONS CLOSED

BALANCE DOING LEGITIMATE BUSINESS—FEW VIOLATIONS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Seventy-five per cent of the 5,598 saloons in New York have closed their doors according to H. W. Mager, chief of all the internal revenue agents of the United States, who has come to this city to relieve Col. Porter, supervising agent, in the New York division, who has been called to Washington. The 25 per cent. who are keeping open, says Mager, are for the most part conducting a legitimate trade in one-half of one per cent. beer and the sale of food. He expressed the belief that there are surprisingly few violations of the law in New York, and said his agents were looking for bootleg places.

"We realize that the revenue agents alone cannot enforce this law," he said. "It will take public sentiment to do it."

Thus far, there have been about thirty raids in New York, and about forty persons arrested. Hereafter, any internal revenue agent who displays a pistol while making a raid except in self defence, will be discharged.

Reports from various sources say whiskey and other hard liquors are still available in certain back rooms as a rule the waiters in such places carry flat bottles in their coat pockets and pour customers drinks. In case of surprise, the "evidence" is dropped on the floor.

NURSE MAKES FACTS PUBLIC

WAS TOLD OPERATION WAS HER ONLY HOPE—"TANLAC IS WONDERFUL," SHE SAYS.

"Speaking from general experience," said Mrs. D. L. Travis, a well-known nurse, residing at 721 Seventh avenue, Peoria, Ill., in a conversation, recently. "I know Tanlac to be a most valuable medicine and I feel it is my duty to give the facts to the world."

Mrs. Travis is only one of a great many in her profession who have endorsed Tanlac. She has been nursing the sick for eighteen years and her statement, coming as it does, from one of such wide experience, will be read with interest everywhere.

"It is my honest belief," continued Mrs. Travis, "that there are millions of people who, if they only knew Tanlac as I do since using it myself, would lose no time in relieving themselves of their misery as I have done.

"The way I happened to know of Tanlac was through a noted physician. At this time I was suffering from what was said to be chronic appendicitis, which had troubled me for seven or eight years. I would become so nauseated—almost deathly sick—after eating that it was a common thing for me not to be able to retain my food. I am speaking now the last stage of my suffering, after reaching the condition where an operation seemed unavoidable. But, previous to this time and for several years my health had been very poor and it was an effort for me to stay on my feet and practice my profession. I did it under the strain of suffering and when I came off from a case I was always so completely tired out.

"Finally, a few months ago, I gave up completely, took to my bed, and arrangements were being made for an operation, as it was thought I would never recover without it. At this point my physician and friend advised me to try Tanlac for a few days. Knowing he would not advise me wrong I ordered a bottle at once and two days later my suffering was letting up. Those terrible pains began to leave, the swelling and bloating commenced to go down and in a day or two more I changed from liquid diet to some more nourishing and substantial food. From that time on I recovered in a way that was actually astonishing to those who attended me. In all I have taken about seven bottles of this medicine and to-day I am as well as one can be. My lost strength has returned, my nerves are perfectly calm and no one could get more restful sleep than I do. My appetite is fine. I enjoy all my meals and I never suffer in the slighest degree with my stomach or in any other way. Nothing would keep me from praising this wonderful medicine."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

COMMENT ON METAL MARKETS

In its summary of the iron, steel, metal, and machinery markets for the week ending 6th November, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News, Toronto, makes the following comment:

It has been claimed in this report for some weeks past that shipments of steel coming to Canada from the United States strike zone did not bear out the contention made that production at mills was increasing quite rapidly. Events of the past week have shown this to be increasingly so. Shipments are more tardy than ever, and there are places where not a pound of sheet or plate has been received for almost three weeks.

One Canadian manufacturer returned this week from booking a nice line of tractor business in the Canadian West, and at once set to work to buy the material required to go ahead. On approaching the steel market he found that his troubles had only begun. He was not able to secure any material, nor was he able to get a delivery promise that would be of any assistance to him for purposes of winter manufacture.

The coal strike, if it lasts, will make matters worse, and may have the effect of putting new zest in the rather tired-out steel struggle. Steel mills use such a tremendous amount of coal that it is not possible to store a supply for any length of time. They depend, rather, on a steady supply coming in, the coal going directly and at once to their coking plants.

Delivery dates are still some distance in the future on machine tools, and considerable business is being lost to some firms on that account. As a general thing a dealer acts as an exclusive agent, and if he cannot get anything better than a May delivery from his principals, he simply has nothing left but to pass up the business.

The scrap metal market is in a poor condition for the moment. Strikes, and talk of strikes, has battered down any strength the market had. Buyers look for lower figures while sellers do not want to take the prices offered at present by the dealers. The result has been the bringing about of a condition not far removed from stagnation.

CHATHAM, Nov. 4.—A Harwich township farmer laid a curious complaint before High Constable Peters yesterday morning, alleging that on Saturday, when he went to water three of his horses, he found that the initials U.F.O. had been painted in large white letters on the horses' hips.

The farmer thinks the prank is the result of his attitude during the recent election, when he did not support the candidate of the United Farmer organization. The county police are investigating.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

To-night Mr. E. W. Brown, returned missionary from Buenos Aires, will give the closing address on this deeply interesting book. The subject will be "The Everlasting State of Blessedness: the New Heavens and the New Earth."

Last night he dealt hurriedly with the manifestation of Jesus Christ as the Son of Man on a white cloud attending to the harvest and the manifestation of Jesus Christ as the Word of God coming on a white horse accompanied by the Saints, to take the Kingdom and reign a thousand years.

In connection with the harvest there are three angel messages. The first gives the everlasting Gospel which is, "Fear God and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven and earth and the sea and the fountains of waters.

The next two messages are warnings. One tells about the river of Babylon and the other tells the fate of the worshipers of the beast. The torment of his worshipers as well as his own is everlasting.

Then it is necessary to remember that God, after trying the world with pure grace for two thousand years, has no other way except to try it by judgments to see if it will repent He begins by negative and light punishments and as man does not repent, slowly increase the punishment until in this section he comes to man's last trial by judgments. Here we have the seven last plagues It is God's last attempt to win rebellious man. The temple is opened the angels are sent forth and so terrible are these vials that no one could enter the temple because of the glory and the power of God that filled it.

The first vial brings grievous sores on the men who carry the mark of the beast; by the second the sea is turned to blood and all fish and meg in it die. By the third all drinking water is turned to blood as a judgment on the shedding of the blood of the saints and prophets. By the fourth the sun by an unnatural heat burns men and yet they do not repent but rather blaspheme God for his kindness in punishing that they might not go on in the rebellious course and end up in the great punishment, the lake of fire the torments of which are everlasting.

The fifth vial is poured out on the throne of the beast and by it, his kingdom becomes darkness and they gnawed their tongues with pain and their sores; these terrible sin-sores that in some way seem, according to Romans Chapter 1. to be connected with the mark of the beast and the passions of men.

The sixth vial is poured out upon the river Euphrates; this is a preparation for the great and last battle between all nations of the world, the kings of the East included, and the Lamb (Rev. 17:14.)

The seventh vial is poured out upon the air. Satan is the prince of the power of the air. It is followed by thunders and lightnings and voices and the greatest earthquake the world has ever seen. Jerusalem was divided into three parts and the cities of the nations fell, islands were lost in the sea and the earth was practically levelled and great hail came from heaven. Yet men blasphemed God and did not repent. Amid all these upheavals and down falls Babylon was visited with the wrath of God.

Two whole chapters are given about the same event and its beneficent results. A few facts only will suggest some lessons.

(1st) It is a religious system (a false woman is always a false religion). 2nd. She is supported by and rules an entirely Godless political system, an illustration being seen in Rome of the middle ages and the Godless monarchies that were subservient to her and supported her in spite of the fact that at heart she was as Godless as the worst of them while trafficing with divine things and names. Rome rode the beast. This is not a fulfillment but an illustration. 3rd. She was the centre of the world's wealth luxury and vice (so she was in the middle ages). She was drunk with the blood of the saints and martyrs of Jesus. People will not then buy the most costly diamonds and pearls and necklaces to attend the kings ball they will require them for the church services. "And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her for no man bringeth their merchandise any more, the merchandise of gold and silver . . . . and slaves and souls of men." Rev. 18: 11-13. She is destroyed by the beast and the ten kingdoms.

These facts and others teach us that time the religious world will be divided into two camps, the persecuting and the persecuted. There will be no Catholics, Episcopals, Baptists Methodists, Presbyterian and brethren, there will only be the true saints under persecution and a huge commercial, political religious system against the 144 000 saved Jews out in the desert under the seal and protection of God and the Gentile saints dying rather than take the foul mark of the foul beast.

Let us be wise to-day to see where things are going as men ask for restatement of doctrines, mutilation of the Bible and the dropping of the great truths of the sacrificial work of Christ, Divinity of Christ, heal new birth recreation in Christ Jesus and the lake of fire.

PARIS' SHORTAGE IS NOW OVERCOATS.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—Another "crisis," as the various shortages under which Paris is suffered are called—this time overcoats—has been added to the troubles of Parisr. There is a great lack of either ready-made or tailor-made overcoats, which the low temperature of the last few days make essential. The list of these shortages, upon which the papers daily offer comment, include shortages of coal, small change, sugar, lodgings, transportation and milk, with an intermittent lack of butter, bottles and many less necessary articles.

RETURNED SOLDIERS WERE ENTERTAINED AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH LAST NIGHT

St. Andrew's congregation feasted their returned soldiers in right royal fashion last night, "quite a departure from bully beef and hard tack" as one veteran put it in responding to a toast. Four large tables running nearly the full length of the Sunday school room, with four shorter tables at each end seated over 500 persons and "dug in" to the rations that were set before them. One hundred and twenty chickens and one lone turkey were cooked by the ladies of St. Andrew's and not as much as a drum stick was left unpicked when the chairman rose to speak. The room was profusely decorated with flags, and bunting decorated the tables and walls. Polished shell cases holding British flags were fitting ornaments on a fitting occasion.

Captain (Rev.) J. B. Paulin, pastor of Parkdale Presbyterian church, Toronto, and formerly of the chaplain service, who was scheduled to speak, was unable to be present owing to a severe cold. Captain Paulin is a fighting chaplain and went over the top with his battalion at Vimy Ridge and was severely wounded there. Rev. Canon J. C. Davidson, of St. John's Anglican church, substituted. He made a memorable speech, breathing patriotism from start to finish and taking a definite stand on some of the issues of the day. The chairman, Mr. Bruce Fowler, called upon Mr. W. S. Campbell to speak. The latter echoed the gratification of the Board of Management that so many were present to welcome back the returned men. He said the congregation were united, not in One Big Union, but in one big family. "We have seen this young natou put to the supreme test of war, but what is of more importance, we have seen her emerge victorious from the struggle," he said. Mr. Campbell asked everybody to apply the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." Canada has an important role to play in the League of Nations, a confederation which sees that right and not might rules. "Canada sent a force at least equal to anything in this war," declared the speaker. "And some of these men are here with us to-night."

Canon Davidson.

Canon J. C. Davidson who went overseas as chaplain of "Peterborough's Own," the 93rd Battalion, was the second speaker and spoke in a complimentary way of the Canadian Corps, including the Chaplain Service, and the stamina and cheeriness which they showed no matter what the discouragements. "Some soldiers say they haven't got all is coming to them, but I don't believe that they represent the great body of soldiers," declared the Canon. "Their work overseas can't be computed in dollars and cents. I think the country is doing magnificently for the returned soldier. But I don't believe civilians who helped in the war, who were a third line of defence, have received all that should be coming to them. They were wonderful, and to appreciate it you must be over there and then come back while they were working to appreciate it. The soldiers got wonderful backing and support from home. The people who stayed at home, but did their part, did considerable to win the war. Canon Davidson objected to calling Britons in Canada Irishmen, Scotsmen or Englishmen. They are all Britons, and as such, Canadians.

Two Classes.

There are but two classes in Canada. There are those who choose to remain outside Canadian citizenship but stay in the country, and the Canadian proper.." He spoke of the splendid bearing of His Royal Highness, Prince of Wales, while touring this country..

Church union also came in for approbation by Canon Davidson. He thought it was a good thing in every way. Each church holding its particular communion handed down to them, but at the same uniting with the other denominations for a Christian church.

Mr. J. Johns.

In moving the toast to the returned soldiers, Mr. J. Johns told of the wondrous response of the men at the call of the Mother Country. Their service will never be forgotten. "Our national freedom and hope for the future we owe to the men who laid aside ease to fight for right."

"We welcome you with pride and gratitude. Our hearts go out to those who will not come back, and their names are mentioned with respect. Now that you have come back to civil life I wish you every success on behalf of St. Andrew's church."

Mr. Allan MacNab, son of Mr. Alpine MacNab, responded for the returned men and commented on the feast they had and the rations in the trenches. Mr. Norman Brand, also a returned soldier, gave a picture of the Canadian Corps moving through Belgium on the way to the Rhine after the armistice had been signed. They went through Belgium where the civilian population still resided, although they had been under the heel of the Hun for the past few years. The people were so grateful that they decorated the horses and equipment with garlands and wreaths of flowers. He gave a half bashful general outline of how they greet you in Belgium, by kissing on both cheers, but did not give any person experiences. The Belgians did everything possible to entertain them while they were there, but it was a great deal different when they crossed the border into Germany. The natives looked on with stolid indifference, but after some time of occupation they found they were not as bad as they thought they would be and could behave as gentlemen even if they were soldiers. When they left Germany they left numerous friends.

Welcome Home.

He told how the Canadians led the march past in London and of the great welcome which they received on landing in Canada, what they dreamed of and thought of while in the trenches "over there." The supper was fully appreciated by Mr. Brand who also mused as to the difference of army rations and St. Andrew's rations. The welcome was heartily appreciated by the returned men, he said, and that they intended to carry on in their home work and church work as before.

Enlightening was the address of Mr. E. Mowry, who was a cook overseas. The ladies present knew how to cook a pie now without milk, flour or decent shortening and with an oil can as a pie pan. The daily ration for a man overseas was 12 ounces of bread, 11 ounces of meat, 4 of bacon, half ounce of buter and a few knick-knacks. They were allowed four pounds of coal a week to do their cooking with.

The Pastor.

Rev. James Rollins at the outset of his speech, thanked the congregation of St. Andrew's for being able to go to war at the same time hold his pastorate here. He reminded his listeners that he had been Quartermaster of the 93rd Battalion and spread such feasts as this many times. He issued the orders to the sergeants for this repast and came to see that everything was all right

Mr. R. H. Elliott, of Toronto, but a former member of St. Andrew's, spoke personally of an old friend of his, a very old "member" at St. Andrew's, the old rug on which the chairman's feet reposed. He hoped that when its years of usefulness was gone that it would not be relegated to the background, but would be given a place of honour.

Mr. Andrw McFarlane, who has "carried on" at St. Andrew's for 59 years, gave a short address and was followed by Mr. Fred McNeeley of the Y.M.C.A., Mr. George A. Gillespie, Mr. J. I. Allan and Mr. Charlie Thornton.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—Rev. Mr. Pogue writes another letter to correct the mistakes of his last one and to assert that the Creator never intended some of the materials which He made (whether we term them poisons, excreta &c., or not) to be used. In reply I have only to say that all matter is the same. The name or where it comes from makes no difference. It is matter. It is chemical elements in different combination that is all. That its use is good or bad depends upon the use to which it is put. Poisons when taken in quantity may be most beneficial when taken properly. There is nothing wrong or bad in itself in anything God has made and He created all matter. It is the use to which it is put. It cannot be condemned in itself. Its appropriate and therefore proper use cannot be condemned. Its misuse alone is open to condemnation. Total prohibition of materials is therefore absurd.

This is the last letter I will write on the smubject and I thank Mr. Pogue for his courtesy.

CATTLE SUFFERING FROM INFLUENZA

A WIDESPREAD EPIDEMIC REPORTED IN PETERBORO COUNTY.

A widespread epidemic of Spanish influenza has broken out in the city and country about Peterborough amongst horses and pigs, Dr. Johnson V.S., told the Examiner to-day. The disease, which is almost identical in symptom as that which attacks human beings, is evidently transmitted from the animals to humans, as the doctor himself suffered from the symptoms after treating horses in the city. Several animals have died from the disease.

Rabies in the city and country is extinct, Dr. Johnson claims.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 4.—A government victory in Port Degrave district in the general elections yesterday was offset by the loss in the Carbonear district, where the Opposition elected its candidate by a decisive vote. MY HEAD!

When the head feels thick or ashen, when one feels out-of-sorts—perhaps constipated, tongue—it is the sign that poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleaned out at once.

Auto-intoxication can be described to our own neglect or carelessness. When the organs in the discharge of their duties the putrefactive germs get in and generate toxins—actual poisons which fill one's own body.

Sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme faintness, biliousness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbance of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, many forms of catarrh, asthma, ear affections and allied ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning.

CHARGED WITH ILL-TREATING CHILD

PARENT APPEARED IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

A Cameron street resident was charged by Mr. G. W. Powell of the Children's Aid Society, in police court this morning, with cruelty to his fourteen months old child. Mr. Joseph Wearing, appearing for the Society, showed that the child was considerably undersized as a result of six months of beating from the father. Neighbours testified as to the excessive crying and some saw black and blue marks on the skin. The baby seemed contented in police court this morning and ate arrow root biscuits from its mother's purse during the proceedings.

The Magistrate gave the defendant, who has had fifteen months' service in the army, suspended sentence, and his attitude towards the child will be watched by the Children's Aid Society.

WALTER J. FRANCIS ENGINEERS' GUEST

HAS MANY FRIENDS IN PETERBORO AND HIGH PROFESSIONAL RECORD.

Walter J. Francis, one of the prominent members of the Engineering Institute of Canada, who will attend the banquet of the Peterborough Engineers' Club at the Empress tomorrow night, is no stranger to this city, and Thursday night's function will provide for many citizens an opportunity to renew old friendships. Mr. Francis graduated from the University of Toronto in 1893(and three years later became chief draftsman of the Central Bridge and Engineering Company at Peterborough, and in 1898 entered the Department of Railways and Canals of Canada. He spent eight years in that Department, during which time he designed and had charge of the construction of two hydraulic lift locks on the Trent Canal, and was also division engineer in charge of ten miles of canal construction.

In 1906 he was employed by the firm of Ross and Holgate, consulting engineers, Montreal, as engineer in charge of the construction of Hydro-Electric works in British Columbia. The following year Mr. Francis became assistant manager and chief engineer of the Dominion Engineering and Construction Company, Montreal, and in 1908 entered private practice, his firm subsequently becoming incorporated as Walter J. Francis & Co., Ltd., including Mr. F. B. Brown, whom Mr. Francis took into partnership in 1910. He has successfully carried out many great undertakings, and stands in the front rank of his profession. In 1913 he was chairman of the committee of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers that prepared standard specifications for concrete and reinforced concrete. Since 1910 he has been a controller of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

MEETING WAS HELD IN BOARD OF TRADE ROOM.

The Ex-members of the Peterborough Squadron of this Regiment held a meeting in Major Medd's office last evening for the purpose of arranging for the organization of a social Association. As more members attended than was anticipated Major Medd arranged for the holding of the meeting in th eBoard room of Board of Trade. After discussion it was decided to go ahead at once with the preliminary arrangements. C. M. Drummond was appointed Chairman and the business of the evening proceeded with. It was found that, of the 350 men who at one time or another had belonged to the Squadron that nearly 100 have returned to their former occupations. The list of killed, wounded and died of disease is a large one and no less than three Military Crosses and several Military Medals are held by members of "B" Squadron of the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles, C.E.F.

As the social life of the Squadron has ben necessarily curtailed during the War, the feeling was that lost time should be made up for and as there was ample material for the different branches of athletics, arrangements will be made to take part in them, and as the feeling of good-fellowship and mutual support which characterized the Unit from its formation and throughout the War is still strong and distinctly evident in the meeting last night, there is no question of the support that will be given to whatever undertakings are decided upon.

The formal organization of the Association including the selection and election of Officers and installing them will take place on Monday, the 10th., instant at 8 p.m. in the lecture room at the Armouries, accommodation there having been placed at the disposal of the Ex-members of the 8th C.M.R. through the courtesy of Col. Young the Senior Officer commanding. A vote of thanks was moved, seconded and passed thanking the Board of Trade for the use of the Board room. The members stood at "attention" uncovered in silent memory of fallen comrades and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

THE WEATHER

At the present time there is every appearance of a decided change in weather conditions. There was snow yesterday to several inches in the eastern sections of the province and snow has been lying on the ground for some time in northern sections. Yesterday in many parts of the Northwest temperatures were ten and twelve degrees below zero and this will probably drift this way in a modified form. Last night locally it was 4 degrees below the freezing point. Rain yesterday totalled .53 of an inch.—W. P.

MEETING LADIES' AID SOCIETY

Notwithstanding the heavy downpour of rain yesterday afternoon, the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid of George Street Methodist Church showed a large attendance, which fact is concrete evidence of the interest taken by this body in the work of their church. The chair was occupied by the president, Mrs. C. E. Smith, while the devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Higgins. A feature of the meeting much appreciated by those present was a solo, "My Task," rendered by Miss Doris Rathbone. A topic of general interest, discussion of which occupied considerable time, had reference to the approaching old-fashioned tea meeting which the ladies are putting on for the evening of the 12th of this month. An interesting programme is being arranged, in which Mr. Ruthven Macdonald, the well-known Canadian baritone, will take the most prominent part.

None of the travelling "baskets" which started on their voyage some time ago have as yet reached "port," though wireless messages received from them report much of interest and profit.

One Great Essential To a Woman's Health Is Her Nerves

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy as the day is long instead of being sick and wretched. But how can any woman be healthy and happy when the whole nervous system is unstrung. The trouble is they pay more attention to their social and household duties than they do to their health. Is it any wonder then that they become irritable and nervous, have hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells, become weak and nervous, and everything in life becomes dark and gloomy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the very remedy that nervous, tired-out, weary women need to restore them to the blessings of good health.

Mrs. P. H. Ryan, Sand Point, N.S., writes:—"I have been a great sufferer from nerve troubles. I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep at night and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling. I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on my second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I began to feel better and kept on until I had used six boxes when I felt like a different person. I am never without them in the house and recommend them to all who suffer with their nerves."

"THE HOPE CHEST," A NEW DOROTHY GISH PICTURE

DOROTHY GISH in "The Hope Chest" A Paramount Picture

A girl's devotion to the contents of a Hope Chest; the tender affection which is held in every heart for the things that mother did; these are features of the picture in which Dorothy Gish makes her appearance at the Allen Theatre to-day. The story tells of what might occur to any young woman, but the situations are handled in such a manner that there is a constant suspense and wondering as to what is to follow. The support is excellent.

MEDICAL SYSTEM OF FUTURE

(CONTRIBUTED)

Doctors must organize, not into unions for mutual protection and the increase of income, but for the betterment of service. Both physicians and patient sorely need facilities that can never be furnished by the individual practitioner. We have swarms of experts, but each is playing a lone hand Outside of hospitals and dispensaries there is no team work at all, and its logical development is seen only in a very few institutions such as the Mayo Clinic. In an article on "Group Medicine," contributed to the American Journal of Public Health (Boston) by Dr. Michael M. Davis, Jr., director of the Boston Dispensary, the wastefulness of our present methods of "family doctoring" is emphasized, and its replacement by co-ordinated effort is advocated. At present the rich and the poor are fairly well cared for, to the injury and neglect of a man of modern income. To quote and condense his article:

Specialization in industry has progressed to an extreme point. Along with it has gone another factor which has rendered a high degree of specialization both possible and efficient. This factor is organization. In medicine within a generation, specialization has developed enormously. The factor of organization is as yet relatively undeveloped. It is the purpose of this paper to suggest some indications of its present and its probable development.

In private practise among the well-to-do, a family will call during twelve months upon a pediatrist for the baby, an orthopedist for father's feet, a neurologist for mother's nerves, a laryngologist to take out Tommy's tonsils, a surgeon for the debutante's appendix, an oculist and a dentist for nearly every member of the family. The expense of this system of specialization without organization may not be a defect to those who can afford it. But the system is far from 100 per cent. of medical efficiency. This is particularly apparent in those cases which are difficult to diagnose, or which present practical problems of treatment. For without a central medical point of view, to harmonize the opinions and plans of several specialists, the patient is likely to take the advice that is the least trouble to himself or that fits in best with his own preconceptions or prejudices. Such a system of unorganized specialist practise is not a solution of the problem of medical care, even among the well-to-do, and it is far too costly to extend to the public as a whole.

In most large cities, the same physicians who, as specialists, spend most of their mornings or afternoons in well paid private practise among the rich, spend much of their afternoons or mornings in unpaid practise in hospitals or dispensaries for the poor. In the hospital or dispensary we have specialization brought to a high degree, and also have another factor introduced, namely, organization. An elaborate equipment of instruments, microscopes, laboratories, X-Ray facilities, sterilizing and mechanical appartus, are brought together in a single building instead of being scattered through many separate offices, and are placed under one general administrative control. The hospital or dispensary provides and administers equipment for joint co-operative use.

Further than this, in the hospital or dispensary, the relations between the different specialists are organized by common consent under one central authority, represented by managing body of the institution itself. Procedures are fixed by the central organization and supervised by it. Thus there is not only organization of equipment, but also organization of skill. This means group medicine. Group medicine presents a system of utilizing the man in resoursec of modern medicine in all its various branches for diagnosis and treatment, so as to promote the most effective economical utilization of technical equipment for the most efficient co-ordination of professional skill.

Group medicine is new, because specialization in medicine is comparatively new, the modern hospitals in their most developed forms represent group medicine, but there are hospitals which today are merely boarding houses. The development of medical organization plus specialization is coming to mean a new and much more efficient organization of hospitals and dispensaries.

There are also institutions which have been formed particularly for the practise of group medicine. Most notable is the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., an institution which stands on the principle that group medicine is more efficient than the individualistic or specialized practise without organization. The Mayo Clinic receives patients who, as a visitor was once told, may pay, "anything from nothing up to $10,000," and give the same treatment to all. Group medicine in Battle Creek, Michigan, in Fall River, Mass., and a number of other places in the country, is represented today by organizations specially formed for the purpose. These organizations are based on business-like and well conducted private academies.

The time has arrived, Dr. Davis believes, when "organized practise" by physicians should be permitted both by law and public opinion. On the other hand, no hospital, mutual medical organization, or any other group should be permitted to carry on the diagnosis and treatment of disease except under public supervision. The responsibility of physicians to patients does not cover the situation. The practise of medicine has gone beyond any one man. Specialization carries with it organization and the necessity of public (organization) supervision. Dr. Davis goes on:

The further development of group medicine is needed by the medical profession and by the public. The general practitioner is cut off very often from the best facilities of modern medicine. His patients have not access to these facilities because they cannot pay high fees. Only through organizations which will pool the equipment and co-ordinate the various branches of special skill, can the facilities of modern medicine be opened up to all.

A group medicine plan is applicable not only to a large city but to the small communities also. In cities of small size specialists may visit on occasions, even if they cannot dwell there permanently. There visits should be arranged for by the local medical group, at regular intervals. Thus a body of specialists would take part in a co-operative medical group often enough to meet the needs of the locality. Thus all physicians who were members of the group would get the benefits of co-operative work and the advantage of equipment which no individual physician could provide for himself. The public of the locality would be similarly benefited.

Does group medicine mean breaking the personal relationships between the individual and the physician? It need not do so. As a matter of fact, the personal relationship of the average practitioner to his patients, particularly in cities is decidely discontinuous whereas the relationship of the specialist to his patient is not only discontinuous but fragmentary. The patient is seen by sections. Group medicine can be organized and cause unification of personal interest in the patient, and to preserve personal relationships, as well as promote medical efficiency.

The development of group medicine in the immediate future may perhaps be stimulated if business men and social promoters recognize that it is coming, useful, and profitable forms of organization to meet the community needs for medical care. But if the development of group medicine is to take place in the best way, it must move forward on the basis of public service rather than the individual interest. The general public must be educated to see the advantages of group medicine and to support those hospitals, dispensaries, health departments, and other organizations which are endeavoring to further it. A health insurance system might be another way in which funds would be available.

The experience of military service will have rendered thousands of physicians with methods of arganizations and accustomed them not only to the treatment of individual patients but to co-ordination of work with other doctors. The return of these physicians to private life may well be occasion for stimulating the organization of medicine and for helping the institutions in which group medicine is practised. Group medicine is a necessary progresive step in the practise of medicine for the public service. Was there ever a time more ripe for forward movement than the present?

BOARD OF EDUCATION HELD A BRIEF SESSION AT REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

MR. VINCENT EASTWOOD ACCEPTS THE VACANCY CREATED BY THE RES. IGNATION OF MR. G. N. GORDON---FIRE PROTECTION IN THE SCHOOLS.

Brevity marked the regular meeting of the School Board held last evening and the evening's business was put through in less than half an hour, including the welcoming of Mr. Vincent Eastwood who has accepted the place left open by the resignation of Mr. G. N. Gordon. In a word—"thank you gentlemen; buy a Victory Bond" Mr. Eastwood responded to the trustees welcome.

Accepted Resignations.

The resignations of Mr. F. M. Gould, Miss J. F. MacKenzie and Miss Mason form the public school staffs to take effect at the end of the term were accepted.

Irregular Attendance.

In his report, the Truant Officer, Mr. F. W. Miller, stated that a number of the homes he has visited in looking up absentees are in a deplorable state and that the irregular attendance on the part of most of the pupils is due to the parents who keep the children home to help out. One child, he found, is unable to attend school on account of having no boots.

School Nurses Report.

Miss M. J. V. Jory reported 12 children excluded on account of scabbies, 15 unclean, 2 suffering from diphtheria, 2 from scarlet fever and three from small pox. The soap and towels recently placed in the schools have proved a great benefit and are thoroughly appreciated.

Cadet Corps.

Colonel Gillespie highly commended the efficiency training and discipline of the Collegiate Institute Corps which he inspected recently and spoke of the efficiency of the Central, South Central and King Edward Cadet Corps. The Queen Mary Corps, he reported, though of recent organization is in a fair state of efficiency..

Another Term.

Upon motion of Mr. G. O. Cameron it was decided by the Board to enter into the usual arrangements for the use of the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium and the services of the Physical director for another term.

Every Precaution.

Mr. A. Mowat stated that as a precautionary measure against such fires as have visited Toronto and Lindsay recently he has instructed the janitors in the different schools to pull away any coal from near the ceiling and to take every possible precaution against fire. Mr. G. O. Cameron drew the Boards attention to a request from Fire Chief Grange to make a round of the schools for a fire test with the members of the School Board.

Low Percentage.

The low percentage, Mr. A. Mowat, Public School Inspector, said in reply to a query from Mr. J. W. Worth, is due to the fact that several pupils entered late in the month and that there is a considerable amount of illness in the city amongst the school children.

MOUSE SCARES HORE; SEVEN LIVES LOST

HAMBURG, Ark., Nov. 4.—Seven persons lost their lives when a horse, frightened by a mouse, plunged to one side of a ferry boat on Bayou Bartlomew, Ward's Ferry, twenty-five miles south of here, and turned the boat over, throwing the passengers into the water.

The dead: Mrs. Robert Roberts, Mrs. N. N. Buchanan, Miss Ada Sims, two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Stanley, and two unidentified negroes.

Mrs. Stanley was thrown into the water and saved by her husband, who swam with her to the shore. After the passengers had been thrown inti the swollen waters the boat turned turtle. Three men were saved by Stanley, as his wife, clinging to a plank, urged him to rescue the perishing first. The accident occurred just after dark Friday night, making rescue extremely difficult.

How is Your Watch Running?

Is it always running fast or slow? Never quite on time? Perhaps the watch is capable of very accurate running, but it is not in perfect order.

WATCH REPAIRING is a specialty of ours.

THE SNAKE-KILLERS

By JOHN BRECK

It is proverbial that every creature under the sun has its enemies. Nature is a fair mother to all. She has no intention of letting one of her children gain any advantage over the rest unless, like many, she may be said to have a special leniency toward her either one becomes too cunning or too of automatic checks, a balance between preyer and prey, and when either one becomes too cunning or too strong she lets loose the subtle demons of disease to achieve her end. Otherwise, doubtless, this world would stifle from overpopulation before it had completed that mysterious end for which it was designed.

Now, the rattlesnake is one of her problems. He is not mentioned in the average bill of fare of her preying birds and no animal has ever consistently practiced an aggressive technique which was proof against discouraging failures. For whose benefit then does the rattlesnake rear her numerous young?

For the king snake's in the first place. This handsome pinto serpent has been on his job for a long time—so long that he has become immune to the worst onslaught of his enemy. He alone needs not glide from the path if they chance to meet. He wraps a coil about the throat of his enemy and begins to squeeze. If the rattlesnake has a little too much head-room he may bite. This always irritates the king snake, who loosens his hold, lets out a bit of slack and casts a fresh loop about his refractory victim. Die? Certainly not. He merely clamps his folds the more aggressively behind that bulging jaw until the ugly head sags, the writhing body relaxes and he has finished the troublesome process of preparing his meal. It does not even spoil his appetite.

But the traditional enemy of old Crotalus in the western mountains where he particularly abounds is the road runner. Now there are people who insist that this enmity is purely a traditional one—but they avoid argument with the Forest Rangers who enthusiastically champion the odd bird. He is about twice the size of a robin; his dark feathers are dashingly ticked with white and he has a line of pokerchips along each side of his inordintely long tail. Add to this checks of blue and orange skin about the most knowing eye you ever saw in a bird's head, eyelashes, and a towsled mop of a crest halfway between feathers and bristles, and you have a feathered sportsman who looks ripe for any kind of a scrimmage.

And it is a sporting proposition, beak against fang. He patrols the country in seven-league boots which carry him over a three-foot boulder without breaking his stride. Occasionally, if he feels sociable, he may pause to tick out a bit of Morse to some distant friend with a facility which would make a woodpecker envious. Presently he comes across his enemy asleep in the sun.

Now he cocks a canny eye at its size. If he decides it can be handled he opens hostilities with a peck in the eye before the snake can coil. Then the fencing begins. He dances madly about his victim, teasing him to strike, and gets in a return blow before it can coil to strike again. Dodging is facilitated by a sweep of his fan tail which carries him backward lobster fashion. As the snake tires he closes in, using the flight-feathers of his wing for a shield. And when it is over, and the snake population balanced to date, he sinks his beak into his bulging crop and doxes fatly.

THE CHARRED BODY WAS FOUND TO-DAY

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—Jos. Thompson's charred body and a few bones of a girl, two victims of the Belmont, Manitoba, fire, which destroyed Trafalgar Hotel Sunday morning, were found to-day. Thompson's body was on a wire spring mattress which still stood on the bedstead. A package of letters was also found near his head and some of these showed his address plainly. Evidently he was overcome by smoke. Joseph Thompson was between 75 and 80 years of age, was a bachelor and his home was at Chesley, Ontario, but he came west every fall to look after his large land holdings, and always made his home at the hotel at Belmont on these trips.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAMS WILL PRESENT MEMORIAL CERTIFICATES.

November the 11th the anniversary of "Armistice Day" will be celebrated in a fitting way by the presentation of Memorial Certificates by the Local Board of Trade to the next-of-kin of those who lost their lives in the Great War.

Major General V.A.S. Williams, General Officer commanding district No. 3, Kingston, has kindly consented to be present to present the certificates in the G.W.V.A. Hall, Murray street, at 2.30 p.m.

Representatives of the City Council, County Red Cross Society, and Local Officers Commanding, will also be present.

The programme will include instrumental and vocal selections by local artists and the G.W.V.A. band will parade and play at the hall.

COMMITTEE WILL RE-OPEN TENDERS

FOR REPAIRING TO THE NASHUA COATED PAPER COMPANY'S PLANT.

"Too much money" was the unanimous verdict of the Property Committee last night when tenders for carpentry work and painting to repair the Nashua Gummed and Coated Paper Company plant.

Present were Chairman Hamilton, Mayor Duncan, Aldermen Edgar, Garside, Phelan, Crowe, and McIntyre.

J. Hayes, $4,987.00.
J. Graham, $2650.00.
H. Carveth, $2,500.00.
Barrie & Finnie, $2,669.70.
A. B. Cunningham, $2,719.00 (maple or 9,000 feet of birch flooring, factory finish).

Mr. John Hayes' contract was for both carpentry work and painting. Messrs. Graham, Carveth, Barrie & Finnie and A. B. Cunningham tenders are for carpentry work only.

Factory flooring is worth $130.00 per M now, and the committee juggled the various tenderers' figures to see how they arrived at their prices.

Only one tender for painting was received, and as it was deemed too high, the tender was re-opened, and tenders will be received up to five o'clock on Monday afternoon.

Finally, on the motion of Ald. Edgar, seconded by Ald. Garside, the tender of A. B. Cunningham of $2,719.00 for the carpentry work was accepted.

Want Skating Rink.

The Alert Bible Class of St. James' Church asked to be allowed to make a skating rink on King Edward Park this winter.

No action was taken in the matter, as it was thought undesirable to give the park over to anyone, whether a fee would be charged or not.

Colonial Hide Company.

The Colonial Hide Company are occupying one of the storerooms in the Nashua Company's plant. They advised the city that they would like to continue there. They were given permission by the committee to continue on the same terms until the Nashua Company takes the property over, they to pay the rent to the city in the meantime.

YOUR EYES DESERVE GOOD CARE.

It's a mistake to abuse your eyes and expect them to be just as strong. Each eye possesses so much natural nerve strength; after that is used up, it means artificial aid for the rest of your life. Why not attend to your eyes before they reach this stage? Glasses for a while will probably restore them. Consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, 419 George street. THE MAYOR OF WINNIPEG WAS PUBLICLY INSULTED

EX-MEMBER OF THE WINNIPEG POLICE FORCE AND THE MAYOR ALMOST COLLIDED--A STORMY SESSION.

A CURTAIN RAISER

(Special to the Examiner)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—First blows in the civic election campaign were struck Wednesday evening, they were metaphorical but a mere circumstance prevented them from being real physical, eye blackening and bloody nose producing wallops. It wasn't Mayor Gray's fault that they weren't, nor the fault of James G. Toner, with who his worship almost collided. As it was, the Mayor was publicly insulted and called a Liar by Toner and others. The occasion was a meeting of the civic employees federation. Nearly all those present were former city employees discharged at the time of the strike.

Was Invited.

"You're a liar, murderer. Booh". This is sample, but a very weak one of the storm of abuse which was hurled at Mayor Gray. Invited to address the meeting by the Executive, His Worship was not given time for two minutes running to speak. One thousand odd Laborites were present and an air of antagonism prevailed from the time of the Mayor's entry. When cries "Booha" "Here's the Gray Mayor", met him until he left with their "Booha" following him into the corridors.

Mayor Gray said: "Let any man who says I am a liar come to the platform". Toner, former officer of the Policeman's Union and one of the biggest men physically in Winnipeg, walked from his seat half way down the hall but was restrained from attacking the Mayor.

INVESTIGATION OF DEFUNCT COMPANY

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 6.— Col. W. S. Dinick, Vice-President of the Standard Reliance Mortgage Corporation, arrived amilingly at Osgoode Hall this morning a few minutes before the probe into the defunct company's affairs was resumed before the Master in Chambers, Mr. J. A. C. Cameron.

Col. Dinnick's former absence, due to illness, necessitated two adjournments of the probe.

"I am feeling fine," laughed Col. Dinnick. "Are you ready to go ahead now?" Col. Dinnick was asked. "I certainly am, and I want the fullest possible investigation. It won't do if it ends with me. It wouldn't be fair. I have nothing to fear from it."

MR. THOMAS ADAMS HERE TO-MORROW

Mr. Thomas Adams, the town planning adviser, of Ottawa, will be in the city to-morrow, Friday, to address the Board of Trade at a luncheon meeting to be held at the Empress Hotel at 12.15 o'clock. Having had the opportunity of studying Peterborough in a professional way, his address will prove very interesting and instructive on the planning of the city and no doubt will offer suggestions of improvements which could be made with very little expense.

To show the enthusiasm in the interests of making the city attractive, Mr. Adams should be greeted by an overcrowding audience of the members of the Board and the City Council.

Mr. Adams has also kindly consented to speak to the Women's Canadian Club at the Y.W.C.A. at 4 p.m.

FIFTEEN NEW CASES OF SMALLPOX WERE REPORTED TO-DAY

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC IN TORONTO ASSUMES SERIOUS PROPORTIONS.

(Specail to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 6.—Fifteen new cases of smallpox were reported to the Department of Health during the last 24 hours. 13 of these are being quarantined in their homes. The total number of cases is now 88, while the persons under quarantine because of exposure to those having the disease number 189.

"It is clear," said Dr. Hastings, "that all the cases are not being reported, possibly because the doctors are uncertain as to the diagnosis. The medical profession does not realize that the Public Department states that it is not necessary for them to be certain of their diagnosis, but if they have a reason to suspect smallpox they are required in respect to the Department [illegible]."

TWO RETURNED MEN TAKE OVER GARAGE

W. P. EASTWOOD AND G. L. FITZGERALD ARE OUT FOR BUSINESS

The Fitzgerald garage at the corner of Brock and Water streets, has been taken over by Messrs. G. Lorne Fitzgerald and W. P. Eastwood, two local boys, who are veterans of the war, and who have a host of friends in Peterborough. They have the agency of the Studebaker and Briscoe cars, which they will be pleased to demonstrate to prospective buyers. They will conduct a thoroughly efficient general service station, which will include the painting of cars. All repair and general garage work will be carefully attended to under the management of Messrs. Eastwood and Fitzgerald. This garage has been steadily developing good business, which its new proprietors feel confident they will greatly extend. Mr. Eastwood was one of the first Peterborough boys to enter the Flying Corps.

THE GREYBEARDS ARE LYING LOW

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 6—With regard to the G. T. R. issues at the time of writing, it would appear that the opposition in the Senate has decided to lie low and permit the Government members to fight it out among themselves.

Senator Gideon Robertson, in a strong speech, emphasised particularly the need of the national railways if they are to be a success, for feeders and justified the proposal all along the line. But there is no doubt that the speech of Senator Ross especially has had a strong effect upon the House, and more especially upon such as were of two minds as to how they would vote.

That the four present vacancies will be filled is generally believed.

CLAIMS THERE IS NO PROFITEERING AMONG RETAILERS

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.— Representatives of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, who met the Board of Commerce this morning, held that there was no profiteering among retailers and that they were prepared to do all in their power to assist the Board in their effort to relieve the present conditions, and that in their opinion the lowering of prices arbitrarily would not help but make matters worse. E. M. Trowern, secretary of the Dominion Executive, said the retailers no longer wanted to be branded as thieves and scoundrels. It was no good, he insisted, on fooling the public longer about the reduction in the cost of living. Prices would only come down in natural order.

COAL STRIKE SITUATION COMPLETELY DEADLOCKED

THE WOMEN WILL WEAR PANTALOONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Pantaloons of the knickerbocker variety will be worn by New York women in a short time if the predictions of Miss A. Sheer, who arrived from Roterdam on the liner Nieuw Amsterdam, comes true. Miss Sheer wore them.

They were a sort of harem variety, made of black satin, caught at the knees and trimmed with gold brocade.

Another thing is the use of dark face powder. The women are using a powder that makes them the colour of Indians. They add a quantity of color to the lips.

UNEARTHS A PLOT FOR AN UPRISING

PLAN TO DEPOSE THE PRESENT GERMAN GOVERNMENT—PUBLISHES A WARNING.

(Canadian Press.)

ESSEN, Germany, Nov. 6.— Investigators for the "Deutsch Allgemeine Zeitung" of Berlin, claim to have discovered plans for a Communist uprising to depose the present German government and to establish a new one modelled on the Russian plan, which would be associated with the present Russian Soviet system. The investigators assert that the proposed revolution is to be assisted and officered by Russian Bolshevists, and that the outbreak is to have its beginning in the Ruhr coal districts.

This responsible newspaper publishes the warning so energetic that it is accepted in well-informed quarters as of more importance than the many rumours in circulation. Munich, Brunswick and other cities are claimed to be sub-centres for the move-

MISS ZIEGLER GAVE INTERESTING ADDRESS

ABOUT THIRTY-FIVE LEADERS OF 'TEEN-AGE GIRLS GATHERED TOGETHER.

About thirty leaders of 'teen-age girls gathered at the Young Women's Christian Association last evening to the supper given by the Girls' Council under the direction of Miss Robena Montgomery.

After the supper Miss Olive Ziegler led in a very interesting discussion on the religious needs of the 'teen-age girl, and the ways in which these needs, as well as those of an intellectual nature, may best be met by the working out of the programme of the Canadian girls in training.

At 8.15 Miss Ziegler addressed a meeting of the 'teen-age girls of the city. Miss Ziegler spoke on the new world in which we are living, a world in which girls are getting a vision of service and its opportunities. She made the girls see that if they are to be ready for this new world they must not be lop-sided but must be all-round girls.

It is hoped that all the leaders will come next Wednesday at seven o'clock to take up the discussion of the service standard.

OPERATORS REPLY

By Ralph F. Couch.
(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. — The coal strike situation was completely dead-locked on this, the sixth day of the walk-out. There were indications that the first pinch of a fuel shortage was being felt. The demands for immediate delivery of coal poured into the Railway Administration offices here from schools, factories, governors, mayors and local officials in all parts of the country.

Railways were reported cutting down their train service to the minimum.

The government was making no apparent move toward mediation, following the announcement of the Department of Justice that the injunction against the strike would not be withdrawn. Operators, replying to the government's contention that the settlement of the strike is a private question which is up to them and the Ministers, again made clear they are willing to negotiate provided the strike orders is withdrawn.

PROHIBITIONISTS AFTER PRESIDENT

MOVE TO PREVENT HIM FROM RAISING WAR-TIME BAN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Prohibitionists in Congress to-day moved to prevent President Wilson raising the war-time ban.

Believing that Wilson intends to end war-time prohibition as soon as the peace treaty is ratified, the [illegible] dry element in the House, led by Representative Randell, California, laid its plans to checkmate him, it was learned.

Without wating for the President to act, the drys will ask that the war-time prohibition law be extended six months after the proclamation of peace. This would make war-time prohibition overlap constitutional prohibition.

Great men of all ages have extolled the pastime of fishing. Age seems to be no discouragement to the angler, but rather seems to be an impetus to greater zeal. To quote from the words of Barton "If one loves life and would continue long in it, let him fish. Fishermen grow in wisdom as they grow in years, and how many of the ideas that have made men truer and nobler have come out of the long days spent when there were no bites. Fishing is human life epitomized. There is water calm, inscrutable, impenetrable—the symbol of fate—into which every man casts his line. What lies at the bottom of it no man can see. The tiny minnow of misfortune which nibbles away his bait may be followed next month by a monstrous catch of good luck."

Too great publicity as regards good fishing waters near to civilization has its good as well as its ill effects. It attracts tourists who are fond of the sport and who are willing to spend their money to that end, and certainly if the waters so advertised are not restocked, such fishing grounds are soon depleted of their finny life. Perhaps all would be well if every man took his limit and quit at that, but this is not always the case, some taking far more than they can use, in direct opposition to all laws and righteous equations. Under these conditions it behooves all who fish to urge upon the government the resocking of these waters and the establishment of a fish hatchery in this vicinity. Much might be done by the formation of a Fish and Game Protective Association, and the railway authorities who advertise our local waters so thoroughly could be induced to help.

Sometime ago there was published in these columns an account of the lumbering industry in the early days of settlement especially noting the large number of saw mills in operation on the Trent system in this locality. The sawdust and refuse from these mills were for years dumped into the water as the most convenient method of getting rid of it. Under this system vast beds of decaying sawdust, acres in extent, were formed from which vapbles caused by the escaping gas were to be constantly seen arising to the surface of the water. It is held by some authorities that the little white grubs which infest the bass, perch, sunfish, etc., at the present time is traceable to this sawdust deposit. This practice destroyed almost all fish life in this vicinity and although in later years means were taken to prevent this polution of the waters, and many fines were imposed by the fishery department, much of it was still in evidence in the river and lakes. However, when the mills ceased operation and the sawdust beds became covered over by scum patches with the decomposing annually washed from the land, the fish again became more abundant, and if the use of net and speed could only have been eliminated there would be plenty of fish. This mention of nets calls to mind an amusing incident related by a fishery overseer, wherein after pursuing an individual who was netting in the vicinity of Benfort Bridge, to his home, a search revealed two fine mascalonge in the bed, the man having in an endeavor to hide them drew down the quilts, deposited the fish between the sheets, and hastily covering them left a tell tale mark with his besmeared hand on the coverlet.

Parent Base.

Through the efforts of the Cottagers Association of Stoney Lake a consignment of two hundred parent bass taken from Lake Erie were distributed in the waters of Stoney Lake about three weeks ago. These were fine large fish and will considerably increase fish life in these waters. The

The former member for the East Riding, Mr. James Thompson, was interested in the establishment of a fish hatchery in this part of the Trent waters and the government officials in charge of these bass were instructed to look over the ground with a view to locating a suitable site for the proposed plant. The Cottagers Association have been trying to have a hatchery located at Burleigh Falls for sometime but these officials after carefully looking over the ground choose Lakefield as an ideal place for the purpose. Local fishermen here hailed the announcement with joy and at last thought that something definite would be accomplished in this direction, and it is now up to the government about to assume the reins of office to make a move toward carrying the scheme into execution. There can be no doubt as to the benefit of the proposition, for with meat at top notch figures, and the price of eggs constantly soaring it would mean much to our citizens generally if an adequate supply of fresh fish could be so easily obtained.

Many people think the fishing season over, but such is not the case. The noble mascalonge can still be taken on fine days with a live bait along the edge of weed beds at the sides of chanels or in open lakes beneath shelving rocks, from whence it darts upon anything small enough to become its prey. The bass have gone to the deep waters for the winter months and have ceased to take any lure But to those who care to brave the elements there are still those magnificent land-locked salmon in Stoney Lake, which apparently were stalled there ages ago when the waters held on entirely different course, there are also found whitefish, and those fresh water herrings which will presently run in shoals of countless numbers in the upper reaches of the waters above.

Catarrhozone

Remember this, Catarrh can never be cured or even relieved by a cough syrup, a spray, or tablet treatment. Every breath sends healing balsams to the inflamed tissues. Tightness, soreness and inflammation are cured by healing pine essences. The cough dies away, throat is strengthened, huskiness is cured. Nothing is so simple, so convenient, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. The dollar outfit includes the inhaler, costs $1.00, and is guaranteed to cure. GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

NIGHT COUGHS PREVENT SLEEP

WEAR OUT THE SYSTEM

The dry, hacking cough, cough, day and night is very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in such an irritated and inflamed condition they get no chance to heal.

You will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy without an equal for curing coughs and colds, soothing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, strengthening and healing the breathing organs, and fortifying them against serious pulmonary disease.

Mrs. Fred. Fairburn, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes:—"I caught a heavy cold, got a sore throat and had a terrible hacking cough that I could not get rid of. I could not sleep at night. I had tried quite a few remedies, but they did not seem to do me much good until I took Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. By the time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone.

"It seemed to loosen the cough right away so that I could spit up the phlegm that gathered in my throat, and also took that hot, raw, burning fever out of my bronchial tubes. I feel that Dr. Wood's has no equal."

ELEVATOR BOY IS WORKING OVERTIME

DEMONSTRATION AT TURNBULL'S CENTRES AROUND A PETERBORO PRODUCT.

Combining a demonstration of Peterboro made stoves and Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour, the fifth floor of Turnbulls store is a centre of unusual activity this week and the elevator boy is having a busy week transporting the crowds to the new department. It was the original intention of the Turnbull management to demonstrate the Tropic stoves made in the city by Adam Hall when they were fortunate enough to get in touch with the Pancake firm being advertised which immediately sent Mrs. Eddy an experienced colored woman and as near an exact replica of the "mammy" on the Aunt Jemima pancake boxes as is possible to obtain to do her bit in a practical demonstration of the flour and stoves. From early in the morning Mrs. Eddy is kept busy filling orders for the delicious pancakes and biscuits she makes in full view of the public, and cooks with the highest degree of perfection in the perfectly regulated Tropic stoves.

Limitless Experience.

Mrs. Eddy who is a cook of limitless experience is delighted with the points of the stoves from the heat adjustment to the size of the oven and individual grates. She is assisted in the stove demonstration by a representative from Adam Hall's who explains at length the merits of the stove. One particularly attractive feature is the fact that the lining of the stove is made of castings saving the expence of constant replacing which is constantly required where brick linings are used and the floor space occupied by it is exceedingly small. There is nothing complicated in the entire stove. An added attraction is the fact that being a made in Peterboro product the price of freight is eliminated making the price appreciably lower than any brought from outside points.

THERE IS DANGER IN TENDER GUMS

To preserve healthy teeth the ordinary tooth-paste is futile. You must first care for the gums, on which tooth health depends.

How many people think of this? Yet four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-decay, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease).

At first the gums become tender, though actual gum-shrinkage is imperceptible. But in time receding gums will surely loosen your teeth, and then only a dentist can save them. The tender, bleeding gums of Pyorrhea also act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's (For the Gums) prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. This means that it prevents gum-shrinkage, gum-tenderness, gum-bleeding. So, automatically, Forhan's prevents tooth loosening.

Brush your teeth with it. It scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for treatment.

PACKERS HELD UP BY CANVASSERS

(Specail to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 6.—A party of five innocent looking packers who appeared before the Board of Commerce Wednesday were surrounded in the Chateau Laurier by a number of Ottawa ladies, who had charge of the Victory Loan booth in the hotel. A few minutes' conversation resulted in the packers being induced to sign a bond for five thousand dollars each, a total of twenty-five thousand. An amusing feature of the affairs is that Gen. Gunn, one of the subscribers, who was chairman of the Publicity committee for Toronto, will be forced upon returning to Toronto, to square himself with the citizens of the Queen City also.

MAN CHARGED WITH FIRST DEGREE MURDER

(Specail to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—George Jacko, 28 years old, a Galician, was arrested in Winnipeg Wednesday by a Royal Northwest Mounted Police officer in connection with the murder of Wasyl Pudlicky at Kenora, Ont., nine weeks ago. After the chase that extended to Toronto, Jacko was arrested at the alien registrar office, Main street, when he entered to register under the Alien Enemy Act. He will be charged with first degree murder. Constable J. Wood, of Ontario, arrived to take him east for trial, this after noon, guarded by two constables.

UNION MEETING HELD LAST EVENING IN INTERESTS OF FORWARD MOVEMENT

THE MEETING WAS LARGELY ATTENDED—REV. W. B. CASWELL SPOKE IN THE ABSENCE OF DR. GRAHAM.

A decided impetus was lent to the Forward Movement in the city at a meeting held last evening in St. Andrew's Church, which was attended by an enthusiastic gathering representative of every congregation. The pulpit was occupied by representatives from four of the churches in the city: Rev. F. E. Malott, who conducted the service, Rev. James Rollins, Rev. R. B. Grobb, and Rev. John Galt. Rev. R. J. Webb and Rev. A. J. Thomas were called upon by Mr. Malott to lead in prayer.

The music at the service was particularly good, the choir, led by Mr. John Crane, being composed of members from all the choirs in the city.

High Hopes.

In an interesting and instructive address, Rev. W. B. Caswell, who spoke in the absence of Dr. Graham, said he retained the greatest hopes for the success of the Forward Movement. He finds, he said, stages through which all must pass in the movement. The childhood stage or time of asking questions in connection with it; the stage of scepticism and doubt when we reason to ourselves whether such an object as it aims at could be possible, and, lastly, the live and active stage when we consecrate ourselves to the great task of seeing that it is not a dream.

Just Grew.

The movement, he continued, is like Topsy—"it just grew." Nobody knows where or why it came. It is not a camouflage for financial gain. We are living to-day in a new world, the old one having died in the thunder of the great war, at the conclusion of which it was the sanguinary hope of the people that many changes for the better might come, that peace might usher in a great restoration of religious zeal. But peace has brought in more problems than ever faced the world before. It is our duty to see things are they are, and it is only by being honest with ourselves that we can realize conditions. Realize that the Church of Christ is waining in its influence; that the Church is not witnessing growing congregations. We are beginning, however, to realize that the churches are walking too far apart and are beginning to find that the separation is weakening, not strengthening. In the lives of the men who consecrated their lives to the principles of honour and valour in the past war the only thing which separated them was their religion.

Forward Movement.

The Movement is directed at making a "team play" amongst the churches and is the greatest challenge the churches have ever met. "But thank God," the speaker continued, "I believe we can meet the challenge of the hour. Let us discover first the work we have to do. The churches are called to prayer, which is the essence of religion. We have to-day more time for pleasure than during any other age, and yet we find we have not time for prayer. Intercession will be the factor to save the land." In conclusion, Rev. Mr. Caswell made a plea for all to hear the word of God calling all to go forward to the greatest victory the Church could achieve.

It was regretted that Canon Davidson could not be present, having been called to Toronto by the illness o his brother.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

Last night Mr. Brown gave his last address on the Book of Revelation. Ten addresses are very few with which to cover its 22 long chapters. Nevertheless in a cursory way it was covered. He regrets to say that an article on the Seventh Seal was not sent to the paper but except for that an outline of the book was given which he hopes may prove helpful to prayerful students of this book and also to the average Christian to help in the deceptive times in which we live.

The subject last night was the new Heavens and the new Earth. If any man be in Christ he is a new creature. So for our eternal abode we have a new Heavens and a New Earth, where there will be no reminder of sin to mar our eternal bliss.

The difference in mode of living here obscures a very beautiful passage. In the last and Palestine the people live in villages and cities and go to and from their work; they do not live in houses built upon farms and scattered all through the country. And at night if a traveller is caught outside the villages or towns he is in danger of being torn to pieces by the half wild dogs that hang around the outskirts.

For this reason the eternal state is likened to a great city. So we read (Rev. 22: 14, 15,) blessed are they that wash their robes (R.V.) that they may have right to the tree of life and enter in through the gates to the city for without are dogs and sorcerers and whoremongers and murderers and idolaters and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

Here is th eplace where God dwels with his people. Here God wipes away every tear and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying nor pain.

Here is the place where God dwells rich, beautiful provided with all that is necessary for eternal life and health, with pure water of life, lit by the unknown glory of the Creator God, with out a temple because God and Christ are present, with all the blood-bought ones living their and all evil forever excluded. Beside all this glory, any known city appears like a dark, dismal, dirty muddy hamlet with Indian huts and pain and poverty and death abounding.

There is an awful curse pronounced on any one who adds to or takes from this book a curse so fearful as to make a thoughtful higher critic pause and consider the outcome of his doings.

May the Lord draw us out when we think that there are only two destinies, the holy city for those who desire mercy through the blood and the lake of fire for those who will have justice.

IMPERIALS PASS THROUGH CANADA

PREPARATIONS MADE TO ENTERTAIN THE MEN.

(Specail to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—Three thousand British soldiers will pass through Winnipeg Monday on their way from Siberia. The Returned Soldiers' Association and Auxiliary have made complete preparations to entertain them. They are to show the men that Canada appreciates the worth of the Imperial army and the debt the world owes to them. This is the largest party which has yet come through the city, being the entire number carried by the "Mount Eagle."

LATE RETURNS ON THE ELECTIONS

(Canadian Press.)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—Late returns to-day from Tuesday's prohibition election in Ohio seemed to shatter the election night prediction of Secretary of State Smith that the drys had carried the four prohibition proposals. Fairly complete unofficial returns from 68 of the 88 counties gave the wets a lead of 14,000 on the repeal amendment, of 27,000 on the beer proposal, of 46,000 on ratification, and of 78,000 on the Crabbe bill.

THE STRIKES MAY PREVENT DELIVERY

(United Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 6. — Fear was expressed by officials of the Danish Food Administration to-day that strikes in the United States might prevent the delivery of sixty thousand tons of oilcake purchased there. The cake is to be delivered in December and January.

Failure to obtain prompt delivery of the cake would result disastrously for the Danish farm industry, officials

BIG STEAM DERRICK WORKING AT WRECK

The big steam derrick from Allandale has been brought down to assist in clearing the wreck on the G. T. R. line at Cambray. The wrecking crew worked all day Tuesday and yesterday in removing the debris and getting the track in shape.

Mr. E. R. Wood Makes Plea for Small Buyers to Invest

"The fact that experienced investors, large and small, have subscribed early and have taken more bonds than they ever did before, indicates that they recognize the attractiveness of the Victory Loan of 1919," says Mr. E. R. Wood, the chairman of the Dominion Executive, in a broadcast appeal, calling upon the people of Canada with small sums to invest, and make the loan a complete success. The investment is good, and a patriotic necessity of cleaning up the war obligations is imperative.

The outstanding fact, that at the half-way mark, which has just now been passed, is that the progress so far has been due to the heavier buying of the large corporations, who subscribed to the last loan.

In order to make a success of the loan it will be necessary, as in previous campaigns, that the medium and smaller subscribers shall come forward in very great numbers. It is only necessary for those who have not yet subscribed to the loan, and who are able to do so, to subscribe on the same relative scale as those who have already bought bonds, in order to insure success.

"The rate of interest carried by the banks, namely, five and a half per cent., is the same as on the loans issued in the dark days of the war, all of which loans are selling at substantial premiums. As a matter of fact, this new loan is particularly attractive from the standpoint of the small investors, and one of the gratifying features of the campaign has been the readiness with which the employes of industries have taken the loan, where they had the experience of buying previous loans.

CANADA'S FINAL EFFORT

"This is Canada's final financial war effort, and it is not only good business but good patriotism for every Canadian to become the owner of a Victory Bond. Let every man and woman in Canada buy bonds to the limit of their present resources and prospective savings of the next ten months. The banks will gladly lend the necessary funds."

THE CHURCH AND THE SLUM

(By J. B. MIDDLETON)

Activity of the churches in "Social Service" has not been continued without evoking criticism. Some members of conservative temper have questioned the value of the modern notion that a church concern itself with unemployment, or child labor, or any other evil which legislation can cure. One such person, writing to the press, asks, "What has religion to do with housing?" The contention is that the church, being other-worldly, should direct men's eyes away from this "vale of tears" to a better home.

Yet surely there is no condition less favorable to right living than the existence of slums. If all men are brothers, as the church avers, then members of the human family cooped in hideous tenements are likely to scoff at the prospect of tender relations with the landlord. The very poor will not be convinced of their brotherly relationship to the very rich. Before the theory of fraternity can make much headway, a practical trial on a great scale is necessary. Governments are not well qualified to inaugurate such an experiment. But the church has a unique position. It is the only human society built entirely upon altruism. Therefore, it is not unreasonable to say that the church has a great deal to do with housing.

In the garden city of Letchmere in England, the infantile death rate is thirty-six per thousand births. In English rural districts, the rate is seventy-six. The average rate of one hundred and forty-eight English towns reaches ninety-three. If it be true that by the expenditure of money, by intelligent planning and by education, the lives of many children might be saved to the world, surely the church ought to give leadership in the campaign.

Social reform is not merely consideration for the physical side of men's lives. It is designed to create an atmosphere suitable for the development of minds and souls. Just as a hungry man cannot listen to music, so people whose surroundings are bleak and inhospitable cannot be taught the excellence of love or the beauty of sacrifice. When the Prodigal Son returned home he got shoes and a new suit of clothes as a preliminary welcome. The church which is specifically commanded to hunt up its membership from the highways and hedges, may be expected also to inquire about the physical well-being of this membership, and of the general mass of humanity in the neighborhood.

It is suggested that the church should become doctrinaire, or visionary. It is not established to propagate radical philosophy or to defend the tenets of conservatism. It does not deal with theories but with persons. It speaks to the individual, bidding him to amend his conduct, to form his character after a noble pattern, to study the fine art of living. But it has a right to denounce any social organization that causes the development of slums, and shuts out half the population from the amenities of civilization.

BETTER HURRY.

The Victory Bond campaign has passed the half-way mark. Have you bought yours yet?

THE FARMERS' PAPER.

The Farmers' Sun seems to be a much stronger supporter of the U.F.O. than of the Victory Loan.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Is the cabinet-makers' union aware that Premier-Elect Drury is working overtime on the Ontario Cabinet job?

HIS ONE REGRET.

Doubtless the only regret that the Prince of Wales has in connection with his Canadian tour is that he was not given a chance to visit Peterboro.

A SIMPLE FARMER.

I am going to be a very simple sort of farmer declares the Prince of Wales. His Royal Highness will have the field to himself.

A POOR ESTIMATE.

$800 for looking after Peterboro's health is not placing a very high premium on the value of human life on the skill of the Medical Health Officer.

COME ON, MR. FARMER.

Some of the rural sections of Peterboro County are holding the total back. In spite of this handicap the County is tenth in the Ontario Victory Loan list. A bigger mark is certain if the concession lines will help.

NO NEED OF IMPATIENCE.

Election officials who are clamoring for their money and cannot get it because there is no government to pay it just now, should take comfort from the fact that the enumerators who did their work when there was a government at Queen's Park had to wait two months or more for their renumeration.

THE G.T.R. BILL.

Mr. Burnham's action in voting for the Campbell amendment to the Grand Trunk Bill and against the government, it is fancied, will find much more favour in the eyes of his constituents than some of his other votes. Many people will be inclined to ask with Mr. Burnham, why the government should pay $25,000,000 more than the market price for the guaranteed stock of the G.T.R. and why the price to be paid for this stock should not be settled by arbitration.

RE-McPHERSON'S SALARY.

The request of Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health for an increase in salary is one that should not occasion much debate on the part of the Council, except in as much as the size of the increase is concerned. Peterboro is paying for the professional services of Dr. McPherson, as guardian of health of the community the munificent sum of $600 a year, about the same rate as the city pays the men who keep its streets clean. This was the salary paid Dr. McPherson when he went overseas in 1915—it had been the rate for sometime before—and although the cost of living doubled during the time Peterboro's health officer was on military duty overseas, he returned to find his salary at the same low level as when he left.

The Council should unanimously decide to put the Health Officer's renumeration on a scale commensurate to the importance of his position and the increase should be generous. The duties involved in looking after the health of the community of 21,000 persons are onerous and exacting and Dr. McPherson's professional skill enhanced by the varied experience of a military medical officer during years of warfare is an asset that the city should be willing to pay for. The present salary in view of the increase in the cost of living is shamefully low—much below the standard of other cities and an utterly inadequate recompense for a civic officer whose duties should be about the most important to be handled by corporation officials. The Council should lose no time in adjusting this matter.

RENTS AND DEPRESSION.

In an interesting article, Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., gives excessive rents, caused by real estate booms in the cities and towns, as the main reason for industrial depression. High rents are undoubtedly a big item in the cost of living but to place all the blame for depression upon the men who own property is surely putting too much stress upon one class of the community as a fatcor in a situation that is world-wide. It is unfortunately true that there are profiteering landlords just as there are profiteering merchants and profiteering manufacturers and profiteering farmers and profiteering workmen. There are property-owners who exact far too much rental, just as there are merchants who charge far too much for their goods and workmen who do far too litle for their pay. But there is the landlord's side of the story to consider. He will tell you that rent increases during the past few years were inevitable. With the tax rate increasing, with the assessment constantly higher, with the cost of repairs continually climbing because of the jump in the price of material and labour, it was necessary that there should be a proportionate increase in rentals. There are men in Peterborough who invested their savings in the purchase of two or three houses, counting upon the rents from these properties to furnish them with an income sufficient to support them during their declining years. In view of the increase in the cost of living and the swelling taxes and other expenses inseparable from the ownership of such property, is it reasonable to expect that such landlords could afford to keep their rents at a pre-war level?

AN ERA OF ECONOMY.

The first public address of Premier-Elect Drury and the editorial columns of the official organ of the United Farmers of Ontario alike convey the impression that rigid economy is to be one of the most promipent features in the legislature programme of the new goverament.

"What the people of Ontario expect, and what they are justified in demanding from the new Government, before anything and everything else, is the utmost economy in the Provincial expenditure consistent with efficiency." says the Farmers' Sun.

"The war has left the Dominion as a whole with a stupendous burden of debt and an extremely heavy annual charge for pensions to those incapacitated by war. The Province was heavily loaded with indebtedness before the war came. For a generation to come the people of this country will be faced with the necessity of raising the unprecedented sum by taxation in order to meet liabilities already incurred. The task will be made all the heavier by reason of the reaction that is bound to follow upon fictitious war-time prosperity.

Under the circumstances the paramount duty of every governing body, from the township council up is to eliminate all waste in the public spending. In that duty the new People's Government should lead the way. No thought of personal friendship can be permitted to interfere with the rigid application of the pruning knife to every department of the public service. And a beginning may well be made at the top by relieving the Province of the cost of maintaining the wholly useless palace in the valley of the Don."

If the New Government does not make the mistake of substituting parsimony for economy and of starving public service by a policy that will be stingy rather than wise, it will find that the people of the Province will be behind it in its effort to eliminate extravagance from the expenditure of Ontario.

WOMEN'S SHARE.

No one can ever say again, that woman's interests are confined to the four walls of her home. If the saying ever was true, the war has laid its ghost and buried its bones.

Were it not so, what would have happened about all the patriotic work that was accomplished during the war?

There are thousands of women who used not to see beyond the personal needs of the family, until the war was upon us. Then they learned that there was something bigger than selfish interests. As they saw sons, husbands and brothers march away, they knew that they would not have kept them at home if they could.

Why?

Because they had found the bigger duty, the bigger interest, the greater love—of country.

The lad's might die, and the mother's hearts must break, yet even the white haired mother, her eyes full of the agony of parting, would not have called the son back.

The war found its heroes among women as among men. And the war taught us a love of country which can never die in our hearts—a love which we must pass on in all its fullness and enthusiasm to those who follow this generation.

With women realizing their duty to and love for their country, they have taken their full share in making the Victory Loan of 1919 a success. And, though lacking the impetus given by the reality of war, women will still bear their share in the Victory Loan this year. They realize now the need of the money even though the war is over. Their vision has broadened from the four walls of home to the boundaries of this dear Canada of promise; broadened to the four points of the compass which mark the boundaries of the Empire.

They want to see the land of promise become the land of fulfilment. If Canada is capable of yet greater things, they know that behind the determination of her people must be the very practical money.

Every country has to work out its own destiny. We may say that rather glibly but if we will think for a moment of what it means, we will realize that the country "is the people in the country." As Canadians—men and women—contribute loyally of their brains, their brawn and their money, in the same degree will the destiny of Canada be measured.

If Canada is to do her duty by her soldiers, if Canada is to pay her war debts, if Canada is to prosper commercially and financially, then Canada must spend money.

When you buy Victory Bonds you do your duty, and you only do your full duty when you buy not only one, but as many as you can afford.

When a call is made on our patriotism we answer in full measure.

When the women are asked this year to buy Victory Bonds—to lend their money to our own country—the Canadian women, will answer in generous measure.

If manners make the man that explains the undone condition of some men.

GERMAN BUDGET PASSED.

New Taxes Expected to Yield 9 Billion Marks—Debt is 204 Billion.

BERLIN,—The National Assembly today passed the third reading of the budget, notwithstanding the negative vote of the two parties of the Right and the Independents, and then adjourned until Nov. 20.

Nathias Erzberger, Minister of Finance, reviewing the financial situation, said new taxes were expected to yield 9,000,000,000 marks. As the interest on the national debt would be 8,817,000,000 marks, Dr. Erzberger said, his estimate of the revenue of 1919 had previously been fully covered. He added that the national debt amounted to 204,000,000,000 marks, and that by the end of March, 1920, it would probably reach 212,812,000,000 marks.

The Power of Inspiration

GEORGE BROWN'S ambition was to build up a Great Family Newspaper that would be a source of inspiration to each succeeding generation to go forward.

He wanted them in reading The Globe to get a broad outlook on life, and sympathy for, as well as an understanding of their fellows that make men and women of us all.

He urged upon others the same unselfish devotion to public service that he himself rendered.

All men and women cannot rise to positions of fame and fortune, but they can do something to leave the world better for their coming.

The Globe has been a part of the family life of many men and women who have come from humble circumstances to rise in the service and estimation of their fellows.

It has received a daily welcome in the homes of thousands who have left the world brighter and better for their sojourn here.

To give some idea of the exceptional influence The Globe has in the homes of its readers, take the result of a test of The Globe's circulation.

Out of 2,949 renewals of subscriptions made to The Globe in the usual course of business for a period prior to April 1st this year, 1,969 subscribers answered the question "How long has The Globe been read continuously in your family?"

This is the result:—

Readers for	50 years	or	more	255 or 13%
" "	40 "	"	"	436 or 22%
" "	30 "	"	"	681 or 34%
" "	20 "	"	"	962 or 48%
" "	10 "	"	"	1340 or 68%

On the basis of this test, out of the 30,000 families who subscribed to The Globe 30 years ago, 17,000 families are subscribing to it today; and out of the 45,000 families who subscribed to The Globe 10 years ago, 30,000 families are subscribing to it to-day.

In the 75th Anniversary Edition of The Globe on March 5th, 1919, names and addresses were printed of 300 families who have read The Globe continuously for 50 years or more.

The Globe has enjoyed three generations of leadership and inspiration of the people. What it has been in the past it will be in the future.

To maintain this position—to give The Globe a place in every home—to stimulate the aspirations of the people as well as to record daily events—is the fulfilment of the policy laid down by its founder, and continued from George Brown's time down to the present.

The Promoter's Wife

BY JANE PHELPS

BARBARA SEES A REPORTER FOR THE FIRST TIME.

CHAPTER CVIII

"What is it, Neil?" I asked as soon as we were alone. "Are you ill, dear?"

"No! Nothing so simple as being ill. Barbara, I can't tell you; you'll have to read it for yourself. That skunk, Scott, is trying to ruin me."

"Trying to ruin you. Why?" I made no move to take the paper extended. I was too shocked at Neil's appearance now that I saw him in the lighted room. He looked like death, and I noted that he staggered as he walked. Yet he had not been drinking. Of that I was sure.

"Because he is a whelp!"

"But why, Neil? He surely gives some reason."

"He says I cheated him. Why don't you take the paper and read what they say about your husband? How was I to take time to examine every property I handled. I took my risk; others had to take theirs. Then when they can't get a hundred per cent. on their investment they squeal. Bah! I am sick to death of them all." He flung his hands out in a gesture of something very like despair. character away like that." I was slowly unfolding the paper. "It's outrageous. To say you cheated is false and I know it." As I said that every bit of blood seemed to leave his face. He was ashy gray, and trembling.

"But I may not be able to prove it."

"There, dear, don't worry. It will all come out right." The paper slid to the floor as I had my arm around his neck.

"Read what they say, Bab; then you may not be so lenient in your judgment. They're not. They even bring you in for their miserable ranting. Gad, I'd like to get even with Scott for this. I am ruined, Bab; ruined, I tell you." He shook with dry sobs.

I was frightened. I did not know what to do. I stooped, raised the paper, opened it and read:

"John Scott, western millionaire, accuses Neil Forbes, mining promoter." Then below: "Scott claims that Forbes induced him to supply money for digging wells when he, Forbes, did not even own the land. He also claims that Forbes' extravagance, his fine new house and expensive motor cars, etc., are purchased with the money of victims like himself who have given it to Forbes for investment upon his promise of large dividends. It is evidently the old shyster game of getting rich upon the credulity of the people. Forbes has overstepped himself, Scott says. And he will prosecute him unless every cent he has paid him, Forbes, is returned forthwith." There followed some more irrelevant stuff, then: "Forbes had quite an extended clientele among people of small means who gave him their all because of his glowing promises. It remains to see what their attitude will be when they know he has swindled them."

I stood motionless with the paper clutched in my hand. A groan from Neil startled me.

"Why don't you say something?" he demanded. "Pretty, isn't it?"

"No, dear it is not pretty, and I do not believe you ever intended to swindle anyone. But we must do something at once—something to stop this—any more of it." A thought of Blanche Orton flashed thru my mind. Suppose the papers got hold of her—the part she had played in helping Neil. No one would believe it was a business arrangement. My face burned as I thought of what people would say, what they would surely think. "Let us call up Frederick, dear; perhaps he can do something."

"No, it's no use. He tried and failed."

"But surely we can do something. Pay Scott every cent you have taken from him. Then he will be satisfied."

"I can't pay him. I haven't money enough. Then don't you see all the rest, when they see this, will be down on me like a pack of wolves. No, I can do nothing but—" he stopped as the door bell jangled loudly.

"A gentleman to see you," the maid announced.

"Show him in," I told her, and she ushered in a brisk young man who said:

"I have come to get your side of this affair, Mr. Forbes. I am on The Express-Tribune."

The Refinement of Purity

CAREFUL cooks know the value of purity. In the making of cakes or pastry they use those ingredients which they believe to be pure and wholesome.

To apply this "insistence on purity" to sugar, is no easy matter—for nearly all sugars look alike to those not expert in detecting variation. The safe course is to use a sugar that comes from refineries in which purity is a boast.

In the Dominion Sugar refineries the boast is backed by a standing invitation to the public to visit and inspect the plants in which Dominion Crystal Sugar is made.

In Dominion Crystal Sugar the housewives of Canada have one sugar that can be depended upon for that Purity which is so essential to successful culinary effort.

This is the only sugar that may be rightly termed "Canadian from the ground up. We do import the finest raw cane sugar and refine it—but our pride is in the product we make from Canadian sugar beets.

NO KINDLY LIGHT

(By H. F. GADSBY)

(By H. F. Gadsby.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 6. — Parliament closes amidst general gloom. The reason is the Third Party. What is it going to do to the two old-line parties. They were getting along fairly well together until the intruder arrived to break up the happy home. In politics as in love the eternal Triangle is a great curse.

Members of both parties recognize that there is a certain amount of writing on the wall for them in the Ontario election and the federal by-elections but the Conservative party probably sees more in it than the other fellow because its platform is not built to fit the new conditions. It feels besides that the farmers may well harbour a grudge from 1911 and that the day of anger is at hand.

The Conservative party views the U. F. O.—Us For Ourselves they christen it—with alarm. It has spread like wildfire. Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Is., New Brunswick all seem to have got it. The flame may even extend to safe, sane and sober Quebec where the Eastern Townships are regarded as the likeliest spot. Already the Liberals speak of fifty Quebec seats in the next Parliament thus conceding fifteen to the new crusades. Ontario and the Prairie Provinces have succumbed. Only British Columbia hangs on and that by the eyebrows.

It looks dark for the Conservative party in more ways than one. I say it looks dark for the Conservative party because even the most frenzied Unionist now admits that there is no such a thing as a Unionist party outside of the House of Commons. The bye-elections proved that beyond a doubt. The Unionist party is dead but it goes on talking in its last long sleep. It expects to keep on talking until 1922 after which it will give up the ghost. What will emerge from its grave? The stalwarts say the Conservative party which still has some kick in it although Rowell and Hearst have done their best to make an inside job of murdering it.

The Conservative party feels very sore at Mr. Rowell as the chief assassin and at Premier Borden as his blundering accomplice. It is agreed that Premier Borden is finished, but Mr. Rowell's future is still in doubt. One thing is certain, his future will not be with the Conservative party. It may be with the Independent Labor Party where Mr. Rowell's newspaper friends have been driving a nail for him to hang his hat on, but it will not be with his present associates from either of his old flocks. Mr. Rowell will be the one that is "out on the hills away" unless he can find a fold of his own.

Another grudge the Conservative party bears Mr. Rowell is prohibition. The Conservative party, take it by and large, is not the Uplife party. On the contrary it rather suspects Uplift and is inclined to impart ulterior motives to those politicians who make Uplift their career. Truth to tell this frame of mind seems to be reflected by the general public, which usually votes for the good cause but throws the man or the party who tries to ride it. Ontario did that very thing to Mr. Rowell and his party in 1914, and repeats the performance with Sir William Hearst in this year of grace 1919. There is no reason to suppose that the political party which tries the same trick on a larger scale in the federal arena will fare any better.

For this reason alone if for no other, Mr. Rowell and his hobby are not welcome to the Conservative party which has no desire to perish for his further glory. The lesson, as the Conservatives see it, is that they must have an affirmative policy. No party can live merely by negations and uplift. The affirmative policy of the Conservatives will probably be high tariff plus an extensive development of Canada's natural and industrial resources.

Most of the criticism of the farmers' movement comes from the Conservative party which refuses to believe that Jim Calder invented it for his own special purposes. The farmers' movement is like Topsy — it 'Jes' growed, and the earth it grew in was the reciprocity election of 1911 which demonstrated to the farmers that if they wanted anything, they must strike out and get it for themselves. The movement completely obliterated the old parties in the United States Middle West. From that source it spread across the border and now all Canada has to reckon with it.

Some of the more sanguine Conservatives claim that the farmers, being landholders, small capitalists and small manufacturers, belong to the Conservative party and that their alliance with the working man in Ontario is an unnatural alliance of long hours and short, high prices and low,—a discordant partnership which cannot long endure between the hiring and firing class and the hired and fired one. But these reflections fired no action in the breasts of sensible Conservatives who look at the advanced platform of the farmers and protest that they are Liberals in everything but name.

What's more they do not like the farmers' attitude toward prohibition and point out with alarm to the fact that the first blot out of Leader Drury in Ontario is on that subject which has already done the Conservative party so much harm. The Conservative party is sick, yes even to death of Uplift and all the sanctimonious persons it brings in its train.

The Unionist party, has, of course, decided to draw together for the full term, being convinced that if it doesn't draw together it will be hanged, drawn and quartered separately. Since the by-elections kicked the Unionist party downstairs four times out of five a couple of weeks ago the Unionist party has known that its fate was sealed. As the little boy said of the apple core, "There ain't goin' to be no Unionist party." It'll be Liberal or Conservative or no party at all. With this prospect in store the Hon. Bob Rogers, as travelling redeemer of the grand old Conservative party, comes into his own again, as it were automatically. Automatically also the Big Stick, so often used in the Unionist caucus—that is to say the threat, "We'll go to the country if you don't stand behind us"—loses its compelling force. The Government went to the country and what the country did to it is almost unfit to print. Any other time a Union Government goes to the country it goes to hell the same way. So the Big Stick takes another shape now. The formula has been changed and now it runs thus, "If you stand behind us we won't go to the country," which amounts to the same thing and sounds a great deal better. Any Unionist will tell you that there is about as much chance of the Union Government going to the country before it absolutely has to as there is of Mr. Rowell plunging headlong into the crater of Mount Vesuvius.

I have heard a few Liberals speak of the farmers as "little Junkers" but mostly they welcome them as friends and view their advent with temperant joy. They realize that the farmer's movement must run its course—that it is a vast and powerful movement, much more significant than the Patrons of Industry, and that it portends new adjustments. These adjustments probably mean that the Liberal party takes second place in a coalition party where it formerly took first. In this part the Liberal party has a farmer tail. From now on—perhaps for five or six years—the Farmers Party may have a Liberal tail. The main point is that the Liberals and the farmers are natural partners and that some day they must come together.

As a matter of fact the Liberal platform covers almost everything the farmers ask and if the Liberals intend to work at it there is small use for a farmer's party traversing the same ground. In a manner of speaking, the farmer's party is a goad to the Liberal party to make good its promises and if it does make them good the U.F.O. will go the way of all previous farmer's parties—that is to say it will take shelter in the capacious bosom of a Liberal party which is nearest its hearts desire.

But before that happens it will possibly do a little ruling at Ottawa—accomplishing those disagreeable but necessary things which the old parties refused to do—such as cutting down expenses, bleeding the profiteers, and firing half the Civil Service.

THOMAS TOOMS, M.P.P., EXPRESSES THANKS TO ORGANIZED LABOUR

AT FIRST MEETING OF TRADES AND LABOUR COUNCIL SINCE HIS ELECTION—COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO RECOMMEND MUNICIPAL CANDIDATES.

NEW MEMBER CONFIDENT

At the meeting of the Trades and Labour Council last night Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.L.A., thanked organized Labour for their support in electing him to the Legislature.

"I realize the responsibility of my position" he said "and I shall be as careful as I can, knowing that all eyes are upon me. I don't doubt that I shall make some mistakes that may happen that are pardonable, but blunders are another matter. In taking part in the preliminaries of the party my arguments were treated with respect and consideration. I have every confidence in our leader Rollo of Hamilton who also will act as Minister of Labour. We will also have another portfolio which Premier Drury has not yet named. There is nothing but unity of purpose existing between the farmer and Labour, and if we perform one-third of the platform which Labour and the Farmers are agreed upon I am sure we shall have accomplished more for the producer than any previous Government.

As to Mayor McBride most of you are anxious to know the facts. They are regrettable and I am inclined to think that the member for Brantford is a little run down in health owing to overwork, which made him impatient. I was with him for sometime previous to going to the convention and I feel sure as the farmers put it the light is burning in the window for his return. I have the greatest regard for that gentleman who perhaps is a little hasty, a good speaker and debater and has done much for the cause. But now we have the opportunity to act we are not going lightly to throw over that opportunity. I think I will leave the matter here, and I feel sure that at the end of my term I shall be able to write my own name with some effect."

To Recommend Candidates.

A special committee composed of William Rudkins, T. J. Stenton and E. J. Quinn was appointed to interview prospective Labour candidates for the City Council, Utilities Commission and Board of Education. This committee may be prepared to report to the Council at their next meeting on November 19th. The expressed intention last night was that Labour should be organized early for the municipal elections.

Organising Committee.

Mr. Howard Matthews and Mr. J. Arthur Sharpe were appointed an organizing committee to get in touch with unions that are not represented on the Council, and particularly to assist in the formation of new unions.

Assist Steel Workers.

Responding to an appeal from the executive of the American Federation of Labour for support for the striking steel workers in the United States the Council passed a grant of ten dollars. It was stater that there are 400,000 employees who with their families need assistance, and also that the strike was more successful than had been reported in newspapers.

CHARGES AGAINST STRIKE LEADERS TO BE AMENDED

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 6.—Some time within the next ten days the actual trial of the eight strike leaders charged with seditious conspiracy is expected to open. Before that period has elapsed, however, some charges included in the amended information under which the men are now held may be altered or enlarged, A. J. Andrews, K.C., special Crown prosecutor, said to-day.

Mr. Andrews would not tell the exact nature of the proposed changes which will be made when the case is laid before the Grand Jury and the prosecution asks for an indictment.

The presentation of the evidence before the Grand Jury will be the next step in the proceedings.

Solicitors on both sides, however, look on this feature as something of formality, as the order of Magistrate R. M. Noble, who conducted the preliminary hearing, holding the men for trial, is taken as sufficient basis for the issuance of an indictment.

In case the Grand Jury should not return a true bill, however, the case would be at an end, and the men would go free.

According to Mr. Andrews, the matter will not be laid before the Grand Jury until some time next week.

Every promise of a long drawn out trial, marked by many clashes of legal opinion and argument, masses of evidence, and reams of testimony is held out by the prospect of the trial.

The preliminary hearing, at which only the prosecution put in its case, occupied sixteen full Court days.

LABOUR COUNCIL ADOPTS THE ELECTORAL IDEA OF RECALL

CANDIDATES FOR MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS WILL BE REQUIRED TO SUBMIT RESIGNATIONS BEFORE THEY ARE ENDORSED—ALD. GARSIDE'S EXPLANATION.

What is known as the principle of recall will henceforth be imposed by the Trades and Labour Council upon candidates for municipal elections.

To gain the endorsation of organized Labour such candidates will be required, as a pledge of fidelity, to deposit with the Trades Council their written resignations from the body to which they may be elected, in the present case the City Council. If a Labour alderman refuses then to adhere to the municipal platform of the Trades and Labour Council his resignation may be submitted to the City Council.

When this subject was under discussion at last night's meeting one member raised the question whether a recalcitrant Alderman could be held to his written word.

"If he is a man he will live up to his promise" remarked one member.

"At any rate it will be up to the City Council to reject or accept that resignation" commented another.

What Prompted It.

Ald. Garside's negative vote on the motion at Monday night's meeting of the City Council petitioning the Legislature to remove the property qualifications for municipal office introduced the discussion which precipitated the recall resolution.

Asked for an explanation of his motives, Ald. Garside illustrated his attitude by citing a suppositional situation. If in a Council of ten members of whom six were non-property holders and four owned property, an injunction were brought against the Council for maladministration, the brunt of the action would fall upon the property holders for the simple reason that the majority had no property to attach.

Ald. Garside was reminded that he had accepted the platform of the Labour Council which included a clause calling for the abolition of property qualifications in municipal elections, and that Monday night's motion was simply a request to the Legislature to wipe out that restriction.

The Labour Council calmly regarded the incident as a signal for the recall, although Ald. Morrison stated that he considered it unnecessary. Speaking for himself he said he felt that any one of the Labour Aldermen would resign if for just cause the Labour Council called upon such a member to do so.

YOUTH HAS BEEN LIVING ON A FARM NEAR PETERBORO.

At yesterday's session of the Lindsay police court the young man, Reginald Denham Jones, who was arrested here Saturday by Chief Short, appeared before Magistrate Bradford on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and also of wearing a stolen discharge button. The man is about twenty years of age, and comes from a farm near Peterborough.

In 1917, while under age he left home and enlisted, but was soon discharged. Some time later he again enlisted in Montreal, got as far as Halifax, but was rejected and discharged as physically unfit. He then took a job as fireman on the Grand Trunk, living in Montreal. About a week ago, according to his story, he obtained a pass from his locomotive foreman and went to Toronto via Belleville and Lindsay. While in the city he was met by an unknown soldier, who gave him a drink of something he claims was "doped" whiskey and also gave him a returned soldier's button to wear, saying that he did not want it any longer. The man then came to Lindsay by freight train on a pass. He went to the Secretary of the G.W.V.A and asked for a recommendation in order to get an overcoat. He then went to Mr. E. S. Anderson, of the Dominion Bank and by telling a hard-luck story of being wounded, gassed, etc., obtained a loan of ten dollars. Trying to get contributions from several merchants he was tripped up and arrested by Chief Short.

While on a previous trip to Toronto the young man had an affidavit made before a notary public in which he swore that he had spent considerable time overseas and in England, and that he had recently lost his discharge button in Toronto.

This was very damaging evidence as it is now shown that he never left Canada. He says he did this because he had lost his second discharge papers.

The man is quite evidently mentally deranged, as his vague and disconnected story showed. He was committed to the Ontario Reformatory for one year, Magistrate Bradford stating that he believed such people, trading on the reputation of returned men, were a menace to public safety.

Mr. L. R. Knight appeared for the accused and Mr. T. H. Stinson for the Crown.—Lindsay Post.

VICTORY LOAN NOT PROGRESSING IN SASKATCHEWAN

(Special to The Examiner.)

REGINA, Nov. 6. — The Victory Loan in Saskatchewan is not going to suit the Provincial Executive. They are not saying much in the public press, but they are doing a lot of worrying in private. It isn't so much that they fear the province will not reach its objective, for most of the members profess every confidence the $15,000,000 alloted to Saskatchewan wil be raised, but they are alarmed at the small number of persons who are applying for bonds.

RUDELY INTERRUPTED "LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM"

(Special to The Examiner.)

REGINA, Nov. 6.—Franks Fick's "love's young dream" was rudely interrupted by Detective Sergt. Killwyn, and now Fick is awaiting a preliminary hearing on a charge of abducting an heiress under the age of eighteen years. A feature of the interruption was that the Police Inspector made the arrest when Fick was dreaming on a pile of potatoes in a cellar at Yorkton, where he had taken refuge. The "Juliet" in the case is Emma Kendal, a sprightly lass of about sixteen summers, whose daddy is worth about one hundred thousand dollars, and she is sure to get a good slice of this.

MEANS EVERYTHING TO WORKING CLASS

Continuance of Regular Fat Pay Envelope Depends on Victory Loan.

No class of citizens is more vitally interested in the success of the Victory Loan than the workers. It just about means everything to them. They have acquired the satisfactory habit of getting the well filled pay envelope regularly. This is because business is good all along the line. The factories have all the orders they can fill. Times are good to-day. It would be a pity to spoil it.

Much of the present prosperity is owing to the fact that Canada is supplying an enormous quantity of her surplus products to countries across the sea. This market was made possible through the giving of credits to the purchasing countries. A portion of the proceeds of the last Victory Loan was devoted to this purpose. More money is needed now and the people must provide it, if they would keep prosperity here.

Great Britain and her Allies have more orders but are not yet in the position where they can pay cash. Canada can have these orders by extending the credits. The money will all be spent in the Dominion. The Victory Loan will provide for this purpose and the workers should subscribe liberally to it for their own profit and protection.

In 1875, Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., gathered and dried the roots and herbs which she used in the now famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, from the fields and forests,—then steeped them on her kitchen stove and filled a few bottles at a time, to alleviate the suffering of her women friends, neighbors and acquaintances, and the success of this medicine was unparalleled.

After 44 Years

These illustrations show the present method by which vast quantities of this well-known remedy are produced and from exactly the same kind of roots and herbs used by Mrs. Pinkham in the beginning.

First—The various herbs used are of the finest quality, and gathered at the time their medicinal strength is the highest.

Second—After the herbs are properly ground and mixed, the medicinal properties are extracted by soaking in large stone jars, covered.

Third—Then the extract is drained through percolators, acting somewhat like a coffee percolator.

Fourth—To insure a thoroughly pure medicine, it is carefully pasteurized by heat in special apparatus, and bottled hot.

Throughout the entire process, from the crude herb to the finished medicine in bottle, cleanliness and exactness are the watch-words.

The Reliability of Testimonials Guaranteed

The testimonials published by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company come to them unsolicited. Never knowingly have they published an untruthful letter, never is a letter published without the written consent of the writer. The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness. It is easy to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; and their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

Home-Made Lotion for Wrinkled, Flabby Skin

To remove wrinkles and age lines, or to delay their formation, a simple lotion made by dissolving one ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel, will be found wonderfully efficacious. This tends to tighten and tone up the relaxed skin, making it firm and smooth. The ingredients of course can be had at any drug store or in toilet sections of department stores.

Bathe the face with this harmless lotion daily for awhile and every line will vanish, including the deepest crowsfeet and furrows. Even the first application gives surprising results. There is nothing better for reducing double chin and sagging cheek muscles, as well as enlarged pores. No trace of the treatment itself remains on the face, so your friends will not guess the reason for your rejuvenated appearance.

RESTORING THE ELASTICITY OF RUBBER.

Rubber articles that have become hard recover their elasticity in a short time if placed in three per cent. carbolic water or three per cent. aniline solution. In the case of the carbolic solution it must not be forgotten that black goods exposed to it become gray. If it is desired to preserve the black or red color of the goods that too can be done. A one per cent. solution of pentasulphate of potash is employed. It is true that this smells unpleasantly, but the restoration of elasticity is quite considerable.

NEARING THE OBJECTIVE.

Peterborough City has the chance of being the first city in Ontario to report its Victory Loan objective reached, and send in an order for the Prince of Wales' Flag.

The objective can be reached if the City to-day subscribes $128,000.00.

The salesmen are out to get it—but everybody will have to help. It's a big sum, but not out of proportion. It can be done, so let's do it.

Remember that the Victory Loan headquarters will be open to-night as usual. If you have not already subscribed to the Loan, do so to-night. Your dollars may be all that may be required to swell the day's totals to $120,000, and allow the officials to wire headquarters at Toronto that—Peterborough Has Won!

A REAL KNOCKOUT FOR COL. CURRIE

DR. EDWARDS DIAGNOSES THE COLONEL'S COMPLAINT.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6. — Both the Commons and the Senate had morning sessions to-day in an effort to clean up business and secure early prorogation.

The Senate discussed the Grand Trunk Purchase Bill, and Senator Smeaton White joined the other Government-supporting Senators in opposing the Bill as now constituted.

In the Commons the debate was continued on the amendment to the report of the Soldiers' Re-establishment Committee, and developed into personalities in relation to Colonel John A. Currie, who was one of the Commoners who indulged in a pugilistic exhibition in the corridor yesterday.

Dr. Edwards, of Frontenac, declared that Colonel Currie had all the bumptiousness and assurance of Kaiser Wilhelm, with none of the latter's modesty.

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three-fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore, it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used, and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This, with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes:—"From a child I was always very badly constipated, and I can well remember when quite young, my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning, and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SAD DEATH TOOK PLACE IN APSLEY

WAR BRIDE PASSED AWAY AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS—THE FUNERAL

A very sad death, and one which cast a gloom over the whole community took place in the village on Thursday morning, Oct. 30, when Isabella McKee, beloved wife of William Scott, our popular young blacksmith, passed away, despite medical skill and careful nursing, at the early age of 28 years. The physicians in attendance were Dr. Shepherd, of the village and Dr. Smith of Lakefield. Nurse Kilborn, of Brockville, and Mrs. A. Smith, of Chandos, were the attending nurses.

The deceased was a native of Saintfield, County Down, Ireland, and was married to her now sorrowing husband on August 27, 1918, he having enlisted for active service at the outbreak of the war.

During her short sojourn here, by her cheerful disposition and many admirable qualities she made many friends.

She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her sorrowing husband and infant daughter (Isabella McKee), a father, mother, two sisters and two brothers in her native town, all of whom have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

The funeral, which was one of the largest held in the village for some time, took place from her late residence on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 1. A short service was held at the house by Rev. J. H. Beck, Methodist minister. The funeral procession proceeded to the Anglican church, where service was conducted by Rev. C. Spence. A very impressive sermon was preached from the following text, "The Living Know That They Shall Die," Ecclesiastes, chap. ix, verse 5. The hymns chosen for the occasion were: "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Nearer My God to Thee." A solo, "There's a Beautiful Land on High," was rendered in excellent voice by Miss Marjorie Spence.

After the service the remains were conveyed to the Union cemetery for interment. Rev. C. Spence officiated at the grave, assisted by Rev. J. H. Beck.

Relatives from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. West and Miss May Kilborn of Toronto.

Floral tributes were contributed by the following friends: Mr. and Mrs. N James, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. C. Smith, cross; Mr. and Mrs. W. Lean, cross; Mr. and Mrs. W. Staples, bouquet; Miss O. Sanborn, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. B. Coones, bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. J. Kilborn, bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. W. Hales, bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. D. Brown, bouquet; Mrs. A. Booth, bouquet; Mr. and Mrs. W. Earnshaw, bouquet; Rev. and Mrs. Spence, wreath; Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson, bouquet.

Since thy Father's arm sustainss thee peaceful be,
When a chast'ning hand restrains thee it is He.
Know His love in full completeness
Is the measure of thy weakness,
If He wound thy spirit sore, trust Him more.

Fearest sometimes that thy Father has forgot,
Always hath the daylight broken,
Always He hath comfort spoken,
Better hath He been for years than thy fears.

To his own thy Saviour giveth daily strength
To each troubled soul that liveth peace at length.
Weakest lambs have largest sharing
Of this tender Shepherd's caring,
Ask Him not, then, where or how, only bow.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this to-night, and by morning most it not all, of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

PACKING HOUSE ECONOMY.

The by-products, obtained in the packing house industry may be divided into two classes —the edible and the inedible. The inedible constitute the external covering (hair, horns, hoofs and hides), some of the offal, and the bones. In the manufacture of buttons, combs, knife handles and spatulas from the horns and hoofs of cattle and sheep and the hoofs of hogs, the waste resulting from the preparation of these articles was at one time thrown away, but it has been found that by treating such material with sulphuric acid the nitrogren which it contains becomes available as a fertilizer.

BOWLING AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The Centrals scored again in the "Y" Bowling League on Monday night, taking 3 games from the Busy Bunch, where the absence of Hardill was a great handicap. The scores were good, and the Busy Bunch fought hard for the games and for a place on the top line. George and Jack Green bowled well for the winners, the former making the highest score for the night. No one player deserves the blame of losing for the Busy Bunch. C. Lacheur set the pace by chalking up a good score each game.

During the demonstration a large number of shots were fired. One negro was killed, according to reports and two others wounded. The town is quite today.

FINGERS GOOD BAIT.

NEWTON, N. J.—Robert Chamberlain, of Allentown, Pa., while rowing ashore empty handed from a fishing trip at Budd's Lake, near here, was startled when he put his hand in the water to find a huge pickerel that had evaded lures all day hanging on to several of his fingers.

Chamberlain landed the fish in his boat. This at least is his story. A jealous rival fisherman spread the report that the "pickerel" Chamberlain caught was a snapping turtle.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

What promises to be an event of unusual importance and hilarity is the announcement of the coming of "Bringing up Father in Society", based on the popular cartoon of George McManus. This exceptional offering will be the next attraction at the Grand on Saturday with the usual matinee. In extolling the numerous virtues of this unique concoction of mirth, joy, gladness, happiness, melody and song, the fact must not be forgotten that it is an entertainment created on lines seldom presented to an exacting public. It has been aptly described as a "show that is different" and the commendation, judging by the wonderful success it has attained where ever presented, seems more than justified. Those who revel in coming in close proximity with all the favorite characters of this most amusing of newspaper comics should not miss "Father" this season. He has much to do in his new environment and "Society", it appears, has taken him to its arms like the proverbial prodigal son of yore. The new play is in three acts and employs a cast of over forty people.

"BILL" HART EXCELS AS BAD MAN OF WEST IN "BREED OF MEN"

To see "Big Bill" Hart ride, shoot and rope steers in a Western photoplay, is a delight. There are few cow punchers in the West who have William S. Hart's skill in these accomplishments and when they are seen in a motion picture play, the real thing is reproduced. In his new picture, "Breed of Men," which will be shown

William S. Hart presents
WILLIAM S. HART

at the Allen Theatre to-morrow, Mr. Hart discloses his ability to ride, shoot and rope as few men are able to do.

Many of these scenes were made at the world-famous stockyards in Chicago. Others were filmed in California where a complete Western street was erected and a completely fitted gambling den and other accoutrements have been provided.

The action centres about the efforts of a land shark to swindle the settlers in Arizona bottomlands. How he is brought to book by the Sheriff, played by William S. Hart, is shown graphically in the denouement of the startling story of life as it is lived in the far Southwest.

FACTS CONCERNING "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

MILESTONES

WHY THE FOREMAN CLAMORS.

Our foreman is always clamoring for early copy. Yet he isn't any more interested in it than you are, Friend Advertiser.

The difference is that he, better than anyone else, knows what it means in his business. And as his business is to help your business through ads that have the sparkle of good display—well, you can see where your interest comes in.

Right here in the composing-room time is money—the kind of money good advertising pulls.

First, the foreman explains, the copy has to get the twice-over. Somebody with an eye for turning manuscript into type must "lay it out." Which is printer's language for marking the styles and sizes of display type, estimating the body text, figuring the space that each section of the ad should have to play up its main points and still fit the space you've allowed for it.

Then, if the ad has several sections, it must be cut up and divided among compositors. Display lines are set up in type that matches their style of beauty. Body text goes to other men.

Meanwhile, if it is to have border or cuts, the assembler places these, either in the "form" or on a big brass "galley." As the different parts of the ad come to him in type he puts them together. Maybe, if the copy was hastily written and hard to estimate, changes have to be made in type sizes.

When it is all assembled and spaced for good display, a proof is taken. This and the original copy go to the proofreader.

It is up to him to correct all errors of composition. No casual customer ever studied an ad closer than does the proofreader.

From him the proof goes back to the copy desk for corrections. If there are many of these, still another proof is drawn and read.

Moreover, the foreman studies it to make sure that the whole effect is good—that it balances well and has the "punch." Sometimes, if there's time, he marks a whole section of it to be reset or respaced.

Not till he is satisfied with every item in this process does he give the ad his O.K. Not till then can it represent you and your business the way you want to be represented.

And every ad that comes into the office gets this attention—IF you give the foreman the necessary time to do good work.

EX-CONVICT'S SURPRISE.

LONDON.—"What, I am summoned for income tax, after doing 21 years' penal servitude at Dartmoor, and an old man at 70? You are driving me to commit another felony to pay this," said a man at Woolwich.

"I have walked from Dulwich, and cadged a glass of beer on the way," he added.

"Please give me 4d out of the poor-box, so I shall not have to walk back."

The authorities said the man's former character had nothing to do with the matter. He had been assessed, and must pay.

GET GERMAN INTERESTS IN DIAMOND FIELDS.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Johannesburg reports the purchase by an Anglo-American company for £1,000,000 of all Germany's private and state interests in the diamond fields of what was formerly German South-West Africa.

Some protests are expressed over what is called the "secrecy of the deal," and allegations are made that the purchase was effected through undue influence in political quarters.

PACKING HOUSE ECONOMY.

The by-products obtained in the packing house industry may be divided into two classes —the edible and the inedible. The inedible constitute the external covering (hair, horns, hoofs and hides), some of the offal, and the bones. In the manufacture of buttons, combs, knife handles and spatulas from the horns and hoofs of cattle and sheep and the hoofs of hogs, the waste resulting from the preparation of these articles was at one time thrown away, but it has been found that by treating such material with sulphuric acid the nitrogren which it contains becomes available as a fertilizer.

BOWLING AT THE Y.M.C.A.

The Centrals scored again in the "Y" Bowling League on Monday night, taking 3 games from the Busy Bunch, where the absence of Hardill was a great handicap. The scores were good, and the Busy Bunch fought hard for the games and for a place on the top line. George and Jack Green bowled well for the winners, the former making the highest score for the night. No one player deserves the blame of losing for the Busy Bunch. C. Lacheur set the pace by chalking up a good score each game.

Scores:

Dummy Score	110			110
McNeely		148	117	265
Total	631	685	473	1889

The first game was close, with a lead of only 37 points to the winners. Then with renewed efforts the Busy Bunch covered the 30, but the Centrals were well under way, and tagged on another 100. Hard luck favoured the Busy Bunch in the last game, while the Centrals held their own and won out.

FINGERS GOOD BAIT.

NEWTON, N. J.—Robert Chamberlain, of Allentown, Pa., while rowing ashore empty handed from a fishing trip at Budd's Lake, near here, was startled when he put his hand in the water to find a huge pickerel that had evaded lures all day hanging on to several of his fingers.

Chamberlain landed the fish in his boat. This at least is his story. A jealous rival fisherman spread the report that the "pickerel" Chamberlain caught was a snapping turtle.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

What promises to be an event of unusual importance and hilarity is the announcement of the coming of "Bringing up Father in Society", based on the popular cartoon of George McManus. This exceptional offering will be the next attraction at the Grand on Saturday with the usual matinee. In extolling the numerous virtues of this unique concoction of mirth, joy, gladness, happiness, melody and song, the fact must not be forgotten that it is an entertainment created on lines seldom presened to an exacting public. It has been aptly described as a "show that is different" and the commendation, judging by the wonderful success it has attained where ever presented, seems more than justified. Those who revel in coming in close proximity with all the favorite characters of this most amusing of newspaper comics should not miss "Father" this season. He has much to do in his new environment and "Society", it appears, has taken him to its arms like the proverbial prodigal son of yore. The new play is in three acts and employs a cast of over forty people.

"BILL" HART EXCELS AS BAD MAN OF WEST IN "BREED OF MEN"

To see "Big Bill" Hart ride, shoot and rope steers in a Western photo-play, is a delight. There are few cow punchers in the West who have William S. Hart's skill in these accomplishments and when they are seen in a motion picture play, the real thing is reproduced. In his new picture, "Breed of Men," which will be shown

Thos. H. Ince presents
WILLIAM S. HART

at the Allen Theatre to-morrow, Mr. Hart discloses his ability to ride, shoot and rope as few men are able to do.

Many of these scenes were made at the world-famous stockyards in Chicago. Others were filmed in California where a complete Western street was erected and a completely fitted gambling den and other accoutrements have been provided.

The action centres about the efforts of a land shark to swindle the settlers in Arizona bottomlands. How he is brought to book by the Sheriff, played by William S. Hart, is shown graphically in the denouement of the startling story of life as it is lived in the far Southwest.

FACTS CONCERNING "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

MILESTONES

WHY THE FOREMAN CLAMORS.

Our foreman is always clamoring for early copy. Yet he isn't any more interested in it than you are, Friend Advertiser.

The difference is that he, better than anyone else, knows what it means in his business. And as his business is to help your business through ads that have the sparkle of good display—well, you can see where your interest comes in.

Right here in the composing-room time is money—the kind of money good advertising pulls.

First, the foreman explains, the copy has to get the twice-over. Somebody with an eye for turning manuscript into type must "lay it out." Which is printer's language for marking the styles and sizes of display type, estimating the body text, figuring the space that each section of the ad should have to play up its main points and still fit the space you've allowed for it.

Then, if the ad has several sections, it must be cut up and divided among compositors. Display lines are set up in type that matches their style of beauty. Body text goes to other men.

Meanwhile, if it is to have border or cuts, the assembler places these, either in the "form" or on a big brass "galley." As the different parts of the ad come to him in type he puts them together. Maybe, if the copy was hastily written and hard to estimate, changes have to be made in type sizes.

When it is all assembled and spaced for good display, a proof is taken. This and the original copy go to the proofreader.

It is up to him to correct all errors of composition. No casual customer ever studied an ad closer than does the proofreader.

From him the proof goes back to the copy desk for corrections. If there are many of these, still another proof is drawn and read.

Moreover, the foreman studies it to make sure that the whole effect is good—that it balances well and has the "punch." Sometimes, if there's time, he marks a whole section of it to be reset or respaced.

Not till he is satisfied with every item in this process does he give the ad his O.K. Not till then can it represent you and your business the way you want to be represented.

And every ad that comes into the office gets this attention—IF you give the foreman the necessary time to do good work.

EX-CONVICT'S SURPRISE.

LONDON.—"What, I am summoned for income tax, after doing 21 years' penal servitude at Dartmoor, and an old man at 70? You are driving me to commit another felony to pay this," said a man at Woolwich.

"I have walked from Dulwich, and cadged a glass of beer on the way," he added.

"Please give me 6d out of the poor-box, so I shall not have to walk back."

The authorities said the man's former character had nothing to do with the matter. He had been assessed, and must pay.

Some protests are expressed over what is called the "secrecy of the deal," and allegations are made that the purchase was effected through undue influence in political quarters

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven,

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. A NOCTURNAL VISITATION ASTONISHES THE CITY

(By F. H. Dobbin.)

We regret to chronicle the fact that there seems to have been a grave dereliction of duty, attention to duty, on the part of some one, possibly several. This municipality has been invaded and an outrage perpetuated while the communists of the community slept. Slumbered, it is inferred between clean and fragrant sheets, blissfully as becomes the people of Peterborough, justifiably in such appointments.

A palpable outrage. And if so, may it not be asked, where were the police? Surely the lassitude that followed the fatigues of the late investigation has gone, because everybody was non-implicated. No one was to blame. Merely a gentleman's misunderstanding. Still it has to be noted, that at time of writing the police have no clue.

As the outrage was perpetuated on the surface of our sidewalks, some of them as yet not paid for, what about the City Engineer? He is the visible protector of the places where our gentle footsteps fall. He was asleep, no doubt. The Hunter Street bridge, in which he is implicated would put anybody to sleep. And where was the Street Commissioner, who lubricates our otherwise abrasive streets. His responsibility is apparent. Does the Assessor realize that these miscreants have slid out of town without paying poll tax?

Then there is the Tax Collector, always on the job. Did he hasten to his office to look into the case. Not much. Did, we ask, the City Solicitor rush to serve a mandamus or habaus corpus or some other missile? Not that could be noticed. Besides there is the Medical Officer of Health. Surely he will be disturbed when he learns of the nocturnal visitation, annoying to the peace of mind and digestion of his constituents. May head them off from subscribing to the Victory Loan. Serious matter, that. And, finally, where were the viligant representatives of the local Press? Missed a scoop, by Heck. No doubt all these people mentioned in the indictment will shy away from suggestion of blame. But some one has to be blamed, and its easier to give it to them than to bother selecting others, let alone the caretaker, who caretakes when every other man deserts the job of caring for the Great Public.

Missed the Chimneys.

But to resume.

From the best information attainable, indeed it is largely surmise and as yet lacks confirmation, a large and corpulent airplane descended on the vacant plot adjoining the Carbon Works. That fact alone, if a fact, proves that these handling the machine possessed consumate skill. Not one chimney in the vicinity was knocked over. Not a freight car of those sprinkled along the siding stayed in. Not a picket on the valuable fence was broken, and pickets, mind you, cost money nowadays. Landed as positively and firmly as a hungry cat on a saucer of new milk. Not one of the inmates of the neighboring hen roosts was astounded, and it is well known and generally recognized by the university authorities and current in the best Normal Schools that hens are a veritable feathered barometer on the matter of ascending or descending airplanes. If you keep hens you know it.

It is understood, but not verified, that the only possible eyewitness, was a man who was scouting around the old sheds near at hand, to see if the city had deposited any unused coal in the vicinity. If he had gone and asked the City Treasurer he would have had full and free information. But some people always go at a thing wrong-end foremost. Anyway, his reported story is, as well as he could make out from the halo that surrounds our fourteen candle power street lamps that a stranger, carrying immense feet crawled out of the cockpit of the machine. Three others were ejected after him. All seemed to be arrayed in costumes that looked to be a cross between an under-water diver and a justice of the peace. Not fashionable but serviceable. The Head-Centre, as we will designate the first conspirator, wrenched at the dingus, turned over the thinginbob, lowered the rigamajig, grunted thrice and twisted the what-you-may-call-it, bringing to view what looked like a massive cuspidor, an assortment of lubricators, three carpet sweepers, a large demijohn, a handful of tooth brushes and a big square of cork matting. He also extracted a garden rake and an adding machine. At least the above is what the observer thought he saw, but his veracity is not at stake. It is apparent that the nefarious plot had been prepared with thoroughness. It is also apparent that the party were bent on some strenuous enterprise, same as the chap that took the railing off the Smith Street bridge. It may be added that three more crawled from the tail of the machine, armed with pitchforks, smiles of intense radiance and fiendish glee flitting across the expansive mugs.

The solitary eye and ear witness is not positive, though his affirmations would seem to be of at least equal value with any offered at the late Police investigation, states that the demijohn was uncorked, a quantity of white colored contents poured out on the cork matting and the whole smoothed out with the carpet sweepers and neatly trimmed around the edges with the tooth brushes. Then to the consternation of the alleged eye witness the entire congregation leaped on the cork matting and danced. He observed that the feet of the dancers were obstructive just like the 18c a quart milk cans on the rest platforms alongside the 38c per pound cheese factory. Danced, well yes. Elfin, artistic and ponderous.

Presently the diversion ceased.

Each participant lay down on the ground on his back. It may be remarked that it is apparent he couldn't have laid down on anyone else's back, could he. That's settled. The principal conspirated deftly applied to the soles of the gigantic shoes sheets of what looked to be paper. Then the figures were jerked upright and assembled in line.

Clock Rang Two Bells.

It is on record that the city clock struck the hour of two. That seems to be about the only thing that is positive about the whole transaction. All city functionaries were non est. The police in obscurity. And while the whole municipality was in imminent danger the fire alarm system did not go off or turn a hair. The line of accomplices marched to the valuable picket fence, climbed over without displacing the pickets, or indeed the paper, strode across the street and reached the sidewalk. The Grand Master replaced the cork in the demijhon.

In a twinkling the entire corps disappeared. The observer crawled from under a freight car, adjusted his whiskers, disguised himself by turning his coat inside out, as is now becoming frugal and fashionable, and followed. In a jiffy the fell purpose was exposed. At convenient corners the pirates squatted on the edge of the sidewalk, skinned the paper from their soles, gauged the centre of the concrete and with steps of gigantic width paced in the direction of the centre of the city. As they walked they left their marks, for impressed on the surface of the walk was an outline of the shoe sole, enclosing the legend "FOLLOW ME."

Our informant followed discreetly if respectfully, and having a liberal common school education presently concluded that all tracks were converging on one point or place. A careful reader of the papers, and also as an attendant at the Y.M.C.A., the recently frequented political headquarters, the rendezvous of the U.F.O., and selected fishing spots around the city he had been advised of the Victory Loan. His wife had also remarked to him that if he ever expected to amount to anything he would have to subscribe. Taking the middle of the street, and keeping a careful eye—in fact his only eye—on the proceedings he presently saw that the miscreants gathered at 336 George street the home of the Victory Loan. As might be expected the staff were recreating, after a most strenuous day. The party could not find entrance, and while they waited and debated the leader gave a most energetic and graceful kick, implanting on the door his sign manual, "Follow Me." The others turned about to find a street car on which to imprint what was in their minds and on their feet but the street was a blank. Both cars and conductors were sleeping, even the fares boxes taking a rest. A roar of motors was heard overhead, and presently the plane rested gracefully and lightly on top of the city building. A rope was lowered and one by one the invaders were hoisted, much as one would raise, as one would with extreme care hoist precious pork, into the plane. As the last one scrambled abroad he tried to plant his imprint on the face of the city clock, but the clock, as usual was too fast for him. With a volley of explosions, the plane lifted and fled away to—say to Cobourg, or some other poor but deserving locality.

KNOWN THE WORLD OVER

The Shaving Service for Everyman—Everywhere.

The Psychology of a Clean Shave

(Part of an Editorial in Collier's)

Shaving as it is practiced today marks a step forward in civilization.

This statement may sound ridiculous, but it isn't. Here's proof: Each of our soldiers who went abroad took as part of his regular equipment, and by order of his government, a safety razor.*

There were two reasons, the military authorities say, why a soldier had to be clean shaven. First, it enabled the gas mask, which was worn almost constantly at the front, to fit more tightly over the face. Second, a clean shave kept up the morale of a soldier and of an army.

You know how it is yourself. You know the direct bearing a clean shave has on your personal morale. Compare the way you feel in making an important call or attending a special meeting when you are freshly shaved with the way you feel with a day's growth of stubble on your chin. There's all the difference in the world. It seems a trivial thing to have such an effect upon you, but for some psychological reason, it does have that effect—and you know it.†

* * * * *

What has brought about this change in men's habits? It's not so long ago but that we can remember the beard in all its varying degrees of opulence. Every family album shows how prevalent it was.

There are two reasons—just two:

The safety razor made shaving easy. It transformed shaving from a fairly long, decidedly unpleasant and slightly dangerous operation to one that was finished before the bath water had ceased running.

It saved time. Compared with the old style razor it saved several minutes. While individually these minutes may seem unimportant, taken in the aggregate, multiplied by the number of days in the year, and again by the millions of men won over to the use of the safety razor, the amount of time saved is enormous.¶

"Finished before the bath water had ceased running."

†Keep count for one day of the number of times you stroke your chin. So many times do you develop confidence—or the reverse—according to the smoothness of your chin.

The Gillette not only makes shaving easy, but it abolishes stropping and honing—two exceedingly delicate operations in which few shavers are really successful.

¶Five dollars invested in a Gillette means ten minutes saved each day, or an ordinary day's working period saved every 48 days or so.

NOW IS THE TIME of the year when it is necessary to start fires in the furnace and range, the same to be kept up for the next six months, day and night, whether you are on hand to look after them or not. It is important to see that everything is kept in good condition to avoid accidents which may occur, and also more important to see that your fire insurance is in force and in a good company. Do not delay to get your policy made out and in your possession. You never know when or where a fire is going to break out. Be prepared for it at all times even if it never happens. The cost of maintaining a good policy is very small if you let us write it. But your protection will be perfect, and your loss, should one occur, promptly settled. THAT NIGHT COUGH

Could anything be more trying or more exhausting? Peps will end it! The Pine vapor breathed down the air passages when a Peps is dissolved in the mouth relieves the irritation, soothes the inflamed place and stops the cough.

Mr. John Doussept of Little Current, Ont., says: "I was troubled with an irritating cough that kept me awake at nights. Nothing I took gave me relief until I used Peps. This wonderful breathe-able remedy, however, has entirely rid me of the cough."

"PERFUMED POPINJAYS" NOW REPLACING HEROES OF WAR.

LONDON.—One of the most astounding results of the recent world war is the change now evident in men who went through a literal hell on the battlefields. They are now going in for scented hair and scarfs and are known as "perfumed popinjays."

"The use of scent by the perfumed popinjay," declares a well known British psychologist," is a reaction from the hard conditions of life in the army. The number of men who constantly use scent these days is amazing. They spray their ties, waistcoats, hair and even their gloves with it.

"Women also are showing a preference for exotic and oriental perfumes rather than for the plain English scents of the country garden."

Some British women also are following a custom, started here by an American woman, of having their pet poodle dogs sprayed daily with expensive perfumes.

Headaches, sick or other kinds, don't happen to people whose livers are busy and whose bowels are as regular as a clock.

Thousands of folks who used to have headaches say this is the way they removed the cause:

One pill at bedtime, regularly. Largerdose if there's a suspicion of biliousness or constipation.

HASTINGS NEWS OF INTEREST—VISITORS TO THE VILLAGE.

HASTINGS, Nov. 5.— Sunday November 2nd will be a memorable day to those who witnessed the unveiling of the monument which has been erected in the ground of the Roman Catholic church, as a tribute to the noble boys of the congregation, who during the late war willingly laid down their lives for home and liberty. Five names are inscribed on the large pedestal which suports a handsome bronze statue representing an angel blowing the horn of peace. At the base of the column stands four large shells and a number of rifles and under the names the inscription: "Requiescat in pace."

The band was present and while playing "Nearer My God to Thee", the monument was unveiled by Rev. Father Bretherton. Addresses were given by some visiting clergy and the band discoursed some sweet strains. The interesting ceremony closed with the sounding of the last post, and the large gathering dispersed all feeling that the monument reflects great credit on the congregation.

Successful Social.

On Monday evening a very successful social was held in the basement of the Methodist Church under the auspices of the Ladies Aid. Supper was served from 6.30 to 8 and a delicious repast was served. FOUR REASONS WHY SHREWD MEN ARE BUYING VICTORY BONDS 1919

1. Security.

SHREWD men are buying Victory Bonds because Victory Bonds are backed by Canada's guarantee that she will repay the full amount stated on the face of the bond—the five-year bonds on November 1st, 1924; and the fifteen-year bonds on November 1st, 1934. And she not only binds herself to pay the money back, but she pledges all of her vast resources as security for her promise.

2. Income.

SHREWD men are buying Victory Bonds because the interest return is unusually good considering the absolute security. You will be paid 5½% per year on Victory Bonds—2½% more than you can get in the Savings Banks. Unlike many other investments, you have absolutely no worry as to the prompt payment of the interest.

3. Saleability.

SHREWD men are buying all the Victory Bonds they can pay for now and all they will be able to pay for during the next ten months under the instalment plan, because they know that if at any time they should need ready money they can sell them. There will always be a ready market for Victory Bonds.

4. Advancement in Price.

SHREWD men are buying Victory Bonds because they consider them to have an excellent prospect of advancing in price.

ALL of Canada's previous issues of Victory Bonds have advanced. You can sell your Victory Bonds 1917 and 1918 even in this short time—one and two years—and get more than par for them. What will Victory Bonds be worth when the world finally gets back to a normal basis—when interest rates come down—when Canada will be able to borrow again at 4%, or even less?

WAR conditions have created the opportunity for you to buy the very best of Government securities on unusually attractive terms. Do not miss such a good investment opportunity, but buy to your limit.

MEMBERS FIGHT IN THE CORRIDER

A LITTLE SPICE ADDED TO THE PROCEEDINGS AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—That bonnie fechter, Col. John A. Currie, M.P. for North Simcoe, and Dr. W. D. Cowan, the doughty dentist of Regina, enlivened the proceedings of Parliament yesterday afternoon when they came to blows in the main corridor.

It was the sequel to a taunt hurled at the Highlander in the Commons chamber while Hon. James Calder was speaking on the report of the Special Committee of Soldiers Civil Re-establishment. The Colonel had been heckling the Minister, and Dr. Cowan, who is also a Tory Unionist, but a great admirer of Union Government than the North Simcoe member, exclaimed, "Better get back to your dugout."

Shortly afterward the members took dinner recess, and Colonel Currie, approaching the Regina man, said; "Cowan, you insulted me." This was followed by a punch on the jaw. The dentist is a lame man, but was quick enough to give the Highlander a blow over the head with his walking stick.

Liberal Whip Interferes.

Before they could clinch, Mr. James Robb, the Chief Liberal Whip jumped in between them and prevented further hostilities. The corridor was crowded at the time, and the incident was the sole topic of conversation in the Parliamentary restaurant during the evening meal.

"I didn't intend to hurt him," said Col. Currie: "I merely slapped him on the face a couple of times."

No Blood Spilled.

No blood was spilled, though Dr Cowan has a slight cut on the right cheek. If he could only get Currie in his dentist's chair for a few minutes —! ——! ——!

Dr. Cowan gave his version of the fight.

Colonel Currie was interrupting the Minister of Immigration and accusing him of dodging," said the doctor.

"Members all about me thought this an unfair remark, as the Minister was making a straightforward statement .I said to Currie, 'Anyway, he's not dodging out of the trenches into a dugout.'

"Few Cracks With Cane."

"As I was passing down the corridor at dinner-time to join my wife and daughter, who were waiting for me, Currie came up and slapped me in the face. I was completely taken by surprise, but recovered in time to give him a few cracks over the head with my cane, I suppose I should not have done that, but I was so taken by surprise. I am sorry the thing happened. It certainly doesn't add to the dignity of a member of Parliament."

SENATOR BENNET WAS IN THE CITY

INTERESTED IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE TRENT CANAL.

The Board of Trade received a visit from Senator W. H. Bennett, who is particularly interested in the development of the Trent Canal system of waterways.

The Senator stated that next season a thirty-five foot motor boat would be able to travel the entire length of the canal system from Trenton to Midland, connecting Lake Ontario direct with the Georgian Bay; and before very long the route would be opened for commercial purposes.

He was assured that the local Board would give its hearty support to the development of this means of water communication which is such a potent factor to the development of Peterborough.

At exactly 9.45 last night the telephone wires carried the message to Victory Loan headquarters at Toronto that the City of Peterborough had reached its objective of $750,000 and $8,750 to spare.

Back came the reply that Peterborough was the first city in Ontario to report having subscribed its quota, and then local Victory Loan headquarters became a riot of yells and cheers. It was a glorious finish to a day in which the canvassers were called upon to do some hard work, and now that the Prince of Wales flag has been won, the salesmen are out to increase the subscriptions and win one more crests for the flag. For every p.c. above the objective a crest is awarded.

The Day's Work.

In the city yesterday, the canvassers went out and secured subscriptions to a total of $164,400. At 6 o'clock in the evening they were $80,000 short of the amount required to place Peterborough at the top of the ladder. Then they went again, to look up those friend who had suggested a call at some other time. The situation was explained, the money was forthcoming and with small and large amounts the canvassers trooped back to headquarters to report. Finally, about 11 o'clock it was announced that the job had been done.

Specials not Neglected.

The business done for the day does not include special subscriptions. It is the citizens who did it. But the specials were not neglected, as will be seen by the day's total of $180,000, which is the grand total for the special up to $464,000 or 55 p.c. above the objective of $300,000. Applications to date number 1,900.

About the Flag.

And now as to the flag.

The Prince of Wales Flag —the Banner Flag of the Victory Loan campaign, 1919—was first unfurled by His Royal Highness, Edward, Prince of Wales, on the flag-pole at the entrance to the Tower of Victory of the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa on Thanksgiving Day, September 1st, immediately after His Royal Highness had placed the corner stone of Canada's new Capitol.

It was in the presence of the Prime Minister, members of the Cabinet and a great gathering of loyal Canadians, that the gallant young heir to Britain's throne, whose manliness and democratic sincerity have won the hearts of Canada's millions, stepped to the flag-pole and shook loose the folds of the historic banner.

There could be no mistaking the sincerity and enthusiasm of his words when he said:

"It is another great privilege accorded me to be associated with Canada's Victory Loan and to unfurl what I am proud is to be called the Prince of Wales' Flag. This Loan is the link between war and peace. I rejoice in it in a sort of way as finishing touch to the job. I hope that every city and district will win my flag."

The flag is made in two sizes—6 ft. x 9 ft. for cities and districts of over 10,000 population; and 7 ft. x 10 ins. for those of over 10,000 population. For each 25 p.c. excess of quota, one Prince of Wales' crest will be awarded for placing on the flag.

Otonabee Twins Help.

Peterboro County is coming along fairly well and it looks like Lakefield and Ennismore to get the first flag. Messrs. Irwin and Braden who have this district are confident that their objective will be reached to-morrow. Otonabee's total has been boosted by two fine chubby boy twins, 14 months old, one of whom bought a $80 bond, through J. J. Moore of Keene. The boys certainly intend that Otonabee shall win the Prince of Wales flag.

Hats Off, Gentlemen.

Congratulations are in order to-day. They are coming to headquarters addressed to Organizers Fry and Millar and W. H. Bradburn, councillorman. The organizers are very popular within the ranks of the local organization and they have been giving their best to promote the campaign in the city and county. The fol-

HURRICANE SWEEPS OVER NOVA SCOTIA

SCHOONERS AND FISHING VESSELS SWEPT OUT TO SEA.

(Canadian Press.)

HALIFAX, Nov. 7. — The storm that swept over Nova Scotia with hurricane force last night and to-day drove two schooners and five yachts ashore here, tore down telegraph and telephone wires, delayed trains and caused extensive damage to shipping interests generally. The west coast towns reported many wharves under water to-night. At Portsmouth fifteen fishing boats were swept from their moorings and driven out to sea or tossed on shore. A signal station at Liverpool was blown down and many small boats and buoys were torn from anchorage. Yarmouth also suffered considerable damage. The seas in the Bay of Fundy ran to great heights. Six large fishing schooners were driven ashore at Lunenburg. They were the Dorothy Adams, Lauretta Francis, Arcania, Edyth Hill, Carrie L. Hurtle and Lucille Smith. Several buildings were razed by wind in that town. The three-masted schooner Audrey was wrecked on the rocks near Liverpool. But one life was lost, a man who stepped on an electric wire at Woodside, being instantly killed.

MASS MEETING THIS EVENING

A mass meeting of the congregations of the Methodist churches of Peterborough and vicinity will be held to-night at eight o'clock, at the George street Methodist church.

This meeting will be in the interests of the Methodist National Campaign, and will be addressed by two strong speakers.

The November District Meeting of the Methodist Churches of the Peterborough District was held in the George street church at 1.30 p.m. This was followed by a spiritual conference in connection with the National Campaign.

The district has been well organized for this movement and the reports which were given to-day showed that splendid progress is being made.

YOUR EYES DESERVE GOOD CARE.

It's a mistake to abuse your eyes and expect them to be just as strong. Each eye possesses so much natural nerve strength; after that is used up, it means artificial aid for the rest of your life. Why not attend to your eyes before they reach this stage? Glasses for a while will probably restore them. Consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, 410 George street. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

THE ENTENTE CHARGES GERMANY WITH SEVERAL ALLEGED BREACHES OF PEACE TREATY PROVISIONS

(United Press.)

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—The entente has made the following charges, in a note to Germany alleging breach of Peace Treaty provisions.

That all German submarines were not turned over to the entente.

That self destruction of the German fleet in Scapa Flow was a violation of the Armistice and Treaty provisions.

That confiscated works of art, were retained by Germany.

That full delivery of agricultural machinery demanded by the Entente was not made.

That export of war materials, particularly airplanes, continues.

That Germany still owes the Entente 42 locomotives and 4,450 cars.

The Supreme Council, sitting in Paris last week received a report from Marshal Foch and other allied officials regarding violations of military, financial and economic terms of the Armistice and Peace Treaty and despatched a note to Berlin calling attention to these and presumably demanding ratification. At the time it was also reported the Council had decided to require Germany to make suitable payment for the destruction of the Fleet at Scapa Flow.

presented the City Council. Mr. Cortez Fesenden; City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and Mr. Charles Townsend of the Russell Townsend Construction Company were also present.

R. B. Rogers, Chairman.

Mr. R. B. Rogers, a member of the Engineer's Club of Peterboro and one of the first engineers on the construction of the Trent Valley Canal was Chairman of the evening owing to the modesty of President Reid Munro who sat at his right hand.

The Toast List.

The toast list was as follows:—

The King— Chairman R. B. Rogers.

The City—Proposed by A. L. Killaly, responded to by Mayor George Duncan.

The Engineering Institute of Canada—Proposed by President Reid Munro, responded to by Mr. W. J. Francis, Mr. J. B. Challies, Mr. A. H. Harkness, Mr. Frank Barber and Mr. E. R. Gray.

The Sister Professions—Proposed by Mr. W. Sangster and responded to by Mr. F. D. Kerr and Dr. J. A. Morgan.

Sent Regrets.

Secretary Ross Dobbins read sheafs of telegrams from engineers expressing their regrets that they were not able to be present. One was read from Mr. C. C. Canfield, Honorary President of the local branch, who is now located in Pittsfield, Mass., from Sir Alexander Bertram, Col. Denis, N. E. Brook, Mr. Gordon, Mr. Acres, Mr. J. M. R. Fairbain, a former resident of Peterboro and now Chief Engineer of the C.P.R., from Mr. W. A. MacLean, Deputy Minister of Highways for Ontario and numerous others. Many branches sent expressions of good will and of welcome. The Niagara Peninsula branch, Regina, Calgary, St. John, N.B., Sault Ste. Marie and Quebec were some of these.

Mr. A. L. Killaly.

Mr. A. L. Killaly in proposing the toast to the city confessed that he had prejudices against Peterboro when he first came here. But they soon vanished and he predicted a bright future for the city. The city was endowed with great resources and possibilities. Mayor Duncan in responding received a hearty ovation and welcomed the distinguished visitors on behalf of the City Council. He reminded his hearers that Mr. Francis and Prof. Hamilton were old Peterboro men and he wished the Peterboro branch of the Institute all prosperity. In conclusion he gave the visitors the freedom of the City.

Started in 1917.

President Reid Munro gave a brief resume of the Engineer's Club of this city. It started in 1917 with a membership of only 25. Mr. C. R. Canfield was President for two years and much of the club's success is due to him. The members decided that the usefulness of the club should be extended and this year they decided to become a branch of the Canadian Engineering Institute.

President R. W. Leonard.

Lieut.-Colonel R. W. Leonard, President of the Engineering Institute for Canada foresaw much satisfaction and benefit to individual members and the branch in general. The official charter of the branch was then presented to President Munro by Colonel Leonard. Mr. Munro made a few appropriate remarks in accepting it. Colonel Leonard told of the early struggles of the Institute, how it was formed in 1886 and its small membership embracing nearly all engineers in railroad and canal construction. But since then Canada has become a great industrial nation "said President Leonard" and the necessity arose for enlarging the slate. A special committee decided to embrace all branches of the engineering profession. There was a great hesitancy among some about this as they thought it would result in failure. But it was a great success teaches from Sidney, N. S., to Vancouver, B.C., and has nearly 4,000 members."

The Eighteenth Branch.

"There are eighteen branches, Peterborough being the eighteenth, and it growing rapidly. We have done what we could to advance the engineering profession in the Civil Service Act now before the House of Commons." He also testified as to the usefulness of affiliate members who are not professional engineers but are members in an associate way.

Labour Unrest.

"We have heard much of labour unrest," continued Colonel Leonard, "and from the H. C. of L. (High Cost of Labour) which is incident to war; but we are also liable to suffer from the High Cost of Loafing. All portions of society in general are intensely interested in the troubles. All suffer alike whether manual labourers or those who work with their heads. There is nothing to come between Capital and Labour unless it be the Engineers. The engineer is not generally a man classed as a labourer, nor is he a capitalist. But he is intimately in touch with Labour day by day and he is also in touch with all the problems of Capital."

Work For Canada.

"I look to the time when we will have 10,000 members, all working harmoniously for the welfare of Canada. I can see that the Institute's influence for good to Canada and humanity will be enormous. We must not think too much of what we can get out of it, but what we can put into it and this country

Professor T. E. T. Haultain.

Professor T. E. T. Haultain of Toronto University, said that if success were to crown their efforts here they must put in a tremendous amount of work. He said the politicians at Ottawa smile at the happy enthusiasm of the engineer over his work, the same as a child over its toys. There is too

Educational Congress In the Public Library

INSURANCE MEN FROM OTHER FIELDS ARE IN ATTENDANCE —THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

THE PROGRAMME

At the opening session of the Insurance Educational Congress which is being held at the Public Library Mr. W. Lyle Reid, Esq., of Ottawa, Vice President of the Life Underwriters Association gave an interesting address in which he portrayed the life assurance business as being the highest form of business in the world outside of the Christian ministry. His address was based mainly upon quotations from speeches on the subject made by such men as Ex-President Taft, John Wanamaker and Charles Dickens.

One forceful illustration of the growing appreciation of Insurance quoted by the speaker as that of an Italian priest in the Italian quarter of New York, who when couples came to him to be married required them to show a certificate of life assurance before the ceremony could be performed.

Assets Not Diminished.

Following a discussion as to whether the Insurance companies assets have diminished on account of the reduced purchasing power of the dollar, Mr. Matherson of Toronto, Supervisor of the Imperial Life Insurance Company said the assets have not been diminished in any way. If a company has to pay a loss of $10,000 it issues a cheque for $10,000 so if any one suffers it must be the assured on account of the diminished value of $10,000.

Rare Specimen.

Introduced by the chairman, Mr. A. E. Dawson, as that rare specimen in the insurance field — a man of dual capability—a personal producer and organizer, Mr. E. J. L'Esperance, of Montreal, gave the mentality of the assembled assurance men a new slant by his gripping address on salesmanship this morning. The speaker first dealt with the elements that indicates the ability of an assurance salesman, and showed it up to the number of calls he makes. He must work, not think he works, nine to ten hours a day, and if he works he will make at least from ten to fifteen calls a day. Calls subsequently mean production. Who to call upon was next dealt with by the speaker, who impressed the fact that judgment must be used, and the man who is potentially able to buy the product, approached. Because you can find a man who will listen to you talk insurance, it is no indication he will buy, he said. A street cleaner will listen for hours, but he is not able to buy your goods. Save time, he continued, and sum a man up when you first call upon him. "I use," he said, "the simile of a stick of timber, and if I find a man clean, square timber, I proceed. Choose your material and don't waste time upon the knotty material.

In selling goods a salesman must first convince a man he wants them. Then he'll have little trouble in selling. If the assurance man can convince the prospect he needs assur-

ZIMMERMAN CAUSED A MILD SENSATION

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, Nov. 7.— Dr. Alfred Zimmerman, Secretary for Foreign Affairs during the war, caused a mild sensation during yesterday's session of the National Assembly committee investigating the war, when he admitted the German authorities had been suspicious that their code, which was known by America was betrayed to the United States' government.

SUPPLIES FOR THE UNITED FARMERS

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 7th. — Terminal elevators of western Canada will furnish to the United Farmers of Ontario and the "Comptoir Cooperatif de Montreal," 3500 tons of reclaimed screenings, standard "stock food," at an agreed price of $30 per ton, at terminals.

Organized Farmers, both as producers and consumers, terminal elevator and live stock department representatives are unanimously of the opinion that "at no time should any embargo be placed on export of refuse screenings from Canada as they cannot be considered as having any value as feed for stock."

STRIKE BEGINNING TO CAUSE DISTRESS

COAL MINERS' STRIKE ROUNDS OUT ITS FIRST WEEK—OFFICIALS APPEAR HOPEFUL.

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Curtailment of passenger train service, discontinuance of bunkering of foreign owned vessels at American ports, restrictions in the use of public utilities and appeals for coal from various cities, as the strike of approximately 425,000 bituminous coal miners to-day rounded out its first week, gave the nation further indications of distress in store should there be a protracted suspension of mining operations. Other disarrangements of the country's routine were expected to-day, with little change in the general conditions surrounding the strike itself. Government agents still remained hopeful that developments to-morrow at Indianapolis, when the motion filed by attorneys for the United Mine Workers of America asking dissolution of the restraining order issued last week by Judge Anderson will be argued, might point the way to an early ending of the strike.

FIRE THREATENS THE GOLF CLUB

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Fire caused by spontaneous combustion in a large pile of soft coal destroyed the shed and garage of the Lambton Golf and Country Club early this morning, and for a time threatened the existence of the main building, which is one of the oldest and most historic golf clubs in Canada. The prompt response by the firemen of No. 13 Station was largely responsible for checking the flames before they spread to the main building. As it is the loss, which is estimated at close to a thousand dollars, is covered by insurance.

REGINA, Nov. 7.—Following a meeting of protest, Regina G.W.V.A. has telegraphed Dr. W. A. Cowan, the Regina M.P., whose face was slapped by Colonel Currie in the Commons the other day, that he resign at once. His letter to the Great War Veterans, giving his views that Canada could not afford to adopt the Great War Veterans' gratuity plan, was considered an insult.

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7. — Thomas Parradin, aged 65, died at Binscarth, Manitoba, on Thursday, after a long illness. Born in Toronto, Parradine came from Woodstock, Ont., in 1880, to Manitoba, residing for some years in Birtle. He came to Binscarth in 1890 with his family.

To see the healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for a week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges or whose skin is sallow or pallid, that one week of inside bathing will have them looking and feeling better every way.

UP TO DATE SLANG.

During the last four years we, in England ,have been gradually acquiring a new but I hope, not a universal language, the language of "slang" (writes Rasalie Neish in the Evening Standard). Where has it come from? Some expressions, of course, we can easily trace, such as "bully for you," "sad rags," "glad rags," "humming the wedding glide," "beat the band," and "giving him the icy mitt." Others are not easily traced. Who invented such hideous endearments as "Old Top," "Old bean," "Old thing," I wonder? The expressions, "A priceless washout," "She blew in," "They wrangled it," "In the pink," "I'm O.K." and "I don't think," are some of them strictly beautiful. It would be interesting to know not only who invented these ugly phrases, bbut how he or she managed to make them popular. It's not so easy as it seems. Try it! Invent a silly slang impression, and essay it to one of your flapper friends. She will stare at you with that sort of a stare that makes you feel you are a failure; in other words, she will "Offer you the frozen mitt" or she will probably say "Hullo old bean, what's the stunt? Are you off it? Up the pole?"

Perhaps the new language is only the outcome of the war, and we shall revert to pure English again now, and use our own lovely and ender endearments instead of the "cheerio" and "go h'on" phrases. We have already gone one step on the way. "Camouflage" is dead. It is out of date as that one-time expression "taking the bun" for which we have substituted "the united limit."

Like a Tidal Wave
Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country

Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are to-day.

The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a serious drain on the nervous system.

The business of this work-a-day world goes with such a rush that the stoutest hearts and strongest nerves break down under the strain.

On the first approach of any breakdown of the system Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. The reconstructive power of these pills on the heart and nerve system is simply marvellous.

Mr. W. A. Wright, Hopewell Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"After suffering for some time with my heart, I consulted a number of doctors, but got no relief. However, I read what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had done for others who had the same symptoms and thought I would give them a trial. Believe me, six boxes cured me completely. I am feeling fine now, and can attend to my work every day. I can recommend your pills to any one suffering as I did."

SAHARA DESERT IS NOT DRY

Soon It May Not Be a Desert at All.

It is one of the widest beliefs that the Sahara is perfectly dry. As a matter of fact it rains there, animals and plants live there, and it is inhabied by close on half a million people!

It is certainly a very dry region, but throughout the Sahara Desert there are wells and oases which supply plenty of water.

Nor is the desert without plants and trees. Palm trees, mimosi, shrubs of all kinds are found scattered all over the desert, and this fact has turned the attention of French experts towards the region, who argue that if anything grows there naturally, much more will grow if the land is cultivated.

Schemes are on foot, in fact, to cut a road right across the desert, enlarge these wells and oases, and generally cultivate a region which has really got its bad name because it had been allowed to run wild for centuries. Round the wells grow fig trees, apricots, peaches, grapes and date palms, which, with very little care, would bring a wonderful profit.

One of the greatest troubles, however, the French, who have a protectorate over the Sahara, have to face is the people who live there. Like the country, they are wild and absolutely unscrupulous, not hesitating to rob and murder any traveller who attempts to cross the desert.

ONE MURDER A DAY IS CHICAGO'S RECORD.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—In addressing the Chicago Association of Commerce Edwin W. Sims, president of the Chicago Crime Commission, and former U. S. District Attorney, declared that Chicago, with its population of 3,000,000, has more murders in a year than England, Scotland and Wales, with their 40,000,000 people. He said last year the murders in Chicago averaged one a day. "Crime in this city is as highly organized as a mail order business," said Mr. Sims. "There is not a police captain in the city to-day who is back up by the prosecuting authorities, and the courts cannot reduce crime in his precinct fifty per cent. in thirty days if he wants to. Crime conditions in Chicago are appalling."

POLICEMAN HAS FIGHTING CHANCE.

Constable Shot a Burglar in Toronto is Still Alive.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Police Constable William Milton, who was seriously shot in three places by a burglar he was arresting early this morning, was thought this afternoon to have a chance for recovery. The burglar has not yet been arrested.

Few People Know This

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

FOR TWO YEARS HE COULDN'T WORK

HAS NOW ACCEPPTED A POSITION AND WILL GO TO WORK IN A FEW DAYS.

"Just give me Tanlac and you may have all the other medicines," said Robert M. Sexton, of 804-C. Avenue, East, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, while discussing his case, recently.

In relating his experience Mr. Saxton made the remarkable statement that a few bottles of Tanlac has done him more good than all other treatment and medicines he has taken in ten years combined. But let Mr. Sexton tell his own story. Here is his statement.

"At the time I began taking this Tanlac I had not been able to hit a lick of work in two long years, but I am now on my feet and am going to accept a position in just a few days. My stomach commenced troubling me about twelve years ago and although I just tried everything I kept getting worse until I had a complete nervous breakdown and got to where I was of little use to myself or anyone else. I suffered from indigestion after eating and the gas on my stomach made my heart palpitate frightfully. I could not rest or sleep at night and would often get up away in the night and walk about town until day.

"I was beginning to think there was no relief for me, but Tanlac is fast making a new man of me. I had taken but a few doses of this medicine until I began to straighten right up, and while it may sound unreasonable it's the truth, a few bottles has done me more good than everything else I have taken in ten years put together. I can now eat anything I want and have no more gas, bloating or palpitation of the heart. My nerves have quited down and I can lie down and sleep like a child until morning. There's no getting around it, Tanlac is the greatest medicine I have ever seen or heard of and it is nothing else than remarkable how it has brought me out in so short a time."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelbert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Stomach Troubles Are Due To Acidity

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as bisurated magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE AND THE VICTORY BOND

"Little Orphan Annie's come to our house to stay (with emphasis on the word 'stay') An' wash the cups and saucers up, and brush the crumbs away."

So one Canadian housekeeper of a kindly disposition could crow over her maidless neighbours if she were so disposed. However, she is not of the crowing type, but as an instance of what one little "Orphan Annie" can do, the following true little tale is told:

A very real little "Orphan Annie" fifteen years of age was sent from England to relatives in Canada, about four years ago. Poor little soul, she did not even own the clothes she stood in, and relatives here, engrossed in their own interests, failed somewhat in the warmth of their welcome.

The woman with a kind heart already referred to as the housekeeper, heard of "Orphan Annie," and needing a houseworker offered to train her and pay her an adequate salary.

So "Orphan Annie" went to her new home.

Not only was the young girl taught how to work but her mistress took an interest in her. She taught her much besides the mere work of the house, and one of the best lessons instilled into her mind was the wisdom of saving money.

That began just about four years ago. In consequence "Orphan Annie not only paid her surprised relatives in England every cent spent on sending her to Canada but the first year of Canada's War Loan she had money in the bank with which she was able to buy a War Bond. Last year, with the Victory Loan, she bought another fifty dollar bond, and through the year added to her savings Thrift Stamps to the total of twenty-five dollars.

A few days ago, when "Orphan Annie" [illegible] the sitting room to try on a hat her mistress was making for her, she gayly announced that this year she was going to buy a hundred dollar Bond.

The lesson that this little English Orphan girl has learned in her youth—for even now she is only nineteen—will stand in her good stead all her life.

She'll never leave us until she marries," said her mistress in relating the Victory Loan story of "Orphan Annie" and when that time comes she will be married from our house. And by that time she will have money for all her household linen as well as her 'trousseau.'"

Unlike the "Little Orphan Annie" of James Whitcomb Riley's poem, this Annie who "has come to our house to stay" is not afraid that any "gobbleuns'll git" her if she "don't watch out." In fact she is entrenching herself securely against the very real "gobble-uns" of want. And besides providing for her own future, she is helping Canada to keep away the "gobble uns" which would get this country if Canadians didn't "watch out."

ALD. EDGAR ENTERS MAYORALTY CONTEST

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT DEVELOP-FOR JANUARY ELECTIONS.

Ald. Edgar will be a candidate for Mayor at the municipal elections in January. He told the Examiner that he had definitely decided upon this course. Upon the present outlook it will be a three-cornered contest as there are three or the aldermen who are popular.

pire to succeed Mayor Duncan. Alderman Taylor is already in the field and a Labor candidate is a certainty, with Ald. McIntyre as the prospective choice of the Trades and Labour Council as the representative of organized Labour in Peterborough.

Stronger Windmills Wanted.

Windmills are not used to any great extent in Mexico because the "northers" blow them over. It is thought that a windmill of low construction with a wide base would withstand this and might prove very popular.

THE CURE.

FOLLOW THE FOOTPRINTS.

Follow the foot prints if you want the best investment now offering—Victory Bonds.

THREE GOOD REASONS.

Security, income, saleability; all excellent reasons why you should buy Victory Bonds.

FOR SERVICES RENDERED.

The Union Government has "officially" abolished patronage, but you will notice that Wm. Proudfoot, K.C. is getting his reward for supporting the Borden administration.

A BAD CHOICE.

With the members of Parliament hammering each other with fists and canes the Prince might have chosen a quieter spot than Ottawa in which to have a few days' rest.

TAXING FARM HAND

Thomas Foster, M.P., for East York suggested the taxing of farm land as one method of securing money for further gratuities for soldiers Imagine he shouts of joy from the U.F.O. at the mention of this plan.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

To re-establish the returned soldier, to discharge Canada's debt to the wounded, to finance our trade during the reconstruction period, to stimulate our production of raw materials and manufactured goods, to put dollars to work where they will benefit yourself and your country, to clean up the job—Buy Victory Bonds.

CRACKING THE WHIPS.

It is apparently in a belligerent mood that the Government has approached the subject of the re-establishment of Canada's Soldiers, judging by the tone of the address of Hon. J. A. Calder, chairman of the special committee which has been investigating the question. Mr. Calder lost no time in cracking the whip over the followers of the Government. If any general distribution of gratitues for the soldiers is to be decided upon he told them another administration will be necessary to carry out the scheme, for the Government would resign. This is just what the War Veterans having been calling upon them to do but the private members look at it from a different angle than do the men who fought and Mr. Calder knew that the members of the Government are not anxious to face the electorate so that the threat of resignation was the most effective weapon he could have wielded to prevent any further gratitutes for the soldiers. To force an election at the present time would be to see the Borden administration more badly shattered than the Hearst Government. The members know that an appeal to the country would mean the disappearance of most of them from public life and Mr. Calder's talk of resignation must have caused disquieting pictures to flash across the mental vision of many of the men who heard him. The tactics of the Minister of Immigration reduce to the vanishing chances of future re-establishment promises.

PETERBOROUGH DID IT.

Old Peterborough has made good again.

This city has captured the Prince of Wales' Honour Flag.

But that's not all.

Peterborough has the proud record of being the first city in the Dominion of Canada to achieve 100 per cent. of its objective in the Victory Loan drive.

With eight days of the campaign still to go, Peterborough reached the mark set for her.

The first city in Canada to win an Honour Flag!

That's a feat of which every citizen should feel proud.

And we're still going strong.

They'll do it, too.

And now it is up to the to[illegible]hip. With a similar response from them in the next few days, Peterborough [illegible] will be found high up in the campaign list.

THE ENGINEERING INSTITUTE.

"To facilitate the acquirements and interchange of professional knowledge among its members, to promote their professional interests, to encourage original research, to develop and maintain high standard in the engineering profession and to enhance the usefulness of the profession to the public." These are the praiseworthy objects of the Engineering Institute of Canada, the Peterborough branch of which was successfully evolved from the Peterborough Engineers' Club. The local officers and members are to be congratulated upon the culmination of their efforts and in their success in bringing to Peterborough so many of the most prominent figures in Canada's engineering world.

STRENGTHENING THE RESERVES.

During the war everyone learned more or less to think in military terms and apply them to the public and private problems of the day. Thus, when the phrase "Strengthen the Reserves" used to fall from the lips of Foch and Haig we knew what it meant:—namely, that no great enterprise can be carried on, without ample reserves to meet every possible contingency.

The command that is going out from General Drayton, General White and the other captains of Canada's finances to-day is "Strengthen the Reserves." Canada is face to face with a great fight to secure and hold the share of the world's trade to which her resources and machinery of production entitle her. She has also to battle with great domestic problems before conditions for the returned soldiers will be restored to the condition of stability and contentment. She cannot win these battles without strong financial reserves. Every solicitor for the sale of Victory Bonds is an officer in the campaign and is endeavoring to organize the country for a great economic effort to maintain her present position of prosperity and heavy exports at good prices. If you hoard or waste money with which you could buy Victory Bonds you are helping to exhaust the reserves, and are shirking your duty. To quote another war-phrase,—it is necessary for every Canadian to "do his bit" according to his means, or see his country outstripped in the race.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

By a new order just passed the Ottawa Government has put a limit on the time in which a discharged soldier may apply for vocational training. In the case of men discharged before November 1st of this year they must make application within the next three months while soldiers who are still undergoing treatment must apply within three months of the date of their discharge. No reason is given for this change but the authorities are probably basing their action on their feeling that three months is long enough time for a returned soldier to determine whether or not he is in need of re-training. The next five months or so will undoubtedly see a big increase in the number of applications in view of the time limit that has been set. In this connection information as to the value of the training as a means of re-establishing Canada's soldiers would be interesting. There have been many Peterboro men who have taken a vocational course. The number who have used the training to secure a better position would be valuable information, for the impression has gone out especially among the returned men themselves that many of those who have applied for a course have not done so in the hope of making much use of it afterward but rather because it would gave them an opportunity to get on the Government pay roll for a few months. It is unfortunate that, there should be statements of that kind made and official information as to how the re-trained men have succeeded in their new occupation after finishing a course, would help to clear up the situation.

Tobacco Habit Dangerous

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health to-day were it not for the deadly drug, Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed, and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of needless poisoning, and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result. adv

The Promoter's Wife

BY JANE PHELPS

NEIL SENDS BARBARA FROM THE ROOM WHILE THE REPORTER TALKS TO HIM.

CHAPTER CIX

When the reporter announced his and Neil turned a bit more ghast- and I trembled so I could scarce- stand. It was my introduction to newspaper tactics, and I was frighted as well as anxious.

"You are talking of this scurrilous article?" Neil pointed to the paper lying on the floor, the bold headlines staring up at us.

"Yes. Our paper wishes to state the facts .Scott has given us his version, now we want yours."

"You have been to Scott?"

"Of course. He claims to be the aggrieved party. He is going to make it hard for you, Mr .Forbes. If you can clear things up it would be advisable before he goes any further He is very vindictive," he finished with a meaning glance at me which I rightly judged to mean that he had something to say to Neil which he preferred I shouldn't hear.

"Leave us Barbara. Mr.—Moore" the young man gave his name, "Mr. Moore probably feels embarrassed by your presence," he added, the last sentence so sarcastically I wondered.

"Please let me remain," I replied quietly .Then to M. Moore. "I know all about what the other paper has said, why shouldn't I hear the rest—whatever you know " How I wished I might say with truth that I knew all about my husband's business and that it was all a lie, a monstrous lie. But I knew absolutely nothing, yet I must show my faith in Neil—even tho I felt there was some foundation for the awful scandal.

"As Mr. Forbes wishes."

"No—go, Barbara."

There was nothing for me to do but to leave them together. But I didn't go beyond the reach of their voice. I sat on the stairs where they curved upward and so out of sight should the door of the music room op en. It was fortunate I did so, as after a few moments they came out into the hall.

"I have some papers that perhaps may int erest you," I heard Neil say that same peculiarly sarcastic tone in his voice as they moved toward the library. "Some with Scott's signature."

They didn't quite close the library door and an occasional sentence would float to me.-Then Neil became excited and talked in loud angry tones, but I could not catch the words save as I sometimes caught Scott's name. Then came a question in the clear quiet voice of the gentlemanly reporter:

"Scott is the only man you fear?"

"Yes, the squealer!"

"I am afraid, Mr. Forbes, you are not facing this as you should. There are others—many of them who are ready to make trouble."

"What others?"

"Men and women who have invested their money with you hoping for the enormous profits you have promised them in your circulars." As he finished I heard the rustle of paper Then after a moment he added: "Unless you are frank and tell your side af the story quickly—you see, Mr. Forbes, I am supposing you can contradict Scott's charges—it will give the yellow sheets a chance for a lot of sob stuff—widows and orphans deluded, etc."

"Where did you get that circular?"

"I am afraid I can't tell you. But you may be sure that my paper isn't the only one with a copy. In fact, Mr. Forbes, we have planned to print this in themorning unless I hear something from you that prevents." A groan, stifled, was his answer. Then to my disappointment one of them closed the heavy door tightly and I heard nothing more. I crouched on the stairs some time longer, then as I heard them come out, and Neil bid him a hasty good night, I scurried up to my room so that Neil might not know I had been listening

I sat by the window, my mind in a perfect whirl. What in the world did 'sob stuff' mean? That reporter had said the yellow journals would print it. I knew nothing of newspaper terms and it made me doubly anxious for that reason. Would Neil never come up so I could question him? I asked myself just as I heard his heavy dragging steps so unlike his usual quick climbing of the stairs. I held my breath as he staggered into the room, his face white and set, a dogged look in his eyes.

"What can we do Neil? Oh, you poor boy!" I exclaimed going to him

"Do?—Take my medicine I guess," and with that he flung himself into a chair, covered his face with his hands and hard, dry sobs broke from him.

(Nov. 9, 1919.)

Peter's Great Confession. Matt. 16: 13:24.

Golden Tet: Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. Matt. 16: 16.

1. Verse 13. Did Jesus ask the question for information, or to draw them out, or for some other reason as to whom men said that he was.

2. What did Jesus mean when he called himself "the son of man"?

3. Where is there any record if they were dead?

4. Verse 14. In what respects did Jesus resemble either John or Elijah or Jeremiah, or one of the prophets, to make the people think as they did?

5. What reason is there to believe that Peter did or did not, at this time, recognize Jesus as God himself?

6. Verse 17. How did Peter know that Jesus is the Christ?

7. Is there enough evidence to prove beyond donbt that Jesus is the Christ apart from such a personal revelation as Peter had? (See I. Cor. 12: 3.) Give your reasons.

7. Verse 17. Would or could God have revealed the Christ to Peter, if Peter had not the evidence that the life and work of Jesus afforded?

9. Verses 18, 19. What according to Jesus, is the rock upon which God builds his church?

10. What is the chief or central thought or foundation stone of Christianity.

11. Suppose we did not know or were to lose everything else, but the fact of God, by His Spirit, revealing unto us Christ as the Son of the living God, how much vital truth should we lack?

12. Verses 18, 19. What are the evidences that the Christian Church is teh mightiest force on the earth, and that it will finally conquer the world? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

13. Jesus gave Peter the keys of the kingdom of heaven, but what reason is there to believe that every person, with like spiritual insight as Peter also possesses these keys?

14. Verse 20. Why did Jesus forbid them to tell the people that he was the Christ?

15. Verse 21. When did Jesus first realize that the Jews would reject and put him to death?

16. Did Jesus offer himself to the Jews, in good faith, hoping they would receive him and could they have done so had they been so minded? Give your reasons.

17. Verses 22, 23. Was Peter's reasoning in harmony with common sense and was his rebuke of Jesus prompted by pure motives?

8. Verses 22, 23. What was Peter's real error?

19. What reason is there to believe that a good man may get divine guidance on some things and then, unwittingly, project his own reasoning into other things?

20. Verse 24. What brings the greater good even in good things, and why, self-denial or self gratification?

BIG RECEPTION IN OMEMEE FOR U.F.O. MEMBER-ELECT

EXPRESSION OF CONFIDENCE FROM SOUTH VICTORIA—OMEMEE NEWS.

OMEMEE, Nov. 5. — Notwithstanding the copious rainfall which continued far into the night there was a splendid crowd at Coronation Hall, Omemee, on Thursday evening to do honour to Mr. F. G. Sandy, M. P.P., to show their apreciation of the manly and dignified manner in which he conducted hiself during the campaign, and to tender to Mr. Sandy, Mrs. Sandy and their two daughters, Doris and Genevieve, and to his father, Mr. Joseph Sandy,, the heartiest congratulations of the electorate of South Victoria for the confidence which the people have placed in him in eletting him as their representative in the legislature halls of the Province.

Mr. T. J. Parsons, the Reeve of Omemee, occupied the chair, and made a most efficient chairman.

Mr. Parsons stated during the evening that Mr. Sandy's campaign was one of the cleanest ever conducted in Omemee.

Among the speakers of the evening were Mr. Halbert, president of the U.F.O., Mr. Widdifield, M.P.P., for North Ontario, Mr. Staples, M. P. P., for East Northumberland, Mr. N. Smale, Mr. N. Clarke and Mr. Reid of Reaboro.

The two last named had the honor of presenting the congratulations of the people and moving and seconding a resolution of appreciation to Mr. Sandy. The chairman put the resolution before the big audience, and they showed their approval by loud and continuous applause .

Mrs. Thurston of Bobcaygeon was in the audience and was called to the platform for a speech. Mrs. Thurston was an indefatigable worker for the cause of the U. F. O. and this night was almost at a loss for words to express her joy and pleasure at Mr. Sandy's success in this political fight.

Brought Greetings

Mr. Widdifield and Mr. Staples carried with them the greetings from their respective constituencies and expressed their pleasure at being able to be present to honor the member for South Victoria.

There was a keen note of pride expressed by nearly every speaker at the dignified attitude of the 55 members elected who met in Toronto to select their leader and if these men are of the type of Messrs. Sandy, Widdifield and Staples, then the people of the province of Ontario have nothing to fear from our future administration.

Mr. Halbert, president of the U. F. O. and one of the most abused men in Ontario, made the speech of the evening. It was a masterly address and when Mr. Halbert was about to stop at midnight the audience called out for him to go ahead, as they enjoyed the way the speaker flayed his enemies right and left and told the farmers to look ahead, to study the tariff and to watch closely the trend of events.

Mr. A. Allin sang several solos and was repeatedly encored during the evening. Mr. S. M. Scott acted as accompanist. The audience showed their appreciation of each number by calling for encores.

Mr. Sandy the guest of the evening, made a modest but fitting reply to all the kind words that were spoken. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

A very pleasant evening was spent in music and cards, after which the gifts were opened by Mr. M. and Mrs. Brown and a neat speech made by each. "For he's a jolly good fellow" was sung, after which refreshments were served and the gathering broke up, each having enjoyed the evening.

We welcome back to their home Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nugent, after being absent for the past three months on a visit to the west. While away they visited in Manitoba, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska, and have returned looking hale and hearty.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

WARSAW NEWS

WARSAW, Nov. 5—A student conducted the services in the Baptist Church on Sunday morning.

Rev. Hugh Brown occupied his pulpit at both services. The evening service in the Presbyterian Church will be at 7 o'clock instead of 7.30 as in the summer months.

In the Presbyterian Sunday School the special programme for world's temperance Sunday was used, and some considered it one of the best special services there had been. Among other numbers of the programme were quotations from Dr. Wiley, Dr. Grenfell, Admiral Jellicoe, David Lloyd-George, the late ex-President Roosevelt, Lord Roberts, and other prominent men regarding the use of intoxicants.

Mr. E. Hawthorne, the superintendent, said that he had not urged the signing of the pledge, as so often it was done thoughtlessly. A pledge was a word of honour, and if given should b kept. But he is getting a pledge card, and he hopeld many would be able to sign it. He pointed out that one who keeps a pledge is more respected than one who did and told that when he was a young boy he signed a pledge not to use intoxicants as a beverage, and he has kept it, though he had used it as a medicine.

Rev. H. Brown also addressed the Sunday School, and told the benefit he had received because as a young boy he had joined the Band of Hope. Boys and girls growing up in Ontario will not have the temptation their fathers and mothers had to drink, and they must help make all the Dominion free from drink too.

Regular services were held in the Anglican and Methodist Churches.

The King's Daughters will hold their regular meeting on Friday afternoon in Mr. Calder's [illegible].

Mr. E. Hawthorne is selling Victory Bonds.

Gave a Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan L. Payne gave a large party last Thursday evening. The young people had a most enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. Payne are excellent host and hostess.

The Hockey Club gave another of their delightful dances on Friday evening.

The boys of the village were out for fun on Hallowe'en, and had a good time, but no nasty tricks were played.

The Woman's Institute will hold its regular meeting in Mr. Calder's Hall on Thursday afternoon. Dr. Munro will give the address, which was not given last month. Mrs. Moore, secretary, will be at the convention in Toronto.

A meeting of the committee appointed by the Council to carry on the work of getting a memorial monument for the Dunmer boys who payed the supreme sacrific was held last Wednesday evening in the Town Hall. Dr. Munro was appointed president, Mrs. Garfield Crowe secretary, and Mrs. David Miller treasurer. There will be no personal canvassing for funds, but those wishing to contribute will be given an opportunity. More definite announcements will be made later.

Mr. Laurence McCracken, Peterborough, spent the week-end at his father's home.

Mr. Wallace Anderson was in Norwood at the U. F. O. county meeting to appoint a successor to Mr. Ernest MacDonald as organiser for the county.

Some of the hunters are delayed a day or two on account of the threshing operations.

Messrs. Verne Selkirk, Cecil Wasson, Verne Ellis, Norman Crowe, returned overseas men, have gone back north together to hunt.

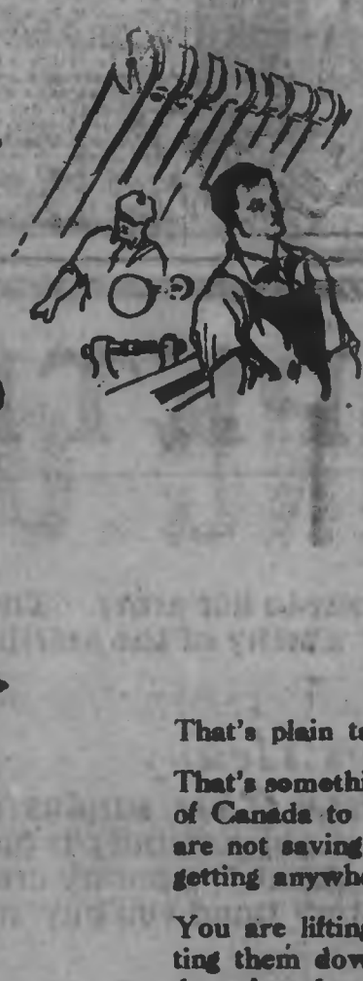
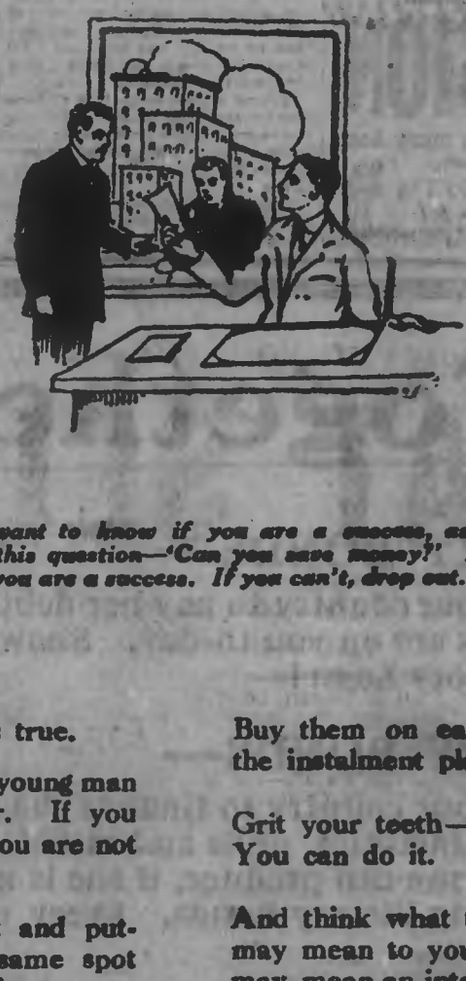
The Young Man's Opportunity





"If you want to know if you are a success, ask yourself this question—'Can you save money?' If you can, you are a success. If you can't, drop out."

That's plain talk, but it's true.

That's something for the young man of Canada to think over. If you are not saving money—you are not getting anywhere.

You are lifting your feet and putting them down on the same spot day after day, marking time.

No man ever succeeded that way.

Take a grip on yourself and cut out those careless, useless expenditures you make day after day.

Victory Bonds are your opportunity.

Grit your teeth—and pay for them! You can do it.

And think what this money saved may mean to you later in life. It may mean an interest in some business; it may mean the making of a home. It will mean that you can avail yourself of some investment opportunity that will ensure your financial or business success. The possession of some "ready money" has often been the foundation of a fortune.

Begin saving to-day.

INDUSTRY RUINED IN RUSSIA

Reds Want the Good Things of Life Without Doing Any Work for Them.

CHICAGO, Ill.—I have asked repeatedly since my return from Russia, states Lieut. Braun, "What are the Bolsheviki?" With all the bunk that has been written about them notwithstanding, and with all their talk of "getting the rights of the workers recognized," in mind, I can say only that they are a bunch of illiterates who want all the good things the world offers without working. Their idea of justice is to swoop down on some poor farmer who by years of hard work and thrift has acquired title to a little piece of land and has saved a little money, take the land and money away from him and turn it over to some loafers who never did an honest day's work in their lives.

Industry Ruined.

The Bolshevik hand has withered everything it has touched. In the wake of the Bolshevik, industry lies ruined and dead, fields barren, and women dishonoured. For in Petrograd and Moscow the Red theory of the public ownership of women has not been mere talk — it has been bitterly real to the women who have been forced to submit to the wishes of the dirty, uncouth, brutalized followers of Lenine and Trotzky—and that more promiscuously than the holders of "yellow tickets" under the Czar's regime. They at least had the privilege of selection.

Of course the women of the leaders of the Bolshevist leaders are not be- [illegible] communized — the leaders don't take that part of their doctrine for personal application any more than they do the abolition of property rights—and the Bolshevist leaders to-day have obtained possession of most of the Russian gold—they've stored it outside of Russia against the day when their power will be gone. The masses have the money which the Bolshevist press turns out every morning by the ton.

Large, Well Trained Army.

The Reds have a large, well trained army; they have plenty of artillery and ample supplies of ammunition for it. And they know how to use it — their forces are well officered.

My first stop in Russia was at Libau in Letvia. At that time it was occupied by the Germans. The city is peopled by Letts, and the Letts and the Germans always were at odds. Every night while there from the British destroyer Vortigen, I and several other officers watched a pitched battle from ringside seats.

Opposite the channel was a cemetery. Each night the destroyer's searchlight would sweep the graveyard until it picked out the Letts and Germans who were fighting each other with machine guns from opposite sides of the cemetery. Each morning we watched them burying the dead.

It was from Libau the Germans sent out despatches saying the French sailors had joined the Reds. What really happened was this. Two red signal flags of the French destroyer Ailette had become wet by salt spray. The French hung them out on deck to dry. The Germans saw them and gleefully concluded the French had gone Bolshevik at last.

Kolchak and Esthonians.

Twelve hours before the signing of the treaty of peace I was in Reval in Esthonia. When we fed the children there from the American supply ships the mothers knelt before us and cried. At that time Kolchak, who had about 80,000 troops, was trying to get the Esthonian army of 40,000 to help him take Petrograd. The Esthonians refused to do this unless Kolchak agreed to guarantee their independence. This he did not do, with the result there was much ill feeling between the Esthonian forces and the army of North-West Russia.

Kolchak now, however, is well fixed. The United States supplied him with food and the British gave him ammunition, tanks and some airplanes. He should take Petrograd in another month. If he doesn't I believe the struggle may last another year.

Plea for Business.

But through it all the educated Russians are begging American business men to come into Russia. There really is a great field there for American enterprise. Of course Russian money is valueless but live wire American firms could make fortunes by trading their wares for the raw materials with which Russia abounds.

That Germany is prepared to open business relations with Russia is indicated by the fact that the Germans now are confiscating all the Russian money they can lay hands on. Every traveller who goes from Russia to Germany is searched. If he has any Russian money it is taken from him and goes to buy raw materials from Russia for the Germans.

If American firms will get in on the ground floor now, in spite of all the turmoil and Bolshevism, they can develop a great field for trade, a field that will give vast yields when some sort of sane autocracy replaces the present tyranny of the Reds. I am convinced Russia never can be successful as a republic. The Czar was better than Lenine and Trotzky — a Caesar or a Napoleon would be a blessing.

RATS JOIN WALKOUT.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio.—Even the rats have walked out at the Labelle Iron Works, where a labour strike is in effect. The rats stuck it out several days after the men went on strike, but as there were no more scraps of lunch left lying around, the rats decided to leave. They departed in droves and were seen speeding through the main gate of the mill by many persons.

Voice Of The People

Sir,—The article appearing in your paper last evening, in reference to the bread war on in St. Catharines. It stated in the article that the price of bread had been 24c for a 4-lb. loaf, and that it had been reduced to 22c, and was likely to come still lower. Comparing that with the price in Peterborough, we find that you are paying 23c for a 3-lb. loaf. Taking as our guide the maximum price in St. Catharines, or 6c a lb., our loaf at 6c a lb. should retail at 18c, so that our price is considerably higher than that paid in St. Catharines.

The milk question, I believe, requires some consideration, because when the necessaries of life in every house are increasing in price, it becomes a serious matter. Do you not think that it is about time that a halt was called to the very increasing prices?

The City Council has the authority to investigate the price of any commodity which seems to be selling at an absorbitant price. It is hardly to be expected that in every case the Aldermen are going to take the initiative, but I believe that if they were requested by a responsible citizen, or a body, they would willingly take action. It seems to me that the W.C.T.U. would be a good organization to take this matter up. The ladies are vitally interested, as they are the "purchasing agents," and I believe if they set out to economize, they will do it, even to the extent of an organized effort, to use evaporated milk on one or two days each week, which would put consternation into the ranks of the milk purchasers, and if they set out to make some of their own bread, I am sure they could teach the bakers a lesson.

Thanking you for your kindness in giving this space, I am, yours very truly,

Reginald Smith.

THOS. ADAMS AS THE GUEST OF BOARD OF TRADE

PLANING ADVISOR GAVE IN. TERESTING ADDRESS AT NOON TO DAY.

Thomas Adams, Town Planning Adviser of the Federal Government at Ottawa, was the guest of honour at the Board of Trade luncheon at the Empress Hotel to-day at noon. G. H. Duncan and Alderman Hamilton of the City Council were present, as also were City Clerk Armstrong, Engineer R. H. Parkin, W. H. Dunsford, Public School Director Alexander Mowat, and representatives of industry and the professions.

"Both on the sides of capital and labour there is a neglect to define the capacity of labour for work," said Mr. Adams. "In Peterborough you have exactly the same conditions that are prevalent in the large cities when they were your size, and you are not taking steps to prevent it. Toronto has now suburbs extending to Niagara Falls. Housing is very important to the manufacturers. I hope Peterborough doesn't offer bonuses to manufacturers. It is a sign of weakness. You should make it so attractive that they have to come here."

Mr. Adams cited the street corporation who will not come into cities but build their own towns on farms, which idea is spreading to other companies.

Killing Industry.

Mr. Adams declared that the real estate man is killing industry, because when they charge such exorbitant prices for property, the heads of industry pay, not the labourers, by inflated pay envelopes.

"The well-being of this city rests on industry."

"I venture to say that with all the interest you take in your employees and their well being, you are not satisfied with the way this city is growing up. We have not solved the problem of social organization of industry. The present condition means strikes, slums, disorganization even among well-paid workers; a growing burden of taxation rapidly increasing because we have no well-defined organization to plan our cities as we do our industries. You have the power to prevent the mistakes which we have made in our larger cities. You must have organized means of transportation to the factories and an easy way to transmit power. There must be no loss of time in transportation.

City of Homes.

"Peterborough can be a great city to-day. It must be a city of homes. City planning has to do with transportation, with streets, waterways with buildings, also no street should be less than 66 feet wide. In the residential district 40 feet wide is ample, but in the congested districts they should be 100 feet wide, but other factors demand that ground, and therefore you adopt the minimum (66 feet) as a standard. If you have skyscrapers you should have the streets wide enough to permit air in the building and to limit the density. Two hundred feet width in New York may be too narrow. Also you have standard width streets and perhaps the streets leading into it. Imagine having the tributaries of a stream wider than the main flow?"

MR. J. H. BURNHAM TURNS ANOTHER HANDSPRING

WITHDRAWS HIS CARDS AND FEATHERS AMENDMENT.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 7. — J. H. Burnham, M.P. has decided not to press his "cards and feathers" amendment to the government prohibition legislation. Speaking to the Canadian Press to-day, the member for West Peterborough stated that the Minister of Justice, who is in charge of legislation, had said that he was prepared to recognize the principle of provincial referendum with federal enablement where necessary with the usual reservations. "As this was the object of my cards and feathers amendment to the government liquor enablement bill," said Mr. Burnham, "the amendment will now be withdrawn."

JURY ACQUITTED MAN CHARGED WITH MURDER.

MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—John Hames Quinn, who on August 25th shot and mortally wounded Roch Samson for continually bothering his wife, has been acquitted of the charge of murder by a jury in Justice Martin's court.

INVOLVED RENTAL CASE WAS HEARD

F. W. DOAN DEFENDANT IN DIVISION COURT THIS MORNING

An interesting legal point pertaining to the rental of a house was brought out in a Division Court case this morning in which Mrs. Sarah McPherson was the plaintiff and Mr. Fremont W. Doan the defendant. Mr. Doan leased the house at 287 Stewart street for four months from Mrs. McPherson at a rental of $37 a month. The term of the lease was from March 1st 1919 until July 1st. On the 16th of June the defendant vacated the house. He stated that Mrs. McPherson was notified that that he was giving up the house and that the door had been left open in order that Mrs. McPherson could get the key which was left on the hall rack. The plaintiff denied that she had any understanding of this arrangement, and that when she went to the house it was locked. She stated that she did not obtain possession of the house under the notice which it was alleged was given to her. The defendant had paid for the full term of the lease. Judge Huycke reserved his decision in order that he might consider the evidence in its points to conflict.

OF INTEREST TO PETERBORO VETERANS

An announcement made by the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, Vocational Branch by Major Gifford at the local branch in the Barrie Building states that by an Order-in-Council just issued applications for courses of retraining must be made within three months from November 1, 1919 or within three months from the date of discharge (if such date is subsequent to November 1). S. C. R. patients in hospital under this order, must apply within three months if the date of the termination of treatment.

The district Vocational officer advises that men who are desirous of applying for training should secure the application forms provided for the purpose obtainable at the G.W.V.A. Hall, and designate distinctly the date they would like their course to commence.

COMING, D. W. GRIFFITH'S "HEART'S OF THE WORLD"

"Hearts of the World," the supreme triumph of D. W. Griffith, to be presented at the Allen Theatre commencing next Monday inaugurates a new era in the realm of the screen drama. Here, with the great war as a background, Mr. Griffith has filmed a simple little love story, old as the ages yet ever new. "Hearts of the World" has proved the latest sensation in the screen world. It shows the happy, peaceful life of the people of a small village before the grim horror War reared its ugly head over the horizon. The causes that led up to the war are shown; the meeting of the English Parliament on the eventful night when the vote was cast for war; the session of the French Senate voting for the Declaration of War; the session of the cabinet awaiting the fatal hour when the ultimatum to Germany would expire. These scenes come as a prelude; then the great drama begins when the German hordes enter France.

In taking the battle pictures for "Hearts of the World," Mr. Griffith had the assistance and co-operation of the British War Office. It is the opinion of all of all who have seen this picture that Mr. Griffith has outdone his best achievements and has established a new artistic record which it will take years for someone else to equal.

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

The popularity of newspaper comics was never beter illustrated than in the perennial success of George McManus's famous cartoons "Bringing Up Father," which has, as is well known, already reached the dignity of the stage. Ever since Gus Hill became sponsor for this lovable character, who bears, by the way, all the brunt of domestic felicity and infelicity and who permits himself to be good-naturedly swayed by the whims of his better half, known as "Mother," "Father" has become a universal favourite. Like Othello we revere him for the dangers he has passed. In this particular instance "Father" is never shy of trouble, but as all his misfortunes are the natural excuse for hilarity and wholesome fun we are oft prone to forgive his "enemies" who in the long run receive their just mert of undoing. The latest series which Manager Hill will present this season is entitled, "Bringing Up Father In Society." It is in three acts and brimful, as we understand, of a plentitude of catchy melodies, specialties, surprises, novelties and features out of the beaten path. "Jiggs" Mahoney and all the other favourite characters will be in evidence and that they will receive a courteous and far reaching welcome goes without saying. The new attraction will be the offering at the Grand Saturday, matinee and evening.

BILL HART'S QUALITIES WELL DISPLAYED IN "BREED OF MEN"

Virility, the breeziness of the West, the qualities of manhood that inspire admiration, are the strongest traits of William S. Hart whose latest picture "Breed of Men," is being shown at the Allen Theatre to-day.

During his screen career, Mr. Hart has depicted Western types of every description—bad men, punchers, woodmen, ranchers, etc. His remarkable forceful personality imparts a realism to his acting that lifts it out of the commonplace and renders it distinctly superior and convincing.

His new picture offers great opportunities for the famous star, for the role he portrays is that of a positive daredevil among cowpunchers, a man who is afraid of nothing. He is involved innocently in a great wrong which he rights, finally after some strenuous work. Senna Owen is his leading woman.

WANTS TOWN TO ERECT SLUSH FENCE

Supt. Killaly has written the Lindsay council re the erection of splash boards between the roadway and sidewalk, on the east side of the Lindsay street bridge. "I know you are aware," writes Mr. Killaly, "of our Department's folly in constructing two sidewalks on the bridge, while the other sections of the bridge are not provided with a sidewalk on the west side. Therefore, not wishing our Department to appear any more ridiculous, I am advising Mr. Laidlaw that we will meet town council by erecting spash boards when the council erects similar boards on their own sections, where, I think you must agree with me, conditions are worse than upon our bridge, where the sidewalk is at a lower level.—Board of Works.

On motion of Deputy-Reeves O'Reilly and McGaffey, the Board of Works was instructed to put three ten-inch splash boards on the approach to the bridge.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will Know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

The First Typewriter.

So long ago as 1714 a patent for a typewriter was taken out in England by Henry Mill; it was called a "machine for impressing letters singly and progressively as in writing, whereby all writings may be engrossed in paper so exact as not to be distinguished from print." His machine was very clumsy, and it was not until more than a century later (1830) that anything further was attempted. Then the first American typewriter, called a "typewriter," was patented by W. A. Burt.

FROM CHERRY-BLOSSOM LAND

The Japanese Give Good Example

What is it that makes our Canadian women often pale, sallow-faced, with dark circles under the eyes, and very often old at forty-five when they should be in their prime?

Women suffer in girlhood from backache, spine-ache and headaches, followed by irregularities and as a result diseases of the womanly organs are more common than any one but a physician in active practice could suppose.

After long experience in the treatment of women's diseases, Dr. Pierce evolved a vegetable tonic and corrective which he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This is a purely vegetable preparation, without a particle of alcohol contained in it.

When a woman complains of backache, dizziness or pain—when everything looks black before her eyes—a dragging feeling, with nervousness, she should turn to this "temperance" herbal tonic. It can be obtained in almost every drug store in the land and the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper. Put up in tablets or liquid. Dr. Pierce, of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., will send a trial size of the tablets for ten cents.

A Coal Range A Gas Range Both In One

The "Simplex" combination range, now being shown at Adamson & Dobbin's Store on Simcoe Street, is a most remarkable convenience. In the same space occupied by an ordinary range there is a four hole gas range and a four hole coal range ready for instant use. SICK HEADACHES

For Last 10 Years

Headaches affect all ages and both sexes alike, but in all cases the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, for with the cause removed the headaches vanish for all time.

What is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all description than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Flora Hall, Dominion, N.S., writes:—"I have been troubled with sick headaches for the last ten years. I had lost faith in all remedies until recently a friend of mine advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. This I did, and found relief in a very short time. I would now recommend B. B. B. to anyone who is suffering as I did. I only took 3 bottles, and am never troubled with sick headaches any more."

B. B. B. has been on the market for over 40 years. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HOW DETECTIVES CATCH MURDERERS

WONDERFUL RESOURCES OF SCOTLAND YARD.

The number of murders in the country which have remained unsolved lately has made the authorities realize that unless an expert is called in at once, many a murder may remain unsolved through lack of training on the part of the local police.

The famous detectives of Scotland Yard, who of course have many murders to deal with each year, and are the greatest experts in tracking criminals in the world, have had no right up to the present to investigate a big murder in Sheffield, for instance. They are only called in by the local police when the latter are baffled, and that is often weeks after the murder has been committed, and valuable clues and time have been lost.

Now, however, in all cases which are likely to be complicated, a Scotland Yard man will be on the spot at once, and fewer murderers than ever will escape the scaffold.

The real detective and the detective of fiction are as like one another as chalk and cheese. The Scotland Yard expert relies upon hard work and organization. The Criminal Investigation Department, in fact, is so successful in the great majority of cases it handles, because it is organized just the same way as a big business is organized.

Scotland Yard's Black Museum.

There are close on seven hundred detectives attached to Scotland Yard, and each man is trained and taught the ins and outs of criminals and their methods. Many of these detectives, of course, specialize, some on jewel robberies, others on murders, others on pocket picking, and so on, but each one is prepared in an emergency to tackle any jobs which come along.

To Scotland Yard there is always available a number of experts who give advice on any subject wanted, experts in handwriting, in wounds, poisons, inks and even tabocca ashes.

All the big police stations are linked up by private telephones, as well as by a private tape machine. Every man in the detective force is specially picked and tested before being put in charge of even the smallest crime. Every one has some special accomplishment, most of them know at least one foreign language, and all have to pass severe examinations for promotion.

Part of the most useful training of a detective is that in which he visits the Black Museum, that grim private exhibition at Scotland Yard, where can be seen the instruments which have been used in big burglaries, the tiny clues which have brought murderers to the gallows, and the thousand and one things which reveal the methods of criminals of all countries.

There, for example, are two enlargements of finger prints, and in a glass case a black mask. They are the clues which brought the brothers Stratton to the scaffold in 1908 for the murder of an old couple at Deptford.

In a glass case are shown forged notes, coiners' implements and spurious coins, and plaster moulds, and in other parts of the museum are firearms and other weapons, all of which have some grim tale of violence associated with them.

Each of these exhibits is an object lesson in itself to the budding detective, and each helps him to realize how the famous detectives of former days worked on their cases and brought their men to book.

Detectives Don't Often Fail.

Attached to the Yard is a special staff of expert photographers always on duty. When any big murder is committed one of these experts is sent to the scene of the crime, and photographs are taken of the room or place in which it was committed from various angles, and from these photographs, when necessary, a model is constructed for use at the trial, or to help the detectives engaged on the case to reconstruct the actual murder.

Finger print experts carefully examine any weapon used by the murderer, or anything he is likely to have handled, from glasses to door knobs, in order to find his finger prints. The history of the dead man and the movements of all his associates are investigated by a few trained experts in an extraordinarily short time. Often in a few hours what seems an utterly baffling mystery is well on the way to solution when the reports from the various detectives are handed in and pieced together by the detective in charge of the case.

Scotland Yard doesn't believe in leaving anything to chance. That's why so few murderers escape once the C.I.D. is on their track. And of the few who do escape being brought to trial, practically all are known to the Yard, but unfortunately moral certainly of guilt and legal proof are two different things.

NUMBERS INSTEAD OF NAMES FOR CHILDREN.

STOCKHOLM—Leaders of Russia's Soviet government have banned the giving of Christian names to children, it is reported, because they are considered "reminiscent of the rescitionary system." It is expected an order will be issued soon forbidding their use. Numbers are to be substituted. Thus, three children of a family named Petkoff may in future be known as "Petkoff One, Two and Three," respectively.

, he will have no difficulty in per- ding him to sign.

Mental Appeal.

Mental appeal, the speaker claimed, s not sell assurance as the heart al does. Make, he said, the pro- t feel you genuinely want to help by having the sentiment in your heart. In many cases a prospect's ality must be aroused. If the al for is made on the same old typed statements the canvasser 't get far. The prospect frequent- needs a human blow to stimulate curiosity. One line used by Mr. Esperance himself is to produce a ped cheque made out to the pro- t's wife, and he answers to the 's startled inquiry if the cheque good that he can make it so by taking a premium. There are thousands of other ways to shock a man into attention. Action is a good thing to get a man's attention, words are more frequently but actions speak louder. Tones, Mr. L'Esperance said, are worth cultivating, and are almost an invariable index to a man's state of mind.

Change the Bait.

When trying to sell a man a type of contract and he doesn't buy, don't persist—change the bait. Show your prospect you are concerned about his taking the policy for his own good and feel yourself what he needs it. Move him. Character is a necessity in an assurance man. Develop character, and instead of being a carrot in a field of carrots, you'll become a turnip in a field of carrots—something interesting, something new. A prospect looks upon a man of character and says to himself, "this fellow is different," and he becomes immediately interested.

Use Imagination.

Hold out to your prospect the hand of fellowship and make him think you want to do the right thing by him, but be right yourself or you can't be a good salesman. Look him in the eye squarely. One vital state is the state of friendliness, stimulate the state and make friends of your customers by telling him of your home life, your aspirations and aims. Imagination is another vital aid in selling assurance, set your own imagination working and you will soon get a return. Practice what you preach and show by the policies you carry yourself you believe in what you want to convince the customer.

You can judge how the customer feels pretty well by what your own feelings are. Visualise your own dear ones left unprovided for and the subconscious mind will carry the thought to your prospect.

At the conclusion of Mr. L'Esperance's speech three cheers were given for the interesting address.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"THE RAINBOW TRAIL"

The Grand Opera House with its big double attraction last night presented one of the finest programmes seen here for some time. That great emotional actor William Farnum starred in "The Rainbow Trail", a play of parts which presents the humorous side as well as the pathetic. That dainty little actress June Elvidge with Montague Love created a mild sensation in "The Quickening Flame," a picture of unusual merits and out of the ordinary.

STEEL WORKERS ON THE WARPATH

FOUR MEN CHARGED WITH DYNAMITING A HOUSE.

Canadian Press:

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 7.—Disorders in the Donora-Monessen region along the Monongahela River, where numbers of steel workers are still on strike, kept the county authorities and the State police busy to-day. Four men arrested by troopers were held for court on a charge of feloniously dynamiting a house with intent to commit murder, and three men were arrested to-day for alleged complicity in an attempt to dynamite a street car. Police patrols have been increased and every possible effort was being made to-day to round up the leaders of the outrages. At strike headquarters here, officials were busy with the task of caring for striking workers and their families. Steel companies made no statement other than that mills were operating as on other days of the week.

LIKELY ADOPT THE 48-HOUR WEEK

PROGRESS OF THE LABOUR CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON.

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—From present indications, there seems to be every likelihood that the International Labour Conference will adopt the proposed convention on a 48-hour week. No doubt there will be modifications of the original proposal submitted by the organizing committee. The probability is that the discussion on delays will be protracted The final vote may yet be some time distant. But, generally speaking, it is expected that the Convention will secure the necessary two-thirds vote of the delegates present.

Why Should Women Invest?

Why should you as a woman put money into Victory Bonds this year?

There are so many sane and sensible reasons that the only wonder will be if every woman does not put every dollar she can spare into these Loans.

First, every woman, young or old, knows that she should save money. Women as a rule do not like taking risks with their dollars. We want something safe. Stocks and such things are as Greek to the majority of us.

If we put money in the bank, it is too easy to get it out again. If we put it in a stocking, the house may burn down.

Canada's Victory Bonds are as safe as a rock and have a good interest attached. They help us to save. Indeed, they make it easy for us to save.

We learned something about the value of thrift during the war. Now let us put into practice the lessons the war taught us. Let us realize that even from a selfish standpoint we are wise to economise in order to get a Victory Bond.

You bought one—or two or more—last year. Think of the comfort it has been to you through the year, to realise that you had the money safely invested, which, if you were in sudden need, you could get.

You managed to spare the money for it last year. You can do it this year—and double your state of independence.

The patriotic side makes a strong appeal. It is up to each of us as Canadians to share the burden of paying Canada's debts. How else can they be paid if not by the men women who are proud of being Canadians?

We lived safely through the war. Here in Canada, we practically did not know what it was to suffer real want, yet women of other lands went through sufferings which no words can describe. Even now their privations and sufferings are not at an end.

Through some dispensation of Providence we were spared those things, and so when we are asked by the land we love to do this little thing—to lend our money to help meet our country's obligations, let us do it with a willing hand. Let us remember the lessons we learned in the war: of forgetting selfish intersets in serving Canada—and the Empire.

Make up your mind that you are going to buy as many Victory Bonds this year as you can afford. Do it for love of your country. We can not match the men who fought, in service, but we can do what comes our way to the best of our ability.

possible for the person of most limited means to become a Victory bond holder. Thousands of the subscribers to the former loans took advantage of the convenient instalment arrangement and are now very glad that they did. They possess valuable securities which they could not have bought had the "cash down" method been imperative.

The Victory Loan 1919 is not a rich man's loan. It is available to everybody. A first payment of $5 is accepted on a $50 bond and the balance can be spread over a period of ten months. It is a great experience in saving from week to week.

It is a very poor person indeed who cannot buy at least one Victory Bond, and fortunately there are but few of that kind of people in Canada to-day. The Victory Loan of 1919 will keep the Dominion prosperous and the carcity of poor people will continue.

FREED AFTER SERVING 10 YEARS PUNISHMENT

A case which deserves much thoughtful consideration is that of Wm. H. Barron, 103 Morgan Street, Bennington. For ten years Mr. Barron suffered the agonies caused by Rheumatism. At times he was bound hand and foot by the grip of Rheumatic pains. On the advice of a friend he stood for a new trial and used T.R.C.'s.

Read what he has to say:—

"I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for ten years. Have been so bad at times I could not move hand or foot for months. A friend advised me to try Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules, and I have been thankful ever since. They worked wonders for me, and I have never felt any return of the disease."

It's practically impossible to obtain evidence stronger than this testimonial, and a word to the wise is always sufficient. If you suffer, have a new trial—use T.R.C.'s.

Ask your Druggist or write us for our new booklet; it is interesting and costs you nothing (Templeton, 142 King West, Toronto). 60 final T.R.C.'s anywhere on receipt of $1.00.

The instalment plan in connection with the Victory Loan 1919 makes it

THIN, NERVOUS PEOPLE NEED BITRO-PHOSPHATE

Weak, thin people—men or women are nearly always nervous wrecks; thus conclusively proving that thinness, weakness, debility and neurasthenia are almost invariably due to nerve starvation. Feed your nerves and all these symptoms due to nerve starvation will disappear.

Eminent specialists state that one of the best things for the nerves is an organic phosphate known among druggists as Bitro-Phosphate, a nut-grain tablet of which should be taken with each meal. Being a genuine nerve builder and not a stimulant or habit-forming drug, Bitro-Phosphate can be safely taken by the weakest and most delicate sufferer, and the results following its use are often simply astonishing.

By strengthening the nerves, weak, tired people regain energy and vigor; thinness and angularity give way to plumpness and curves; sleep returns to the sleepless; confidence and cheerfulness replace debility and gloom; dull eyes become bright, and pale, sunken cheeks regain the pink glow of health.

CAUTION—Bitro-Phosphate, the use of which is inexpensive, also wonderfully promotes the assimilation of food, so much so, that many people report marked gains of weight in a few weks. Those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh, should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

VILLAGE WIT OF LORNEVILLE

STORY OF A STEER WHO TRAVELLED WITHOUT A TAIL LIGHT—ONE ON THE GRAND TRUNK.

LORNEVILLE, Nov. 3.—An accident was narrowly averted a few days ago when a steer belonging to Mr. Duncan McArthur escaped from the shipping pen and dashed on to the railway track and put on full speed for the station. The agent, with great presence of mind, switched the mad bull on to the Coboconk division. Serious results were feared as the steer did not have its tail light lit.

The many friends and acquaintances of Miss Wylmer Moore will be pleased to hear that she is improving after a two weeks' illness.

Lorneville loses this week three of its most estimable citizens, namely: Mr. John Ward, Donald McInnis, and Joseph Nugent. Mr. Ward and Mr. Nugent will make Orillia their home, while Mr. McInnis will reside in the Queen city. These gentlemen have lived in Eldon for a number of years, and their moving away has caused a great deal of regret. The best the world can give is all that a host of friends wish for them wherever they go.

In speaking of the loss of our citizens, the town wit said: "Men may come and men may go, but the Grand Trunk will be late forever."

Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks spent Sunday in Lindsay.

Your correspondent asked a leading farmer what U. F. O. stood for. He replied: "You find out."

Last Sunday a large congregation were present at the Eldon church anniversary to enjoy the services conducted by the Rev. MacKay. Suitable music was supplied by the choir, assisted by Mr. Plank of Lorneville.

A farmer living about a mile from town decided to sell a cow. He weighed the animal at home and it weighed 480 pounds. On arriving at the shipping point it was again weighed and it weighed only 440 pounds, having shrunk 10 pounds coming one mile. As he was shipping the cow to Toronto, a distance of 70 miles, he figured that at the rate of 10 pounds per mile shrinkage, by the time the animal reached Toronto he would have no cow at all.

Mr. Dan Campbell who was injured by a falling rail while at work on the section, is now able to be out on crutches.

We take this opportunity of welcoming to Lorneville the bride of Sergeant Wm. Skelton, a returned soldier, who served several years in France.

Watch the Lorneville news for next week. We promise you a big surprise.

DOWNEYVILLE PARISH HALL OPENING

The new parish hall erected by St. Luke's church congregation at Downeyville, will be formally opened on Tuesday, Nov. 18th. Mr. J. P. Downey, ex-M.P.P., now of Orillia, will be the speaker of the evening.

His Lordship, Bishop O'Brien, of Peterborough, and a number of the clergy of the diocese, will also be present. There will also be a musical programme.

BROTHERS APPOINTED TO GOOD POSITION

MESSRS. LEONARD AND HERMAN GIROUX RECEIVED ADVANCEMENT ON THE SAME DAY.

Mr. F. Leonard Giroux has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the Edmonton Cement Company. During the past seven years he has been engaged with the Canadian Portland Cement Company at Tuxedo, Winnipeg. His brother Herman Giroux has been given the managership of the Timmins-Cobalt district for the Canadian Explosives Limited of Montreal. He was employed by this company before going overseas and resumed his position with them upon his return. Both these Peterboro young men are sons of Mr. George H. Giroux, and it is an odd coincidence that they received their lucrative appointments on the same day, although by different companies, the one in the west and the other in the east of Canada.

IN MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 8th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

CARUSO SINGS IN BULL RING.

MEXICO CITY—The picturesque spectacle was presented today of 15,000 persons sitting under their umbrellas in Mexico City's famous bull ring listening to Enrico Caruso, wearing a heavy rubber cape at protection against the rain, sing the role of Don Jose in "Carmen." Until a few years ago this ring attracted the world's best matadors and picadors.

The performance started under dark skies, and during the third act a heavy rain began falling. At the end of the act the management announced that because of the rain the performance would be suspended. Fifteen thousand persons rose in their seats and shouted in opposition until the arena shook. They demanded that the opera proceed, and, inasmuch as by this time the rain had ceased, the fourth act was started and completed, although occasional flashes of lightning and low-lying clouds forecast the storm that broke shortly after the finale.

The World's Mine Workers.

Over 6,000,000 persons were engaged in mining throughout the world during 1909. One-fifth were employed in the United Kingdom, and more than one-third in the British Empire. More than half were employed in getting coal.

How Fat Actress Was Made Slim

Many stage people now depend entirely upon Marmola Prescription Tablets for reducing and controlling fat. One clever actress tells that she reduced two to four pounds a week using this new form of the famous Marmola Prescription and now, by taking Marmola Tablets several times a year, keeps her weight just right. All druggists sell Marmola Prescription Tablets at $1 for a large case. Or you can get them by sending price to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. If you have not tried them do so. They are harmless and effective.

RULES FOR THE TORONTO FIREMEN

With the disposal of a vast accumulation of routine business, Fire Chief Russell has got around to revising rules and regulations affecting the department. Many of the rules issued are not new but have hitherto been verbal or merely understood. There is little of the "indefinite" about Chief Russell, and he has committed to writing the new regulations which are very definite. A few of the new rules are:

"Smoking in uniform on the public streets or in public conveyances is strictly prohibited.

"Members under the influence of intoxicants will be subject to immediate dismissal from the force.

"No member shall make false reports of any other member, either as to offence or as to the business of the department, calculated to create a disturbance, or to bring any member into discredit.

"Members of the uniformed force will wear their uniforms only when actually on duty. No member shall use his uniform for the purpose of gaining admission to any public place of amusement where an admission fee is charged, without payment of such fee."

"Unauthorized use of badges for the purpose of entering places of amusement where admission is charged, without authority, for inspection, is positively prohibited, and will subject the offender to severe punishment.

"No political meetings or gatherings of persons outside of the department will be permitted in stations, except on permission of the chief. The foregoing will not be contrued to prohibit visitors at stations, who will be shown every courtesy, but must not loiter or congregate there. Visitors will not be permitted after ten o'clock at night without permission of District Chief."

"Members on off shifts shall be required to report for duty for all second, third and fourth alarms.

WHO ARE YOUR CUSTOMERS?

These Are Days When "Select Trade" Needs to be Re-selected.

"Why," a specialty merchant sometimes asks, "should I advertise in the newspaper? My trade is more or less exclusive. I know my customers. They come here because they know me. If I have a special bargain for them a form-letter to a select mailing list will reach all that are worth while."

Well, we never sidestep a fair question. So let's se.

This merchant admits that he knows most of his customers because he hasn't many. They trade with him both because they know and like him AND because they're willing to pay for special attention and service.

Yes, he knows his customers. And a very pleasant circle of friends it makes. But—

He doesn't know all his possible customers.

And that's important just now. These days of rapidly shifting buying ability—every merchant has noticed the changes—mean that the store is missing an accustomed face now and then. If it isn't filling the gaps it is facing a dwindling future.

We aren't going back to before-war conditions. We're going ahead to new ones. You can't judge 1919 by 1914. No other five years ever saw such a transformation in the customer line-up.

Today a new buying power exists. We don't know just where it all is. It's hidden in the mass. The best of "mailing lists" of 1914 is out of date. Customer circles of that day are broken.

But the new buying power is here—scattered in the throng. Maybe it passes our store daily, yet neither of us knows the other.

The only way we can find it is to go out after it. To sweep through the throng and sort out the candidates for new select circles. That is newspaper advertising's mission. It sweeps through the throng. It searches out the unguessed prospects.

From the wide-spreading cornucopia of publicity troops a multitude of possible buyers.

"But," objects the dealer who prefers select trade, "my possible patrons—the very ones you're talking about—are so scattered that newspaper advertising to everybody means a lot of waste. It is money spent to reach people it wouldn't pay me to reach."

A leaky argument, Friend Dealer. It won't hold—especially when you've lost your gold watch or a wallet full of precious papers. For in a case like that, what do you do yourself?

The wallet is lost. Somebody has found it. You want to reach that somebody. Out of all the possible thousands you want him, and him alone. And so—

You advertise it among the "losts." You advertise to thousands to reach—

One man.

Out of the thousands that one man emerges, bringing the wallet. Did that advertising pay?

Of course losing a wallet is out of the routine. You advertised to meet an emergency. But so are these days we're living in. They're out of the routine. They're days of new standards and changing methods.

New and bigger "select lists" are being built up.

But they're not being built up without trying. And the try must fit the emergency. The power that brought the wallet will bring the customers.

Like a magnet it will draw them out of the crowd.

When the public is forming into new groups and readjusting itself to new conditions—then advertising counts double. The one who guides the readjustment holds the key to his own future. There is one sure way to do the guiding:

Tell your story of progress where the new buyers will see it—in the newspaper.

(And, though we have spoken here mostly of the specialty house, every good article to every concern that needs the new public in its business.)

Is it always running fast or slow? Never quite on time? Perhaps the watch is capable of very accurate running, but it is not in perfect order.

MAIN ITEMS PASSED

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 8. — Pronounced symptoms of probation have developed around Parliament, and unless the government evolves some new theme of legislative activity, it would appear that the session will end next week. Yesterday's work in the two houses goes far to expedite the end. Whether it was the sunny smiles of the Prince of Wales or the ennui engendered by a session already prolonged beyond expectations, it is apparent that both chambers are thinking of home and mother.

The soldiers' re-establishment report is adopted and the bill based on it has passed. The Grand Trunk has finally passed the Senate as though on greased rollers. The Ceivil Service reclassification Bill is almost through, and what now remains are principally the government's legislation regarding prohibition, scheduled for to-day, and certain estimates to defray the expenses of the session and to prosecute government activities. The motion to go into supply affords always the constitutional opportunity of discussing anything and everything, and it is intimated that the Opposition will avail itself of the privilege of raking over the general conditions which obtain in the country. Allowing for all this there are hopes and tentative plans that the end should be reached by the middle of the week before the hunting season terminates.

LINDSAY'S CRITERION OF REAL LIVE TOWN

The Port Hope Guide takes objection to Superintendent Dan McMillan's letter which was written to the Mayor of Port Hope in which Supt. McMillan stated he desired to know why the C.P.R. engineers were allowed to blow all the whistles they liked in the city corporation, but if the G.T. engineers did the same thing there was sure to be a big holler.

And in the meantime both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. whistles blow all they like in Lindsay and nobody says a word. Lindsay is a real city (not like Port Hope, which is practically dead) and we do not mind a little noise.—Lindsay Warder.

TRINITY S.S. ANNIVERSARY.

SPECIAL MUSIC AND SPECIAL SERMONS.—MEMORIAL TABLET TO BE UNVEILED.

To-morrow the services in Trinity Methodist Church will be of special interest. The various classes of the Sunday School will be present at the morning service, when a beautiful ceremony, especially arranged and printed for the occasion, will be given. Rev. Hiram Hull, B.A., of Toronto, a able and interesting speaker, will give the address. At 3 p.m. an open session of the school will be held, when a memorial tablet will be unveiled in the S. S. Hall. At the evening service Mr. Hull will preach. Trinity's splendid choir, assisted by Mr. Adeskin, the clever violinist, will render a special programme of music. Visitors will be welcome at these services. The various classes of the school are asked to assemble in the basement of the church at 10.45 a.m.

YOUR EYES DESERVE GOOD CARE.

It's a mistake to abuse your eyes and expect them to be just as strong. Each eye possesses so much natural reserve strength; after that is used up, it means artificial aid for the rest of your life. Why not attend to your eyes before they reach this stage? Glasses for a while will probably relieve them. Consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, 410 George street. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

RECEIVING PRINCE'S FLAG MAYOR'S HAPPIEST MOMENT

SYMBOL OF PETERBORO'S HONOUR WAS PRESENTED TO THE CITIZENS BY VICTORY LOAN COMMITTEE LAST NIGHT.

ALL PROUD OF THE CITY

Peterboro received another emblem of loyalty last night when the Prince of Wales honour flag, awarded to cities in recognition of the subscription of their allotment of the Victory Loan, was presented to the City Council as representatives of the people who won it.

Mr. W. H. Bradburn, chairman of the Peterboro County Victory Loan committee addressing the Council said:—"Mr. Mayor and aldermen of the city of Peterboro it affords me great pleasure to have with my associates of the executive the privilege of telling you that the city of Peterboro last night at 9.30 o'clock went over the top. I want to congratulate the members of the Council and the citizens upon the success that has been achieved through the generosity of our citizens. As chairman of the County executive it is a great pleasure to me to have this opportunity of presenting to you as representatives of the city the Prince of Wales flag. We live in the city that was the first in Ontario to win this flag. Most of the citizens can proudly say "I helped to win that flag and I have done my duty."

A Simple Staging.

There was no elaborate ceremony to this presentation for which arrangements were made yesterday afternoon. The members of the Council present were Mayor Duncan and Aldermen Phelan, Edgar, Hamilton, Crowe, Morrison and Gainey, also Mr. W. J. Henry, city assessor and Messrs. W. H. Bradburn, Vincent Eastwood, Frank Whitehouse and F. N. Blackadar, representing the Victory Loan committee.

The Mayor's Congratulation.

"This is one of the proudest moments of my life to think that we were the first city in the province to secure this flag" said Mayor Duncan as the vicarious recipient of Peterboro's latest honours. "I regret that we could not have had the Prince visit us. We did the best we could to have him come here, but we have won his flag. I cannot speak too highly of the County organization and of our citizens. I congratulate the organization for the work they have done. They secured the best canvassing material in Peterboro, and I don't think they could have made better selections than such men as Mr. Whitehouse.

A vote of Thanks.

The city's appreciation of the leadership of Mr. Bradburn's committee was expressed in a standing vote of thanks to all the Loan solicitors. It was moved by Ald. Phelan and seconded by Ald. Hamilton.

Mr. Eastwood's Address.

Speaking of the significance of the Prince of Wales' flag, Mr. Eastwood referred to its intangible connection with the victory that had been won last year. It also represented the production that is needed at this present time.

"We are all labourers" he said, "but we have got to be more efficient and more productive labourers. We must make sure of the success of our own credit by production.

We don't want to come back next year, and we shall not hang another millstone around our necks by going outside to borrow when we have the money at home. Let us double up our success and make us more worthy of this flag.

Mr. F. N. Blackadar, who assisted in the local campaign, stated that the Committee was now after a crest to be placed on the flag. A crest is given for every 25 per cent. in excess of the allotment of the loan.

Proud of Peterboro.

"I want to add my congratulations to the citizens" said Mr. Whitehouse. We are all proud to feel that we are living with such a body of citizens as we have here. They helped give us this honour of winning the Prince of Wales flag. It was a pleasure to go through the factories, not only to hear the readiness of subscribers but also because of the co-operation from the heads of the industries. I heard that one new company that has located in Peterboro decided to come here because he noticed that the people were such a respectable body of citizens. It must be a pleasure to you gentlemen of the Council to serve such a body of citizens as we have in Peterboro."

The members of the Council supplemented the remarks of the Mayor and the Victory Loan committee. Ald. Morrison said that credit should be given to the workingmen for Peterboro's success. "And Mr. Eastwood says that means everybody."

Mr. Bradburn praised the Cressman Company and their employees for their splendid showing in winning a Prince of Wales banner with four crests. Ninety per cent. of their employees were represented in the subscriptions for a total of 175% per cent. of the annual pay roll. The Vermont Marble Company had taken $50,000 of the bonds on Friday he added. At the request of Mr. Bradburn Ald. Hamilton was instructed to fly Peterboro's Honour Flag from the city hall to-day.

LONG STRUGGLE IN COAL STRIKE LOOMS

EFFORTS OF GOMPERS TO AFFECT AGREEMENT SEEM FRUITLESS.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. — Both sides in the coal strike to-day seemed grimly set for a long struggle, faced with the possibility of the government taking over and operating the mines if the fuel shortage develops into a famine.

New efforts at bringing about an understanding put forth late yesterday by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labour, are believed to have been without result.

Although Gompers following his third conference with Attorney General Palmer, refused to make any explanation he said flatly he had arranged no more conferences with the Attorney-General. At Palmer's office to-day reports from the fields were being watched closely for the return of any union miners to work.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

The following article was sent to the teachers and read in the schools in Peterborough:

Some days ago a school boy, while playing on the street, picked up an electric light wire. It seemed quite harmless, but he was instantly killed. During the last few years many lads have been killed by climbing poles and trees and touching wires.

The wires that you see supported on poles along the streets and roads all carry electricity, very often at high pressure (or, as it is called, "voltage") when it is very deadly. These wires are always dangerous and should never be touched under any circumstances.

Be careful to remmeber the following things:

1. Do no touch (fallen or hanging) wires.
2. Do not climb poles or trees on which the wires pass.
4. Do no touch or shake guy wires.
5. Do not throw stones at the insulators.
6. Do not fly kites across the wires.
7. Do not stand below men working overhead.
8. If you see a wire down, report it.
9. Keep away from switching towers, sub-stations and power houses.

POLL TAX SUSPENDED FROM RETURNED MEN THIS YEAR

COUNCIL DECIDED THAT IT WAS SCARCELY FITTING TO MEET THEM ON THEIR RETURN WITH STATUTE LABOUR TAX BILLS—BIGGER QUESTION WAITS DISCUSSION.

By the action of the City Council in the brief session last night returned officers and men of the military and naval forces will be exempt from the 1919 poll tax in this city. Mr. W. J. Henry, city assessor said he had made out a list of the men liable for the statute labour tax and was preparing to send out notices to them. Before taking this step he wished to learn the Council's opinion in so far as returned men were concerned. Personally, he said, he felt that it scarcely seemed right to hand returned unmarried soldiers the bill of their poll tax as soon as they arrived home. The members of the Council unanimously agreed with the assessor and decided that this tax should be suspended for the present year, on motion of Ald. Crowe, seconded by Ald. Phelan.

What of Property Holders?

Ald. Edgar referred to the request of the G.W.V.A. for the exemption from taxation of the properties of returned men, in accordance with legislation which the Province has already provided. In this connection he remarked that the single men were probably in a better position to pay their poll tax than were the married men to pay the taxes on their properties. Ald. Edgar said he had investigated this problem and had come to the conclusion that the amount of the taxes thus exempted would not be very large and would make very little difference in the tax bills of the other citizens. It had been proposed to go into a building scheme and in that event the new houses of veterans would be exempt if the Council acceded to the Veteran's request. Ald. Edgar suggested that this whole question of taxation and the returned men should be referred to the Committe of the Whole Council for a thorough consideration.

Aldermen Crowe and Phelan replied that Ald. Edgar's suggestion was a good one but that the simple question of remitting poll taxes. The broader problem required more thought and deliberation.

Mayor Duncan commented that if the taxes on the property of returned married men were suspended it would follow that those ex-service men who were sumply tenants would have some claim for a benefit of the kind offered to those who owned property. His Worship stated that the question seemed an intricate one and could not be disposed of summarily.

Ald. Crowe stated that in the old peace days the members of the 57th regiment were not required to pay poll tax and hence for the present the returned men should not be assessed for it.

Ald. Crowe's motion carried, and Mayor Duncan stated that the G.W.V.A.'s petition would be taken up probably next week.

BUY VICTORY BONDS WITH LABOUR FUND

"Some of those who have been called Bolsheviks by prominent people in the city, have shown their interest in the Victory Loan," said Ald. Gainey, when the Prince of Wales' honour flag was presented to the citizens last night. The hall trustees of the Trades and Labour Council, at a meting found that we had a little money to spare so we notified the canvasser to come up on Monday. We will have $100 or $200 to invest. With the Labour people and the Labour Council and everybody behind it, the Loan is sure to be a success."

BIG PROFIT FROM GOVERNMENT FLEET

NET PROFIT IN FIRST YEAR WILL REPAY COST OF BUILDING.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 8. — Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, in an interview with a Collingwood deputation, said that the business done by the ships built, owned and operated by the government were so remunerative that the net profit from their operation during the first year would repay their cost price. If the government desired to dispose of the vessels, Mr. Ballantyne said, it could do so now at a profit. All the ships built on the great lakes and placed in ocean service, were booked for full cargoes until June next.

The Department of Justice were reported to have acted simultaneously in Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Newark, N. J., Jackson, Michigan, New Haven, Hartford, Waterbury, New Britain and Ansonia, Conn. More than one thousand persons were said to have been arrested.

To Avoid Strikes

THE CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE SAYS NEITHER LABOUR NOR CAPITAL HAS RIGHT TO DETERMINE INDUSTRIAL QUESTION.

CAUSE OF STEEL STRIKE

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Characterizing all strikes as "industrial barbarism" and declaring that "there is no place in this country either for industrial despotism or labour despotism," the Senate Committee authorized to investigate the steel strike presented a report to-day covering its hearings, both in Washington and in Pittsburg, and criticizing both the workers and the employers.

In the controversy which resulted in at least the partial disruption of the steel industry, the committee's main conclusion, concurred in by all members, was expressed in the statement that "the public has a right to demand that capital shall not arrogate to itself the right to determine in its own way those industrial questions, and it is the same as to Labour, the duty is upon Congress to provide some way of adjusting these difficulties."

Treating of the causes of the strike, the committee in its report expressed the opinion that the walkout was precipitated by the determination of the American Federation of Labour to organize the steel industry. Wages are not the factor in the strike, the committee held, being high enough to give no reason for dissatisfaction. The hours of the workers, however, the Senators believed, are too long.

"We believe that a large majority of men actually working in the mills work 10 and 12 hours a day," the report said. Behind the strike, the committee found was massed a considerable element of revolutionary radicalism of which it is said there is no question but that Wm. Z. Foster, secretary of the General Strike Committee, was leader.

CITY HAS AN OFFER FOR OLD AMBULANCE

DAN SPENCE MEMORIAL IS RARELY USED NOW.

The city has received a bid for the Dan Spence memorial ambulance, Mayor Duncan informed the Council last night, at the same time asking the members their opinion of selling it.

"It's down in Comstock's yards and is never used," said His Worship. "They have an offer for it from some place and if we wish to sell it this is a chance. There are not many demands for these ambulances now."

"I wouldn't like to sell it," Ald. Hamilton remarked.

"We might be able to buy a plate or some other memorial with the money," said Ald. Gainey.

The motor ambulances long ago displaced the old horse drawn kind, and as a result the Dan Spence Memorial is never used, and as a memorial serves no purpose whatever.

THANKSGIVING

Some lines by Mrs. A. F. Calder, of this city, and published in a Toronto paper, I should like to be given in your excellent paper.

Then be it ours to-day, with one accord,
To humbly offer praises to the Lord,
For all His mercies bless His name,
And ne'er forget ungrateful all His kindly care.
For to His bounteous hand alone we owe
The blessings that surround us here below,
Our peaceful homes dear type of Heaven and earth
Friendship and love rare gems as is most justly due,
Much is required of service real and true,
So may our warm devotion henceforth prove,
Life one thanksgiving day of grateful love.

HUMOUR OF UNITED STATES SCHOOL BOYS

UNCONSCIOUS KIND—MYSTERIES OF HISTORY AND SCIENCE REVEALED IN EXAMINATION PAPERS— CONFUSION OF IDEAS.

When a schoolboy, in answer to an examination question, wrote, "The press is the mouth-organ of the people," he might not have said what he meant or known exactly what he did mean, but he furnished a good text for an article on modern journalism. However, our present theme is not modern journalism, but schoolboy howlers, products of such confusion (or collision) of ideas as the quotation exemplifies, says Raymond G. Fuller, in the American Child.

Look over the papers of the class in general history:

"There were no Christians among the early Gauls; they were mostly lawyers."

"Louis XVI was getatined during the French Revolution."

"My favourite in English history was Henry VIII. He had six wives and killed them all."

"Edward the Third would have been King of France if his mother had been a man."

"The king was not or order taxis without the consent of Parliament."

"The cause of the Revolution was that the colonists wanted room to pasture their cattle."

"Georgia was settled by people who had been executed."

"In 1620 the Pilgrims crossed the ocean and this is known as Pilgrim's Progress."

"The reason Taft was not elected in 1912 was that the Republican party separated him."

Bess' Short Reign.

"Elizabeth ascended the throne in 1566 and died in 1560. She did not have a long reign."

"Andrew Jackson was called Old Hickory because when he was a boy he was a litle tough."

"If George Washington was so good as to never tell a lie he would never have been a President."

"I don't know anything about the Constitution as I was born in Kansas."

"The spoils system is the place where spoiled things and waste are kept. The board of health has largely taken the place of this."

"Gibraltar is a ledge of rocks and is generally used by insurance companies, corporations and others in denoting their strength safety."

"Algebra was the wife of Euclid."

"Algebraical symbols are used when you don't know what you are talking about."

"Parallel lines are the same distance all the way and cannot meet unless you bend them."

"A circle is a round straight line with a hole in the middle."

Wonders of Science.

"Gravitation is that which if there were none we should all fly away."

"To kill a butterfly you pinch its borax."

"Beverages are diseases that catch."

"Typhoid fever is prevented by fascination."

"The esophagus is a thing that puts us to sleep."

"By eating slowly food is digested before it is swallowed and thus enriches the blood, which goes down one leg and up the other."

Man a Perfect Beast.

Definitions of this and that:

"A deacon is the lowest kind of Christian."

"The Salic law is that you must take everything with a grain of salt."

"A brute is an imperfect beast; man is a perfect beast."

"A Mr. Newton invented gravity with the aid of an apple."

"The laws are made by Lloyd George or else by a policeman."

Three-Point Suspension Springs
Greatest Improvement Since Pneumatic Tires

OVERLAND 4 has been tested as no car has ever been tested before. 250,000 miles of mountain trails, desert sand, heat, cold, mud and dust, demonstrated the quality of every part of the car long before we began manufacturing.

This remarkable test showed conclusively that Three-Point Suspension Springs, exclusive with Overland, are the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

Diagonal attachment of the Three-Point Springs at both ends of a 130-inch Springbase gives the road steadiness of the heavy car of long wheelbase.

Equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System to Demountable Rims.

The longer you ride in this car the better you will like it. Come and see this car. Ask for Booklet.

This Skin Peeler In Great Demand

Since the discovery that mercolized wax possesses remarkable absorbent powers when applied to the skin, the demand for it as a complexion renewer has been tremendous. Druggists in every section report sales as far exceeding those of anything similar they have ever had on their shelves.

Ordinary mercolized wax gently peels off the devitalized cuticle, in minute particles, so that the user gradually loses her old worn-out complexion, the more youthful under-skin taking its place. Cutaneous eruptions, blotches, moth patches, liver spots and freckles are of course removed at the same time. As the wax is entirely harmless, and easy to use, women all over the country are purchasing it in original packages and using it to quickly rejuvenate their complexions. The wax is applied the same as cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, then washed off with warm water.

MILESTONES

PUSHED INTO SUCCESS.

How Advertising Was Thrust on a Disbeliever and Converted Him.

Blessed is the man who, when he is pushed into success, knows enough to stay there.

F'instance, suppose you'd never advertised.

Suppose you never intended to, because you didn't believe in it.

Suppose somebody came along and did it for you.

Suppose this advertising proved that it could deliver the goods with a bang.

Suppose it built up your business to a size you'd never dared even hope for.

Wouldn't you give it the glad hand and keep on?

You sure would

Then why, with all the evidence on advertising's side, not head yourself to it and give it the one thing it needs—a chance?

Because it isn't everybody who gets pushed into prosperity in spite of himself. In the rare cases when it does happen—

Well, listen to this case in which it [illegible] S. E. Kiser tells about it in Printers' Ink. Says it happened in Ohio.

Some years ago a clothing merchant had a small store that just about squeezed along, with enough profit to keep his family in modest comfort. The town was growing, but his store wasn't.

When the local newspapers tried to convince him that advertising would help him keep up with the procession he said he didn't blieve in it. Called it an "expense" that would simply add to the price of his goods without improving their quality.

(Nat mentioning any names, that sounds sort of familiar.)

Well, about all he had accumulated in the course of years was the fag end of the lease on his store. But this, as it happened, was the best thing he ever did.

DISABLED ZEPPELIN'S STORY

One of Her Thirty Passengers Tells of Her Flight and Rescue.

London, Nov. 8.—The story of the adventurous voyage of the Zepplin Bodensee, which narrowly escaped destruction when carrying thirty passengers on Monday night, is told by Mrs. Tower, wife of the London Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent, who was aboard the airship.

"Arriving from Friedrichshafen at Staaken, the landing ground, thirteen miles from Berlin," Mrs. Tower says, "the airship bumped violently, disabling the motors, and swerved into a crowd of watchers, killing one and injuring six. Then, after repeated bumping, she suddenly rose, narrowly clearing a building, collision with which would have wrecked the ship.

"We rose steadily to what seemed an immense height. The accident had put out the lights of the Zepplin and were in total darkness. Snow was falling and itwasintenselycold. All the windows were smashed. Captain Fleming assured the passengers that if they kept quiet he could save the ship.

"In two houds by the extraordinary courage of the war-trained mechanic, the motors were repaired, but so little gasoline was left only one motor could be used.

"After drifting for hours with a damaged compass, the Captain again brought the ship over Staaken, nitending to await dawn, but at midnight he realized this was impracticable, and after novigating for three hours ni the darkness, found a suitable landing between Magdeburg and Stendal.

"There we descended very slowly finally alighting on the tops of dwarfed fir trees, which were thickly covered with snow. Here the ship rested. We were rescued at dawn. Huddled in hay carts we were taken through deep snow to the village, where we were fed and made warm."

METAL GOGGLES FOR DOUGHBOYS.

Shrapnel goggles are made of metal entirely, except a pad of rubber between them and the flesh for protection's sake, and the wearer sees through a slot in the metal in front of his eyes. This is large enough for him to obtain a clear view of the surroundings, but not large enough to permit of the passage of missiles.

An increase in salary— But are you better off ?

"The more I make the more I spend," has been a young man's cry for generations.

When many a man's salary is $15 a week he lives up to every cent of it, putting off the time to start a savings account until his wages are increased to $20.

But when the $5 a week increase comes, does it go into the bank? Not very often.

Make that salary increase do something for you if it is to be of any benefit. Deposit it in The Bank of Toronto each week.

With the interest it earns, you will find at the end of the year that you have a lump sum with which you can do material things.

A WEEK TO GO.

Every $50,000 over the objective will give Peterboorugh a crest. How many can we win next week?

NOW FOR THE CRESTS.

SERVED ITS PURPOSE.

Mr. Burnham has withdrawn his anti-cigarette, anti-cards, anti-feathers amendment to the Prohibition Bill. It served its author's purpose of ridiculing the Ontario prohibition referendum.

DR. COWAN'S CASE.

Regina veterans have asked Dr. Cowan, M.P.P., to resign. Their arguments, however, are not so striking as those of Col. J. A. Currie and will probably have as little effect.

FROM THE PREMIER.

"I unqualifiedly commend the Victory Loan to the farmers of Ontario and hope all classes will unite in this patriotic endeavour to make the loan an overwhelming success.—Premier-designate Drury.

CATCHING THE SWING.

The townships are catching the swing of the city's rush in the Victory Loan campaign. The outposts of the county organization are sending in splendid reports. Next week's record should be a record-breaker.

THE POLL TAX.

In deciding not to collect for this year at any rate poll tax from Peterboro's men who fought overseas the city council is but doing simple justice to the soldiers. Members of militia regiments in the days before the war were always exempt from poll tax but there was no provision made to meet the present situation and until the Legislature changed the regulations at the last session, municipalities were without the power to legally exempt the war veterans. It was a chilly welcome for a man just back from the trenches to be presented with a notice that he owed his home city $5.00 and many of the returned men were rather hurt by the apparent anxiety of the authorities to extract a portion of their gratuity before they had hardly got accustomed to their civilian clothes. The decision arrived at by the Council last night will be welcomed by the men who fought and by their friends.

ARMISTICE DAY.

The celebration of Armistice Day in Peterboro will not be completed if and opportunity is not given to honour the men who helped to bring victory to the allied cause. Peterboro's soldiers are practically all back from overseas. Many of them have come home quietly during the past few months with anything in the nature of a fitting reception being impossible. A parade of all Peterboro's returned men with a review by Major-General Williams, G.O.C. No. 3, Military District who would be a visitor in the city on Tuesday would be an appropriate and splendid feature of Armistice Day. It might not be convenient to hold the event in the day time but it could easily be arranged for the evening. No doubt the Great War Veteran's Association and the returned men individually would be glad to co-operate with the civic authorities. The time is short—anything that is done along this line will have to be arranged at once.

THE PARLIAMENTARY WARRIORS.

A number of members of Parliament and it is noticeable that they all are supporters of the Government seem to be more concerned in assailing the war records of one another than they are over the problem of re-establishing Canada's soldiers. A solution of that vexed question is not rendered any easier by the bickering of Col. Currie, Dr. Edwards and other of that ilk. The subject the country is interested in is not what Col. Currie or Dr. Edwards or Dr. Cowan did in world but rather what Canada can do for the men about whose services in the conflict there is no dispute. No matter what these Parliamentary warriors did or did not do to help win the war, the public recital of their record has no bearing upon the question before the House nor does the unseemly wrangling add prestige at those concerned or to the dignity of Parliament.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The announcement of the decision by the London, Ont., Board of Education to put into effect a general and generous increase of salaries for practically all the teachers in that city is of much interest, especially when the fact is considered that a newly-formed association of teachers, organized to press their demands, is given for bringing about the increase. The new rates are to go into effect on January 1st and call for an increase of $200 for each male teacher and $150 for each woman teachers, while heads of departments in the Collegiate Institute receive in some cases increases of $800. The salaries paid to Peterborough teachers are left far behind by the London scale. Even considering the 10 per cent. bonus which is being given local teachers this year, and a similar Association such as that which has so successfully operated in London is not an impossible development in Peterborough unless the Board of Education makes such a step unnecessary by voluntarily raising the rates of remuneration for teachers in this city.

THE CAMPAIGN.

To be the first city in the province to reach its objective in the Victory Loan campaign is a proud record for Peterborough. But it is a mark that can be left far behind if all the citizens who can afford to buy Bonds will do so before the end of the campaign. The number of subscribers in the city should be greater than last year, because the facilities for investing in the loan are better than ever before and because the value of such a form of investment is better understood than in the previous drives. There are, however, many people who cannot seem to grasp the significance of the statement that they are not being asked to give their money to Canada, but merely to lend it under unusually safe conditions and at an unusually profitable rate of interest. They are only being asked to invest their money in a manner that means a lucrative investment for themselves and a guarantee of continuel prosperity for their country. No investment has a greater security behind it than has Canada's Victory Loan—there should be no hesitation on that score and as for saleability it is only necessary to read the market prices of the 1917 and 1918 bonds to see that they are selling well above par.

THE KING'S REQUEST.

The request of His Majesty, King George, that at 11 o'clock on the morning of Armistice Day, November 11th, "there shall be for a brief space of two minutes, a complete suspension of all our normal activities," in order that an opportunity may be given throughout the Empire for a concentration of the thoughts of everyone on the rememberance of the glorious dead who perished in the Empire's cause during the war, should be loyally observed in Peterboorugh. As the King's message expresses it, "no elaborate organization appears to be necessary." All that is needed is that at a given signal, as far as possible "all work, all sound ,all locomotion shall cease" for two minutes. The request applies to every activity where it is practicable. In Peterborough it is expected that work in all the factories shall stop, for the required time, all machinery will be silent, street cars, motor cars and vehicles of all kinds shall stop wherever they are when the signal is given .In the home as well as in the store or the factory, activity should be suspended and even conversation cease. The effect of this Empire-wide tribute to the memory of the unreturning brave depends upon the spirit in which it is entered into by the people.

The Examiner is sure that Peterborough will loyally do her part in giving effect to the King's message, and that his belief that the people of the British Empire 'will' all gladly interrupt our business and pleasure, whatever it may be and unite in this simple service of silence and remembrance will be sustained in so far as this city is concerned.

AN ESTIMATE OF MACKENZIE KING.

The Canadian Magazine for November contains an illuminating and sympathetic sketch of the new Liberal leader, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, from the pen of the editor, Mr. Newton MacTavish. There are few young men in Canada who have been more lauded and more criticized than King in the period that he has been in political life, a very clear indication that he is no mere figure-head nor ever has been. Mr. MacTavish thinks that youth has always seemed to be King's greatest foe. "The boy minister" they called him when he entered the Laurier cabinet, but the title would not be applicable today, for the Liberal leader is now 45. Moreover, "by reason of his studies, by reason of his opportunities, by reason of his great endowments, by reason of his unusual experiences,' he is well prepared for the work that may lie ahead of him.

Mackenzie King's career has been no ordinary one. He showed an interest in social problems before he was out of college, and that natural bent led him into newspaper work on the Globe, and then on to the University of Chicago and Harvard, where he secured his doctor's degree, and might have remained to become a professor. Instead, he returned to Canada, and undertook for the Government important investigations of industrial conditions that paved the way for his entry into public life as deputy minister and later minister of labor. In 1911 he was withdrawn from this work by the defeat of the Laurier Government, and thereupon entered upon an investigation of industrial conditions the world over for the Rockefeller Foundation. He had been there about a year when the war broke out. Of this period Mr. MacTavish writes:

"Almost immediately he entered upon the most poignantly distressful period of his life. He easily could have joined the militia and obtained a comfortable post, for at his age he scarcely would have been permitted to go to the front. Quite apart from that, however, we find a remarkable coincidence. Mackenzie King at this time was engaged, besides his other duties, in obtaining material for his book, which is a study of the ills that affect industrial life, and which was undertaken in the same spirit in which the British Government thought well of having a special department established to study the problem of industrial reconstruction. At the same time, Dr. MacDougall King was engaged in writing his book on "The Battle With Tuberculosis, and How to Win It," a work that has been taken by both the Canadian and American Governments for use in all their military hospitals. Here, then, were two brothers devoting their splendid energies to the task of ameliorating man's condition in life."

Mr. MacTavish states further that at this time Dr. MacDougall King was a victim of tuberculosis, and had been on his back for two years, during which time and afterwards he and his family were supported in large measure by the brother, MacKenzie King, who, quite apart from his personal affairs, was aiding several of the largest war industries on the continent to adjust their industrial relationships so as to secure continuous and maximum output of essential war materials. To give one instance of the result of a plan drafted by him, each man's output for the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company was greater during the time the United States was at war than of any other coal company in America. During this time there were other demands of a personal character upon him, as Mr. MacTavish points out. His father, who lived in Toronto, had become blind, and the care of him, as well as of the aged mother and a sister also fell upon MacKenzie King. The sister died a year after the war began, increasing the immediate and personal responsibility of Mr. King for his aged parents. A year later the father died, and the mother moved to Ottawa to live with her son. For one year she was ill in bed with a trained nurse in constant attendance ,and at the end of that time she, too, died. Thus during the whole of the war period there was this succession of family responsibilities of a distressing character thrown upon Mr. King's shoulders, but all serving perhaps to direct his mind more and more to the opportunities for service on behalf of suffering humanity..

The selection of MacKenzie King as Liberal leader Mr. MacTavish regards as a logical happening, in view of the long preparation of this man for the responsibilities of public life.. Possessed of an engaging personality, with a keen sense of justice and uprightness, an abhorrence of sham and crookedness, a sympathetic outlook on life, a logical mind and all those finer qualities that mark the man, there is no doubt that the new Liberal leader is now entering upon the period of his life in which he will be able to bring into reality those ideals for humanity that have been shaping themselves through the years.—London Advertiser.

Peterborough Must Not Fail

That was the amount we are expected to lend to Canada to "Carry on" and "Clean up.

We are behind in our allotment.

This should not be.

The importance of reaching our objective is one that every citizen of Peterboro should regard as a personal matter. If each will say to himself—"I will do my part—large or small—to put Peterboro's allotment over the top"—together we can surely do it.

Every citizen has a responsibility

The time is short.

Prompt action is necessary.

As a matter of local pride—as a matter of national service—as a matter concerning our own prosperity—let us unite and act, so that when the Victory Loan 1919 closes Peterboro will once more have done her part well.

HAPPINESS, PROFESSOR SAYS

CHICAGO, Ill.—Happiness of man and woman is only a secondary affair in marriage, the prime purpose of which is to produce robust children, Professor William J. Durant, of Columbia University, said last night in a lecture at the Sinai Social Centre here.

"Where there are no children there is no marriage," he added.

Free love is impossible, the Professor said, because conquests of a man are praised by other men, "but if a woman had had one free love affair she is held in ridicule and belittled by her associates."

"Most men now marry after they have become incapable of love," the Professor continued, "and then comes your divorce. Courts say that divorces are due to cruelty, drunkenness and half a dozen other things, but they are all wrong. The three fundamental reasons for divorce are the natural vanity of both sexes, psychological incompatibility and lack of children."

When two persons tackle a duet it looks as if they ought to sing it in half the time one could—but they can't.

Marriage is a rank failure when a woman has to play ragtime on a washboard in order to support the alleged man who poses as her husband.

A FRIEND IN NEED IS APPRECIATED

CHAPTER CXI

I don't think I ever was so glad to see anyone as I was to see Mr. Frederick that morning. Yet with the gladness was a guilty feeling also. I knew this straightforward blunt man cared for me. And I was depending upon him to help Neil, the man I loved. That he was my husband was the redeeming feature of course, yet I couldn't help but wonder if Frederick would feel that I was using him because I knew of his admiration for me, and if he would resent it?

"I am glad you sent for me," were his first words as he shook hands with Neil after greeting me.

"I didn't!" Neil returned in a hopeless voice. "It's was Bab's doing."

"So long as I am here what difference does it make who sent for me Now let us get down to business. I see you know the papers are busy. I also have been busy and so has Mrs. Orton.

"Mrs. Orton!" I exclaimed, wondering what she had to do with it now.

"Yes, she's a brick. Give me a keen-witted woman when things are snarled. They are twice as quick as a man in finding a way out."

Had she found a way out? I prayed that she had.

It seemed that Frederick knew all that Neil had told me. Of his careless acceptance of claims of which he knew nothing, and upon which he had prepared glittering prospectuses and sent them out to the credulous and reaping immense returns because of promises he made promises which he neither knew—nor seemed to care—if he could fulfil.

"Scott will take all he has put up with you—and interest at 6 per cent. I had to put the screws on. But I happened to know something of his past life which couldn't stand the sunlight. I hated to use it. He's got a nice wife and kids. But there was no other way. That settles Scott."

"I never can pay him." Neil broke in But Frederick paid no attention.

"Mrs. Orton has suggested that you immediately put an advertisement in the papers that all who have invested with you will be treated the same way. Money back and interest It is your only chance. They can't jail you unless someone prosecutes you. It is hard to crawl, but your youth and your ambition will have to be pleaded, and perhaps we can get them all satisfied."

"But man! I couldn't repay one tenth of what —I have had from them."

"No, I am well-aware of that. But you can do what you can. Your friends will do the rest—lend you the money. I don't know what pleas Blanche Orton used, but Teazle and Connor will wait. As they are the only men who have advanced large amounts—besides Scott whom I will manage—I think you may be able to care for the rest. But wait!" as Neil straightened up a gleam of hope upon his white face. "there's a string to the bow, as there always is You have got to give me your word to quit the business and to go straight."

"God, man! Don't you know how I hate it! But I couldn't get out once I was in. So I kept getting in further, deeper and deeper. And I can't even plead as so many do that I did it to make money for my wife and child. I didn't I did it for myself, to satisfy my inordinate ambition to be called the youngest great financier in the country. Oh, I have no excuse, none! As for giving you my word I'll quit, I have been made to quit, haven't I? As for going straight I'd be a brute if I wouldn't after the way Bab has talked and she knows just how bad it all is now. When a man's wife tells him she still loves and has faith in him, there's nothing to do but try again, is there If she had gone back on me, why then!" There was no mistaking his meaning. He would not have lived.

"Your wife is a brick! I have never doubted her attitude for a moment. She is worth trying again for. Forbes. She and —the boy. But we must get to work. Give me power of attorney. I'll go to your office, get all the papers we need, the lists of your customers you say you have kept. Then we'll propose settlement to every mother's son of them, daughter too. You get out at my hotel go up to my room and stay there until we get this thing settled. Tell no one where your husband has gone. Refer everything to me," he said to me.

"No. The reporters wouldn't give us a minute's peace. If they come be as ignorant as you can. Don't know a thing only that I am looking after your husband's affairs. Not a single thing. He has gone away, will be back in a few days. That's all they need to know."

"I'll do my best," but as I said it I knew I should hate to meet anyone who questioned me.

Gowns for the Young Girl

HAPPY DEVICES OF COLOUR AND LINE FOR THE "JEUNE [illegible]" TO-DAY WITH INTERESTING SUGGESTIONS ON [illegible]

She who holds within her soul the golden gift of youth, the clear-eyed courage that looks upon life, with lips athirst to drink it at is full, should be dressed to dramatize this youth, this charm, which the eyes regard so wistfully, prayerfully wishing that the radiance might not be dimmed.

Youth should be dressed to emphasize the loveliness of youth. Type and coloring count for much, but youth is youth whether blonde or brunette and a young girl's clothes should feature this idea of youth. How many, many times girls dress too old. Elaboration is not for youth. That may follow with sophistication but "la jeune fille" should, above all things, recognize the value of simplicity— simplicity of line and trimming. Colors may be dark or light—dark blue or brown may be as youthful as ciel or pink. It is the line that counts in dressing the buoyancy of youth.

Pink is Youth's Own.

Youth answers to colors—the vivid shades—and pink is youth's very, very own. Fresh complexions find an answering note in the rosy reflection of pink —pink of almost any shade. Light blue, mauve, yellow and orange are effective backgrounds for youthful loveliness, and horizon and old blue are ideal foils for the youthful blonde or brunette. For sports wear the brilliant shades of orange and cerise; turquoise and the darker green blues are good.

Silver and gold trimming and elaborate brocades, however lovely these fabrics may be, are not generally suitable for the young girl, with the exception of silver wrought with white, which is extremely effective on a debutante, particularly if she is a blonde. The silver must not, however, overwhelm but should be used with discretion. It may be employed in the form of sheer lace wrought with silver or as bandings of silver on net, and in silver ribbon girdles and sashes.

Bits of Lace.

Mauve is a lovely color for a girl and pale orchid, especially in taffeta or charmeuse, is exquisitely charming.

Bits of old lace may be employed on the young girl's costume, garnished with bows of gold ribbon and dainty pastel flowers. A gown of pale pink taffeta or chiffon may carry a pinafore of silver lace, garlanded with ribbons in shades of turquoise and green with flowers in mauve and pale yellow.

All the pastel tones belong to youth for afternoon and evening wear. For the street there is nothing so lovely on a young blonde as grey. She will appear more striking in black and never more paintable than in black velvet. The darker tones of brown, wood and seal are ideal street shades for the youthful blonde or brunette —and navy blue of course.

Black Velvet Suit.

For the morning and general wear I suggest a charming little black velvet suit. The skirt may carry a jumper of velvet and make this a three-piece suit, solving the problem of a velvet dress with wrap to match The skirt is plain, but for a few gathers at the waist. The short jacket flares at the sides and ripples a bit at the back in a line that swings loosely from the shoulder. It is lined with ivory white charmeuse satin. Two bound buttonholes with a sash of velvet running through and falling on either side of the front offsets the characteristic trimming of this suit, whose sheer vest is white georgette crepe and val. lace. The small round collar and turned-back cuffs are also val. and georgette.

The lingerie collar is almost a necessity on a young girl's frock until she has graduated into young ladyhood, and even then there is nothing more lovely than sheer French mulle in that pale ivory tone, combined with val. lace or a bit of fine Irish crochet. This blouse and the collars and cuffs would be lovely developed in batiste or mulle and val. lace. The sleeves of this suit are three-quarter length, reaching just below the elbow. White suede or glace kid gloves wrinkled a la mousquetaire are worn with this suit.

Grey Velvet

In an afternoon gown of grey velvet combined with white charmeuse youth finds a perfect background. The charm of this gown lies both in its line and color, but to the line goes the vote of individuality, so cleverly is the grey velvet laid on the white charmeuse and so perfectly winds the lemon yellow girdle around the slender waist. The skirt is cut in one with two pieces that run parallel up to the round neckline, where they describe a flat circle that reaches just below the column of the neck. The band of grey velvet are divided by a tiny vest of white chiffon ruffled with grey lace. The sash carries lines of zig-zag embroidery in two tones of blue green, which is exceedingly lovely with yellow. Two heavy tassels of grey chenille have the shades of lemon green and yellow worked into them. The sleeves of this gown are becoming to youthful rounded arms. Cut kimono, they barely cover the shoulder points and are edged with a fold of grey.

Sweeping, picturesque lines characterize the hat that should accompany this frock and carry just the curve for the setting of an oval youthful face. Ivory white velvet makes the [illegible] which is encircled with grey fur. A tiny fold of velvet ties around the base of the crown.

Pink Evening Gown

Pink is youth's own and this is demonstrated in an evening gown, which is exquisitely roseate. First, there is a sheath slip of watermelon pink charmeuse satin. Over this is laid another slip of pink chiffon and then, loveliest of the lovely, is an overdress of crisp pink tulle, that takes its inspiration from Velasquez and is supplied with horsehair braid on the sides to hold it out letting the fullness fall more flatly to the figure back and front. In making the gowns that carry this new silhouette horsehair braid is inserted on the wrong side only across the hip lines.

Pinkish mauve adds another note of pink to the sequence of this color in this gown, the bodice of pink tulle has a full ruffle running from the centre front over each shoulder to the centre back. A narrow bind or fold of silver runs on the edge of this ruffle. A garland of pink mauve flowers follows the lead of this "V" ruffle and the modeste is puffed tulle strapped with silver.

Girdle Lovely

The girdle of this dress is especially lovely. It hugs the figure closely because a small waistline is a necessary feature of gowns made with the distended skirt. At the top of the girdle a band of turquoise blue ribbon ties in a perky bow at the centre front. Below this turquoise runs a ruffle of pink tulle with silver edged, and the lower line is pale orange, whose flame tone finds piquancy within its depths. Below the girdle runs a ruffle of pink tulle with hair folds or "binds," as they are called in the workroom.

The crisp skirt wears first a garland of flowers, then a ruffle of silver follows, and below that a band of pinkish mauve tulle inserted in lines of silver. Then follows on the edge a binding of pink charmeuse.

Economy of Ford Service

WEAR is unavoidable even in the best car, but certain parts wear out more quickly than others. There is no need of scrapping your car because the piston rings have seen their day, because the platinum points of the vibrators are worn out. Probably the rest of the car is as good as new.

Medical men agree that the human body is renewed, cell by cell, every seven years. You can do the same with your Ford Car and prolong its life at minimum cost by replacing worn parts from time to time.

Ford service has been the means of doubling the lives of hundreds of Ford Cars, and cutting down the cost of motoring. The fact that a Ford Touring Car, which costs $690, f.o.b. Ford, Ont., can be purchased part by part separately for $917 is ample proof of the economy of driving a Ford Car.

It will pay you to have your car overhauled during the winter months. 700 Canadian Dealers and over 2,000 Service Garages supply genuine Ford parts and prompt repair service.

When buying, choose a Ford, and take advantage of the economy of Ford service.

C.G.E. HAVE BOUGHT STRATFORD FACTORY

STRATFORD, Nov. 7.—The Canadian General Electric Company has bought the big factory formerly occupied by the Mooney Biscuit and Candy Company, and just as soon as the necessary repairs can be made and equipment installed the industry will be in operation with probably 200 employees by the end of the year, and as high as 700 workers within a reasonable time. Col. John L. Youngs, M.C., will be in charge of the repairing and overhauling of the factory building.

A subsidiary industry of the Canadian General Electric Company is already established here in the Canadian Allis-Chalmers plant, managed by Mr. William Preston. With the Mooney building again occupied, Stratford will be in the healthy industrial condition of having no empty factory building.

FASHION NOTES.

The favorite winter color seems decided—it is navy blue.

Afternoon frocks of velvet are apt to have short sleeves.

A pretty hat of taupe velvet has both crown and brim shirred.

Large flat buttons ornament the heavy frock and the coat suit.

Huge bows set aslant have been adopted by fashionable millinery.

Straight tube-like coats of knee length are most in request on suits.

The tiny round hat of duvetyne or velour is among the most charming of all headgear.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

IN THE AFTERGLOW.

Mother o' mine, in the afterglow
Of mothering years, I love you so;
For loving me e'er life I knew,
When next your heart a new life grew;
Loving me on into fair childhood,
When I so little understood
The long, hard way, we all must go,
Mother o' mine, I love you so.

Loving me, too, when life so sweet
Tempted my wayward, girlish feet
Away from paths of truth and right
To paths that lead to sin's dark night;
Winning me back with loving tone
To ways that you have made your own
By struggle and stress and pain and prayer
By love's own cords you, held me there.

Mother o' mine, 'tis mine to take
The burdensome load, the stress, the ache.
That some in motherhood's fair years,
The joy, the pain, the love, the tears;
'Tis mine to give what you gave me.
Mother o' mine, I would faithful be
To the highest note in the song you taught
My girlish lips, the music fraught
With all the mother hopes and fears
That fill to the brim the mothering years.

Mother o' mine, in the afterglow
Of motherhood's years, I thank you so
For gifts to me from out your heart,
At thoughts that rise my hot tears start;
God give me ways to make you know
How great is my love before you go
Away to rest from your mothering;
I would remove life's every sting,
And give you rest in the afterglow,
For, mother o' mine, I love you so.

WHAT KIND OF MATERIAL ARE YOU SENDING UP THERE?

A very wealthy woman once died and went to heaven. She gained entrance at gate and was given into the care of a guard who was to conduct her to her heavenly home. Passing through the streets they saw many beautiful mansions. Finally they came to one more beautiful than the rest and the lady asked, "Who is to live in this wonderful home?"

"That," replied the guard, "is prepared for your gardener, who is still living on the earth."

"But," said the lady, "on earth my gardener lives in a little cottage in one corner of my estate. He would be lost in such a mansion." At last down at the end of the street they came to a tiny cottage.

"And who is to live in this mean cottage?" asked the lady.

"That is the home we have prepared for you," replied the guard.

"Why, I cannot live there," exclaimed the lady. "On earth I lived in a beautiful mansion."

The guard sadly shook his head as he replied, "We have done the best we could with the material you sent up. You sent up material enough to build this tiny hut. Your gardener sent up material sufficient for yonder beautiful mansion."

Poise is one of the most valuable assets in the world. It leads toward a level head in business, and compatability with society. In each circumstance of life retain a part of it, and seek to gain the whole continually. Always remember that it embraces a gracious understanding, not cold placidity; that it is a delicate balance for action, not a cloak for wilful laziness. Keep this thought of poise tucked away in the back of your mind, and bring it forth in your daily life, —use it.

Are you sure you are not living a human alliteration every day? For instance it's alright to be GRITTY, to stick to your purpose steadfastly, but don't get stuck by that same purpose and become a stubborn GROUCH.

Be WILLING to serve in a good cause, not WILFUL to execute your pet hobby.

The best pass-key I can give you is, be CAREFUL lest you become CARELESS.

"Be slow to act and quick to think," is a worthy adage, if you understand it. It is just as well however to be quick about the acting also in cases such as that of an oncoming automobile, and much better to be slower about thinking when some indiscreet bit of news comes your way. No wonder there are so many unredeemed sins in this world when the English language is such a versatile thing.

The reason there are so many sour faces, so many frowning faces, so many dull faces, is because men and women consent to be acrid and petulant and stupid. The way to improve your face is to improve your disposition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. — The strike of bituminous coal miners in particular and the industrial situation in general were discussed by the Cabinet to-day at a special meeting called by Secretary Lansing of the State Department. Officers said that the Government's offer to arbitrate the controversy as soon as the strike order was withdrawn, was still open, and that unless it was accepted and the strike ended there was no course for the Government except to press the injunction suit.

IF YOU HAVE DOUBT ASK YOUR BANK MAN

He will Advise you what to do in Regard to your Savings Account.

If you have any doubts as to the advisability of taking your money out of the Savings Bank and investing it in Victory Bonds, ask your friend in the bank. He will tell you that you will make no mistake in buying the bonds. Your money will be earning more for you instead of for the bank. That is all the difference, for there cannot be any doubt as to the Nation's promise to pay being as good as that of the bank.

If your money is left in the bank it will be lazily earning three per cent, for you. If you put it into Vivtory Bonds it will be placed in circulation where it will earn you five and one half per cent. as well as maintaining for you whatever benefits you are receiving from the prosperous conditions prevailing from coast to coast. The latter fact is of great moment. Unless the Victory Loan 1919 proves to be a bumper, the prosperity of the country will be placed in jeopardy and you might soon find it necessary to withdraw your savings from the bank for a less pleasing purpose than that of buying Victory Bonds.

LINDSAY HEBREW BREWED HIS WINE

HIS DWELLING WAS IN CONNECTION WITH M. APPLEBAUM'S JUNK SHOP.

WINE FOR SANCTIFICATION

LINDSAY, Nov. 7.—Barrister for the defendant, H. Applebaum, in the case of the Crown v. Applebaum, thought it strange that the first case the Ontario License Board against a Hebrew for having home-made wine in his possession should be tried in this town.

Applebaum, who runs a junk shop, has his dwelling in connection therewith, and when a spotter from the Department walked in and found a barrel which was not hidden from view and which the defendant admitted contained home-made wine, he said it was for religious purposes.

Rabbi Jacob Gordon, of Toronto, gave evidence to show that according to the law of Moses, which was the Jewish law, good Hebrews had to have "old pure" wine for sanctification purposes on Saturdays and Sundays, and particularly during the Passover. This was the belief of the good Jew. He admitted that in Toronto wine for such purposes was as old as seven years, and consequently over 35 per cent. alcohol; also that for the last Passover he had secured an order from Chairman Flavelle to use "pure" wine. If a Jew was poor and could not buy wine, he must even sell his garment to secure the wine. There should be no substitute, not even watered wine, unless the "old pure" wine could not be secured.

The prosecuting lawyer admitted that, in his opinion, Applebaum was innocent of any intent to break the law.

The defendant's lawyer said Applebaum was simply living up to his Jewish belief and could not see why he had been singled out for prosecution any more than any other religious denomination partaking of Sacrament, which he said was over ½ per cent., and Magistrate Bradford said his sympathy was entirely with Applebaum, who was simply living up to his religious belief, but the Act was explicit and he could not do otherwise than fine him the minimum fine of $200, and costs, intimating that the defendant might put in an appeal to the Ontario License Board for a remission of the fine.

WILL OBSERVE ARMISTICE DAY

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Armistice Day is to be observed through the British Empire at the request of his Majesty King George. At the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month all normal activities will stop for a period of two minutes. It is arranged that even ships on the seas will stop their engines for that time.

Sir George Foster, Acting Premier, last night read in the House the following cable from Lord Milner, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to his Excellency the Governor-General:

Arrangements are being made for the general observance of the two minutes' silence at 11 o'clock next Tuesday. Trains will be stopped on the railways, traffic on the streets, ships as far as possible at sea, and every effort will be made to get work suspended everywhere, in schools, shops, mines and factories, and to insure complete silence.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor:

Sir: I quite agree with Mr. Burnham when he states that a vote should be polled on Birds, Feathers and Tobacco.

The vote on strong drink was put to the people fairly and squarely and they voted it down. Strong drink had its good points as well as its bad ones, it is true, and I believe its good points outnumbered its bad ones. Take for example the flu. It would have reaped a heavier death-toll had it not been for whiskey. The doctors will admit this. They have admitted it; and notwithstanding the great good it has done, and would continue to do, it was voted away. Picture if you will the working man after his day's work making haste for the hotel, where he would find solace in a glass of beer. Now this is denied him.

Humanity has voted away, when they voted away strong drink, a thing that was intended for their use by God Himself, and when they voted it away they violated the will of God. That liking we all have more or less, for alcoholic drink, was implanted in us by Nature, and we nevertheless voted it away.

Now, I think tobacco should come next. I have nothing to say against tobacco any more than against liquor—it has its good and its bad points. Man finds solace in a pipe of tobacco but that is no reason for not having a vote on it, for we invariably do away with something we really need.

Who knows but that tobacco and bird feathers are doomed to the same fate that was meted out to alcohol. Burnham's suggestion may come to pass.—R. J. Rice.

CELEBRATED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

SEVERAL PETERBORO RELATIVES TOOK PART IN EVENT.

Two of Garden Hill's oldest and most respected residents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamill, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage yesterday. Friends from far and near took advantage of the occasion to show in a tangible manner the high esteem in which the old couple are held. More than two hundred guests were in attendance, and the bride and groom of half a century ago were presented with an address and two beautiful upholstered tapestry rockers. The address and numerous congratulatory messages were read by Alderman W. J. B. Davidson, and several of the guests made brief addresses.

After the presentation a sumptuous repast was served. A large wedding cake, the gift of Mr. William Davidson, of Port Hope, brother of Mrs. Hamill, occupied a conspicuous place on the table.

Vocal and instrumental music by Mr. Lapp, Miss Jean Dickenson, Miss Leuty and Miss Kerman added to the pleasure of the affair. Mr. Hamill is 81 years of age and Mrs. Hamill is 78 years, but both are quite active and enjoyed the celebration.

Among those present at the anniversary party were Mr. Little and daughter, who reside at 648 Stewart Street, this city; also Mrs. Little and daughter, residing on King Street. Other relatives in this vicinity were also present.

Mr. Hamill is the fifth member of the Hamill family who has celebrated his golden wedding.

WANT TO USE VICTORY LOAN FOR SOLDIERS

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Flotation of a soldiers' Victory Loan of two or three hundred million dollars for the purpose of paying further gratuities to disabled and needy veterans and their families was advocated by several Government supporters in the House of Commons Thursday during the resumed debate upon the report of the Special Committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. The author of the proposition was Mr. J. H. Burnham of West Peterborough, and his plan was warmly supported by W. F. Maclean of South York and W. F. Cockshutt of Brantford.

Promise not Carried Out.

The Peterborough member said we could have a referendum on whiskey, why not one for the returned soldiers? They had been told when they went to war they would be well looked after upon their return, but when they came back they saw a lot of wealthy people who had made money out of the war and were now living in luxury. The slogan of "The Last Man and the Last Dollar" had been only half carried out. If people could sleep while war veterans were in need they were like Pharaoh of old: their hearts were hardened against reasonable requests.

The Young Man's Opportunity

"If you want to know if you are a success, ask yourself this question—'Can you save money?' If you can, you are a success. If you can't, drop out."

That's plain talk, but it's true.

That's something for the young man of Canada to think over. If you are not saving money—you are not getting anywhere.

You are lifting your feet and putting them down on the same spot day after day, marking time.

No man ever succeeded that way.

Take a grip on yourself and cut out those careless, useless expenditures you make day after day.

And think what this money saved may mean to you later in life. It may mean an interest in some business; it may mean the making of a home. It will mean that you can avail yourself of some investment opportunity that will ensure your financial or business success. The possession of some "ready money" has often been the foundation of a fortune.

Begin saving to-day.

INSURANCE EDUCATIONAL CONGRESS CONCLUDED WITH A BANQUET

INTERESTING ADDRESS BY MR. J. E. KAVANAGH--METHODS THAT LEAD TO SUCCESS.

Mr. J. E. Kavanagh of New York an old Peterboro boy addressed the afternoon session of the Insurance Educational Congress at the Public Library yesterday and in the course of his address generously imparted a fund of ideas which will doubtless be incorporated into the work and made use of by his auditors.

After speaking in glowing terms of the address made in the morning by Mr. L'Esperance, Mr. Kavanagh mirrored the experiences of his early endeavor in the Insurance field during which he discovered the fundamental requisite of selling insurance lay in showing the goods. In his early days, when he learnt that of all lives a Life Assurance salesman's was the most discouraging in the outset, he learnt that the stereotyped process of approaching a prospect and asking if 'he could sell him some insurance' was harmful. The very fact of his asking a question proved his lack of confidence. He found selling insurance like selling any other commodity—that to sell goods he must show goods.

Men are not cut out for the insurance business, he continued, they cut themselves out for it and the basic principal of success in starting out in the business is to get into it. Any man can make a living at it who can pass the now necessary examinations. The matter he said with a large number of the failures in the business is that they did not come into the business for life but came in to give it a trial.

The very fact of the men who attended the Congress being present indicates that they want to do business a little better.

Selling a Policy.

In selling a policy it is necessary first to show the goods. All agents should know the meaning of the policy and have every item of it at their fingers end. Keep rates in the back ground and don't talk insurance at the ont-set. Work on the prospect's curiosity, never start an argument or enter into one. Say things the prospect will agree with, "act like a success and you'll be one." Understand the policy you are trying to sell, understand how to sell it and understand how to show the goods—to be a good window dresser.

Quit too Quick.

The trouble with some of the beginners, the speaker continued, is that they quit too quick. Learn to write an application for your prospect and then put it up to the man. Once in a while you may force the form onto a prospect but the force game does not always work. The ability to write applications is an indication of the ability of the insurance salesman.

Insurance is the greatest buisness in the world and it is a lot of satisfaction to a man to know that a family has money upon the death of the head due to the insurance man's success in canvassing him some time before. In conclusion the speaker congratulated the men who are in the business and told them that every Assurance company is all right; the business all right and that if they were not a success they themselves were to blame. He also hoped that the Assurance Congress would spread.

Co-operation.

In an interesting address on Head Office and Field Co-operation Mr. A. N. Mitchell of Toronto spoke of the strides co-operation has accomplished in the insurance business. Only fifteen years ago he said such a congress as assembled in the Library would have been looked upon as an impossible when the companies were as far apart as capital and labour. Co-operation is the key to the world's troubles.

The Wind-Up.

The congress had a stirring wind-up in a banquet at the Empress last evening which was attended by the 100 representatives who were present at the former meetings. The speaker of the evening, Mr. E. J. McIver, of New York, supervisor of the Prudential Life, gave an interesting address on good fellowship. Mr. E. J. L'Esperance entertained the assembly in his inimitable manner, with comic stories and anecdotes from personal experiences in the insurance field. Mr. George Roy rendered some much appreciated comic songs and Mr. Cyril Devey contributed a number of splendid piano solos.

Catarrhozone

CURES WITHOUT DRUGS

One of the finest discoveries in medicine was given to the public when "Catarrhozone" was placed on the market about fifteen years ago. Since then thousands have been cured of asthma and catarrh. An interesting case is reported from Calgary in a leter from Creighton E. Thompson, who says:

"Nothing too strong can be said for Catarrhozone. I suffered four years from asthma in a way that would beggar description. I went through everything that man could suffer. I was told of Catarrhozone by a clerk in Findlay's drug store and purchased a dollar package. It was worth hundreds to me in a week, and I place a priceless value on the benefit I have since derived. I strongly urge every sufferer to use Catarrhozone for Asthma, Bronchitis and Catarrh.

The one-dollar package lasts two months; small size, 50c; sample size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

IN MEMORY OF THE DEAD

A WAVE OF SILENCE THROUGHOUT THE EMPIRE AT ELEVEN O'CLOCK ON ARMISTICE DAY—KING PROCLAIMS A TRIBUTE OF PEACE.

OTTAWA, Nov. 7.—Armistice Day is to be observed throughout the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month all normal activi- British Empire at the request of His Majesty King George. At the ties will stop for a period of two minutes. It is arranged that even ships on the seas will stop their engines for that time.

Sir George Foster, Acting Premier, read in the House the following cable from Lord Milner, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to His Excellency the Governor-General:

THE KING'S MESSAGE.

"I am commanded by His Majesty the King to send you for immediate publication the following message, which is addressed to all the peoples of the Empire, beginning:

"'To all my People—Tuesday next, 11th November, is the first anniversary of the armistice which stayed the world-wide carnage of the four preceding years, and marked the victory of right and freedom. I believe that my people in every part of the Empire fervently desire to perpetuate the memory of that great deliverance, and of those who laid down their lives to achieve it.

"'To afford an opportunity for the universal expression of this feeling, it is my desire and hope that at the hour when the armistice came into force—the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month—there may be, for the brief space of two minutes, a complete suspension of all our normal activities. During that time, except in the rare cases where this might be impracticable, all work, all sound, and all locomotion should cease, so that in perfect stillness the thoughts of everyone may be concentrated on reverent remembrance of the glorious dead.

"'No elaborate organisation appears to be necessary. At a given signal, which can easily be arranged to suit the circumstances of each locality, I believe that we shall all gladly interrupt our business and pleasure, whatever it may be, and unite in this simple service of silence and remembrance.

"'GEORGE, R. I.'

AT 11 A.M. ON TUESDAY.

"This will be published in the press here to-morrow morning. Arrangements are being made for the general observance of the two minutes' silence at 11 o'clock next Tuesday. Trains will be stopped on the railways, traffic on the streets, ships as far as possible at sea, and every effort will be made to get work suspended everywhere, in schools, shops, mines, and factories, and to ensure complete silence.

LOCAL TIME USED.

"His Majesty hopes that your Ministers may be willing to arrange for a similar observance.

"It is, of course, impracticable, owing to distance, that the ceremony should sychronise throughout the Empire. It is therefore suggested that 11 a.m. local time should be adopted everywhere.

"Similar message being sent to India and to every Dominion and Colony in the Empire.

(Signed) "MILNER."

CRAZE FOR BAUBLES GRIPS WOMEN OF GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON.—Instead of wearing precious stones and gold and silver ornaments, the women of Great Britain have developed a craze for baubles. The smartest women are wearing weird necklaces which apparently could appeal only to a primitive savage. The ropes and necklaces are of crystals, glass beads, shells, satin woods, Hindu nuts and perfumed clay.

The antique shops are reaping a rich harvest with ancient necklaces, many of which are made of cut lumps of green jade and weigh a pound or more. Many necklaces are being imported from India, Burma and Tibet to meet the great demand. No sort of colour scheme seems to prevail, but greens and yellow predominate with odd "clash-colour" effects.

NEWLY PAINTED WINDOWS.

To prevent newly-painted windows from sticking, open and run them up and down two or three times a day for three or four days. Unless this is done the windows are almost bound to stick. Always paint them as early as possible in the days so as to give them a chance to dry before you fasten them at night.

A HOME-MADE WATER FILTER.

To make a cheap water filter, take a large garden-pot and stop the hole in the bottom by placing a piece of sponge in it. Cover with a few inches of powdered charcoal, fill with water, and let it stand over a pail or tub supported by two or three sticks laid across. The water filtering through the charcoal will be freed from all impurities and will be fit for family use. The charcoal should be changed every three months and the sponge several times a year.

THE DEEPEST OCEAN.

It is believed that the Pacific is fully a mile deeper than any other ocean.

U.S. BEER "KICKLES," SAY EXPERIMENTERS AFTER MANY TESTS

St Louis, Mo., Nov. 8.—Six authorities on alcohol and its effect, after tests on men and women, regular drinkers, occosional drinkers, and total abstainers, have found:

Two cups of coffee have as much "kick" as twenty-one pints of one half of one per cent beer.

Twenty-one and a half quarts of one-half of one per cent beer at a sitting is necessary for intoxication, but the human stomach will only hold one seventeenteeth of that quantity.

Six pints of one-half of one per cent beer, rapidly consumed is the same as one teaspoonful of alcohol.

These facts are contained in affidavits filed by the six authorities, including Dr. John Marshall, Professor of Chemistry and Toxology in the University of Pennsylvania. The affidavits were filed in the Federal Court here in support of the application of St. Louis brewers to restrain enforcement of the Volstead prohibition enforcement law.

Wood Alcohol King.

Hartford—Statistics announced by the Hartford police court officials show a heavy increase in drunkenness cases for the month of September, when there were 177 persons arraigned on that charge, as against 71 in August and 60 in July. The police say the vast majority of the drunkenness cases result from wood alcohol concoctions, although colgone, Jamaica ginger and horse liniment have figured in some of the hearings.

Connecticut is supposed to be the driest State in the East, for it has been held illegal by an United States Court Judge, transferred from Brooklyn to sit at New Haven, to sell even 2.75 beer in the State, and heavy sentences have been given to whiskey sellers.

In March of this year there were 244 drunkenness cases in the Hartford police court and 4?8 in June.

CAUSES OF WARM WEATHER.

NORFOLK, Va. — Marine men blame the Gulf stream for the summer weather now prevailing along the Atlantic coast. They say it is almost boiling. In Norfolk the temperature was 86; 100 miles out to sea it was 101. Marine men also say it is almost unbearable to remain on deck during the day. Water dipped from the stream is almost warm enough to poach an egg.

Perhaps she is sixteen—good to look at, and pretty—quite interesting because she reflects the graces and charm that give promise of happiness to herself and others. But she is not strong. Parents, friends, this girl needs Ferrozone—needs it that her blood may be renewed—needs it to restore the nerve force that growth, study and the development of her fresh youth have exhausted. This girl will become a queen with Ferrozone—which will restore her color—bring back her oldtime energy—give brightness to her eyes and vivacity to her spirits. In Ferrozone every girl finds strength—then she can do things. In Ferrozone there is endurance—that drives away morning tiredness and languor. FAIR BOARD TESTIFIED ITS APPRECIATION OF MR. DENNE

PRESENTED THEIR PRESIDENT WITH A HANDSOME GOLD WATCH AND CHAIN AS A TOKEN OF ESTEEM AND A RECOGNITION OF HIS SUCCESSFUL ADMINISTRATION.

DISCUSSED FAIR'S FUTURE

The directors of the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition endeavoured to express their profound appreciation of the successful initiative and leadership of their President, Mr. Roland Denne, when they presented him with a splendid gold watch and chain and a eulogistic address at a luncheon at Hooper's last night. Thirty members were present about equally representing the city and country. Mr. W. J. Cocks presided, and although a short list of toasts were honored the stereotyped post prandial programme was deported from in favor of a general review of the Fair's development and a glance at the prospects of the years in the immediate future.

The principle business of the evening however was to honor Mr. Denne and the directors with a nice sense of reserve declared that his unremitting attention to the details of the Exhibition had been largely instrumental in bringing about the cheering, conspicuous success of the past year.

The addess to Mr. Denne was read by Mr. C. E. Moore of Smith township and Mr. John Gillespie of Otonabee made the presentation. In reply:

President's Reply

Mr. Denne said: "I can hardly thank you for this address and watch. I haven't done enough to deserve all this. I like the game and anything that is for the improvement of the city.

I don't take any credit. What we have done is due to this Board and to the co-operation of the citizens of Peterboro and to the farmers of the surrounding country. We have a real live bunch that will go over the top every time they are asked. I'd like to see a larger credit in the bank, but w've got it in buildings. Whether or not I continue as your chairman I am ready to co-operate in every way I can.'

Rural Assistance.

Mr. Harry G. Webber speaking upon the agricultural aspect of the Exhibition said that the famers recognized the interest the city had taken in the fair. He was confident that the co-operation from the rural sections would steadily increase.

Mr. Webber discussed the question of a week's fair, emphasizing the statement that something must be done to dissipate the idea that there is only one big day.

Merchants Pleased.

Mr. W. H. Merril assured the Board that the merchants were highly pleased with the 1919 Exhibition, and stated that the results should encourage further progress and effort.

Mr. Robert Grandy said there was room for improvement from the rural support to the Exhibition but he was satisfied that the farmes would fall in behind in geater numbers from year to year.

Mr. Dickson Hall remarked that the people seemed to be heartily co-operating and with the continuanc of their help the Exhibition would certainly become better.

Mr. Reg. Turner pointed out that the thanks of the Board were acknowledged to the City Council and County Council, to the merchants and manufacturers, to the farmers and especially to the citizens.

Mr. C. E. Moore refered to the assistance of the ladies and emarked that this was an asset that should be fully utilized.

Other speakers were Messrs. Erastus Wood, J. J. Hartley, Wm. Steinkrauss, T. H. Hooper, J. T. O'Connell, C. G. Graham, Robert Grandy, John Gillespie, and othes. The evening was enlivened by the talent of Mr. George Chandler, Mr. Robert Hendry and Mr. W. H. Barrye.

The address to M. Denne was as

Dear Sir:—We ish to recognize your faithful work on the Board of Directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibitio , and to assure you that we appreciate your services as a Director and especially as President for two years.

You have had the vision to see what might be accomplished and the energy and the qualities of leadership to have your plans adopted and carried out to a large extent. Our Exhibition has grown and developed under your direction and leadership until it is a credit to the city and to the surrounding country that is directly interested in it, and is recognized throughout the province as a creditable Exhibition that is conducted with enterprise and with an appreciation of what is required to make it a complete success.

The Exhibition is having an influence on the agricultural development of the district. The competition engendered each year, and the consequent education of those engaged in agriculture has a very beneficial influence and will enhance the value of the products of the farm, and of the farms on which they are produced.

The success which has attended your efforts and those of your colleagues has been demonstrated by the larger number of exhibits and by the increased attendance. The revolution that has been made in the grounds and buildings in the past few years, the increased accomodation, the enhanced attractiveness and the improvements generally have been a satisfaction to alll engaged in the work, and are appreciated by the public.

We feel that the increasing success which has attended the Exhibition has been largely owing to your efforts, esuecially while you have held the office of President, and we wish you to know we apreciate highly the sacifices you hav made in order to give time, thought and work to the affairs of the Association. As a token of this appreciation, which is shared by the public generally, we ask you to accept this watch along with our assurances of esteem and goodwill."

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mother's best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional doze will prevent colds or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

350 Seek Divorce in Day.

Kansas City—Three hundred and fifty disillusioned, discontented persons sought release from the marriage bond in one day last week. Hundreds surged about the elevator doors, but a majority, tired of waiting trooped up the stairs to the fourth floor courtrooms, while lawyers fought for places.

"It is matrimonial emancipation day," said one attorney. Outside, the four blocks facing the courthouse presented a double square of motor cars. They were default cases exclusively and sought in eight of ten instances by wives. Only a few men were there aside from the lawyers.

Women with furs and sable and mink rubbed elbows with women in gingham and shiny, worn serge. Some of the latter were accompanied by children—conspicuously few.

FORTUNES IN STAMPS.

Judging by the amounts realized at the recent sales of the stamp collections made by two Taysiders (writes W.B.B. in the "Dundee Advertiser"), stamp collecting would appear to be a profitable hobby.

How a sum like £2,300 or £1,667 (obtained for the collections of Mr. A. G. Kidd, Dundee, and the late Mr. D. Dickson, Newport, respectively) could be amassed out of the collection of postage stamps must be a source of curiosity to most people.

Yet, while these particular sums were realized for collections which were probably amassed in the course of many years and with great pains, there are single specimens of stamps which, if they were auctioned, neither of these very comfortable amounts would purchase.

M. de la Renotiere, a Paris collector, possesses the only specimen known to exist of what is reckoned to be the rarest stamp in the world—namely, the one-cent (1856) of British Guiana. It is claimed that this stamp would not change hands now for £2,000.

One wonders how this tiny affair is guarded, and how many attempts have been made to extract it from its resting place.

A close second to this is the famous twopenny "Post Office" Mauritius. A glaring mistake was made in the engraving of the dies for this stamp, and instead of "post paid" the engraver (a local watchmaker) scratched on the copper the words "Post Office." One thousand of these stamps were issued, and only twenty-two copies have been traced. One of the latter was put up for auction in 1904, and realized £1,450. That particular stamp is now contained in King George's collection.

If it were again put up, it is certain it would command a very much higher figure.

The King's collection is reported to be one of the finest and most interesting in the world. His Majesty's interest in philately and his own album is demonhtrated by the presence of a representative at all important stamp sales.

The most famous collection is that of the late Mr. T. P. Tapling, M.P., which he bequeathed to the British Museum and which has reposed there for twenty-eight years. Its estimated value is approximately £1,000,000, one of the rarest specimens contained therein was removed from the showcases and placed in a locked room.

ONE DECENT GERMAN.

What an intense relief it is to read the following story of the decent way one German acted:

In the course of the recent trials at Paris of De Touque and other traitorous Frenchmen who were spies in German pay, a striking story was narrated by one of the witnesses. An old man of seventy, named Bernier, a manufacturer at Fourmies, described his trial by a German court-martial when accused by a French spy, Helene Favre. He expected a sentence of death. A German chaplain, who happened to be in court, came to him and offered to speak in his defence. "I can pay you no fee," answered Monsieur Bernier, "nor do I like to be under the protection of a German." The chaplain replied, "I do not wish for a fee. And it is not as a German, but as a brother-man, that I want to help you." The Frenchman accepted the help, and got off with a sentence of imprisonment. Next day this German chaplain visited M. Bernier in his cell, and, as his sole fee, begged leave to kiss the old man whose life he had saved.—Ex.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a 16-oz bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex", with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

MAKING 5,000 LBS. OF ICE EVERY DAY

In the ice shortage of the past four weeks the Peterboro Milk Products Co. has came to the rescue of the businesses which were seriously inconvenienced by the shortage by supplying them with ice from their ammonia refrigerating plant. The only ice obtainable in the city for the past few weeks has been that supplied by the Milk Products Co.

This refrigerating plant was installed in the early prt of September when it was first becoming apparent that there would be an ice shortage. Besides refrigerating three rooms, the milk, butter and ice-cream rooms, the plant produces 5,000 pounds of pure ice a day. Since it was installed in September it has produced more than 200,000 pounds of ice.

Mr. Gillespie stated the morning that until the ice-cream season reopened the plant would be able party to supply those who were badly in need of ice.

FOUND IN THE POST.

With the closing down of the department of the Postal Censor, some remarkable stories of the manner in which Germans in this country tried to circumvent the authorities are revealed.

This department, with a staff of nearly 4,000 men and women, examined as many as 150,000 letters a day. These were in more than a hundred languages, an expert staff of nineey-linguists being engaged in deciphering them.

When suspicions were aroused, chemical tests and X-rays often revealed secret writing and concealed articles. Elaborate schemes by the enemy for being first in the markets of the w ld were defeated by the Censor's discovery of the details in secret communications. The Censor made it impossible for the enemy to communicate with his overseas from enemy sources indicated how much the factor contributed to the pressure of the blockade.

A Crust for the Ex-Kaiser.

A favorite method employed by with those at home was to conceal food, such as rice, tea, coffee, and cocoa, in rolls of newspapers.

Spreading false news about Britain by concealing seditious pamphlets between the covers of school books was another favorite dodge.

In the library and museum of the department are some amusing and curious mementoes which were addressed to the ex-Kaiser— bare chicken bones and dry bread, a "scarab that is cursed," and an American cartoon, marked: "If party is not there, please forward to St. Helena".

Digby and Evangeline's Land

The Pines at Digby is the first Dominion Atlantic Railway hotel to be opened in Nova Scotia. During the tourist season of 1919 it will be in all swing under the management of he new owners. The acquisition of he Pines by this railroad is a distinct advantage to tourists and to Nova Scotia, for a good hotel attracts visitors almost as much as a good scene does. Hotels and scenes go together in their call to the public. To enjoy the loveliness of nature one must be comfortably housed and well fed. One might aptly parody Thomas Moore's lines and write:

The rooms where we dwell, and the meals that we eat

Reginald Graves is associate manager of The Pines, and he is one of the most experienced hotel men in America. He was manager of the Place Viger Hotel in Montreal for many years.

Tourists to Evangeline's Land generally make a tour of all the beauty spots of the region. Yarmouth, beside the sea, offers many allurements to the visitor. A colony of French-Canadians, whose ancestors were expelled from Grand Pre, resides in the vicinity of Yarmouth, and still retains the traditions of the Acadians. Kentville is the headquarters of the Dominion Atlantic Railway which serves the entire district. Grand Pre was the site of the village from which the Acadians were banished in 1755. The well where Evangeline was went to go for water and the willows under which she rested are still there; Blomidon mountain and the Basin of Minas near by are just as they were of old, the meadows are green on the dykelands and the dykes keep out the sea, and a little inland the gentle hills are patched with luxurious orchards. Wolfville, the headquarters for tourists to Grand Pre, is built in the midst of one of the greatest apple growing localities in the world. The late King Edward was amongst those who visited and loved this spot. It is only a short walk from Wolfville to Grand Pre, and the marshlands extend from one place to the other.

The Dominion Atlantic Railway has purchased the "big field" where the Acadians made their village, which was their capital, and this has become a public park. A memorial cross now stands there on the site of the ancient burial ground, and a statue of Evangeline sculptured by Philippe Hebert and his son Henri, descendants of an Acadian family, will soon add the grace of art to attractions of a haunt where nature has lavished her rarest charms.

It is significant that the Dominion Atlantic Railway and the Boston and Yarmouth Steamship Company have embarked on an ambitious campaign to advertise the tourist attractions of Nova Scotia.

MOVING DAY; FIRE STARTS IN STORE-ROOM.

Moving day at the home of Mrs. Edmondson, 367 Rogers Street, created so much "smoke" that a fire started yesterday at 6.30 p.m. in a spare room upstairs. The room was a store place for furniture and picture frames, and a slight blaze was noticed.

A bucket of water put the quietus on the flames for a time, and the Fire Brigade completed the work.

PROGRESS OF VICTORY LOAN EXCEEDS THAT OF LAST YEAR

BUT NUMBER OF SUBSCRIBERS ARE LESS THAN AT THIS TIME IN 1919, BUT RECENT SUCCESS HAS GIVEN THE WORKERS A NEW INCENTIVE--SUMMARY OF TWO WEEKS' CAMPAIGN.

The red arrow on the Victory Loan "thermometer" on George street is climbing steadily, climbing faster than it did last year and this morning it stood at $797,850 for the City and $1,695,950 for the Country.

Last year the total subscriptions for the first eleven days of the campaign amounted to $1,364,350.

Therefore this years campaign is $331,600 ahead of last years at this time. However the number of subscribers last year was 3,230 against 2815 this year?an excess of 75. The total city subscriptions this year overtop those for the same period of last year by $188,650, exclusive of specials.

Following are the tabulated results to this morning:—

CHRISTENED WITH BLOOD

Some interesting stories of the sailers who have been engaged round the coast during the war were recently told by Mr. Edward Lovett, Hon. Curator of the Folklore Section of the Imperial War Museum.

A story went round in the early days of the war, he said, that in the Heligoland Bight "scrap" a sailor spat on a shell, and that shell sank a German ship.

Nobody ever stopped to ask the man who did it. The custom was ancient. Pliny mentioned it. The saliva was supposed to be a part of a man's soul and this custom was a sacrifice to the God of Battles. Fisherman always spat in the trawl before lowering it into the sea.

People talked about education destroying superstition, but there was more widespread belief in charms and amulets to-day then ever.

A child's caul supposed to be a charm against drowning, could be bought for eighteen pence before the war. But after the submarine war started thirty shillings would hardly buy one.

Coins for Luck.

When a warship was launched a bottle of champagne was broken on her bows. That was quite wrong. It ought to be port; the survival of a blood sacrifice. In some cases even now a live cock was taken, and his blood dashed on the boat. This must not be washed off except by the sea.

Why was a bottle with money and papers put under a foundation stone? It was said to fix the date. In fact, it was the survival of a sacrifice, the original sacrifice being a live child, even the laving of the foundations of London Bridge was accompanied by a living sacrifice to appease the Earth God.

On all the pole corbs of fishing nets there were coins pushed in for luck. There was hardly a fishing boat without a coin, generally a gold one, under the mast as an offering to the sea for the protection of the ship.

No fisherman ever mentioned rabbits or called another by his proper name for fear of bad luck. That custom survived in Parliament until a man did wrong, and then he was "named."

DISEASE-DODGING INDUSTRIES.

The Tobacco Cure for Rheumatism.

According to evidence given before the Coal Commission, colliers are almost exempt from consumption. Doctors are practically agreed on this point, and differ only as to the cause. One theory is that coal dust prevents the development of the disease.

Men who toil in lampblack works are—owing, it is said, to the large amount of carbon they inhale—likewise immune from the white plague, and many sufferers in the early stages of phthisis make considerable sacrifices to obtain employment of this kind. These grimmy workers further resemble colliers in that they are remarkably free from diseases of the nervous system.

Thriving on Fumes.

Still more fortunate are tobacco workers, the conditions of whose daily task enable them to escape infectious diseases. They have always at hand, moreover, a sovereign charm for local rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, and the like. Let a sufferer from one of these common ailments throw himself upon a heap of tobacco and fall asleep, and when he awakes he is cured.

Curious, too, is the trade immunity of watchmakers, since it consists of freedom from optical complications.

But the calling most opposed to the every-day ailments of humanity is that of the alkali worker. Epidemic and certain other diseases are practically unknown in and about places where bleaching powder, etc., are made.

Idiosyncrasy, however, is a very important factor in such matters. Some men dodge disease that others run against full tilt under identical conditions. As is well known, at Widnes and St. Helens chemical labourers of a certain type keep in splendid health, notwithstanding that they breathe quantities of hydrochloric acid fumes that would incapacitate ordinary men. Indeed, if they are obliged to inhale comparatively pure air their appetite falls off at once.

A similar thing may be witnessed in the petroleum and paraffin industry, those engaged in which are specially liable to skin eruptions. Careful observation will show that those who suffer most from this plague are not the fair and comparatively delicate, but men of dark complexion, with strong black hair.—Tit-Bits.

CURIOUS CLUBS.

The announcement in the Press recently that a "Bald-headed Man's Club" had just met—the first time since 1916, owing to the war—serves to recall one or two quaint clubs.

"The Fat Man's Club," for instance, was known to exist in Paris in 1897. Its heaviest member turned the scale at twenty-four stone, and the chief qualification for membership of this club was to weigh fifteen stone ten pounds.

About this time there also met in New York the "Society of the Pointed Beards"—one of the most exclusive clubs of America. No one was eligible unless he had a carefully-cultivated beard of natural and personal growth, in good standing, and terminating in one symmetrical point half an inch from the apex of the chin, of sufficient evidence to preclude controversy.

At two club dinners, held in 1898, everything as far as possible harmonised with the objects of the society, even the menu-cards giving evidence of the beard mania, and the celery was even served with its leaves trimmed to a point.

A man who is making a night of it never thinks of the morning after.

NEW YORK WRITER GROWS FACETIOUS OVER WRESTLING BOUTS IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK.—W. O. McGeehan writes in the Tribune:

"It begins to look like a severe winter for New York and vicinity. The wrestlers are coming back. "Strangler Lewis, the athlete whose favourite stunt is to gather his opponent's head into his arms and press it pensively until the eyeballs pop out and the skull cracks, will meet Joe Stecher, the reformed farmer, whose scissors hold is almost as effective as the guillotine, the popular machine which is still used to dispose of criminals in Cuba. At their last meeting Stecher got the decision; consequently it looks like Lewis this time.

Jack Curley, who is promoting the bout at the Garden next Monday night, declares that it will be for the championship of the world. Of course there was a champion heavyweight wrestler by the name of Earl Caddock, but he enlisted for the late war. The unusual conduct on the part of a professional athlete caused Caddock to automatically forfeit his title. Other wrestlers seldom speak of him now. His unconventional conduct in rushing to the A.E.F. is felt to have a lasting stigma on the wrestling game, which the others have tried in vain to live down.

During his last session here Lewis put to Waldek Zbysk, the Pole, after Lewis had ground Zbysko's head to the shape of a pancake. After that the wrestlers went into the sticks and the title or whatever goes with the game, shifted around again until now the promoter declares that Lewis and Stecher are the only "logical opponents."

The humorous part of the wrestling game is that those who have pronounced prize-fighting a brutal and unsightly affair regard the wrappling game, as it is called, as being a nice, gentle sort of parlor sport. They evidently have not heard the grunt of one of the wrestlers who is caught by the toe-hold, nor have they seen one of Lewis's victims turning purple in the face under pressure of the head-lock. It is almost as peaceful and pastoral a spectacle as seeing a boa constrictor crush a rabbit to death.

Big Jay Town.

The occasional advent of the wrestlers to the metropolis brings us to the refreshing conclusion that the big town is not so blase after all, and that what causes some mild enthusiasm in the sticks may be a riot near Broadway. You meet the Jack Curley string of wrestlers everywhere in the sticks during the spring and summer. Our old friend, Ivan Linow, the roaring and rambunctious Russian lion, crossed our trail many times one spring.

Ivan would turn up in some southern town under an assumed name and wrestle a couple of local favorites. When he was established as the town champion, another one of the United Wrestlers' Association would turn up with a challenge. Then the big match would be staged and the betting would decide which would win. The purses are small in the bush circuits, however, and the game comes disagreeably close to work.

Some cities ban the wrestlers. Chicago will not have them under any consideration. San Francisco receives them only in a humorous light. But New York still retains some of the civic innocence; at any rate enough of it to stand for the wrestlers once or twice a year.

Soft Money Gone.

Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, is sojourning here to replenish his stock of perfume and to look for matches for the champion. Looking for matches for Dempsey is somewhat like looking for something with a kick in a soda fountain.

A short time ago in innocent traveller from England asked Kearns how much Dempsey would want to box Joe Beckett in London. Kearns replied that Dempsey would not ask a cent more than a quarter of a million. The innocent traveller eventually came out of the faint, but he has not spoken since.

Kearns is said to have sounded Tex Rickard, who promoted the Willard-Dempsey bout, as to the chances of his becoming interested in a bout between the English champion and Jack Dempsey. But Rickard, recalling with sharp pangs the vacant chairs at Toledo, said nothing for publication. Money is loose enough, but there will be no more "million-dollar" matches for a while.

PUTTING STOP TO FREAK DELIVERIES A HARD TASK

Freak pitching deliveries, such as the spit ball, the emery ball, and the nine ball, unquestionably are unpopular with the great mass of fans, and proposed legislation by the magnates which would tend to eliminate these deliveries is certain to have the support of the followers of the game. Numerous suggestions as to the best method of making it well nigh impossible for hurlers to apply saliva or other foreign substances to the ball have been put forth, including one by Traffic Manager Brannick, of the Giants, which, if adopted, would prohibit the use of gloves by pitchers, so that their handling of the ball would be more easily observed.

Unfortunately, it would not be an easy matter to make any of the preventives so far conceived effective. President William Veech, of the Chicago National League Club, a former baseball writer and a keen student of the game pointed out in a recent interview the difficulties of enforcing measures aimed at the pitchers.

"I have discussed the matter with many people, including club owners and umpires," he said, "and none of them even claimed to have a method by which freak deliveries can be stopped absolutely. There are plenty of ways to curb the hitting but unless an effective remedy is found it would work more harm than good probably because it would be an injustive to enforce the rule that would handicap some pitchers and benefit others who might find a way to beat it."

"Granted that such restrictions could be placed on the pitcher that it would be impossible for him to doctor the ball in play in any way without detection he might pitch one wide ball and the catcher could have something concealed in his big mitt by which the ball could be fixed up. Or the first time the ball was hit to an infielder or outfielder any one of them might be able to do something to the ball that would enable a pitcher to get freak results.

In order to make any rule of the kind effective it might be necessary to adopt a search and seizure law by which an umpire would have to examine the glove and uniform of every player before taking the field in every inning, and giving him the authority to confiscate any part of the player's uniform that was found to be contraband. That would entail tedious delays between innings."

The point which Veech raises is an excellent one, for it is plain that players other than the pitcher could doctor the pellet. As a matter of fact, such a thing has been done many times in the past. In one game played by the Giants this year the umpire threw out several balls thrown by the opposing pitcher because a foreign substance had been applied to it, though the pitcher protested that he had not tampered with the balls, and offered his glove to the umpire as proof of his contention. The glove contained nothing that could be smeared on a ball and the official was puzzled, but the mystery was solved an inning or two later when the vigilant judge of balls and strikes detected the shortstop of the opposing club grinding the ball into his glove, which examination proved had been daubed with licorice between innings.

MATCHES COME IN COFFINS.

There are four main reasons why so many matches used in England are made in Sweden. The first is that "safety matches" were invented by a Swede; the second, that there are many forests in Sweden, and its neighbors, Norway and Finland, also supply the wood; the third, that the minerals required for the lighting part abound; and lastly, because labor is cheap.

Further, the cost of carriage between Sweden and Great Britain is not heavy enough materially to increase the cost to the buyer, since the matches can be packed in the coffins, which Sweden exports so largely to England.

It was not till 1885 that the Swedish inventor, Lundstrom, patented the first "safety match," which, by the by, was first manufactured in the United Kingdom by Bryant and May.

Following Lundstrom's invention, Sweden became a match-making country. One of the most extensive match factories in the world is at Jonkoping, in South Sweden; it employs over 6,000 match-makers. The town is connected by railway with the port of Gothenburg, only some 115 miles distant; from there hundreds of millions of matches are yearly exported to England and other parts of the world.

Before the war matches were absurdly cheap in Great Britain and were lavishly used and often wasted. From six to ten matches per head of the population are daily used in the principal countries of Europe, and Sweden alone exports over fifty thousand million matches a year. England turns out over fifteen million matches annually.

MR. BURNHAM'S JOKE AMENDMENT PAVING WAY FOR DEEP BLUE LAWS?

FEDERAL INSTRUMENT WITH WHICH PROVINCES MAY HOLD REFERNDA ON ANY REPRESSIVE MEASURES THAT MAY BE DESIRED.

MOONSHINERS MULTIPLY

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 9. — The Minister of Justice informed me yesterday that the government would accept the principle I was contending for in an amendment re cards and feathers to the government provincial referendum liquor enablement bill. As a consequence I am withdrawing my amendment. In future, provinces will be able to hold, with federal aid when necessary, referenda on cards, tobacco, extravagance in dress, horse racing, denominational differences or anything the people wish to suppress. Unfortunately home-made whiskey is becoming a terrible menace both in the United States and Canada. An educational propaganda is probable. Mere prohibitive measures are producing increased moonshining and bootlegging to an alarming degree.

WHEN CROOKS.

Undoubtedly one of the problems which Scotland Yard will have to cope with in the near future will be the pursuit of criminals through the air.

Plans for the organization of a corps of aerial trackers, with a special Scotland Yard aerodrome from which detectives could make an immediate start in pursuit of wrongdoers who sought to escape the clutches of the law through the air, are already being carried out.

It may be some time before criminals include private aeroplanes among their equipment, but it will be a comparatively easy matter for the swell cracksman and wealthy murderer to arrange for an escape by air.

Whether he will succeed depends on the aerial organization of Scotland Yard and the alertness of the customs and coastguards. Quick communication between the police and the latter may result in an easy capture.

As a member of the Criminal Investigation Department points out to the writer, although the air is wide the flying criminal has got to come down somewhere, and by wireless his description and that of his machine can be flashed over the world in a few minutes.

One method of stoppage and detection will be through the medium of a series of sound-detecting instruments along the coast, linked up by telephones with each other, and also with corps of aerial police. The noise of the machine will be detected, and if it does not land for inspection as required by aerial navigation rules, it will be located and reported, and a strict watch will be kept at all points.

Control of flying machines is being so organized that every machine entering Britain, for instance, will have to land for inspection.

The watch will be so strict that the possibility of evading the cordon of guards will be very slight. Other countries, in accordance with the suggestions of the Aerial Advisory Commission of the British Peace Delegation, are adopting imilar plans for the control of air traffic. The chances of the flying criminal escaping justice, therefore are not of the rosiest.

HORSERADISH SAUCE

A palatable sauce, especially good with boiled beef, is made by adding grated horseradish and a little vinegar to a little whipped cream or as follows:

Thicken milk with cracker crumbs by heating them together in a double boiler, using three tablespoonfuls of cracker crumbs to one and a half cups of milk. Add one-third of a cup of grated horseradish, three tablespoonfuls of butter and one-half teaspoonful of salt, or thicken with butter and flour some of the water in which the meat was boiled, and a generous quantity—one or two teaspoonfuls—of grated horse radish, boil a short time and serve.

D. W GRIFFITH'S LATEST MASTERPIECE, "HEARTS OF THE WORLD"

The biggest event in the entire season of motion pictures, will be the presentation of "Hearts of the World," at the Allen Theatre on Monday and Tuesday. Owing to this feature being booked elsewhere it can only be shown in Peterborough for two days, and consequently will be displayed twice every evening, at 6.15 and 8.30 and matinees at 2.00 p.m.

"Hearts of the World" is a pretty romance of two girls each in love with the same man; there is the quiet and peaceful atmosphere of a small French town before the holocaust of the war. Then comes the conflict, with its ensuing effects upon the fortunes of those in the little village. The battle scenes shown are actual battle scenes taken right in the trenches during the death struggles of the French and the Germans. Thus one sees the life in the trenches; the charges of the French soldiers; the thrilling hand to hand conflicts and thrust of bayonets; the murder of the shells; the great guns in action; the tanks; the attack by liquid fire; German pill boxes; the treatment of young girls who fall into the hands of the Germans; and other things too numerous to mention.

Mr. Griffith is anxious to have it understood that while "Hearts of the World" deals with war and love, it is a drama he has staged, rather than a propaganda film. Prominent in the cast are the beautful Gish sisters, Lillian and Dorothy, Robert Harron, George Fawcett, George Seigman and other well known players.

"Hearts of the World" will be shown at the regular Allen admission prices and the regular Mack-Sennett comedy will be shown in addition, making a splendid evening's entertainment. As no seats will be reserved the patrons are asked to come early, those who can will do well to see the first performance and avoid the crush that resulted when "The Unpardonable Sin" was shown.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

HEY, THERE.

Hey, there, you grouchy people
Who sit aroun' an' pout,
Why don't you try to be cheerful
An' cut that mopin' out?

Say, what is th' use in mournin'
An' lettin' your spirits halt?
Better be laughin' an' praisin'
Than always findin' fault.

Hey, there, you gloomy knockers,
Whistle a bit an' sing.
Smile up an' be good natured,
For there's fun in everything.

Hey, there, you sullen people,
Wake up, an' look up above,
You ought to be thankful you're livin'
An' know how to laugh an' love.

Say, what is th' use in mopin'
An' wipin' your weepin' eyes?
Get out in th 'autumn sunshine
An' shout at the azure skies.

Hey, there you crabbed creatures,
Hurry an' start up a song,
For it's light an' love an' laughter
That pushes the world along.

Those people who are always "sticking to their dignity" are continually losing friends and making enemies, and fostering a spirit of unhappiness in themselves.

It is a great mistake to suppose that the best work of the world is done by people of great strength and great opportunities. It is unquestionably an advantage to have both these things, but neither of them is a necessity to the man who has the pluck to achieve great results. Some of the greatest work of our time has been done by men of physical feebleness.

WRITE IT DOWN.

When you are tempted to worry about something, write down the cause of the worry on paper and that night or at the end of the week, you'll find it has faded away. Most of us worry over objects that never appear or events that never take place. And worry is the greatest enemy of success, health and happiness. So after this, when you are inclined to worry over next month's rent or the crops, or the weather or any of the millions of other things that come up and make lines on your face, write them down and see how they come out. The large majority of them will never materialize at all and the others will all turn out for the best. Cultivate this habit and after a while, you will learn what a foolish slave worry makes of all of us.

Do not be afraid to say complimentary and appreciative things to your friends. More people's lives are saddened over the lack of these, than are spoiled because of the abundance.

The people who make a lot of fuss and bustle in this world never accomplish half as much or give nearly the same amount of pleasure as the quiet ones who attend strictly to business without fuss or noise, and pursue the even tenor of their ways, at the same time consulting the pleasure of their friends without making their kindness too uncomfortably evident.

The ability to find fault is considered by some people as a sure sign of superior insight, when in the majority of cases it is only the indication of shallowness and ill nature. One deserves as much credit for finding out the lovely traits in a character as for lying in wait for its imperfections.

"Man proposes, God disposes"—how often we see the working out of that law. And how many of us are inclined to resent it. When some of our carefully thought-out plans "gang aft aglae," we sometimes think that some cruel fate is dogging our footsteps and closing our doors to success and happiness. We forget that there is One who can see the outcome of these same plans and who knows what is best for our good. Instead of growing resentful at such times, we should realize that it is all for our own best good or it would not have turned out as it did.

So often to all of us comes the time when we must decide almost unanswerable problems. Two courses lie open to us neither of which looks tempting yet we must choose which one we will follow. The only thing we can do is that which seems best in keeping with our highest ideals and feelings. And once the die is cast, we should not regret the step we have taken. If we do what seems best to us at the time, that is all that can be expected of us. And it probably is the best in the long run even though subsequent events will sometimes lead us to think differently. For these things are all controlled by a higher Power wihch is working only for our good, and who can see far better than we, just what that good is, and in which direction it lies.

How many times, when we were children did we yearn for the time when we could be "our own boss." Yet after we reach the age of responsibility, how we long to go back and be children again—to shift responsibility on broad shoulders and have someone to help us over the rough places.

"ACCORDING TO HOYLE"

One hundred and fifty years ago on August 29th, Edmund Hoyle, whose name became immortalized in the well-known adage, "According to Hoyle" whenever any dispute in games of chance occurred, passed away from this life at his house in Cavendish-square. He was a barrister, and was appointed Registrar of the Prerogative Court of Ireland, but shortly abandoned his profession for the more lucrative one of imparting instruction in games of chance for a guinea a lesson. The first treatise which he wrote was one on Whist, of which game he has, quite erroneously, sometimes been called the inventor, but which, doubtless, he systematized and brought to its present standard.

GENERAL DEBILITY FOLLOWING INFLUENZA

Strength Can Only Be Regained by Enriching the Blood.

Following a wide spread epidemic of influenza, general debility is on the increase, and its effects may be noticed in the worn, listless appearance of so many of the men and women you meet. Influenza always leaves behind it impaired vitality, and with the modern conditions of life that use up nerve force so rapidly, general debility becomes one of the most common maladies. The symptoms of debility vary, but weakness is always present. There is poor digestion, langour, weak, aching back, wakefulness at night, often distressing headaches and a feeling of fatigue. These symptoms indicate impure and impoverished blood. It is significant of nearly every attack of influenza that it is followed by anaemia and debility.

For all such run-down conditions, new blood is the most reliable cure. sufferers should at once begin to make thin blood rich and red with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Under a fair treatment with this medicine they will realize more and more the health-restoring influence of good rich blood, and how this new blood brings a feeling of new strength and increased vitality. Proof is given in the case of Mrs. G. Robertson, Wingham, Ont., who says:—"When the Spanish influenza spread over our town I happened to be one of the first attacked and the attack was a very severe one, and whose still the after effects of the trouble left me in continuous misery. I had severe pains in my side, felt low-spirited, and with no ambition whatever. My head ached almost continually, my eyes felt heavy, and pimples broke out on my face. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking them for a time I felt like my old self able to do my housework, and feeling well and strong. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for the serious after-effects of influenza as I am sure they will restore all sufferers to good health.'

You can get these Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EX-ROYALTIES IN RUSSIA ARE DEEP DOWN IN MISERY

The Prince Barefoot; Another Babes Cakes Which Wife Sells; Colonels in Menial Work

Helsingfors.—There is a Russian boy Prnice in Helsingfors who goes practically barefooted. His boots given ti him by a compassionate neighbor, would be spurned by a tramp. They are without soles and he limps painfully as he picks his way over the hard cobbled streets.

The barefooted Prince typifies the plight of many of the best Muscovite families. The silent sufferings and unshed tears of these people—the flotsam of the old regime—would make a story full of pathos fit to raise the pity of many a hardened class fanatic.

Victims of Red Terror

There are thousands of Russian families of poverty and the agonies of long months of mental and physical torture just because thei genale birth constitutes them the hatred enemy of the Russian proletarist.

Some of them are living in misery under the Red Terror, daily awaiting the execueioner; others are enduring a bittr exile in Scandinavian countries, anxiously looking forward to the day of their deliverance.

Many of them would help themselves if they could, but they were never taught to earn their living, so nobody will employ them.

The barefoot Prince is but a rung lower on the ladder of misfortune than many of his kin. Ind the busiest restaurant in Helsingfors a gray-haired man of aistocatic bearing prays second violin. He is an ex-colonel of the Russian army and was a rich man before the revolution. He is a pathetic figure.

Noble Babes; Wife Sells

Living in a cheap flat overlooking a squalid courtyard in Helsingfors, there is a Russian nobleman who has put all the splendar of the past behind him and now keeps the wolf from the door by baking pasteries. He works at night, and his wife retails the cakes during a daily round of the restaurants.

On a recent visit to the frontier region a Russian ex-colonel of the Imperial Guard, who was waunded in Galacia, drove me from the station to my hotel. In a threadbare suit and dingy straw hat he drives an e en dingier droschky, and is quite used to carrying luggage and taking "tips."

"Society leaders who ance helped to grace the Czar's cout can be seen here any day in faded finery which would be discarded by a London work girl.

Princes Eat With Clerks

Princes and counts who once owned half a dosen stately homes and vast lads ow live i obscure lodgigs ad make a frugal meal i chep restaurants at th same table as tthe humble clerk or typist.

There are others who might improve their lot but for the rathe cammon Russian failing for shirking moral responsibility. But, apart from such cases, there are thousands of these sufferers whose plight arouses the deepest pity.

Mothers! NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FAT MEN IN HISTORY.

The general idea seems to be that fat and fame do not go together.

This is probably accounted for by the fact that those of large bulk are inclined to be easy-going and therefore lacking in that push which is said to bring a man to the fore. The only great statesman one can recal, who was really a fat man was Charles James Fox, as can be seen even by his effigy in the Palace of Westminster, where he would make three of his great rival, Pitt the younger.

Jamie Thompson, the author of "The Seasons," is probably the only really fat poet. He was a comfortable, lazy, slovenly man, of whom it is related that he would eat peaches off the wall, not taking the trouble to take his hands out of his pockets to pluck them. Yet, despite his lazy disposition, he managed to write one of the longest of English poems, as well as "The Castle of Indolence"—a castle in which he habitually dwelt.

G. K. Chesterton, one of the stoutest of living celebrities, has on several ocrasions made up in the character of the age of Fleet Street with excellent success. It is a little remarkable, too, that one of his closest friends, Hilaire Belloc, is almost as noted for his bulk as he is for his criticism of military operations, his poetry, his history, and his fiction.

BETRAYED BL A BUTTON.

How Murderers Are Brought to Justice.

In the majority of cases it is some trivial thing which leads to the discovery of the most flagrant crimes.

A constable at Southampton recently noticed breath marks on the window of a jeweller's shop. This caused him to stop and listen, and ultimately led to the arrest of two burglars.

Even smaller clues than this have been responsible for bringing criminals to justice.

A cigarette of a peculiar brand, left behind by a burglar named Fitzpatrick in a city warehouse, earned for him a long term of penal servitude. Another burglar, at Middlesborough, was run to earth after a long chase with only a broken cigar band as a clue.

Pierre Jaune, the famous French detective, who died in 1915, once traced a murderer within forty-eight hours with no clue save a trousers button. Suspicion was first aroused in the Crippen case by the spelling of the victim's name, "Elmore," with two "l's" on a forged letter.

The mysterious murder of a little girl in Devonshire was solved owing to the accidental finding of some of her hair in a bird's nest.

A single word, "Cudham," overheard by chance at the Penge post-office, was the starting point of the inquiry which brought to light the shocking murder by starvation and ill-use of Mrs. Louis Staunton in a house rented by her unnatural husband near that remote village.

The chance of a shutter falling upon a passer-by was the chief means of convicting a Liverpool youth, George Sumner, of the murder of Miss Bradfield some few years back. Orrock, who murdered a constable at Dalston in 1884, was brought to the scaffold by a single initial hastly scratched upon the blade of a chisel.

Early last year a girl named Nellie Trew was brutally done to death on Eltham Common. In trying to defend herself she had torn a button from her assailant's overcoat. A tiny clue! But it sufficed.

In the case of a similar murder at Bodmin some time back, perpetuated by a man named Ollison, the girl victim tore a handful of hair from her assailant's beard. The day following a constable was waiting his turn in a barber's shop when a man came in to get his beard trimmed. It aws Ollison. He was hanged.

HUMOR OF THE COUNTRY.

An Irish laborer, whose answers on his direct examination were rather discursive, was asked by the cross-examining counsel, "Now, my good man, isn't all this that you have been telling to my friend here only a hypothesis?" Witness—"Well, if your honor says so, I suppose it was." Counsel—"Come, sir, do you know what a hypothesis is?" Witness—"Well, now, I think I do." Counsel—"Then tell me what it is." Witness—"Well, now, I think it's some part of the inside of a pig, but I'm not exactly shure what part it is."

Superintendent of Nursing School Says Internal Bathing Gives Best Results in Constipation.

Dr. R. M. Smythe, President and Superintendent, Dominion School of Nursing, Toronto, writes: "I have much in pleasure in sending you a letter recommending the J.B.L. Cascade I shall also be pleased to do so personally or by phone. From personal experience also from my various patients who are using the J. B. L. Cascade I have no hesitation in recommending it to anyone with constipation or any trouble arising therefrom. Its benefits in such cases are felt at once, in my own case as wll as others that have come directly under my notice. It has certainly been the means of bringing about many wonderful cures of constipation and various other troubles. I have much pleasure in recommending the Cascade."

"WOMAN'S PART IN BUILDING UP AN IDEAL CITY"—HOME SURROUNDINGS.

Mr. Thomas Adams, the town planning adviser of Ottawa addressed a large and interested representation of the Woman's Canadian Club in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon. His subject was a woman's part in building up an ideal city. In the course of his remarks Mr. Adams laid stress upon the fact that healthy home conditions are necessary for the future welfare of the citizens. In some countries, he said, town planning lies largely in laying out streets and parks. Germany was an example of this with the result that the congestion caused by housing conditions undermined the coming generations to such an extent that 19 per cent. of the Berlin born were unfit to go to the front.

In the erection of a building the builder should make sure he gets the light and air for it from his own property. In the planning of a town the women should back a movement to secure proper building restrictions under city by-laws to prevent the old conditions from creeping in.

The speaker urged the preservation of the natural beauties of the river banks and that he would like to see Peterboro make an effort to ergate garden suburbs for which the town has the opportunity of borrowing money at 5 per cent.

Foreign Population.

"We have in Canada," he continued, "a large foreign population and I am afraid we are adopting some of their principles and in some case lowering our standards when we should say "You must adopt our standards" thus subsequently obtaining a better case of immigrant. The prevention of bad conditions out side a city limit was dwelt upon by Mr. Adams who spoke of the settlement of foreigners at Fort William who have taken up quarters in a swamp.

Town Planning.

One evil factor in town building is the allowing of houses and factories to stand side by side. Town planning embraces not only laying out of streets but laying out the industries in the locations best fitted for them to be carried on and reserving the other property for the residential section. Bill boards should be restricted.

Spiritually in Life.

In conclusion Mr. Adams urged that the people should get the community into so healthy a state that the children will grow up healthy citizens. See, he said, that the children of 100 years hence are born into healthy conditions and put some spirituality into the communal life.

Mrs. James Kendry, President of the Club thanked Mr. Adams for the interesting talk which she assured him had been keenly enjoyed by all and announced that Dr. Symonds would speak to the Club presently.

ASSASSINATION OF KING HUMBERT

King Humbert of Italy had asseptd an invitation of the Provincial Athletic Club at Monza to be present at the distribution of prizes, and at half past nine on the morning of July 29, 1900, the King drove to the Palestra, on which the sports were held, where he was received by the authorities and o large crowd of the general public. After prsiding at th distribution, which lastd about an hour, the King left the Palestra, and was just stadting in a closed carriage to return to the Royal Palace, wten four revolver shots were suddenly fired by a man standing amongst th crowd. His Majesty was hit by three bullets, one of which struck him near the heart, but he exclaimed, "It is nothing@" and the carriage was driven at fulll speed to the Royal PJalace, taking only three minutes for the journey. The King was found to be still living, but sinking so fast as to be practically beyond the reach of human aid, and he died as he was bei..g carried into the villa. He was at once placed in bed, and doctors arrived with the utmost speed, but they could only declare that life was instinct. Meanwhile, the by-standers, on becoming aware of what had hoppened, mode a rush to seize the assassin, and it was only with great difficulty that the proper authorities rescued him from the hands of the mob, and effected his arrest. He was an archist. named Gaetano Brassi and denied that he had any accomplices, and said that he committed the crime out of hatred for monarchical institutions.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

Canadian Pacific Railway Company Gives Hearty Support to Victory Loan

President E. W. Beatty makes Statement Regarding Big Subscription Just Announced by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Showing that the Company Will Stick by Canada on the Loan.

DESPITE the fact that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is opposed to the nationalization of the Grand Trunk Railway, it has been announced through Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, chairman of the board of directors, that it will support the Victory Loan to the extent of a subscription for $20,000,000 as against $17,000,000 last year.

E. W. BEATTY
President Canadian Pacific Railway Company.

The attitude of the C. P. R. on the Victory Loan is clearly stated by Mr. E. W. Beatty, the president. He buotes the statement of the minister of finance regarding the uses to which the money derived from the loan will be put, which gives assurance that it is for the purpose of repaying money which is owed, paying just debts to the soldiers, supporting Canada's credits and furthering the trade and commercial expansion of the dominion. The still further assurance that some of the money from the Victory Loan will be used for the acquisition of the G. T. R. or the payment of any indebtedness incurred thereby adds to Mr. Beatty's reasons for believing that the Victory Loan should be heartily supported.

He states as follows:—

I have embraced, with a great deal of pleasure, the opportunity of speaking on this Loan, especially in view of the fact that elements have entered into it which render a frank discussion advisable even though my own position in it may be regarded as somewhat delicate and even invidious.

I have read the comprehensive statement made by the Minister of Finance as to the objects of the Loan, and the reasons why it should receive the support of all Canadians who have the welfare of the Country at heart and regard the sustaining of its credit as of vital consequence.

The Minister of Finance and myself are not entire strangers—I knew him first as Corporation Counsel for the City of Toronto and I admired him as an adroit Counsel and a sound lawyer. I knew him again as Chairman of the Railway Board, and I marvelled at times at his utter disregard of legal principles. I know him now as Minister of Finance whose first work is the successful prosecution of this Loan, but who has, I think a very sincere appreciation of the necessity for national economy and prudence in official expenditure for the next few years if Canada is to reach the high plane of prosperity to which it is entitled. I have also known the Minister in roles which did not secure my unqualified commendation—he was a fine lawyer, an able judge, and will be, I feel sure a national asset, as Finance Minister, but his literary efforts are not all that I could wish. Some time ago when he was a little younger, and therefore more prone to make mistakes—he wrote a book; he wrote the book as Chairman of the Royal Commission, appointed to enquire into the Railway situation in Canada, and the book was called, and will go down into history as "The Drayton-Acworth Report." I read all of it with a great deal of interest and some of it with a great deal of appreciation. In it he said some very nice things about the C. P. R. and then he suggested that the Government of Canada might own all the other railways and operate them under a system which he outlined. I have always wondered how a man could be so right and so wrong in the same book. In consequence of this—what the Minister no doubt regarded as his magnum opus—railways were acquired and still others are designed to be acquired and the support of those advocating these acquisitions has already been found in this Transportation Epistle known as "the Drayton-Acworth Report."

The Minister has appealed to us all to give our whole-hearted support to this Loan, and the purpose of this statement is to frankly explain to you what the position of the Company I have the honor to represent will be.

The Government have recently advised Parliament and the people of their intention to acquire the Grand Trunk and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railways. Their proposals have come before the people at the same time that the support of the people to the Victory Loan is being strongly urged. There exists in Canada a strong sentiment among a great many people that the proposed action is unnecessary and unwise and will impose upon the people a burden which could be avoided.

In this connection and as one of the grounds on which Parliament is urged to support the proposals, it is said that if they are not confirmed and the roads are not acquired by the Government they will—to use the expressive phraseology of the Minister of Railways—be "tumbled up by the C. P. R." While I can imagine several things worse than that, it is only right that I should point out to you that there exist certain objections to this course which render the possibility of it ever taking place almost ridiculously remote. In the first place I may be pardoned for calling your attention to the fact that there exists by Statute an absolute prohibition against any arrangement by way of amalgamation or joining of earnings between the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk or any branch lines of the Grand Trunk or leased by it or under its control. In the second place the Grand Trunk duplicates, in many respects, the existing facilities of the Canadian Pacific, which would render its acquisition both unnecessary and unwise. In the third place, the Grand Trunk cannot be divorced from the Grand Trunk Pacific with its enormous liabilities—liabilities which I imagine no Corporation in Canada would think of assuming even though they were able to do so—and, lastly, the acquisition of the Grand Trunk or any portion of it has never been suggested to the Canadian Pacific or by the Canadian Pacific and has never been considered or contemplated in any way or by any means direct or indirect. The suggestion is the old familiar bogey which has been raised on previous occasions and which is only raised in fulfilment of the time-honored practice in the purchase of property, namely, that of securing an imaginary second purchaser in order to make the purchase more attractive to those who have some doubt as to whether or not they want to effect a purchase. The position of the Canadian Pacific is the position of every other taxpayer in Canada, the position of looking with grave apprehension upon the assumption of these enormous obligations under a system of administration which we do not believe to be effective. From a purely competitive transportation standpoint the Company has not yet reached the stage when it can contemplate with serious apprehension the assumption of enormous liabilities by its competitors.

It is perhaps not necessary for me to explain my own views on the subject of Government ownership and operation of Railways but it is I think desirable that I should explain to you why I can hold one view on this subject and still an independent view on the subject of the Victory Loan. You are familiar with the objects of the Loan—they are stated officially to be "To pay indebtedness incurred and to meet expenditures to be made in connection with demobilization, including the authorized War Service Gratuity to our soldiers land settlement, loans and other purposes connected with their re-establishment into civil life, for the Capital outlay for ship-building and other national undertaking and for the establishment of any necessary credits for the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, timber and other products and will be spent wholly in Canada." This official statement is further supplemented by the Minister's own statement that no portion of these moneys will be diverted to the acquisition of the Grand Trunk or the payment of such obligations as will be incurred by such acquisition: in other words, this Loan is in its essence a Loan to support Canada's credit, to repay the moneys which it owes, (largely to its own people) to pay its just debts to its soldiers and to further its trade and commercial expansion. Any one or all of these reasons is sufficient to warrant the support of the Loan. This is not a Loan to any Government of Canada, but a Loan for Canada initiated by the Government of the day. There is a distinction in my mind between the support of Government and the support of our own country, and if this money is required for the latter purpose—and it is irrefutable that this is the case—then no support which would otherwise be given to it should I think be withheld because of a difference of opinion in respect of proposed railway politics.

The Canadian Pacific is a Canadian enterprise, its prosperity depends upon the prosperity of Canada. At no time before the War or since the War has it I think been suggested that the Company did not realize and fulfil to the best of its ability the obligations which it owed this country, and so I am at liberty to say to you that, notwithstanding my inability to support a railway policy which I consider unjustified and unwarranted (and I think I am perhaps in a position to appreciate some of the objections to such a policy) the support to this Loan by the Canadian Pacific Company and the amount of subscription of the Company to the Loan, will be exactly the same as it would have been had not this question of the future of other railways been interjected into the campaign at this time.

AN EXPENSIVE ORNAMENT.

A young Scotsman had married an English lady, and some time afterwards he paid a visit to a bachelor uncle.

"Weel, Sandy, I hear ye hae gotten a wife," said the old man.

"Yes, uncle."

"What can she dae?"

"Do? What do you mean?"

"Weel," the uncle went on, "can she sew an' knit? Does she mend your claes?"

"No," the young man admitted.

"Humph!" commented the uncle. "Weel, does she cook? Can she mak parritch?"

"Oh, no, uncle!" the young man explained. "The servants do all those things. But you should hear her sing. She has the most beautiful voice you ever heard."

LANGUAGE OF PEACE.

In handing the peace terms to the German delegates in their French form, the Allies were diplomatically and traditionally correct.

When diplomacy was a very close profession indeed, French was "the common language of Europe," and a shudder ran through every European Chancellery when, one hundred and twenty-five years ago, Canning replied in English to Bonaparte's first peace overtures. Canning made this departure deliberately, both to assert the dignity of England and her language, and, as he said, to give Bonaparte a slap in the face.

Bismark, following Canning's example, delivered his terms to France in the language of his own country. One of the criticisms made upon Canning's innovation is just as vital today—that the enemy being left to translate the original into his own tongue might wilfully pervert it.

His Death Expected

New Brunswick Man Saved

Mr. Isidore Thomas, of Tilley's Road, Gloucester County, N.B., while expecting death, availed himself of help that was offered at random. Here is part of a letter he wrote to us:—

"I beg you to publish my letter, so that people may know what Gin Pills did for me. My case was very serious. I was so sick everybody expected my death any day. Finally, on advice from friends, I tried Gin Pills, and in a short time was well again, and soon had gained 20 pounds."

Kidney and bladder troubles, very often, work in secret ways. A bad condition may exist, with only a backache to indicate it. That is why the slightest pains in back or sides should be investigated. These pains, along with sciatic neuralgia, rheumatism, dizziness, constipation, lassitude, lumbago, highly-colored urine, headache, floating specks before the eyes, gravel, indicate kidney trouble. A course of Gin Pills, taken at once, will give relief, and prevent the progress of the disease, enabling the organs to right themselves and restore good health. Gin Pills are the sure, safe, quick remedy. Get a box from your druggist or dealer—50c. Money refunded if no relief found. Send for free sample.

VANITY BAGS.

A writer in the New York Sun, speaking no doubt largely from experience, delivers himself sagely as follows upon this important subject:

The male biped does not shed his waistcoat because he dislikes it if itself. It is a useful thing, handier than a pocket in a shirt. He takes it because of the heat, and not without regret. The waistcoat holds so many things. The upper lefthand pocket was made for pencils and fountain pens and cigars. Since the top of ear was discarded as a pencil-holder there has been nothing half so good as that pocket. The opposite upper pocket is just the place for the memorandum-book. The watch sleeps alone in one of the lower pockets, across from the home of the man's knife or match-box. The inside pocket of the waistcoat is peculiarly adapted to carrying money. A thief cannot get it without cutting.

When the waistcoat is hung up for the summer its working contents must be put elsewhere. The coat, already overloaded with handkerchiefs, wallets, letters, cigarette-cases, and communication-tickets, is asked to take up what the turf reporters call a staggering impost. The trousers, with their standard burden of money and keys, can make little room for the articles evicted from the waistcoat. So every June the man wonders whether he shall tether his watch to the lap of his coat and let it joggle around in his breast-pocket, or whether he'll try it once more in the waistband-pocket of his trousers and look upon its face only after an exhibition of gymnastics. Shall the fountain pen be attached to the coat pocket or laid away until autumn?

Man suffers for a while. He finds himself without matches when he has a cigar, or without a pen when he has a check-blank. His watch spoils the fit of his coat. His memorandum book gets lost in the bottom of his pocket. He is all at sea, and merely because he is not the efficient creature that woman is. She puts all her junk and all her worries in the faithful hand-bag. Fashions change in clothing and in bags, but the mess of small belongings is always carried in the same way. If man would ape woman in this respect he would be more comfortable. He need not carry a silken reticule; a canvas sack would do, with a strap to go over the shoulder. Perhaps some of the fellows who carry brief-cases are secretely taking a leaf from woman's book. Al Smith once said that if you held up a reformer and looked in his brief-case you would find sandwiches in it, not great public documents. A brief-case would hold cigars, pencils, and handkerchiefs. Maybe in time all men will carry these leather cases just as all women carry bags.

FIRST FLYLESS TOWN.

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y.—The health authorities here claim that the town is the first to be "flyless" in the world.

Despite the unusually hot weather during the summer there were hardly any more flies than most places have in January, and the prediction is confidently made that next year there will be none at all.

It cost the town about $1,000 to eradicate the fly nuisance, which was accomplished by requiring that manure be screened and frequently removed.

LUXEMBURG DUCHESS MARRIED IN SILENCE

Her People Obviously Dislike Prince Who Fought With Austrians.

Canadian Press

Luxemburg, Nov. 8.—The marriage of Grand Duchess Charlotte and Prince Felix of Bourbon-Parma was celebrated at the cathedral to-day in the presence of membrs of the Chamber and the State Council. A large crowd gathered outside the cathedral and the palace, but there was little enthusiasm, the majority of the people watching the wedding procession in silence.

Prince Felix is a brother of Prince Sixtus and Prince Xavier, who fought in the Belgian army. Prince Felix was in Austria when the war broke out and served as a captain in the Austrian army, declaring at the beginning of hostilities, however, that he would not fight against France.

And every American took off his hat and hung it for a second on the peg that bore the name of Lord Kitchener. It was a breach of regulations, but a showing of regard for the dead field marshal, that the British appreciated.

CAPT. DREYFUS' RESURRECTION WAS A MOST DRAMATIC ONE

After Twenty-four Years of Torture, Imprisonment, and Persecution, the Unhappy Prisoner of Devil's Island Won Many War Honors.

The most dramatic resurrection of the late war, and perhaps of all history, is that of Colonel—better known as Captain—Alfred Dreyfus.

Twenty-four years ago this brave, unfortunate man was sentenced to a living death as a traitor with every circumstance of shame and ignominy that France could devise. And now, after all these years, his country has appointed him an officer of her famous Legion of Honour.

But the struggles that have occurred in the interval make the drama even more wonderful than anything that can be imagined from the mere statement of these two essential facts. A reversal of Captain Dreyfus' original conviction was indeed obtained years ago after a remarkable campaign to prove his innocence, but that did not mean his complete rehabilitation. The whole power of the upper classes of France had been employed to secure his conviction and to uphold it. The same power continued unalterably against him, even after his innocence had been proved.

After his reinstatement in the Army at that earlier period he found the majority of officers as well as the leaders of society against him, and a military career became hopeless.

The hunted, tragic man retired into obscurity, broken physically, but his amazing moral force never deserted him.

When this war broke out his opportunity came. The very existence of France as a nation was threatened and the services of every man of military training were demanded. Alfred Dreyfus, then a major of artillery on the retired list, was appointed to the command of one of the smaller forts surrounding Paris.

Then came the great irresistible rush of the Germans upon Paris. The invaders reached as far as the Bois de Boulogne, the great part of the metropolis, and the fate of France trembled in the balance. The French Government was removed hurriedly to Bordeaux on the western coast.

As most people know, the task of capturing Paris was confided by the German staff to General von Kluck, commander of the righ wing of the German army. He was to swing around west of Paris, and, in combination with the other German armies, surround the capital.

In a last desperate life-and-death effort to stem the German invasion, all the French reserves that could be gathered in Paris were rushed forward to attack the army of Von Kluck at its junction with the other German armies. Thousands of the French soldiers, many of them elderly men, were hurried there in taxicabs.

This sudden onslaught nearly cut through Von Kluck's army, and he was forced to swing eastward to escape destruction. Paris was thus saved. In this desperate fighting, Alfred Dreyfus, the physically broken, long persecuted officer of artillery, acquitted himself heroically. He distinguished himself especially in the battle of the Ourcq, two days before the battle of the Marne.

The brilliant strategic move against Von Kluck's army made possible the great French victory of the Marne, which ended Germany's hope of swift success, and thus ensured her final defeat.

For his services in this critical strategic struggle Alfred Dreyfus was promoted lieutenant-colonel. But France owes him much beyond his combatant services, for it is understood that he first discovered the diabolical espionage work that was being carried on by Mata Hari, the notorious Dutch dancer. It is one of the most singular circumstances of this great drama that a man once falsely accused as a spy should have trapped one of the most dangerous of real spies.

Mata Hari was a fantastically beautiful woman, the daughter of a Dutch planter in the East Indies and a native Javanese woman. The girl married Campbell MacLeod, the disreputable scion of a Scottish notable family, and separated from him. Having learned to dance in an Oriental temple she went to Europe and made considerable success in Germany. There she was hired as a spy by the German General Staff.

She went to Paris and ensnared a young French banker, whom she ruined financially. He was the brother-in-law of a French Cabinet Minister.

During the war Mata Rari, who was regarded as thoroughly French in sympathies, performed vital espionage service for the Germans. When the British had perfected their wonderful tanks and were about to launch them against the Germans in their offensive of 1916, the latter got wind of what was coming.

Mata Hari exercised her well-tried charms successfully upon a British officer who was in the tank service and had been sent to Paris ahead of their arrival. She learned from him when these new weapons would arrive at a French Channel port. She went to that port and picked up certain valuable details about the nature of the tanks, and Germany was thus enabled to be at least partly on guard against them.

Mata Hari carried on most of her communications with Germany by way of the German espionage service at San Sebastian in Spain. This is a favourite cosmopolitan resort within a few miles of the French frontier, and there seemed no good reason why a foreigner sympathetic to France should not go to this resort and return.

Colonel Dreyfus, who had known some of the family of the young banker ruined by Mata Hari, considered certain facts he had learned about her and suggested, it is understood, to the French Government that it would be wise to investigate her.

An investigation of Mata Hari's activities by the French counter-espionage service followed, and many evidences of her guilt were unearthed. She was arrested in the fall of 1917 and tried by court-martial.

Two weeks later the announcement was made that she had been condemned to death for espionage.

The dancer made a desperate fight for her life. She summoned every influential friend she had known in prosperity to help her. One of the best lawyers in Paris, Edouard Slunet, defended her. She obtained an appeal, but the sentence was confirmed by the Review Court and later ratified by the Supreme Court.

Every appeal having been exhausted, the sentence of the court-martial had to be carried out. Half an hour before dawn she was taken from her cell at St. Lazare, placed in an automobile between two officers and driven to the garrison town of Vincennes, two miles from Paris. The execution took place at sunrise, according to military tradition. The scene was the courtyard of the old castle. The prisoner was placed in a chair against a high wall with her eyes blindfolded. Twenty soldiers faced her, and at the word of command raised their rifles and fired into her breast. Thus Mata Hari ended her troublous life.

When the long war was over, when victory had at last been won and the nightmare of the ruin and slavery had at last been removed from France, when all the generals and heroes and soldiers had been finally rewarded, somebody suggested that justice should be done to poor Alfred Dreyfus. Even at the outbreak of the war the old prejudices against him were still rampant, but after his wonderful services during the great struggle not a voice was raised against him in any quarter—there was no one indeed who would refuse to pay him honor.

Before a distinguished gathering of generals and public men a famous general of France pinned the coveted ribbon of the Legion of Honor upon the breast of the bent, white-haired but still heroic soldier, who was dressed in the full uniform of a lieutenant-colonel of artillery.

What a contrast between the scene and that of January 5, 1895. Upon this fateful day 5,000 soldiers of the French army were drawn up in the Champs de Mars, on the left bank of the Seine, in the city of Paris. Alfred Dreyfus, looking like a man already dead, marched between a file of soldiers and came to a halt before General Darras. He wore a captain of artillery's unform and carried a sword in his hand. The verdict of the court-martial convicting him as a spy was read to him. An adjutant seized his sword and broke it across his knee. Then he cut all the insignia and buttons from the captain's uniform.

"Vive la France," cried Dreyfus. "You have degraded an innocent man. I swear I am innocent."

Then he marched away to his long purgatory on Devil's Island.

It is believed that the conspiracy to convict Dreyfus originated in the striving of some corrupt officers to conceal their own misdeeds. In 1894 a French scrubwoman at the German Embassy at Paris, found in the waste paper basket of Colonel Schwartzkoppen, the German military attache, a scrap of paper called a "bordereau," which read in part:

"I send you some interesting information, namely a note concerning the hydraulic brake of the 120 cannon and the way the gun is managed. A note upon the "troupes de couverture'; some modifications will be carried out according to the new plan. A note concerning the modifications in the formations of artillery. A note relative to Madagascar. The proposed 'manuel de tir' of the field artillery."

Colonel Henry, an officer of the Intelligence Bureau of the French General Staff, who proved to be the villain of the whole drama, determined to put the authorship of this document on Captain Alfred Dreyfus. He was an unpopular officer because he was too reserved and studious.

He came of a prominent and wealthy Hebrew family of Alsace. Like many more Alsatians he spoke with a slight German accent, but he had the highest claims to French nationality, for his family had remained faithful to France at the annexation of Alsace in 1870.

The villainous Colonel Henry forged other incriminating documents in the handwriting of the bordereau. Colonel du Paty de Clam, an associate, assisted him by obtaining some genuine specimens of Dreyfus's writing.

Bertillion, the famous handwriting expert, was called in and agreed that the handwriting of the bordereau was that of Dreyfus. Meanwhile a wave of anti-Semitism was sweeping over France, most of the influential classes being involved in it.

A secret court martial was held and poor Deryfus was condemned to Devil's Island for life.

This dreadful spot is a sand bar off the coast of French Guiana, barely rising above the sea. For two months of the pear drenching tropical rains fall upon it. For the rest of the time it stews in a fearful heat, the temperature often rising to 120.

Dreyfus was confined in a hut, or rather a cage, eighteen by sixteen feet in extent. He was manacled to the wall by a chain, which just permitted him to move to his bed and solitary chair.

No one else lived on the island, for it was too unhealthy. Once a day a guard from another island came to look at Dreyfus and thrust his foot at him with a long shovel—as though he were a caged beast.

Meanwhile the forces of justice all over the world were struggling for a re-opening of the cage. Emile Zola, the novelist, asserted that he was convinced of Dreyfus's innocence. The brave Colonel Picquart took up his cause and was banished to Tunis.

The scrubwoman of the German Embassy dived some more into the military attache's waste basket and unearthed a document that proved the handwriting of the "bordereau" to be that of Major Esterhazy, a disreputable officer of the French army.

Colonel Henry, accused of forgery and conspiracy committed suicide. Many other things were found which forced the French Government to reopen the Dreyfus case.

In 1899 Dreyfus was brought back from his living tomb on Devil's Island, retried at Rennes and acquitted. But this did not rehabilitate him in the army. It was not until 1906, after many efforts, that Dreyfus was restored to his military rank.

He strove loyally to resume his broken career, but found the influences too great against him and gave up the struggle after two years. His complete restoration in every sense has only been made possible by the events of the great conflict.

INDIGESTION CAN'T STAY

Out-of-order stomachs feel fine at once! When meals don't fit and you belch gas, acids, and undigested food. When you feel indigestion pain, lumps of distress in stomach, heartburn, or headache. Here is instant relief.

Just as soon as you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the dyspepsia, indigestion, and stomach distress caused by acidity will end. These pleasant, harmless tablets of Pape's Diapepsin always put sick, upset, acid stomachs in order at once and they cost so little at drug stores.

A NEW USE FOR COWS.

The Australasian: The sheep with gold in its teeth is not unknown in Victoria, but in North Queensland a cow with a hobby for collecting mineral specimens has been discovered. This interesting beast was in perfect health when slaughtered, yet in her stomach were found 48 stones of various sizes. Some contained gold, others bismuth and tin. It was a fine collection, and stamped the cow as an expert prospector. This newly discovered characteristic of the cow should be developed. Under proper guidance the cow might be trained not to swallow the specimens she picks up but bring them to her owner in a bag tied round her neck. Prospecting would then receive a much needed impetus. The search for gold in these luckless days would prove more alluring if each prospector had a cow in his outfit. Even if the cow did not succeed in bringing rich specimens to camp each evening she could be milked. And if she did not yield much milk she would be handy to wear at.

Kaiser as a Mahdi.

London—Captain Cecil Armitage, chief commissioner of the Northern Territories of the Gold Coast, tells of one notable attempt at German propaganda in the Northern Territories early in the war. A mallam—a sort of prophet—was sent by the Germans to warn the people in the British sphere that the German Emperor was coming as a new Mahdi, and would drive the Englishmen into the sea!

The local chief visited the mallam, promptly arrested him, and took him to the nearest British commissioner.

MAKE TABLE COVERS INTO VELVET RUGS.

Unravel and sew ends neatly together. Wind in balls and with a small-sized wooden hook or large bone hook crochet into rugs, using the single crochet stitch. Make any shape desired. They work up very prettily, especially if two shades of chenille are used. If care is taken in the making they will closely resemble velvet rugs.

NOTABLE FIRSTS.

The first baby born in England after the Insurance Act came into operation was Mary Lydia Georgina Frances Golding, of St Luke's Mews, Cromwell Road, Notting Hill. She started this life one minute past twelve on January 13th, 1913, and promptly received a silver cup from a leading daily newspaper. Her two names, Lydia Georgina, were given to the helpless infant as a compliment to Mr. Lloyd George.

The first concrete ship made her maiden voyage in February. Despite heavy weather, the Armistice behaved satisfactorily, steered remarkably well, and showed an entire absence of vibration.

London will have her first skyscraper when a famous emporium in Oxford Street is crowned by the projected clock tower 450 feet above the pavement.

Europe's first Chinese newspaper recently commenced publication in Paris, under the editorship of Mr. Y. C. Yen. Its price is one penny, and it was issued for the benefit of the Chinese Labour Corps.

The first Prince of the Royal Family to be attached to a Government Department for service is Prince Albert, who commenced duties at the Hotel Cecil early in March. He is engaged on special work in connection with the Air Ministry, in which he had his own attendants, and occupies a separate office.

The first child born to a member of the present House of Commons was the daughter of Captain Tudor Rees, M.P. The Crypt of the House of Commons.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Moose Hunting

Authors Go After Big Game

Immediately after the conclusion of the world's baseball championship, a party of "fans," including Col. T. L. Huston, vice-president of the American League Baseball Club, New York, Irvin S. Cobb, humorist, Harry Leon Wilson, novelist, Major W. O. McGeehan, sporting editor of the New York Tribune, W. J. MacBeth, of the New York Tribune, Damon Runyon, sporting editor of the New York American, Major Bozeman Bulger of the New York Evening World, and Frank M. Stevens of New York, left for Nova Scotia on a moose hunt.

The majority of them had been watching, or reporting the clashes between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds, and were looking forward to the nerve-soothing quiet of a few innings with a charging bull moose.

The party spent a day in both Montreal and St. John before crossing the Bay of Fundy, so as to see something of Canadian life before plunging into the wilds. At Kedgemakogee moose-haunted lakes of Central Nova Scotia eight well-known guides awaited them, and conducted them in canoes to the home camp on Pescawah Lake.

Progress of Fruit Growing

Okanagan Valley is a valley of golden sunshine dotted with silver lakes and streams. Each way you look, the prospect changes; billowing hilltops, orchard covered slopes, and broad fertile meadows greet the eye. The valley is coming into its own and is prosperous and ranches are selling at very advanced figures.

Amid rugged and beautiful mountain scenery, at the foot of Okanagan Lake, Penticton has become a popular centre for tourists. The Incola Hotel found it necessary to use every available space this season. Traffic was so heavy that sometimes verandas were used as sleeping apartments. The roads leading from Penticton are among the finest in British Columbia. One picturesque road leads through the Indian reserve. Along the road eighteen rustic bridges over gurgling streams are crossed in a distance of seven miles. A popular resort for the residents of Penticton is Skaha or Dog Lake, three miles south of the town. Below is Vassa Lake, and a point of interest in the drive down the East shore is a painting on a huge rock. This was done by the Indians many years ago and there are outstanding figures of a horse and rider done in brilliant colors, which time and the elements cannot efface.

Twenty miles south of Penticton 2,200 acres of land will soon have an excellent system of irrigation. The project will cost two million dollars, and three years will be required to have it accomplished. The first eight miles of ditch will be finished this year. Several hundred men will be employed during the undertaking. The C.P.R. is at present running surveys from Penticton to Oroville, the gateway from the U.S. into the Okanagan, traversing the soldiers' settlement land. This ranch consists of 30,000 acres. Ten acres of bearing orchard at Penticton recently sold for $16,500, after the owner had taken off $1,700 worth of cherries. The balance was worth $4,000.

Seed growing is now being largely promoted in British Columbia, and the united seed growers have chosen Penticton as their headquarters and will erect their warehouse there. It is planned to grow seeds in the soldiers' settlement lands while the trees are young. Seeds from all over the Province will be sent there to be cleaned and stored.

At Kelowna on a forty acre apple orchard seven years old 27,200 boxes were grown and sold for $35,000.

There is unusual activity in the canneries and packing houses. One Kelowna cannery specializes in the canning of tomatoes. A creche is established in connection with each cannery. A capable nurse is installed in the house provided, and young children are cared for while mothers work in the canneries.

Summerland, the sunny centre of the valley is the nearest point to Vancouver, 150 miles' distant. It is the point in B.C. from which most fruit is shipped by express. The pre-cooler, installed under Government supervision is the second plant of its kind in Canada. The "Ok" brand is used by the United Growers. There are three sources of inspection. Each packing house has special superintendents. The Provincial Inspector seeks to prevent diseased fruit being shipped, and Dominion Inspector sees to Dominion regulations being observed.

A jitney plies between Summerland and Penticton, following the famous Lake shore drive. On an Autumn afternoon with blue hazes scarfing the slopes and gentle swelling mountains mirrored in the lake, it is a drive of unfolding beauties. This district has an unusually picturesque environment. The main mountain ranges are about 6,000 feet high with wooded slopes. In the centre of the district Giant Head rises a clear and distinct contour of a man's head.

Across the Lake lies Naramata, the last fruit district to be opened up. Here the "Red McIntosh" apples have proved the best, while Tokay grapes are grown equal to any in the South of France. Naramata is level with the lake and is skirted with fruit ranches. There are about 2,500 acres in this special district which lies in a natural terrace for eight miles along the lake. The situation is ideal.

AGREE ON PRICE OF SUGAR CARGOES

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 8.—The United States Food Administrator, Arthur Williams, Mr. Matthews, Assistant Attorney-General, and C. H. McLean, secretary-treasurer of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Company, have come to an agreement with regard to the cargoes of sugar at present held on board ships in New York Harbour.

One thousand tons of this was offered in the New York Market by a representative of the company for alleged excessive price and was withdrawn when the Food Administration demanded a reduction.

Mr. McLean conferred with Mr. Williams, and assured him that the one thousand tons in question would be sold on the New York Market at a price fixed by the Sugar Equalisation Board.

Mr. Costello, of the Board, later announced that the price would be ten and a half cents a pound to the manufacturers, including refining charges and duty.

The balance of the six thousand ton shipment has been released to the St. Lawrence Refining Company.

SUGGESTS AIRSHIPS FOR TUBERCULOSIS

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The employment of airships as sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis and other diseases, is advocated by a doctor who was attached to the British Air Force during the war, according to the Globe.

The patients, it is pointed out, would be able to live for several days or even weeks at a height of about 5,000 feet, enjoying complete rest and breathing air as pure and invigorating as that of any of the famous mountain resorts which only the rich can afford to visit.

The big airships built by Great Britain for war purposes, the doctor says, can be fitted up as sanatoria for patients suffering from consumption, anaemia, neurasthenia, and other ills, and except in very bad weather can cruise about for weeks at a time

It is the faithless person who has no faith in his faith says the sharpest things.

Peterborough Is Out For a New Objective

THE LIQUOR QUESTION

LIQUOR MAY BE IMPORTED INTO ONTARIO BEFORE ACTION IS TAKEN BY THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

HOLD PLEBISCITE

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.—To make the Federal temperance legislation arding prohibition of liquor into ario operative it is necessary for Provincial government to pass a olution asking the Dominion govment to hold a plebiscite on the tion and for the Dominion govment to take the vote and then claim its result. This procedure not be initiated until the new Onio Legislature meets. In view of the valent opinion that the Federal or-in-council, which now prohibits ment of liquor into dry provinces become inoperative simultaneouswith the War Measures Act upon proclamation of peace, it may be ible for Ontario people to import or for their own use after the proation of peace and before action aken by the Provincial Assembly r the new Dominion legislation.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE REVOLUTION

By Carl D. Groat.
(United Press.)

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—The first anniversary of Germany's revolution was marked by Sabath quiet, according to early reports received here to-day. A snow storm, with a biting wind and low thermometer, kept most of Berlin's population in their homes. Soldiers of Gustav Noske, Minister of Defence, plodded to and fro through snow-filled streets, but barbed wire entanglements erected in Wilhelmstrasse and other principal streets in anticipation of possible rioting, were soon removed, and the correspondent who visited several demonstration meetings, found only stolid Teutons discussing the events of the past year over steaming pots of coffee or steins of beer. Remarks of speakers, who addressed some of the gatherings, were confined largely to a summary of events during the first year of the German republic.

Commons Amended Temperacne Act

THREE YEAR PERIODS

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.— The outstanding results of Saturday's sitting of the House of of Commons were the passage of the Government's two bills dealing with the subject of prohibition and the acceptance of the Senate's amendments to the bill authorizing the Government to acquire control of the Grand Trunk aRilway system. The more important of the two prohibition measures, that to amend the Canada Temperance Act, was not reached until the evening, and was the last item of business discussed. It excited a rather lively debate, and was amended in some respects before it was read a third time. The bill in its original form provided machinery whereby a province might prevent the manufacture of liquor within its territory and importation from other provinces. The legislation provdied that a Provincial Legislature by resolution, might petition the Dominion for a plebiscite upon one or both of the questions, whether or not manufacture of liquor within the province should be prohibited, and whether or not importation of liquor into the province should be forbidden. Within three months from the receipt of the petition by the Secretary of State, the Dominion Government was to submit the question or questions to the people and the view of the majority of the voters, at the plebiscite, was to rule.

On Saturday the provision for a plebiscite on the question of manufacture was deleted as unnecessary. It was understood clearly that manufacture for export was not to be prohibited, and that the other temperance bill which was passed during the sitting, that to amend the Doherty Act, forbids manufacture of liquor when it is known that it will be used in violation of the law province in which it is manufactured.

Three Years Between Petitions.

During the discussion in Committee of the Whole, moreover, the bill was amended to make it clear its machinery could only be available for us by provinces which had already prohibited the sale of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes. Another amendment was inserted to provide that three years must elapse between petitions from any one province. That is to say, if one effort to stop all importations of liquor, except for sacramental, medicinal and industrial purposes, fail., another cannot be made for a period of three years. Still another change in the bill makes provision for repeal of prohibition by the vote of the people at a plebiscite.

The chief opposition to the bill came from a Unionist, E. Gus Porter, of East Hastings, who, however, stated that the amendments to the legislation remove some of his greatest objections to it. He opposed the bill on the ground that it was a violation of the section of the British North America Act, stipulating that there should be free interchange of products between the provinces, and would likely lead to much litigation, that the Dominion Parliament had no right to delegate its powers to the provinces, that such legislation was not wanted, as indicated by the fate of the Hearst Government in Ontario, and that the effort to shift responsibility to the province was a bad precedent.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King objected that the bill was neither Dominion nor Provincial legislation and was, therefore, simply humbug.

To these objections, Hon. C. J. Doherty replied that the bill was "a measure of conditional prohibition, which the people of a province could have, if they wanted it."

He denied that there was any relegation of Federal powers. Because it was impossible to secure a petition of 25 per cent. of the voters of a province, the Dominion was selecting the Provincial Legislatures composed of representatives of the people as a designating body. When the Legislature of any province petitioned for a plebiscite, the Dominion Government acted upon that request It was simply local option in enlarged areas. The bill to amend the Doherty Act, entitled the Act in aid of provincial prohibitory legislation, which permits the punishment of persons manufacturing liquor intended for use in violation of provincial laws, was passed after a comparatively brief debate.

PREMIER BORDEN IS GETTING BETTER

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 10.—Hon. Doherty, acting Leader of the Government, stated in the Commons this morning that the Governor-General would attend at 4.30 this afternoon for the purpose of proroguing Parliament.

Doherty also stated that while the date had not been fixed, Parliament would again meet early in 1920.

Doherty also told the Hon. MacKenzie King that so far as he knew, Sir Robert Borden was recovering strength, but could not say when the Premier would return to Ottawa.

In the Senate, Sir James Lougheed moved the second reading of the House of Commons Act to amend the Temperance Act, and considerable discussion followed.

At lunch, the adjournment on the second reading had not been agreed to.

INCREASE IN THE PRICE OF MILK

MILK PRODUCERS MET ON SATURDAY EVENING.

A largely attended meeting of the Milk Producers of the city was held in the Board of Trade rooms on Saturday evening last to consider the question of a fair price for milk under existing conditions and it was unanimously agreed that milk cannot be produced at a profit at less cost than $3.60 per hundred pounds (or approximately 9 cents a quart) and they accept the price at that figure for the winter months. Feed and the cost of milch cows is constantly rising instead of falling.

The price that ... producers have decided to sell for after December the 1st here is $3.36 per 8 gallon can or 10 and 1-2 quarts. The retail price of milk in Kingston and Toronto is 16 cents a quart and many of the other towns and cities are considering the question of placing the price at that figure.

Retail Price.

It is altogether likely the majority of the milk vendors in the city will retail milk at 14 cents a quart although a few have signified their intention of selling at 13 cents a quart all winter.

LAST WEEK OF SESSION

FINAL RATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY MAY BE VOTED ON THIS WEEK.

THE OPPOSITION

By Raymond Glapper.
(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. — The Senate to-day plunged into what many members hope will be the last week of this session—and of the prolonged treaty fight. While little encouragement is given to this view by the mass of reservations still to be voted on there was a belief in some quarters that administration leaders who attacked the Lodge front repeatedly without evening denting it, will suddenly switch their tactics, calling off the fight on the majority resolutions, allow these to go through without opposition and centre their struggle on defeating the completed resolution of ratification.

BIG PICTURE AT THE GRAND

The first motion picture to be made by Douglas Fairbanks, as a member of the "Big Four" —United Artists Corporation to use its full name—has been secured for an early presentation by the Grand Theatre.

United Artists Corporation is made up of Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith.

The United Artists feel that they will have greater freedom and consequently can do better work if they market their own pictures than if they permit their pictures to be marketed through outside channels.

The first picture to be put out by this new giant organization is "One of the Blood." The plans of the company are so full of promise of better things all around in the motion picture business, that theatres the country over have been most anxious to secure the first production to be made under these ideal conditions. The Grand Theatre will have the distinction of first exhibiting "One of the Blood" to the people of this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The picture itself is said to be the most ambitious production that Fairbanks has ever undertaken. Eight weeks were devoted exclusively to the preparation of the scenario. Joseph Henaberry who created the part of "Lincoln" in the "Birth of a Nation" and who assisted D. W. Griffith in producing "Intolerance," and also directed Douglas Fairbanks in "The Man from Painted Post," "Say Young Fellow" and other noteworthy successes, developed the scenario with the assistance of Elton Banks. Mr. Henaberry, of course, is the director of "One of the Blood."

Marjory Daw plays the leading female role in the picture and Frank Campeau, Sam Sothern, brother of E. H. Sothern, Lillian Langdon, Albert McQuarrie and other notables are included in the cast.

CROWN ATTORNEY MET AN OLD PAL

TOM TULLY RECALLS HIS SCHOOL DAYS—POLICE COURT NEWS

"Why I used to go to school with you," said Tom Tully to Crown Attorney Hatton in police court this morning.

"So you did," said the Crown Prosecutor in a sympathizing tone. When you want to have a booze why don't you hire a car or a rig and go out in the country where they can't lay hands on you."

"I live here in the city," said the amiable Tom.

"But go out in the country," argued Mr. Hatton.. "It would be cheaper than this $14.10 fine.

"I don't think I'll be back for a week," added Tully, who was found drunk on Simcoe street on Saturday.

Holland Refuses To Deliver Kaiser

EMPEROR BILL MADE HIS GET-AWAY A YEAR AGO TO-DAY—WILL NOT HOLD HIM.

HOLLAND'S VIEWPOINT

(Special to The Examiner.)

THE HAGUE, Nov. 10.—The former Emperor William came to Holland a year ago to-day. During this time there has been no demand, officially or unofficially, for his extradition or delivery to the Allies, nor has Holland changed its viewpoint toward him. This is learned from sources that are unquestionable. Holland's viewpoint as regards William Hohenzollern may be stated as follows:

The Netherlands, which for centuries has accorded political refuge to all considers the former Emperor and Crown Prince refugees, not as royalty, but as persons entitled to the same rights as any plain Johann Schmidt who fled to Holland during the war. This principle is so strongly held by the government and also by the press of Holland, that nothing is likely to change it. The Dutch government has made up its mind as to its conduct in event the surrender of William Hollenzollern is asked for. No official statement has been made in this connection, but it is learned that Holland considers the former Emperor beyond extradition as there is no possible way to hold him legally as a criminal. If they desired to insist on privilege, both the Hohenzollerns would be free to go where they liked, as they are in no sense prisoners. However, because they feel that they would embarrass Holland even further, they apparently have agreed to remain where they now are, at Amerongen. If the one time Emperor and Crown Prince desired to return to Germany they would be permitted to go. While it is possible that Frederick William may return to Germany some day, official circles in the Hague are inclined to the belief that William Hohenzollern is content to settle down to the life of a country gentleman at Doornenburg he has been permitted to buy a small estate because his long stay at Amerongen seemed unfair to Count Von Bentinck, whose castle he occupies.

DOCTORS ARE NOT REPORTING CASES

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, November 10. — The indications last night were that the smallpox epidemic had not by any means abated. It is the opinion of Dr. Hastings that the physicians are not reporting all cases to the department but are taking advantage of the fact that in so many instances the symptoms very closely resemble chickenpox and are therefore giving their patients the benefit of any possible doubt as they realize the inconvenience of having the home quarantined during the illness of the patient.

CANADA MUST ADOPT MEASURES CONSERVE COAL

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—In order to obtain more American coal than is needed for emergencies, Canada must adopt restrictions on the use of coal similar to those in effect in the United States.

This statement was made to-day by the Railroad Administration's Central Coal Committee after the members had read a complain in the Canadian House of Commons by J. D. Reid, Minister of Railways, that the citizens of Alberta were suffering from lack of fuel.

Replying to Mr. Reid's statement that nearly forty-five thousand Canadian railway cars were held on this side of the boundary against twenty-three thousand American cars in Canada, the Railway Administration officials said the movement of cars was as free and unrestricted as before the strike began. Many of these cars were sent from Canadian roads to coal-producing districts of this country before the strike began, it was stated, and they will be returned to their home roads as quickly as traffic conditions permit.

WILL NOT DEAL WITH BOLSHEVIK

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—Great Britain has no intention of opening peace negotiations with Lenine and Trotsky until the House of Commons has had an opportunity to discuss the subject, Bonar Law declared in the Commons to-day.

Bonar Law made this statement in answering a question with reference to Premier Lloyd-George's speech at the Guildhall on Saturday, in which he was supposed to have hinted at an attempt to negotiate peace with the Bolsheviki in Russia.

He declared that the Premier had simply expressed the hope that there would be some method of achieving peace with Russia.

IN MEMORIAM
—Lest we Forget—

BERTRAND—In memory of Pte. William Bertrand Elliott, who died November 10th., 1917, of wounds received at Passchendaele Ridge, on November 5th., a member of the C.A.M.C.

—Brothers.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Ada Sanders, who died Nov. 9th, 1918:

"Short and sudden was the call
Of one so dearly loved by all.
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought her death so near.
And only those who loved can tell
The pain of not saying a last farewell.
Some may think that we forget her
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the sorrow
That smiles hide all the while."

—Father and Mother.

IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of our dear sister, Ada Sanders, who died Nov. 9th, 1918:

We loved her, yes we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And He has sweetly called her
To yonder shining shore.

The golden gates were opened
And a gentle voice said come,
And with farewell unspoken
She calmly entered home.

—Sisters and Brothers.

MR. G. N. GORDON'S NAME HAS BEEN MENTIONED

MUNICIPAL ELECTION GOSSIP WARMING UP EARLY.

Mr. G. N. Gordon's name has been insinuated into the municipal election gossip that is showing more liveliness at this early stage than has been heard in many a day. Mr. Gordon has had considerable municipal experience but the demand sof his profession would scarcely permit the encroachments on his time that would result from the responsibilities of the Chief Magistracy.

In the meantime there is increasing speculation as to possible developments in the personnel of the Utilities Commission next year, but for the present all the intimations are only surmises.

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Backache or Bladder trouble.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

"BOOKMAKING" ARREST IS "A CHESTNUT!"

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Three men arrested on a charge of "making book" on horse races were discharged by Magistrate Bernard Douras the other day. In one case, that of Alexander Mitchell, a carpenter, Magistrate Douras severely reprimanded Detectives Martin Rothamel and Tom Brady for making the arrest.

The detectives testified that they saw someone hand Mitchell some money and when they arrested him he had $300 in his pocket and a clipping referring to horse races.

"When does a man lose his rights?" asked the Magistrate. "The fact that this man took money from another man and you put your hand in his pocket and found a clipping on the races do not signify that he is a bookmaker. Hasn't a man a right to have money in his pocket without being arrested? If I was standing on a corner and someone came up and gave me some money he probably owed to me, how would you prove I was a bookmaker? You'd probably put your hand in my pocket and bring out some chestnuts. That's what this case is—a chestnut."

FEARING TO CHILL GHOSTS.

SAYVILLE DEPOT, L. I.—The oldest landmark in Sayville, the unoccupied historic Gordon homestead, has been burned to the ground. It belonged jointly to the estate of the late banker, James T. Wood, who was associated with the notorious defaulting banker, Robin, when Wood placed the property in the name of a strange woman, whose whereabouts are unknown. This ghostly dwelling was removed in answer to many prayers of an incendiary nature. Local firemen were at the scene, but withheld the water, fearing to chill the ghosts dancing in the flames.

NO INTERFERENCE FROM THE ALLIES

PLEBISCITE AREAS HOLDING MUNICOPAL ELECTIONS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 10. — The Supreme Council has decided not to interfere with German municipal elections now being held in the areas where plebiscites are to be taken under the Peace Treaty.

It has decided, however, that such elections will be in no way binding upon the Allies, which will disregard them whenever necessary when the final settlement of affairs in the districts in question is affected.

GERMANY MAY HAVE WON WAR

"RUSSIA IS THE DECIDING FACTOR."

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—"Until you know what is going to happen in Russia, how can you tell who has won the war?" asks Aylmer Maude, writer on Russian affairs, in an address at King's College.

"It is quite possible," he proceeded, "that Germany is going to gain a very great deal more in the East than she has lost in the West."

NEARLY SUFFOCATED IN EAST SIDE

John Sullivan Falls in Quicksand.

The pulmotor was called to the Vermont Marble Works, East City, Saturday afternoon at 2.40, where Mr. John Sullivan, 198 James street, was nearly suffocated while excavating a sewer embankment composed partly of quicksand. The embankment fell in on him. Chief Grange sent Dr. C. H. Amys and followed himself with the pulmotor, but it was not required. Mr. Sullivan was taken to his home in Dr. Amy's car and is reported to be in a bad condition this morning.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

The following article was sent to the teachers and read in the schools in Peterborough:

Some days ago a school boy, while playing on the street, picked up an electric light wire. It seemed quite harmless, but he was instantly killed. During the last few years many lads have been killed by climbing poles and trees and touching wires.

The wires that you see supported on poles along the streets and roads all carry electricity, very often at high pressure (or, as it is called, "voltage") when it is very deadly. These wires are always dangerous and should never be touched under any circumstances.

Be careful to remmeber the following things:

1. Do no touch fallen or hanging wires.
2. Do not climb poles or towers.
3. Do not climb trees through which the wires pass.
4. Do no touch or shake guy wires.
5. Do not throw stones at the insulators.
6. Do not fly kites across the wires.
7. Do not stand below men working overhead.
8. If you see a wire down, report it.
9. Keep away from switching towers, sub-stations and power houses.

Canada Fights To Win

When Canada fought—Canada fought to win.

We are now in the midst of another campaign.

The Victory Loan is a campaign to raise money to pay the obligations that the war has left us, and to keep Canada prosperous.

The Victory Loan 1919 calls for vigorous individual and concerted action.

It is a national platform on which all citizens concerned in their country's prosperity and welfare can, without reservation, take a strong, emphatic stand.

The Victory Loan 1919 is the "clean-up" chapter in Canada's War History—it is needed to round out the most glorious of our achievements

It is needed to "carry on" the National Business—to successfully bridge the period from War to Peace—and to speed our country along the highway of international commerce in successful competition with other great nations.

Your personal co-operation is imperative.

Your support is vital.

It is unthinkable that Canadians—united for years when things looked dark—would not, in the same spirit of patriotism, unite in this last great war effort.

Let us show the world again that what Canada undertakes Canada accomplishes.

JUST POP A RAISIN IN A BOTTLE OF TWO P. C., ADD SOME YEAST AND THEN SEND FOR THE POLICE

TORONTO, Nov. 7.— Popping a raisin or two into a bottle of two and a half per cent. beer, or adding a little yeast to some innocent liquid and allowing it to work itself up to the point where it can produce trouble with the police, is an offence against the Inland Revenue Act, and will land the experimenter in difficulty.

A warning has been issued by Deputy Collector of Inland Revenue J. K. MacKenzie on this subject. "The public should be warned," he stated, in pointing out some of the clauses of the act. The particular one of interest is that which says that all the penalties of the act are provided for any person who 'distills or rectifys any spirits, or makes or ferments any beer or assists in distilling or rectifying any spirits or in making or fermenting any beer or mash in any unlicensed place."

It was intimated that under the present conditions anyone producing anything stronger than the O.T.A. allows, whether in their own house or elsewhere, would be liable to conviction under the Inland Revenue Act.

AMERICAM SECRECY OF COURT MARTIALS

(Vancouver Sun).

Eight Americans were hanged in France during the war. The Department at Washington refuses to give their names or any particulars. The official reason for secrecy is to save the feeling of relatives.

This explanation is commendable enough in its way, but it embodies a thoroughly vicious principle. Secrecy in the administration of any law, leads immediately and rapidly to abuse.

How much confidence would anybody have in the courts if a man could be convicted and hanged without a public hearing? How long would it be before such a tribunal was used for the deliberate murder of innocent men against whom somebody in power had a grudge? At the very least, would not judges under such conditions incline to be hasty, knowing they could not by any possibility be called to account for mistakes?

It is sincerely to be hoped the Congress of the United States will not let the matter rest. There should be a full enquiry. No person, and especially no court-martial, is fit to be trusted with the respousibility of inflicting the death penalty under such conditions.

Men, Men! Try It To-night--- Feel Fine To-morrow

When a man has lost ambition to "dig in" and stay at things—when he complains of headache, fullness in the right side, pains in the shoulder blade—it's purely a case of "Liver."

These symptoms invariably indicate a clogged, inactive liver. The body can't get rid of its wastes, and the whole system is half paralyzed.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver into activity in one night. Being a mild vegetable laxative they produce results in a few hours. The bilious headache and constipation are cured, spirits rise, complexion clears, animation returns. Nothing in the calendar so efficient for that tired, lazy feeling as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Very mild, don't interfere with work, invariably do lots of good. Try a 25c box, all dealers.

WHAT BECOMES OF IRON ORE?

America's largest manufacturing industry is iron and steel. The pig-iron recovered in smelting iron ore amounts to about 25 per cent. of the raw materials. The equivalent of about 14 per cent. is driven off by volatilisation in the coking of the coal; in the process of smelting a further 40 per cent. escapes in gas, fume, and dust, and the remaining 21 per cent. represents the slag.

Suffered With Boils Past Five Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, you misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robert Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writees:—"I hav suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters which I did and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

KEEP GOING.

Peterboro's Honor Flag is safe but how many crests can we win this week?.

THE KING'S REQUEST.

Every citizen of Peterboro can share in the Empire-wide tribute to the unreturning brave by observing the King's request of silence for two minutes at 11 o'clock to-morrow.

BETTER LUCK.

The United States Secret Service seems to have had more success in rounding up Reds than had the Chicago White Sox.

TRAIN WHISTLES.

The Port Hope Guide and the Lindsay Warder have been indulging in a little sparring match over the vexed subject of train whistling within the town limits. The Guide having complained of the G. T. R. locomotives creating a disturbance in Port Hope by their whistles, the Warder remarks that both G.T.R. and C.P. R. trains whistle in Lindsay, and no one says a word. As an impartial outsider may we add our testimony that the sweetest sounds we ever heard in either Port Hope or Lindsay was the whistle of the train that was to take us back to Peterboro.

A SPLENDID REGIMENT.

The meeting of the former members of the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles to-night for the purpose of forming a social organisation in which the memories of common service together can be maintained, should be of interest not only to the men of the 8th ,but to citizens generally.

B Squadron of the 8th C. M. R. was recruited and trained in Peterborough early in 1915, and next to the 93rd Battalion was the largest body of men that left this city at one time for overseas. Later, while the regiment was at Barriefield, having sent one draft overseas, a second quota was recruited in Peterborough.

The members of the 8th C. M. R. distinguished themselves and their home city by their splendid work overseas. Their casualty list was a heavy one, for the Mounted Rifles were in the thick of the fighting, and many of the men who marched away in 1915 lie beneath wooden crosses in France and Belgium.

To those who have come safely home, the new association should be a very enjoyable organisation, and Peterborough will wish it a successful and prosperous career.

A THREAT THAT SUCCEEDED.

The result of the vote on the report of the Special Committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in the House was a tribute to the political ingenuity of Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration and chairman of the Special Committee whose tactics defeated any possible chance of further bonuses for the soldiers, and drove even the members who in the debate had espoused the cause of the returned men, to swallow their speeches and line up to vote with the Government. Mr. Calder knew the card to play and played it without hesitation. The fear of precipitating an election—an election that would mean the disappearance of the majority of them from public life—was a bigger thing than the feeling that justice had not been done to the men who fought. And so Mr. Burnham, with his soldier Victoy Loan Scheme, and Mr. Tom Foster, with his tax on farm lands, and Major Andrews with his G. W. V. A. amendment, and Mr. W. F. MacLean, and Mr. Cockshutt, and the others who a short time before were preaching the cause of the soldiers, almost with tears in their eyes, meekly cast their votes against a resolution calling for the reference of the question back to the Special Committee. It was a sorry farce and the promise of Hon. Mr. Calder that the way is still open for further conferences on the subject—an evident sop offered to give some of the members a chance to save their faces—will not succeed in restoring to the eyes of the soldiers the reputation of those who talked one way and voted another because the danger of passing into political oblivion outweighed with them the cause of the returned men.

TO-MORROW'S TRIBUTE.

Peterborough's part in the Empire-wide tribute to the men who fell fighting for Britain in the world-war will be effective only in proportion to the extent to which the citizens observe the spirit of the King's message to-morrow. To carry out the full intent of the plan, it is necessary not only that work should cease for two minutes at eleven o'clock, but that as far as possible sound should also cease. People should ,therefore, not only stop work for the two-minute period, but should also refrain from talking.

The Great War Veterans have, since their organisation, paid tribute to the memory of the dead in a similar manner, the members at the beginning of each meeting standing with bowed heads and in silence for one minute in memory of their fallen comrades.

To-morrow the whole Empire is asked to share in this simple but striking ceremony, and to allow their thoughts to concentrate upon those who gave their lives for the safety of the Empire.

LET THE FLAGS FLY.

Although to-morrow, the first anniversay of Armistice Day, is not a general holiday, there is one way in which the people of Peterboro can co-operate in recognizing the importance of the occasion, by a generous display of flags. For some reason or other Peterboro has not been given in the past to a great deal of flag-waving. Some of the biggest events in the war failed to produce the National Ensign to the extent noticeable in other Ontario cities. Lack of patriotism cannot be ascribed as the cause, for Peterboro's recruiting record stood comparison with any centre in the Dominion and in patriotic giving her reputation was equally splendid. In the past few days her citizens have again shown the soundness of their patriotism by investing so liberally in the Victory Loan that Peterboro was the first city in the Province to win the coveted Prince of Wales' flag. It is evident therefore that whatever has been the reason that our citizens have been carelss in flying th flag on national occasions it was not because their patriotism was to be momentarily doubted.

To-morrow, the anniversay of that glorious day whose memory will never die, should be the occasion of a departure from the indifference of the past and should be marked by a display of the Union Jack greater than has been hitherto known here. Every citizen who has a flag should fly it to-morrow at his home or at his place of business.

THIS WEEK'S APPEAL.

Although Peterborough's Victory Loan record in the present campaign has been a splendid one, there must be in the city many people financially able to invest in the Loan who have not yet purchased 1919 Victory Bonds. They still have their chance, for the campaign does not come to an end until Saturday night.

This week should see the steady upward climb of the Peterborough total continue, but the growth of the city's subscription for the balance of the drive depends upon the smaller investor. The big firms, the individual citizen with the larger bank accounts, have for the most part contributed to their limit. So, indeed, have many other citizens, but there still remains a large number of people who are in a position to buy a $50 or $100 bond. To them the appeal goes out this week to add their quota to Peterborough's already splendid total. Every dollar will be needed, for the more the Loan is oversubscribed, the better will it be for Canada. The bigger the total, the greater will be the guarantee of a continuance of the country's prosperity.

Patriotism, thrift, commonsense are all represented in the purchase of Victory Bonds. It should be the resolve of everyone who can invest in the Loan, either by paying cash or on the instalment plan, that before the end of the present week they will have done all that was possible to make Canada's Victory Loan of 1919 a memorable success.

CONSERVATIVE FARMERS.

The radical misleaders of organized labor have long had hopes of, and of late have been making vain bids for, the support of the farmers. Farmers are naturally and traditionally conservative. They are used to the slow and orderly processes of nature. They are used to earning their bread in the sweat of their faces. They know that hard work, and plenty of it, is indispensable to success in their business or any other. They are suspicious of millenniums to be attained by giving high pay for little work. They know there is but one honest road to increase production and prosperity in industrial and agricultural labor. Hard-headed and thinking men, they are not carried off their feet by the seductive programs of agitators. Laborers and capitalists too, independent producers, they are little subject as a class to the rash theories which impose themselves upon the communicative ardor of thoughtless crowds. In spite of many successive "movements" and agitations, they see their own interest and they never lose their perception of the general public interest and their devotion to American institutions. Even temporarily formidable socialistic projects such as those of the Non-Partisan League lost their strength as their real purpose becomes clearer.

The Farmers' National Congress, which has been in session at Hagerstown, Md., passed some resolutions instructive for reproof and admonition to the radical labor leaders at present so perniciously active. The assembled farmers pledged themselves to a "steadfast support of the free institutions of the American Government" and declared the "conservatism of the American farmer a bulwark of national defense against the dangerous foreign influences at work today." They offered their help to "honest organized labor," but denounced the treason of false leaders who for pay and price would scuttle the Ship of State and rear the red flag of Bolshevism over the ranks of an outraged and fallen Republic." The revolutionists, imported and domestic, may ponder these pronouncements.

Striking straight and hard at a prevalent delusion or illusion, the Farmers' National Congress says:

> We know that the forty-four-hour week cannot feed the world, and we proclaim that it cannot clothe it. Those who advocate the short day in industy should not expect the farmer to work "six hours before dinner and six hours after," with before-breakfast and after-supper hours thrown in.

The farmers evidently regard "honest organized labor" as labor that is willing to do an honest day's work, that seeks to increase and not to diminish production. The congress recorded its opposition to "all strikes" and favored the establishment of a Federal Board of Arbitration that would give both labor and capital a "square deal." A small minority of radicals fought hard against the adoption of these sensible and patriotic resolutions, and left the hall after the vote. Opinions like theirs will be in a hopeless minority in any assembly of American farmers. Amid so much clamor of foreign propaganda it is refreshing and consoling to hear this clear and strong voice of American producers and conservative patriots.

On the same day we heard that the Bavarian farmers had resolved to send no food to towns where radicals are in revolt tnd to join the Citizens' Guards and march, if necessary, against such Soviet-infested towns. In Germany, too, the good sense and the innate conservation of farmers are a strong guarantee against the excesses of industrial revolutionists. —New York Times.

PATRIOTIC EDUCATION.

The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire have undertaken a great and worthy task in determining to raise a sum of $500,000 with which to carry on patriotic education as a memorial to the Canadian men and women who laid down their lives during the war to secure the liberty and freedom of the British Empire, and of the whole world. It was the training which these brave men and women received in British ideals and traditions, the benefits which they received from British rule, the glorious freedom which they enjoyed, that made them ready to offer up the supreme sacrifice in order that these should not perish. There is therefore the grandest reason that their memories should be cherished and the ideals and rtuths for which they died should be perpetuated; and no better place to do this could be found than that for which the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire appeals to Kingstonians to support with generous contributions.

The plan has been most carefully thought out, and includes courses of free lectures, illustrated to the children of Canada on the history and geography of the great British Empire of which they will be its future citizens. Scholarships are to be founded for disabled soldiers and for the dependents of those who were killed, and various other schemes will be carried on. But there is one which particularly deserves mention, that of placing in schools some of the reproductions of the Canadian War Memorial Pictures painted by leading artists of the Empire to commemorate Canada's share in the war. This is an excellent idea, for it will not only provide memorials of our brave heroes and heroines, and inculcate patriotism, but will be a means of training the minds of the pupils to appreciate art and good pictures. There is no doubt that the remembrance of pictures seen constantly in youth remains through life; a fact which is not paid sufficient attention to, as it is a method by which valuable lessons of great value can be silently taught not only as regards drawing, color, and composition, but moral lessons as well. The idea therefore of having these war pictures to inspire patriotism is correct and good; they will not, they cannot, inspire the love of war, for the pictures, or some of them will teach its horrors, and why it should be avoided except for such a cause as the defence of one's country or the upholding of Liberty and Right. We heartily commend this patriotic educational and memorial appeal to the public, and hopt that they will support it very liberlly.—Kingston Standard.

DISAPPEARING SILK SHIRTS.

"If your most expensive silk shirt is ruined after it has been washed don't blame it on the laundry," asserted Dr. Harvey G. Elledge, director of the Mellon Institute in Pittsburg, while addressing the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Laundry Owners' Association. "The shirt may be made of imitation or near-silk, some alleged silk shirts will disolve if left over night in water."

"If there were a federal pure fabric law passed, cotton could no longer be esold as all wool, mrcerized cotton could not be sold for linen or silk, and people would know what they were paying for," said the doctor.

ORDER OF THE BATH.

The quaint title of this well known institution has become so familiar that it has ceased to arouse much curiosity.

Many people even take it that the Order has some connection with the city of Bath.

Originally, however, a Knight of the Bath was literally knighted in his bath. The bath was placed under a canopy in one of the upper chambers in the Tower of London, and, after the knight-designate was in his bath and had well washed himself, the King came in, and, dipping his finger in the water, made a cross on his back, and, bidding him be good and true and brave, appointed him a Knight of the Bath.

It was after this ceremony that he donned a hermit's garb and watched his arms all night, as is so finely portrayed in "The Vigil" in the Tate Gallery.

CHAPTER CXII.

"Unless we do we cannot let you do so much for us," I said when Frederick objected to my plans. "Put an advertisement in the paper for the house, rent or sell, please, I have an inventory made for everything in it, and could give possession immediately."

"That's the spirit," he looked his admiration. Then: "By Jove! I wonder if Tearle wouldn't take it. I heard he was going to buy a house in New York, in fact that he was looking for one."

"That would be wonderful, but perhaps he would want it to go as part payment of what we owe," Neil suggested. "We can't do that if the small fry are to be paid off."

"We'll make a price for cash. If he doesn't take it someone else will. It is a lovely home. I am sorry, Mrs. Forbes, you feel it must be given up. But I guess there is no other way. You couldn't live here any way. It wouldn't do now."

No, I could see plainly it wouldn't do for us to attract any attention or to indulge in the slightest extravagance. And in truth I had no wish to. I felt crushed, as if all that I had thought worth living for had escaped me forever. This feeling would pass away, of course. It was wrong to give it entrance. I had Robert and I also still had Neil. It was all very hard, very dreadful, but I comforted myself as best I could by thinking that it wasn't so bad that it might not have been worse. Suppose that added to this terrible business trouble I also had lost him to Blanche Orton or some other woman. That I felt I could not have borne.

"I can't imagine what we should have done without you," I said trying to smile through my tears as Mr. Frederick begged me not to worry, that he would keep me in touch with what they did.

Then he said: "But we can do nothing if all these people think they can get at Forbes here. I do not intend one of them shall be cheated or go without a fair interest. But you must remember what they will receive will be very little compared to what they have been led to expect. But if they realize that it is that or nothing they will be only too glad to get their money back and more interest than the banks pay."

I tried to be brave and kissed Neil good-bye quite calmly. But when they had gone and I was sure I would not cause him worry by any tears, I gave way to the nervous tension I was under and cried for an hour. Really I felt better afterward, and at once began to make plans for leaving. I told all the servants they were discharged. I would keep one to help me pack, the others I let go at once, giving them a week's pay in lieu of notice. It was cheaper than to keep and feed them another week.

The cook and I worked all day packing up what I should need for Neil, Robert and myself. The house was spic and span, ready to show to anyone. I was a good housekeeper, my one accomplishment aside from my music. By night I was ready to leave. But now I must wait until the house was disposed of in some way. It would rent or sell better with someone in it. And it was just as cheap to stay there as anywhere if I did without servants.

One thing hurt. The very next day Robert's quarter was up at the select private school he had been attending. I wrote the teacher he would be a pupil no longer, then made arrangements for him to attend public school. I was surprised when I told him.

"Whooj, ja!" he exclaimed. I'm glad to go where so many boys go. I've always wanted to go to public school, mother, so don't look as if you were punishing me." I had told him nothing of our changed fortunes. But he was a manly little chap, so I sat down and told him his father had lost his money, that we would have to be very careful, live very differently. He looked serious, then said:

"I'm sorry for you and dad, but I don't care a bit for myself. Lincoln didn't have any money, couldn't even go to public school. But he got to be president of the United States, you know." Like many boys, Lincoln was his idol. He never tired of talking or reading of him, and treasured everything he could get together which reminded him of the martyred president. A large picture hung over his bed and several smaller ones adorned the walls of his room.

I hugged my boy close and breathed a little prayer of thankfulness tht he was so unspoiled.

UNCOMMON HONESTY IN PETERBORO

(By Frank H. Dobbin.)

In these days of profiteering, price raising and claims of an absence of business propriety on the part of many of the selling public, a little story of the other kind may point a moral.

Eighteen years ago a little, old and grey-haired Irish lady walked into the office of Sheriff Hall, at the Court House in Peterborough, and said, "Mr. Hall, I'm Mrs. Michael Hennessey, of Douro."

The Sheriff, who is ever courteous, brought a chair and asked where he could be of service. "It's just this way, Mr. Hall," said the old lady. "I want that you find the book in which your father made his accounts in the long ago, when he kept the store at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, beyant."

The Sheriff said: "That's a matter of forty two or forty-five years ago. Surely there's nothing in those books that would interest you or me at this date. "Sure its myself as knows that of which I'm spakin'. Fetch the book."

Going to the old vault, the Sheriff investigated. There he has kept the books of his father's business for many years. Why, he could hardly tell. His father came into the district in the early forties, opened business as a general merchant, afterwards engaged in the manufacture of leathers, was appointed to public office, resigned and was elected local representative to the Upper Canada House of Assembly. At the close of his term he was appointed sheriff, his son being his successor.

Mr. Hall found the book corresponding with the year indicated. "The account is here, Mrs. Hennessey, but it is balanced off all right in my father's own handwriting. Give yourself no further concern." But protested the old lady, "Look again, Mr. Hall, be careful and see if there be not some small balance."

Pathetic Memories.

The Sheriff added up the column of figures (it was in the old pounds, shillings and pence) and presently said that there seemed to be a balance of three shillings, but the account was marked settled at the time when his father went out of business.

Said the ld lady, "Indade, 'tis as I would expect, for I've had it in mind too long to be mistaken, an' now I'll tell you all the circumstances."

"We always traded at y're father's store, me and my husband. And one day me husband brought in a load of grain an' sold it for twinty pounds, and took the money to y're father, thinkin' it would square the account. But 'twas not so, entirely, for I had unbeknownst to him, gotten a few things, an' there would be left, as you say, a balance of three shillings."

"Said my husband, I will presintly bring to you, Mr. Hall, that three shillings." Tut, tut, said y're father," what is there shillings between old friends and man and customer?, Think no more of it. 'Tis settled, so it is."

"But, Mr. Hall," said my husband, "I will pay my honest debts." And y're father said, right off, to plaze the old man, "any time you have three shillings to spare, Mr. Hennessy, you may if you care so to do, bring it in." And they parted good friends as always. "D'ye know, from that day to the day my husband died, what with the burnin' down of the barn, an' the loss of many cattle, and the mendin' of the fences, an' two years of bad crops, and the fallin' in of the well and one thing an' another, we never really knew the day that we had three shillings to spare. An' after me husband's death, good man and a diligent provider, I had to manage things as best I might, I never seemed to have three shillings that I could spare. But I'd not forgotten it. But now, praise be, my son who lives in Michigan, writes that his wife is frail, and he axes will I come and live with them and help take care of the children, an' he sinds fifty dollars for my expinces, and I could not go away and live in a sthrange lanyd, knowin' that three shillings was unpaid. Here, take the money, give me a rayceit."

And the Sheriff, moved beyond measure, wrote the receipt, thanked the caller, saw her to the door, gravely shook hands, wished her a safe journey and returning to his desk dropped seventy-five cents into a corner of a drawer, where it reosed until handed to the Children's Aid Society, as being too sacred for other uses.—Star Weekly.

CALF WITHOUT FORELEGS.

KOKOMO, Ind. — Deputy Sheriff Walter Knisley has been given a freak calf by Charles Beck and Robert Craig, stockmen of Thorntop, Ind. The calf is eight weeks old and normal in every way except for the fact that it was born without forelegs. The absence of the front legs makes the calf strongly resemble a kangaroo. The deputy sheriff is trying to train the calf to walk upright on its hind legs.

PICKLED ONIONS

Remove with a knife the outer skins of small, silver-skinned onions Put the onions into brine strong enough to bear up an egg and let them stand for twenty-four hours. Drain thoroughly, place them in heated sterilized jars, and separate with thin layers composed of horse radish, stick cinnamon, cloves and a few whole peppers. Heat to the boiling point of brown sugar. Simmer for eight minutes, then pour into the jars, filling them to overflowing. Seal as for canned fruit.

PETERBORO ESTABLISHED ANOTHER VICTORY LOAN RECORD SATURDAY

LAST WEEK OF THE CAMPAIGN OPENS TO-DAY—CITY IS OUT FOR ANOTHER CREST—GENERAL REPORTS.

Peterborough established another Victory Loan record on Saturday when the combined objective for the city and county, was reached and exceeded. The joint objective of $1,800,000 was oversubscribed by $5,100, due very largely to the splendid work of the city canvassers, and good reports from the country, and the big total of $504,000 from special subscripeions, the latter being 68% above the amount allotted to Peterborough.

Saturday's results placed Mr. William Weir of Otonabee, high man for the county, P. E. Rutherford, high man for the city and Herb McCannan's team in first place on the day's returns.

And now for the last week of a campaign, that has been the most successful ever conducted in Peterborough. The City has the Prince of Wales flag, and the next six days will be spent in winning crests. This morning, the city canvassers had $90,905 of the $187,500 required to secure a crest, and all were confident that they could report the balance of $96,550, and thus place the city still higher.

Headquarters at Toronto are certainly watching the Lift Lock city and are not slow to give credit where it is due. The following wire was received this morning, congratulating the city and county on the double record established last week:

Toronto, Nov. 8, 1919,

Please convey thanks and appreciation of our Executive to Chairman Bradburn and the entire organization upon this achievment and for their splendid co-operation. G. H. Wood, chairman.

THE FIRST PEACE THANKSGIVING WAS HELD IN ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH

WAR VETERANS ATTENDED THE EVENING SERVICE—SPECIAL MUSIC BY THE CHOIR—THE SERVICE.

The first National Thanksgiving service for peace, held in St. George's church last evening, was in every way worthy of the occasion. The church was crowded and the War Veterans of the south end attended in full strength, headed by Lt.-Col. Young. The Boys Scouts also attended. The choir sang splendidly; and great credit is due their director, Mr. H. Soden.

Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P.

The first lesson was read by Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., and the second lesson by Mr. A. Kingdon. The presence of Mr. Tooms at the service was highly appreciated by the congregation.

The Sermon.

Instead of preaching a sermon, the rector, Rev. Mr. Price, gave an address on "The Great Occasion Commemorated." In opening he remarked that we were gathered together that evening in one of the geratest hours in the world's history. Britishers had gathered together many times before to give thanks for victory and peace as they did after the Armada, Blenheim, Waterloo, Sebastopol and other such occasions. Continuing, Mr. Price stated that Britain would never have such cause for rejoicing as she had at the present time. We had met together; we had sung together; we had knelt together and we had prayed together ;but what for? Not just in order to say how we rejoiced that this greatest of all wars was ended and that victory was won, but in order as member of Christ's society on earth. English church men, and other religious bodies, side by side, to give definite, thoughtful, loyal recognition to God for what he had done for us in the years of the war. And remembering all this, we would say with solemness, "I was glad when they said unto me, "Let us go unto the House of the Lord."

During course of address speaker asked what this peace meant. He pointed out that England had gained no material profit for herself. That was the greatest cause for thanksgiving, for her gain was greater than that. For she had gained the sympathy and affection of the newer and weaker races. That was explained by the fact that one and all agreed that whatever happened they wanted England to be the mandatory power.

Canada's Reason.

The speaker then turned to the consideration of Canada's reason for thanksgiving. Although she had lost nearly 60,000 of the flower of her young manhood and nearly three times as many of her sons were grievously disabled she could not help being profoundly thankful. One reason was the high consideration rendered her by the great powers because of her glorious record in the war. Another was the status yielded her in the family of nations. For these reasons, if for no other, the speaker thought that we should hold thanksgiving services.

The Originators.

Continuing Mr. Price pointed out what a great debt we owed to the men who had fought to bring us victory and peace. Could we ever forget those men and their deeds? Then, too, there were the men of whose deeds no word has been preserved, thousands of such men. Mr. Price thought that if the glory of victory was to be ascribed to any man and not to God it ought to be ascribed to those who had fallen.

In conclusion Mr. Price exhorted the congregation to give thanks first to God, then to their fallen comrades, and lastly to themselves. "Write this on your hearts," he concluded.

"As long as I live, and with all my strength I will strive to make Canada a glorious country, worthy of the blood of those heroes" and I would show my gratitude to God not with words that pass away, but with deeds that live."

SHORT OF BREATH COULD HARDLY WALK WITHOUT RESTING

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

MEMORIAL WINDOW UNVEILED IN KNOX CHURCH YESTERDAY

NAMES OF THE MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH WHO HAVE MADE THE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE.

Yesterday at the morning service in Knox Church, fitting tribute was paid to the memory of the members of the church who have made the supreme sacrifice, when a memorial window bearing the names of the men was unveiled by Mrs. Walter Roger.

The large congregation was augmented by the presence of a very large representation from the Great War Veterans, who occupied the centre of the church.

Read the Names.

Preceding the unveiling of the window, Mr. Andrew McKenzie gave a short account of the plans for the erection of the memorial. It was decided, he said, early in January by the committee to erect some tribute to the unreturning brave, and a tablet was at first chosen. Later, however, the plans were changed, and a window selected and authorised by the congregation. Continuing, he said that no gift was great enough to compensate the sacrifice made, a sacrifice which, like that of Calvary, was too great to understand. He concluded by observing that the window had been placed in the church to keep the names of the men ever before the people that their memory might never fade.

The names on the beautiful stained glass window—which depicts Christ standing by a Crusader, and bears the text, "My grace is sufficient for thee"—which were read out by Mr. McKenzie, are:

The Sermon.

The text of the sermon given by the pastor, Rev. James A. MacKenzie, was St. Luke, chapter 22, verse 19: "And he took bread and gave thanks and brake it, and gave unto them saying, This is my body which is given for you; this do in remembrance of me."

In the two words, "in remembrance," the pastor observed, we have the loving request given to the disciples by Christ that they do this thing he asked in the text to remind the coming generations that He died that we might have eternal life. It is characteristic of the human being to forget. The Saviour knew human nature and established the Eucharist that his love, fellowship, and sacrifice might be held in the memory of the children of men.

Uses of Memory.

It is memory, he continued, that binds the past with the present, unites the separate experiences of our lives. Without it we would have no history, Bible, or indication of what has gone before us. There is not a person but can go back to-day to the associations of long ago, and although there are things we should like to blot out of our memories, we have to acknowledge in a broad view of the whole situation that God has been good to us in granting us the gift of memory.

It is because we wish to hold in memory the sacrifice of those who fell in the war that we meet to-day and unveil this window, the pastor continued; and it is a a great thing that we are here to-day consecrating our memory to those who have gone for us and to the great deeds they have done. Although we do not see them, we believe that thy live.

Through memory we are able to discriminate what is worth while, what is secondary, and if things are worth while at all. We live with our associates, and to a great extent our eyes are closed to their splendid attributes, and it is not until they are taken from amongst us that we appreciate just how noble those people were. In the heat of our activities we are apt to forget what memory will later teach us. Memory teaches us to discriminate what are the great events of the past. Mr. MacKenzie instanced this by reminding us of the sacrifice made by the Carpenter of Galilee, which was to all appearances an ordinary thing. The greatest idealism, he said, may live amongst the most contradictory surroundings. Again memory inspires. I believe, the speaker continued, that God instituted the Eucharist to fill us with hope. Memory inspires us not only to hope, but to service.

Now in paying tribute to the sacrifices of the men whose names are on the window, we need no words, Mr. MacKenzie concluded. Let the sacrifices they have made, and the people have made, live in our hearts in the form of hope.

The Music.

The music at the service was particularly attractive and appropriate. The anthem, "Crossing the Bar," was sung by the choir, with a world of feeling, also the male quartette, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

BRIDGEBURG "DRY" IN REALITY NOW

Stern Enforcement of U. S. "Dry" Law Does What O.T.A. Never Did.

BRIDGEBURG, Ont., Nov. 10. — One might say, if it could be said, "for the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant," Bridgeburg is "dry," bone-dry, high and dry, etc., but the present state of affairs antedates even the memory of the first settler.

Bridgeburg is dry now. It was never dry under the Ontario temperance act, being situated so near the city of Buffalo that a change of law merely meant a change of patronage. When the United States government dry law went into effect, Bridgeburg was not dry for the simple reason that Buffalo, while on the surface bone-dry, was as damp as a deserted cellar under that surface.

But this week there came a change. The United States government has decided to enforce the "dry" law to the letter, cutting off the sale of beer stronger than a half of one per cent., or "cereal water," as it is better known and knocking the blind pigs out of existence utterly.

FOUND GUILTY OF NEGLECT

THREE YEARS' PUNISHMENT FOR MAN WHO ALLOWED A SERIOUS SITUATION TO DEVELOP.

Failure to take proper precautions has been responsible for many deaths, and is the cause of much suffering and hardship to-day.

Take the case of Wm. Dunn, 213 Gerrard St. East, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Dunn was a chronic rheumatic sufferer for ten years. Three years of that ten he spent in bed suffering indescribable torture. Picture the joy of this man on finding that Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules were restoring him to normal health again. Here are a few extracts from his letter to us: "During the past ten years I have been laid up with Rheumatism. One attack confined me to my bed for a year, and a second attack left me helpless for over two years. After I had tried almost everything, a friend got me a box of T.R.C.'s, and a few doses convinced me that I had at last found the proper remedy for my trouble. T.R.C.'s improved my condition rapidly, and I feel that had it not been for T.R.C.'s I should have been laid up for years." T.R.C.'s are certainly wonder workers. Try them

SHE COULD NOT STAND OR WORK

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it that at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the credit."—Mrs. Josephine Kimble, 605 West Race St., Portland, Ind.

Thousands of American women give this famous root and herb remedy the credit for health restored as did Mrs. Kimble.

Don't "Leave it to George"

Canada was never lacking in war enterprise—war strategy—war efficiency. She always carried out successfully her plans of war.

Now—we must apply the same determination and energy to the plans of peace, for we now have new problems to solve.

We are faced with the great work of readjusting our Country from a War to a Peace footing.

Our immediate duty is to provide the national working capital without which it will be impossible to carry out the Plans of Peace.

Demobilization, bonuses to soldiers, civil re-establishment, credit loans to Britain for the purchase of Canadian surplus products, ensuring continued employment to our workers. All these call for national capital, and the Victory Bonds 1919 will provide that capital.

Therefore, the success of the Victory Loan is not something that concerns "the other fellow" only.

You have a part to play.

Your individual prosperity is at stake.

YOU must support the Victory Loan just as enthusiastically as your fellow citizens.

Canada must have the money to carry out the Plans of Peace.

If things are to be kept "humming" you must—

OTTAWA WINTER FAIR

A big profitable stock, meat and produce trade is open to Canada overseas and the success of the live stock industry in this country depends upon the extent and variety of our export trade. Our live stock, and live stock products available for export at the present time fall a long way short of meeting the demand so that the extension of all branches of the live stock business and the number of those engaged in it is very important at the present time.

Live Stock Exhibitions and Fat Stock Shows occupy a very important position in the improvement of our live stock industry and can do a great deal towards improving the industry during the reconstruction period. It is our show rings that develop breed type and set standards for the various classes of live stock, and where the breeders exhibit the results of their breeding, ideals and feeding ability, and it is here also that the young breeder and farmer, learn the type of the different breeds and the requirements of the market. The Ottawa Winter Fair plays a very important part in the development of our live stock industry in this connection in stimulating breeding of better live stock and in properly finishing the animals for the market. The Board of Directors are doing everything possible to make the show to be held in January next of the greatest possible benefit to all classes and to encourage the development of our live stock industry at this critical time. People from all parts of Ontario attending the Winter Fair will undoubtedly see the greatest fat stock and poultry show ever held in the east.

The prize lists for the Ottawa Winter Fair will be ready about November 15th and may be obtained on application to the secretary. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue.

LOCAL DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

It is six years since a National Convention of the Young Women's Christian Association in Canada has been held. This year, it is to be held in Hamilton, from November 13th-18th. These six years have been marked by growth and development. Local associations have grown in number, and the work in each local association has increased in scope and diversity. The association took a large part in war work. Hostess houses were among the most useful agencies working among the soldiers. The agricultural camps played an important part in increasing Canadian production, and allowing women to take their part on the farm. Hostels for munition workers enabled the Government to rely on a steady supply of workers in communities where labour was short. If the association was useful in war time, a still bigger service lies before it in this day of reconstruction. And it is this reconstruction in all its phases which is to be the thought of the Convention.

The Opening Day.

The first day is to be given to a consideration of the whole purpose of the association. Mr. Bishop, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A, and Miss Una M. Saunders, general secretary of the Y.W.C.A., will set forth the subject. Miss Mabel Jamieson, general secretary, Montreal, will speak on "To-day's Challenge to the Association."

Realizing that industry presents one of our largest reconstruction problems, another day is to be given to the consideration of Christ's Spirit in industry. Miss Friedmann, of the National Board, U.S.A., and Dr. Pidgeon, of Toronto, will speak and lead discussion on this subject.

Internationalism — world-fellowship —is not only an idea but one of the practical issues of the day, therefore a day is set apart for the consideration of the association's world-programme. Miss Caroline Macdonald, of Japan, and Mrs. Plumptre and Miss Beatty, National Secretary, Toronto, will lead the discussion and thought on this world-idea. Miss Margaret Slattery, whose books on girls' work are so well-known, will hold a meeting for girls on Sunday evening, and will lead the forum on leadership on Monday morning. Lady Falconer, president of the Dominion Council, will take the chair at the morning and afternoon meetings; while it is hoped that at the evening meetings Dr. Sparling and Mr. Wilson of Hamilton, the Bishop of Niagara, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Mr. Wardrope, and the Mayor of Hamilton will take the chair.

Full Quota.

Beside the full quota of members from all the Ontario associations, it is expected that Mrs. Leckie from Vancouver, Mrs. Mader and Miss Palmer from Halifax, Mrs. McAvity from St. John, Mrs. Darlington, Miss McIntyre and others from Quebec, Miss Bradshaw from Edmonton, Miss Sutcliffe, Miss McElheran and other from Winnipeg will be present. Mrs. Scott, president of the local association, and Miss Layton, the general secretary, hope to attend.

Hamilton is throwing open its doors to the delegates: the ministers of the different churches are lending their churches and giving their own time and inspiration to the meetings. The Eastern Canadian Passenger Association are giving special convention rates, so there is every reason to expect a large and enthusiastic gathering.

BERLIN'S NIGHT REVELLERS LOST THEIR TAXI SERVICE

BERLIN, Nov. 10.—(By the Associated Press.) —Taxicabs and motor cars for hire must disappear from the streets between midnight and six o'clock in the morning. An order to this effect has been issued by the Police Department. It is a result of overcharging and insolence of drivers, who refuse to accommodate theatre patrons and late diners to reserve their vehicles for traffic from all night resorts.

"Lights out!" was the order at all the Berlin railway passenger stations at midnight. They will remain dark for eleven days while employees devote daylight to a much needed housecleaning.

Suspension of passenger traffic ordered by the government to permit the movement of coal and potatoes caused the stations to be crowded all Tuesday with incongruous throngs attempting to obtain places on the last trains.

LIMOUSINE AS PIGSTY.

WOODBURY, N. J. — A $3,000 limousine was used as a pigsty here, probably the only instance of a pig enjoying such luxurious quarters. Former Councilman Amos Wick won a pig at a carnival in a nearby town, and was notified that the prizes were ready for distribution. Driving to the town Wick was surprised to find that his prize was not even crated, so he tossed the animal in the limousine and hurried home.

Wick put the pig in an old chicken coop, preparatory to taking it to a farm for fattening. The pig broke out during the night and in the morning was found huddled under the limousine, evidently preferring the car to its other quarters.

GETTING THE HABIT OF SAVING MONEY

It is a funny thing, but the more you save, the more you want to, and perhaps someone will say "Miser!" but it is not that. Having once started you realize what it means. Even though you have only a small sum tucked away, it is a comforting thought to know that if an urgent call should come for some extra dollars, it would not catch you unawares.

The first year we had Victory Bonds —or War Bonds, as we called them— the majority of girls and women who bought them confined themselves to one solitary fifty dollar bond.

Last year what happened? Without any persuasion women took two, three, four—as many as they felt they could possibly carry. Not that their whole thought was "Saving"—in fact the chief thought was of serving Canada, and being loyal to the men who were still fighting in France. There was no holding back. Canada needed the money and it was everybody's responsibility to help.

One canvasser entering an office where half a dozen girls were to be canvassed, began explaining in detail just why they should buy bonds. "Don't waste time," said one girl indignantly, "we are not wondering whether we will take one, we are just trying to figure out the highest limit we dare go."

But to return to the "saving" sense. Back of the spirit of loyalty which urged each to do her share, there was the comfortable realization that it would mean more money put in a safe place for that possible emergency. This year there is the same call on our patriotism. It is not Canada's battle line in France that has to be backed up with our dollars this time, but it is that same khaki army, with many gallant men war-worn and disabled, now home again, which still needs our backing.

Canada has urgent need of all the money we can lend for completing demobilization, and at the same time keeping step with other nations in growth and development.

Canada at peace may be less appealing to our heroic sense than Canada at war, but her needs are just as real and her people just as loyal. Perhaps this year our minds dwell a little more on the practical end—on the importance of individual saving: and the business woman or the woman at home who took three bonds last year—who revels in the feeling of positive wealth they give—will be figuring out how she can take five or six this year.

SUGAR HISTORY IN BRIEF FORM.

Sugar has been an important article of commerce since the art of refining and crystallisation was discovered about the middle of the fourtenth century. Sugar cane was known much earlier. It was grown to be eaten as "sweet sticks" in pre-historic times in India and other parts of Asia. It was, however, not before 1605 that the sugar content of beets became widely known.

In that year Olivier de Serres, a French agriculturist, published the result of his experiments on sugar beets. In 1747, Marggraf, a German chemist, developed a process for extracting the ugar from beet, and in 1784 the first commercial beet factory was established at Cunern, Silesia. France subsequently took the lead in perfecting the technical development of this brance of sugar extraction.

KISS COSTS VICAR $10.

LONDON.—The Rev. Herbert John Martin, vicar of Holy Trinity, Brompton, Chatham, was fined $10 at Chatham for kissing Annie Elizabeth Gladys Topping, who was in his service as a day girl.

Mr. Martin admitted that on one occasion he may have given the maid a red and white rose in the garden and told her that one stood for pure love and the other for passionate love.

TRUE STORY OF BEAR HUNT.

The person, or persons, who had the story printed about two weeks ago concerning Mr. Kitney and the brown bear that strayed from his home near the Oval the previous night, try to make, as far as they are concerned, a laughing stock of Mr. Kitney in the public eyes. However, I hope that the next time such a thing occurs they will try to get their statemens correct before having them printed, because there wasn't one of the statements correct that were printed in the paper.

In the first place the bear never bit Mr. Kitney, nor did he retreat from the animal, because Mr. Kitney had the bear up the tree before the brave and early hunting party arrived. However, what can you expect from our brave and brilliant police force. They are always awake at the wrong time.

I have even heard since from one who knows that one of the brave constables threatened to shoot the bear if it moved, which was already dead. I think for my part he should have been awarded with a V.C. for such a brave deed.

DRASTIC ACTION BY THE O.H.A. SENIOR STARS ARE BARRED

FRANCHISES WILL BE LIMITED TO CLUBS THAT HAVE STANDING—MUST BE PERMANENT—JUNIOR CLUBS ARE REGULATED.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—At the first meeting of the Ontario Hockey Association Executive for the season, held last night in The Telegram building, drastic action was taken to remove control of clubs from the irresponsible and temporary direction which had brought about undesirable conditions, especially in junior hockey and in Toronto.

It was laid down that the policy of the O. H. A. was to grant franchises only to clubs representing permanent and responsible organizations engaged in some form of athletic sport. The matter was opened by an application from the Galt Amateur Athletic Association, and the executive ready with a plan for dealing with the affair in a general way. Whenever possible it will be required that general amalgamation athletic associations be formed, and where such exist the O.H.A. franchises will be awarded to them.

List of Eligibles

The sub-committee was instructed to prepare a list of organizations qualified, and the following were agreed on as eligible for membership under the new conditions in Toronto, Hamilton, Kitchener and Midland:—

Toronto (senior)—University of Toronto, Dental Alumni Association, Balmy Beach Canoe Club, Aura Lee Athletic Club, Argonaut Rowing Club, Don Rowing Club, Parkdale Canoe Club, Granite Club.

Toronto (intermediate) — Playground Athletic Association, Interchurch Athletic Association, Toronto (Beaches) Hockey League.

Toronto (junior)—High Schools Athletic Association, Beaches A.A., Central Y.M.C.A., West End Y.M.C.A., Broadview Y.M.C.A., University Schools, Upper Canada College, St. Andrew's College, St. Michael's College, De la Salle Collegiate, and any other senior organizations.

Hamilton (senior) — Hamilton Athletic Association.

Before franchises are granted the responsible officers of these associations will be required to guarantee to the O. H. A. the satisfactory conduct and management of their respective hockey teams. Complete financial statements must be presented at the close of the playing season and when called for during the season.

Players Barred

A further step in the direction of the scrunity of players was taken in the adoption of a list which is likely to be added to before the new certificates are issued for the coming season, of holders of certificates which will not be renewed this winter. Toronto and Hamilton men compose the list so far, the names being —D. M. Breen, Cecil Dye, J. F. Heffernan, E. G. Farr, Glenn Smith and A. J. McCafferty, of Toronto; M. R. Roach and T. E. McCarthy, of Hamilton. It was also provided that O.H.A. players cannot take part in any games, exhibition or otherwise, in which players who are denied certificates compete.

New Territory.

Applications for membership from outside points indicated a continued popularity for the game, though several were of a nature that they could not be granted. Athletic Director Vincent P. Dacey of the City of Detroit, asked for the inclusion of the Detroit Community Hockey League but that territory is outside of the O.H.A. jurisdiction ,and Detroit has no covered rink. The Napanee, Dutton and Ayr rinks do no come up to O.H.A. requirements, and Cannington's application awaits information on the same point. The Galt A.A., Welland A.A., Parry Sound and Depot Harbor applications were granted.

The resignation of Mr. Frank Hyde, of Woodstock, who has been a member of the executive for many years, was accepted with a resolution of appreciation of Mr. Hyde's useful service in the cause of the game.

North Country.

A strong league has been formed in Northern Ontario, with officers who will see that it is carried out on amateur principles. Affiliation with the O.H.A. was granted, and the Northern winners in their series will play off with O.H.A. intermediate and junior winners. It will have two series, called senior and junior, but corresponding to the O.H.A. intermediate and junior. As at present constituted the Northern Ontario Hockey League consists of these groups:

Northern—Timmins, Schumacher Central—Cobalt, Haileybury and New Liskeard.

Southern —North Bay, Sudbury and Copper Cliff.

Soos and Ottawa.

Dealing with applications from the Canadian and American Soos, the O.H.A., will suggest to the Northern that it take the Canadian Soo into its southern group.

Application was also had from Ottawa organizations, which will be advised that their territory is under the jurisdiction of the Quebec Association.

President R.M. Glover, of Peterboro, was in the chair, and the other members present were: Sheriff Paxton of Whitby; A. E. Copeland, of Midland; W. A. Fry, of Dunnville; Wm. Easson, of Stratford; R. P. Parker of Hamilton; Richard Butler, of Lindsay; G. H. MacKay ,of Kingston; P. S. Pearce, of Kitchener; Francis Nelson, of Toronto, and Secretary W. A. Hewitt.

Y.M.C.A. BOWLING SCHEDULE

Owing to a change in the schedule, the Lawn Bowlers played the Rollers on Saturday night instead of Wednesday in the Y. Five-Pin League. The Lawn Bowlers captured the three games, while the Rollers tried hard to retaliate, as the five from the Y were out to win, but not at the pace set by the Lawn Bowlers after they passed their first frames. All the players worked hard to win, while a few worked for high individual scores, as McGee held the high score until Friday night, when he lost out to Elliott in the first game. Scores:

'INDECENT' CHURCH DRESSES STIR PASTOR'S WRATH

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Nov. 10. —"The indecent dress of some women in our churches makes it tremendously difficult for a young man to keep his thoughts clean and pure," declared the Rev. J. R. Crowther, of Seattle. "In public these days you can scarcely tell the difference between a street woman and a church woman."

He made this assertion at the National Training Conference of the Inter-Church World Movement of North America.

What the relation of the church toward presen tday industrial and social problems should be was one of the features of thesession. The "students", numbering more than a hundred, representing twelve or more of the large Evangelical denominations associated in the interchurch organization, will go from here as the faculty of a "national Christian extension university" to be conducted in every State next month. Its purpose is to explain the interchurch movement.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR 500,000 BBLS. FLOUR.

MONTREAL.—Contracts for a farther 500,000 barrels of flour have been given to the milling companies, to be divided proportionately.

This, with the previous contract for 1,200,000 barrels, makes a total for the year to date of 1,700,000. The contracts are for spring wheat milling, and quotations are at $10.65 per barrel in jute bags, delivered at the seaboard up to December 15.

Some of the exportation of this will come to the port of Montreal, and the balance will have the option of going through St. John, N.B., or through Portland.

The new business handed out to the milling companies amounts, according to the figures given, to $5,325,000.

To Supply Natural Gas Deficiency.

It is expected that in the near future artificial gas for heating purposes will be substituted largely for natural gas in the Pittsburgh and other districts, where a considerable shortage in supply of natural gas has developed. This was the prediction made at a conference held recently under the auspices of the Public Service Commission in Pittsburgh. The Philadelphia Co., which has been a large supplier of natural gas for many years, it is stated, is now prepared to supply 7,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas per day, and expects in the near future to be able to supply 30,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas per day.

Voice Of The People

Peterborough, 10th Nov., 1919.

Editor, The Examiner.

Sir,—In carrying out the two-minute silent tribute to our noble dead, may I suggest that immediately before 11 a.m. a verse of "Nearer, My God, to Thee" be sung; at 11 a.m., two minutes' silence; followed by a verse of "God Save the King" and the refrain of "O Canada." This could easily be carried out in homes, offices, stores, and manufacturers' plants. The Peoples' Chimes will sound out from 10.45 to 11 (town clock time) suitable hymns, carrying out the programme suggested above as a conclusion.—Yours truly.

Richard J. Devey, Chimemaster.

Sir: Under the above heading in Friday's issue, Mr. Reginald Smith seemed to be greatly perturbed because bread is sold at 22c the 3 lb. loaf in Peterboro. His reason for being disturbed was occasioned by your report the day before being erroneous as to the weight of bread in St. Catharines. It should have read 24c the 3 lb. loaf.

The bakers of Peterboro would gladly welcome an investigation as urged by your correspondent and we promise every assistance should a responsible committee be appointed.

Bread at 11c as in Peterboro is the cheapest and best aticle of diet that anyone, old or young, can use, and we would urge upon the public generally to look into the subject and economize by using more bread.

Yours very truly,
WM. STOCK & SONS.

Sir: Kindly allow me through your paper to dispel the idea that the bakers are charging profiteering prices for their bread in Peterboro, as voiced by Reginald Smith in Friday's paper. He quotes the price in St. Catharines to show us how our price should be 18c the large loaf.

Now for his enlightment I will give him the cost of 1 lb. of bread delivered in Toronto, Ottawa and St. Catharines.

	Tor. Ot.	St. C
Flour per bbl.	10.93 10.89	10.96
Flour per lb.	4.096 4.058	4.031
Ingredients per lb.	.598 .521	.510
Baking, per lb.	.645 .813	.768
Delivery, per lb.	1.240 .881	.979
Management & Overhead lb	.511 .392	.540
Cost of one pound bread	7.040 6.665	6.708

This table was compiled by the Board of Commerce of Canada. I have not got the exact tabulation of Peterboro's prices but they will compare favorably with the above.

Now, this proves beyond a doubt that the price in Peteboro does not allow any bananza for the bakers.

Another point I would like to mention is the substantial increases in the working bakers' wages. Last July without any raise in the price of the loaf.

Now, Mr. Smith, study this a little and I am sure that you will withdraw your advice to the ladies to bake their own bread and teach the bakers a lesson.

I remain, yours truly
R. FRENCH.

Little Autumn Bride Entertains Sextette

Six Girl Friends Meet for the First Time Since the End of the War.

The September bride was giving a tea to the five girls who had been her best friends for years. The six of them had been known as "The Sextette" and had been inseparable until the war.

The little captain was just back from the war, and Dot had married him as soon as he was discharged.

Of the six, Mary had suffered most heavily as her husband had been killed in action leaving her and her wee baby alone and with few funds.

Dora had completed her training as a nurse and was doing splendid work in one of the big military hospitals. Alive was a "green sister" and was turning her knowledge of basketry to good account in the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

Kathleen, whose lover had gone overseas early in the war, had been the stay-at-home of the crowd.

Anne was a business girl, and came in, her cheeks glowing from her walk in the crisp autumn air.

"Oh, isn't this heavenly," she ejaculated as she sunk into a chair. "Dot, you ought to be so glad you have a home so we can all get together again."

"I am," said the September bride, with glowing face. "Not for that reason entirely though."

"What is doing up town?" asked one of the group. "I feel as if I am out of the world when I don't go up town once in a while."

"Well, the town is getting pretty busy," answered Anne. "You know the Victory Loan starts next week, and the hive is humming already."

"Anne ought to know a lot about it as she works in a broker's office," said Dot as she poured the tea into the pretty fragile cups.

"I am finding out a lot about it every day," replied the business girl. "You'd be surprise at how many reasons there are why this loan should be a smashing success."

"I just know one personally," said the little bride. "It is needed to pay for bringing my boy home to me."

"Demobilization," stated Anne. "Exactly. Everyone wanted their boys back as soon as the armistice was signed, and Canada did her best and got them across in marvellously quick time, considering the number there were. Now the expense of it all has to be met."

"I know that the hospitals have to be kept up for a long time yet," said the nursing sister. "The boys that have been wounded and broken in health need much care yet, and they are looking to Canada to give them back their health if possible. The doctors and nurses must be paid, and the hospital equipment maintained, and it all takes money. I should think the Victory Loan of 1919 would be needed for that."

"A second good reason," said Anne. "Obligations to soldiers in hospitals."

"For my part I feel that the boys who are getting better need a lot of attention," said the "green sister." "I find in my work such a lot of them that cannot go back to the old jobs they had on account of a lost leg or arm, and they are worrying about what will happen to them when they get out of hospital."

"True, now you have hit a good reason," Anne remarked. "It is to help these very boys that the loan must go through. Canada is undertaking to train every man that has been crippled or otherwise disabled so he cannot resume his pre-war occupation, so that he can earn his own living. And the department sees to it that he gets a position when his course is completed. We must lend our money to give these boys a chance."

"They lost their limbs for us," said the war widow softly.

"Mary, dear, you are one of the very best reasons why every cent of the loan must be raised," said Anne, giving a loving glance at the black-clad figure. "All the dependents of our glorious dead must be provided for. Think, girls, of all the wives and babies and mothers that are finding it hard now to make ends meet. We must think of them, and lend generously."

"I'm a reason, too," said Kathleen. "Harry wants to go on a farm. You girls can laugh if you like, but I would make a dandy farmer's wife. Harry says the Government will lend him enough money to buy and stock a farm. He will have twenty years to pay for it, and the rate of interest is low. He says there are 35,000 returned men who want to go on the land."

"That's a fine reason," said Alice. "Besides helping the returned soldier to help himself, it is aiding production and that is badly needed all the time."

"Now you have touched a reason that I can talk about," said Anne, the business girl. "You see, girls, Canada depends on selling the surplus products of the farm and the factories to allied countries, especially Great Britain. Well, unless Canada has enough money to give credits to these countries they won't buy from us at all. If England went elsewhere for her food stuffs and her manufactured materials, just think what it would mean. Our factories would close down and men would be out of work—"

"Oh, Anne, don't! That is too awful to think about," said the September bride. "I still have two cheques that were wedding gifts, and I am going right down Monday and put them into Victory Bonds."

"That's fine," said Anne. "It will be a sure way to save it, and you'll get such a nice lot of interest. I hope I get a Victory Bond for a Christmas present myself."

Come on Everybody! Shove the Indicator Forward

YOU dare not let Canada's Prosperity Indicator slip back; you must keep shoving it forward. Every dollar added shoves it over that much nearer to Continued Prosperity.

Great Britain is prepared to place large orders in Canada, but she is temporarily unable to pay cash for them.

Canada can get these orders if sh gives Great Britain credit. Canada can give this credit if you provide the money to pay the workers on these orders.

You will provide the money through your purchase of Victory Bonds.

Therefore the more Victory Bonds you buy the more orders Canada will get—the more money there will be to distribute among our workers—the more money there will be put in circulation for the benefit of all.

Canada's Prosperity will be in proportion to Canada's purchase of Victory Bonds.

There are only five more days.

BRITISH MORALE

Into the merits of the dispute between ord French and Mr. Asquith, as to the shortage of shells in 1915, this is not the place to enter. Unh pily it has involved the name of Lord Kitchener. The essential fact is that there was a shortage and the Germans knew it. What they could not understand was that the British Army, improvised in as many weeks as their own had taken years to create, could, without loss of morale, face artillery and high explosives to which it could not reply. The courage and devotion of British officers and men in such circumstances needs no finer testimony. That apart what concerns every citizen of the British Empire is that both Lord French and Admiral Jellicoe have now shown how narrow was ister was averted. The Fleet was not the preponderant force and if the told contemptibles saved the situation at Mons the Territorials and the earliest recruits of Kitchener's army achieved not less notable trium hs. British morale was were in consequence indistinguishable from defeats. A German thority recently claimed that many won 500 victories; doubt he is still wondering why Ger lost the War.—United Empire.

CAPTAIN COOK FEELS FINE, NOW

VETERAN CONDUCTOR PRAISES TANLAC FOR OVERCOMING HIS TROUBLES.

"A few bottles of Tanlac has made me feel just like a new man," was the statement made by Capt. F. M. Cooke, residing at 144 East Winnifred Street, St. Paul, Minn., recently. Captain Cooke has been a conductor on the Great Northern Railroad for fifteen years, and is one of the most popular men in the service of the company.

"For years," continued Captain Cooke, "I suffered from stomach trouble and had scarcely any appetite, and what little I ate disagreed with me so that I would become terribly nauseated. Gas would form on my stomach and affect my heart so I could hardly breathe. I had terrific headaches that would last for two or three weeks at a time and nearly drive me wild, and I would become so dizzy at times that I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. My nerves got in such bad shape I could sleep very little, and I would get up in the morning feeling dull and heavy and all run down.

"Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good, and I kept getting worse all the time. A few weeks ago some one suggested that I try Tanlac and I got a bottle and began taking it, and after taking two bottles I felt a great deal better. I have a fine appetite now, and what I eat agrees with me perfectly. Gas has quit forming in my stomach, and I am not troubled with shortness of breath. I never have any more headaches or dizzy spells and can sleep fine, and get up in the morning feeling full of life and energy. I never felt better in my life, and feel at times ten years younger. I am very grateful for what this Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co, Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelbert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

SMART GOWNS AND SUITS

HOW THE SLENDER WOMAN MAY ACCENTUATE HER CHARMS BY PROPER DRESSING.

By Mme. Frances, Famous Creator of Fashions, New York City.

After pensively turning the pages of a fashion magazine, it is incredible to believe that any woman could regard herself as too thin, however qualified she may be to rank in the light-weight class according to the scales. Yet there are many "Slim Princesses" who carefully study weight-producing diet lists with fond hopes of getting plump. these overly slender women wish to wear gowns designed to make them look more rounded. On this page will be found suggestions for costuming the thin woman.

Few Pitfalls For the Slender.

The slender woman finds not so many fashion pitfalls as her overly plump sister, and yet the thin-to-scrawniness woman will find many "beware" sign posts if she wishes to choose correctly the lines, textures and colors that camouflage thinness into the delightfully slender silhouette which most of the feminine world is "banting" to attain.

The thin woman must not err on the side of overly full and ruffled gowns nor must she seek hats so broad of brim that her face and features are overshadowed into insignificance by the contrast. Above all, she must not overwhelm herself either by her hats or gowns.

Stripes are not for the thin women unless she runs them horizontally, and as this method of developing striped material is seldom pretty, she had better give them a wide road and stick to the light, plain colors and combinations of black and white worked up in rather bold designs.

Grey Gives Larger Effect.

Theresis a grey for every woman and grey will make the thin woman appear much larger than black. For instance, I once saw an opera in which the chorus was dressed in costumes combing black and grey, the right side black, and the left grey. The girls looked deformed because the grey side of their costumes gave the appearanc of much greater breadth than the black side produced.

Thin women may take advantage of those whims of fashion—the pannier, the hooped skirt, the new Velasbuez silhouette with the distended hip line, the minaret tunic and horizontal bands of fur. The drop shoulder is becoming to the thin woman and so is he kimono sleeves, provided her shoulders do not droop too much. Her physique is sufficiently versatile to carry the high or long waistline with equally good results, although the flat-chested woman frequently looks excessively attenuated in the long waistline that does not blouse. Generally the blouse bodice is far more becoming than the flat chemise line.

Value of Draped Effects.

Wide girdles that hold a full blouse well up around the bust is an ideal waistline for a thin woman. Intricate drapery, both on blouse and skirt, is well carried by the slender figure, and the thin woman should specialize in this drapery. Kilted skirts braken into the line of two tunics are the thin woman's very own, for developing all materials that hold the pleats. For other goods such as velvet, lace, etc., there is a standarized skift for the slim figure, and that is the two of three-flounce model. Two flounces may fall over a narrower petticoat, or the flounces may make the entire skirt.

Extreme slenderness is frequently displayed to a disadvantage in the ankles. Slender ankles are to be desired above rubies, but if a woman's limbs are excessively thin she should avoid extremely short skirts. Light gaiters and shoes with light tops, reaching rather high, are ideal footwear for the thin woman. Thin women usually have attractive feet and they should feature these to an advantage. Drop stitch stockings of plain colors are good on slender ankles and so are the more elaborate lace stockings forbidden to the overly full figure. Oxfords, brown or black, worn with wool stockings are extremely smart for street wear and the thin woman may wear these perfectly as these stockings come in various heavy weights, any of which make the ankles appear much fuller than sheer silk stockings.

Orange and Silver

An evening gown that shows an ideal line for the thin figure is made of orange and silver brocade, combined with tulle of the same rich yellow shade, and sable fur, whose delightful brown tone gives a perfect color harmony with orange. This gown features the pannier drapery in the brocade that swings i na bias line, accenteed by a band of sable, and in the bouffant puff of orange tulle that is draped on the opposite side. Brocade makes one-half of the bodice and orange tulle the other. A tiny sleeve of tulle caps the shoulder, which is sometimes a "beware" sign for the thin woman. Cover your shoulders if the point appears sharp. Flowers fashioned from mauve, lemon and orange taffeta embellish the plain side of the bodice and the brocade is outlined with sable. The girdle is orange charmeuse satin. Extra long suede gloves wrinkled "a la mousquetaire" should be worn by the woman with the thin arms.

For the Extremely Slender

Another charming gown designed to show the overly slender figure to the best advantage is made of oyster velvet .his model represents the universal dress for the thin woman and is always good style, regardless of how fashions may come or go. The bodice somewhat resembles the "bishop dress" of childhood, taken of course fro the lines of the bishop's alb. The sleeve-line, instead of running into the neck as in the bishop's garment, meets the bodice below the shoulder point, where the full sleeve is joined to the gathered waist by a cording of white charmeuse satin. his type of sleeve disguises thin arms and gives them infinite grace. The fullness of the sleeves is gathered to a shirred cuff on which a ruffle of velvet is mounted. The girdle may be silver and lemon yellaw brocade or it may be made of the material. Two ruffles of velvet are mounted on a drop skirt of white charmeuse, bordered with velvet. The round line reaching to the base of the neck, edged with fur ,is extremely becoming to the thin woman. The hat may be black velvet trimmed with black features or it may combine black and white.

Horison Blue Suit.

A suit that combines all the good points of the thin womans' costume is made of horizon blue gabardine, that color beloved by the French. Brave color, we salute you! The jacket is kimono, flared at the back, where a bit of a white lining strapped in narrow folds of green and black appears in the ripple. The skirt shows a double tunic, one longer than the other and both knife pleated With this suit is worn a black velvet tam that takes its line from the cap of "La Diable Bleu."

GUM DECAY CAUSES TOOTH DECAY

Healthy teeth need healthy gums to hug them. Else they will loosen in Pyorrhea. Tiny openings will come in the gums to act as the gateways of disease germs, which infect the joints or tonsils, or cause other ailments.

Forhan's prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. No mere toothpaste does. Are your gums tender, gums? Are they bleeding gums? If so, you are certain to have Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Four out of five people who are over forty haveit. To you we earnestly recommend Forhan's. It preserves the gums which hold the tooth secure.

Brush your teeth with it. Forhan's cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

Fable of the Village Skinflint Who Came in Under the Wire.

Once there was a Harsh-headed old Joy-killer whose money Stuck to Him Tighter than a Tattoo-mark. When subscription committees introduced him to Worthy Causes this Perennial Grouch said No in the Explosive Manner of a Blow-out. If they Forced him, he kissed Five Dollars a bitter farewell, instead of the Fifty he could Afford, and groaned Five Hundred worth.

When they decided to raise a Big Sum for a Certain Popular Charity the Hardshell snorted Something Scandalous and Swore he would Sidestep. But—the Committees never Asked him. Instead, they Advertised.

They Advertised till That Fund was the Talk of the Town. It became the Local Fashion to Step Up and Settle with a Glad Shout.

The few who Dallied began to hear from their Neighbars on the Subject, the Daily Ads pouring Pep into the Process. At Last, when Everybody was Accounted For except the Old Crab they Decided to Close the Books.

At this moment they saw Brother Skinflint galloping up the street trailing a Heavy Handbag behind him. Prancing into Headquarters he Unloaded his Cargo of Coin and breathlessly asked if he was In Time.

"As a Special Favor to You," said the Committee, deftly Concealing a Smile, "we'll Accept it."

Moral—You can't Sidestep the Public.

FISHING WITH SPIDER WEBS.

Spider webs as fishing nets That is what many of the South Sea Islanders use when they are fishing, but naturall ythe spider webs are very different from those we see in England.

These spider webs are six feet across and are woven in a mesh about one inch square. The natives are very ingenious in making the spider spin these huge webs for them. They set up long bamboo poles, bent over in a loop, just where the spiders are plentiful.

In a very short time a spider spots the convenient framework and spins his web. With this ready-made fishing net fish up to a pound in weight are caught without fear of breaking the web.

These webs are so strong that when they are stretched across any of the paths through the woods they have ot be broken with thick sticks. In these webs small birds have often been found entangled.

PEACH STAINS.

Boiling water poured through peach stains will remove them. If not wash in hydrogen peroxide or a solution of oxalic acid, rinse thoroughly, and hang in the sun.

Is it always running fast or slow? Never quite on time? Perhaps the watch is capable of very accurate running, but it is not in perfect order.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM DAWSON

William Dawson who passed away at his home a few days ago, was born in the township of South Monaghan on November 25, 1840, and as a son of one of the pioneers of the township assisted very materially in the development of the moral and spiritual welfare of the community. As a life partner Mary Jane Box was chosen and together from March 29, 1871 laid the foundation of a happy and godly home. The success attending his efforts is manifest not only in his popularity but also in the improvements upon the property upon which he laboured. A few years ago he retired from the farm and built a well furnished home in Bailieboro. For eighteen years he was recording steward of the quarterly Official Board and was an efficient officer in the Methodist Church at both of the appointments, Bensfort and Bailieboro. On Thursday morning last after some years of suffering from asthma he suddenly passed into the Great Beyond. In addition to his sorrowing wife two sons, Ira and T. Edgar and six grand children survive. Six brothers, Nichol, Peter, George, Thomas, Harry and Welford all of South Monaghan and two sisters, Mrs. Dr. Marshall and Mrs. F. E. Rutherford both of Peterboro, cherish the memory of his life. The funeral service was conducted on Saturday afternoon at the home in Bailieboro by his pastor Rev. M. W. Leigh B. A. who paid tribute to his careful work as recording steward and as treasurer of the Trustee Board. Six nephews were pallbearers viz: Hilliard Dawson, Charles Dawson, Albert Dawson, Edmund Dawson, William C. Dawson and John Bonnell. Interment took place in the family plot in the Dawson Cemetery South Monaghan where lie the remains of an infant son and daughter.

Election Campaign

BROKEN HEADS AND MANY HOSPITAL CASES FEATURE THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN IN FRANCE.

WOMEN WANT VOTE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 11. — The political campaign continues with unaided vigor throughout France. M. Bryson, one of the most extreme Socialist deputies in the last Chamber, who is seeking re-election, said at Moulins yesterday: "Peasants, the land is yours. You must take it. No more chateaux. No more landlords." Although many riots and personal encounters have taken place, no deaths have been reported, but there have been many broken heads and hospital cases. The National Council of Women of France, under the presidency of Madame Siegfraed, wife of the former member for Havre, has issued an appeal to the voters demanding the right of women to vote. This will be placarded throughout the country. Absolute prohibition is one of the planks of their platform.

FATALLY INJURED AT QUAKER OATS

ELEVATOR ACCIDENT RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH OF ONE MAN AND SERIOUS INJURIES TO ANOTHER.

Elias Kerteson, Driscoll Terrace, was fatally injured and William MacDougall, 201 Rubidge street, seriously hurt yesterday evening at 6 o'clock, when the belt on one of the man elevators of the Quaker Oats Company's plant broke, hurling the occupants down several stories.

Kerteson and MacDougall, the former a sweeper and the latter employed in the corn department, had stepped on the elevator at the stories on which they were employed, having finished the day's work, when, without the slightest warning, the belt gave way. Kerteson was hurled three stories and MacDougall two stories.

Comstock's ambulance was called and the men, Kerteson still breathing, were rushed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. Frank McNulty and Dr. G. A. Cameron, attended their injuries. It was found, however, that Kerteson, who had sustained a fractured skull and internal injuries, was injured beyond any hope of recovery, and he died at 1 o'clock this morning. MacDougall, who is suffering from a contraction of the lungs and shock, will possibly recover.

A preliminary inquest was opened this afternoon.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"UNDER TWO FLAGS."

"Under Two Flags" was the feature picture at the Grand last evening. The all know Theda Bara stars in this picture and her work last evening was the best. "Under Two Flags" is one of the best pictures that has been seen here for some time and it fully justifies the efforts of the management to secure the best in the picture world. The Opera House orchestra has shown considerable improvement of late, and its work last night was in keeping with the excellent programme.

A British government official's news and vod-a-vil movies were also included in the programme, which will be repeated to-day and to-morrow.

The members of the composing room staff of the Examiner were the guests of the management last evening.

Nation-Wide Silence for Two Minutes Was Observed To-day

MR. BURNHAM ON PROHIBITION MEASURE

"What do you think of the temperance measure passed at Ottawa?" Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., was asked this morning.

"Between the Dominion Alliance and the extreme wets the measure is not prohibition at all and I do not suppose it will satisfy the prohibitionists," said Mr. Burnham. Continuing, he said: "There is a much more serious condition of affairs than that. Home-made whiskey and rum is in many districts becoming such a serious menace that the authorities have given up all hope of carrying out the law. So far as I can see, the people who do not object to the punishment of offences committed by some people against other people object to be punished for offences committed by themselves against themselves only, and are in a state of red rebellion against prohibition. For example, a few potatoes, a little molasses and a little yeast put in a wooden cask and left in the ground for a few months will produce five gallons of the strongest kind of rum. This process of distilling will become more general as the people find it out. I had a letter this morning from a lady in Arnprior in which the writer complains bitterly of the conditions since prohibition, for which she had worked so hard.

There is only one hope; not for prohibition, but for reason and decency; and that is education: Until this is recognized we cannot throw up our hands and say, 'O God how did you come to make such a terrible world as this,' when the truth is it was not God who made the world of such a chaarcter but we ourselves."

THE BARD'S TRIBUTE TO THE MISSING

When rang the clear reverberating call,
Of midnight bugle, to the measured roll
Of myriad drums, that stirred a nation's life,
And martial thousands mustered for the strife;
When hoary headed sire with eyes aflame,
And by him she who shared his noble name,
Gazed proudly in the glowing eyes of youth,
And buckled on his side the sword of Truth,
And sent him in his country's cause to bleed;
He was not "Missing" in that hour of need.

And twice ten thousand youthful hearts the thrill
Of battle stirred, and sent the life-blood through Bounding pulse ,and every soldier drew
Mid roar of conflict and the sigh of death,
And listening for the magic order "Go,"
Leaped the shell-torn trench to meet the foe,
I marked his valour with abated breath—
He was not "Missing" in that surge of death.

When clear above the battle-thunder's roar,
The wailing bugles sound the "Charge" from far,
And cheering, rushing thousands onward reel,
While foemen feel the weight of British steel;
Till backward rolls the tide of tyranny,
As breakers rock-rent melt into the sea,
And wither away to silence and to rest
While victory's written on the rocky crest—
I stood beside him on the blood-soaked heath,
Nor was he "Missing" in the face with death.

Night holds above the slain her mystic shield;
Your soldier speeds the trail for Lysian Plains,
Where crimson tide of battle never stains
The spotless emerald of the Fields of Light;
Where Law is Love's delight and Right is Might,
So, while in bloody trench they call the roll,
Unanswered by the men who paid the toll,
When laurel wreath the living brow is tracing,
Your brave, true-hearted warrior lad is "Missing."

He's "striking" where his country's foes assail,
He's "Missing" where his Monarch's praises fall
On those returning from the jaws of death,
His brave heart bosom'd on the bloody heath.
Calm vigil keep we by the warrior's side,
'Twas for a bleeding Belgium maid he died:
To hurl the bloody tyrant from his prey,
And guard her glorious crown of chastity,
On yonder temple wall of endless fame,
The King will write your "Missing" soldier's name.

The King, whose temples bore the crown of thorns,
Where now a Diadem of Glory burns,
And Light ineffable, and matchless grace,
Illume eternally his glorious face;
Shall rise in might and call the Honor Roll,
Then he who 'mid war's thunder, paid the toll,
Shall hear and answer, proud and strong and grand,
I'm here, my Captain, here, and in my hand,
Hold true the Spirit's Sword of matchless worth,
And clasp Thy hand, though "Missing on the earth."

CONFUSION ON LIQUOR ISSUE

IMPORTATION WILL START AS SOON AS PEACE IS DECLARED.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 11. — Inquiries received indicate that confusion exists as to the terms of [illegible] The order-in-council [illegible] provides that importation orders were made effective for twelve months after the declaration of peace, but legislation with that purpose was never passed, and therefore as soon as peace has been proclaimed the importation of liquor of private persons will be permissable until such time as a Provincial prohibicite, held by the Dominion Government, upon the request of the Provincial Legislature, declares against such importation, and the Dominion Government has given effect to a resolution [illegible] building it.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF ARMISTICE DAY—ALL LONDON STOOD IN ABSOLUTE SILENCE—SHIPS AT SEA CUT OFF THEIR ENGINES.

BUGLERS GAVE THE SIGNAL IN LONDON

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, Nov. 11.—All London stood in absolute silence, with bowed uncovered heads, for two minutes to-day, in honour of the Empire's "glorious dead." From 11 o'clock until 11.02 not a wheel turned, ships at sea cut off their engines, telephone and telegraph service ceased, and thousands of motor vehicles stopped. It was Great Britain's remembrance of armistice day. One year ago the last gun boomed on the western front; the world war was ended. Great Britain's striking demonstration of silence, said to have been conceived by King George himself, was probably unique in the world's history. Life literally ceased to function in London for the two-minute period. On the stroke of 11 o'clock, uniformed buglers shrilled a sharp blast at the principal street intersections throughout the city. The roar of traffic and industry was hushed as if by magic, steam trains, electric lines, tube trins, motor trucks and automobiles stopped at the blast of the trumpets; factory machinery was cut off, while the workers uncovered and bowed their heads. Then at the end of the two poignant minutes, the buglers sounded the sorrowful "Last Post," whistles shrieked, trains roared, factory machinery resumed its work-day grind, and London lapsed back to the world of realities.

IN TORONTO.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 11. — [illegible] strained crowd throwing talcum powder and confetti marks the first anniversary of Armistice Day. Instead, on the suggestion of His Majesty the King, a nation-wide silence for two minutes, commencing at 11 o'clock, local time, was observed this morning. At that time, in Toronto and the Dominion, every car, train and factory wheel was hushed, every typewriter silenced, every tool and pencil in every office and workship in the country dropped, and in the deep silence, heads reverently bowed in memory of the dead in France and the hour that marked the close of the greatest war in history. With the exception of these two minutes, no other public celebrations will be held.

"MEMORIAL DAY"

Not costly domes nor marble towers
Shall mark where friendship comes to weep;
Let clustering vines and fragrant flowers
Tell where the nation's Heroes sleep.

They rest in many a shaded vale,
By and beneath the sounding sea;
The forest winds their requiem wail
The glorious sons of Liberty.

They merit all our hearts can give,
Our praises and our love they claim;
Long shall their precious names survive,
Held sacred by immortal fame.

Blest be the land or which they fought,
The land where freedom's banner wave,
The land by blood and treasure bought,
Where dwelt the free where sleeps the brave.

MINE WORKERS' OFFICIALS AGREE TO ACCEDE TO THE GOVERNMENT'S MANDATE

STRIKE ORDER HAS BEEN WITHDRAWN—MINERS MAY REFUSE TO HEED THE CANCELLATION —GOVERNMENT AGENTS IN THE FIELDS.

THE REDS BEING CLOSELY WATCHED

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day, the anniversary of the German surrender, and the end of the fighting in the great war, found the nation's capital waiting tensely to see what the 400,000 striking coal miners would do in response to the annulment of the strike order. If the miners refuse to obey their leaders and go back to work there were many here who believed an industrial war would result. When word reached here that the Miners' Council, sitting in Indianapolis, had reluctantly obeyed Federal Judge Anderson's order and rescinded their strike call, the first question was: "What will the miners do?"

Government agents were instructed to watch closely all fields to see whether the men would return to their jobs and whether the Reds were making an effort to control them. It was believed many of the miners would refuse to heed the cancellation of the strike order, knowing their leaders took the action under protest and that "Bolshevists" who are known to be in the coal fields would seize the opportunity to impose their leadership on the miners.

(Special to The Examiner.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 11. Officials of the United Mine Workers of America in conference here, decided early to-day to obey the mandate of the strike order.

Long Discussion.

(Canadian Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 11. — The United Mine Workers of America through its General committee, decided early to-day to obey the mandate of United States District Judge A. Anderson, which means the recall of the order for the strike of four hundred and twenty-five thousand bituminous coal miners. The decision was reached at 8.10 this morning, after more than 17 hours' discussion. The conference then adjourned until 9 o'clock this afternoon. Acting President John Lewis, of the Mine Workers, made the following statement:

"Gentlemen, you will comply with the mandate of the court. We do so under protest. We are Americans. We cannot fight our government. That is all."

Original Demands.

The original demands of the united mine workers of America which brought about a strike of approximately 425,000 bituminous coal miners of the United States, were drafted by the coal committee of the Cleveland Convention of the organization held last September. The main points of the miners' demands included a sixty per cent. increase in wages, a six-hour day from bank to bank, a five-day week and time and half for overtime and on Sundays and legal holidays.

Anti-Vaccinationists Hold Protest Meeting

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 11. — At a meeting of anti-vaccinationists at the West End Y.M.C.A. last night for the purpose of protesting against compulsory vaccination, it was decided to send a deputation to meet the City Council today and to call a public meeting at Massey Hall. "Too many people are going to be killed if this thing isn't hit and hit hard," said Mr. A. B. Farmer this morning. He pointed out that in some cases one out of every 30 who had been vaccinated died, while the normal mortality rate for smallpox was about one in 100. He also said that the protestation movement was reaching greater proportions ,and that already $150 had been contributed for educational and publicity purposes. A committee composed of the following citizens met this morning at the office of Drs. E. J. Chattor, 96 Shuter street, Becker, Fraser and Baird, Mr. A. B. Farmer, G. J. Soucy and S. B. Hender.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

The following article was sent to the teachers and read in the schools in Peterborough:

Some days ago a school boy, while playing on the street, picked up an electric light wire. It seemed quite harmless, but he was instantly killed. During the last few years many lads have been killed by climbing poles and trees and touching wires.

The wires that you see supported on poles along the streets and roads all carry electricity, very often at high pressure (or, as it is called, "voltage") when it is very deadly. These wires are always dangerous and should never be touched under any circumstances.

Be careful to remmeber the following things:

1. Do no touch fallen or hanging wires.
2. Do not climb poles or towers.
3. Do not climb trees through which the wires pass.
4. Do no touch or shake guy wires.
5. Do not throw stones at the insulators.
6. Do not fly kites across the wires.
7. Do not stand below men working overhead.
8. If you see a wire down, report it.
9. Keep away from switching towers, sub-stations and power houses.

HOME-MADE BREAD

Home bread-making reduces the high cost of living by lessening the amount of expensive meats required to supply the necessary nourishment to the body. The increased nutritious value of bread made in the home with should be sufficient incentive to the thoughtful housewife to give this important food item the attention to which it is justly entitled. Bread made with Royal Yeast will keep fresh and moist longer than that made with any other.

HAVELOCK FISHERMAN AGAIN WON AWARD IN BIG BASS COMPETITION

The award of The Toronto Star's prize bass rod, reel and line, or rather the awards, for this year goes to Albert King, aged 18, of Belmont Lake, four miles from Havelock, Ont., and the other to Fred S. Geer, Youngstown, Ohio.

Both competitors entered splendid specimens of the small mouther black bass. In the case of Mr. King his capture tipped the scales at six pounds eleven ounces, and had a length of 23 inches and a girth of 17¾ inches. It was the best specimen landed during the 1919 season.

But Mr. King is one of four brothers; there of whom have perviously won The Star trophy with bass from Belmont Lake. Therefore, in order that other competitors who do not live near the fishing grounds, and have not therefore the same facilities of acquiring a knowledge of the haunts of the big 'uns as residents of the district, may not seem to be at a disadvantage, The Star has decided to award another prize on this occasion.

Mr. Geer, who is the lucky recipient, captured his fish at Washagaming Lake on August 29th, and as Mr. King's entry did not take the bait until a few days before the competition closed, our American friend's bass was the finest specimen caught up to the beginnig of September of this year. It weighed 6 pounds 2 ounces, with 21½ inches length, 17 inches girth.

A third fish which came within an ace of winning the prize was entered by Mr. J. W. Rosenbug, of Thessalon, Ont. His capture weighed 6 pounds 2 ounces, with a length of 21½ inches and girth 16¼ inches.

How it Happened and Where.

The story of Mr. King's capture is not without its thrills. The sun was overcast. A light haze draped the landscape. It was a soft warm day in mid-September. Albert King, aged 18, and Horace King, an elder brother, looked at the sky, then at their farm work, and, lastly, on Belmont Lake, an everpresent lure at their doors. Horace had a happy thought, and it turned the scale.

"Why not go out and get a real bass for Percy?" he asked.

Percy King, a cousin, just back from overseas, was leaving the Belmont Lake Kings to visit other members of his royal family.

Good farmers although the young Kings were, any disappointed to the soldier-kinsman was altogether out of the question—so they went a-fishing. The farm would still be there when they got back, anyway.

At one corner of the south end of Belmont Lake, which is about ten miles long by from one to three miles wide, stands a sawmill. Strike a diagonal line to Birch Island, and, midway across, there's the Big Weed Bed or the Big Bar. Lily pads and a gravel bottom lead to this spot delectable. At the north end a bred of rock spells bass, small-mouther and strenuous.

Bit of Practise, This.

At the fringe and, for that matter, over the wide surface of bass and lunge-weed, Albert King had tarried one day, just three weeks before. Without an anchor and fussing with the oars, he had sampled that bed rock, a catch of eleven small-mouth black bass resulting from the judicious use of eleven live minnows. Four of the eleven bass had exceeded the four-pound mark.

Well, about 9 a.m. on September 11th, just four days before The Star competition closed. Horance King rowed his kid brother down to the Big Bar and anchored on the big rock. Albert hooked an ordinary bass. Then he dressed a new bait for the sacrifice and discarded it when it lost its kick. He was using a steel rod with agate eyelets, a light black silk line, and a Star prize reel, the latter a part of the outfit won by Horace some years before. Hanging a fesh shiner from his dark-gutted hooy one with a swivel but no leader, Albert tried again. Something happened. Something hit that shiner and made for deep water.

"You have a prize there" said Horace.

The "something" started another rush, and Albert "set" the hook.

"For Tricks That Are Vain."

A busy anxious twenty minutes followed. Under the boat dashed the quarry. Albert juggled with the line, and Horace manipulated the sculls. The under-the-boat trick failed. Out of the water leaped the bass, plainly a humdinger. The fight settled down to a sulk on the part of the fighting fish and a watchful wait by Albert the angler. The tension grew painful. The brothers swapped jobs at this stage but, later, resumed their original stations.

Suddenly the reel sang a war song, and the leviathan did another speed stunt, soaring skyward and hurling its big bulk wholly out of the rippled waters.

That was about all. Albert reeled in, and Horace netted the "catch."

Between four and five in the afternoon the "boys" landed at home, and weighed the captive. Their brother-in-law, and neighbor, James H. Toms, happened to be at their home, and he saw the weighing-in. Anotder bother, Ezra King, missed the ceremony, but viewed the giant before Percy King, the returned veteran, packed it away. Noah King, father of the Belmont Lake quartette, saw it too. When the soldier said goodbye on the 12th, the pjride of Belmont Lake, 1919, went with him.

Why Belmont Never Fails.

Belmont Lake is fed by two streams and drained by one. Thirty-two islands, most of them small, dot the expanse and rocks, some cresting the waves, afford haunts where the black bass lurk. Famous for lunge, Belmont Lake also teems with herring, the aquatic tiger's favorite fodder. With feeding places aplenty, Belmont Lake still yields up the muskies and the black huskies, just as if its waters had not been fished with startling success lo: these many moons.

Got Rid of The Cough That Sticks

Some coughs seem hard to shake off—stick right to you in spite of all you do to get rid of them.

Those are the kind of coughs that are dangerous—that weaken the lungs so that the germs of consumption find a ready foothold.

We know of no remedy that will cure stubborn coughs— coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It allays the inflammation, soothes the irritation, and heals the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Leo. Allen, Petit de Grat Bridge, N.S., writes:—'Last winter I had an awful cough that kept me in the house for over two months. I tried several cough remedies, but got no relief. I was almost discouraged when a grocer here offered me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After taking that one my coughing began to cease. I took two more and they cured me completely."

Get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c.; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TAX COLLECTORS CAUGHT THIS MAN GOING AND COMING

RUTHERFORD DRAFIN PAID INCOME TAX IN KINGSTON AND PETERBOROUGH—THEN GOT POLL TAX NOTICE.

Rutherford Drafin, 200 Pearl Avenue, seems to have been caught in a barrage of taxes according to a letter from his solicitors, Gordon and O'Brien, to the Council last night. He paid his 1919 income tax in Kingston, and after coming to Peterboro was similarly assessed here. He paid under protest his second income tax this year and shortly afterward received a poll tax bill for five dollars. His complaint and request for relief was referred to the Court of Revision.

Sewer For New School.

The Board of Education wrote that although they had asked early in October for a second sewer connection to the new memorial school, there were as yet no signs of action, and the contractor had reported that the work was being delayed by the Council's failure to comply with the Board's request.

Ald. Edgar moved seconded by Ald. Taylor that the City Engineer be instructed to prepare a report on this proposed sewer, and that as soon as this report is received the Council advertise its intentions to construct the sewer.

FOUND KNIFE WHICH KILLED J. G. ROWLAND

CLUE TO MURDER OF TAXI-CAB DRIVER--WOMAN HAS BEEN HELD.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The knife that did J. G. Rowland, taxi driver, to death in the early hours of Tuesday morning on the Leaside highway has been found. It was picked up forty feet north of the highway opposite the spot where Rowland's car was found and where the murder took place. The knife, is an army issue, the kind used by soldiers of the C.E.F.

The knife was picked up among tall grass and bush bushes and was covered with rusted blood. The big blade apparently being used, as it was open. The scouts took the knife to Constable Gardiner, who has handed it to an analyst to have the blood tested.

The police are holding Ethel Moore, in a charge of vagrancy until she is able to give the police an authentic report of her movements. She was arrested in the Royal Hotel, on Queen west, and yesterday appeared before Magistrate Denison and was remanded for a week. She was wearing the Croix de Guerre ribbon on her coat and claims that her brother was awarded the honor before he was killed in action. At the time she was arrested she was seized with an epiletic fit, and was taken to St. Michael's Hospital. Yesterday, after she was remanded, the girl collapsed in court and had to be carried out by Constable Mathews. A reward of $500 has been offered by the Provincial authorities for information that will lead to the arrest of the party or parties concerned.

It is claimed that two women were in Rowland's car on the night that he was murdered.

FORCE OWNERS TO KEEP CREEK CLEAR

COUNCIL PASSES BY-LAW AIMED AT OBSTRUCTIONS IN DOWNIE STREET STREAM.

A by-law designed to compel the owners of property through which the Downie street creek passes to keep its course clear was passed by the Council at a special meeting last night. In its clauses it specified no particular creek, but the Council did not try to hide its purpose. Expounding its generalities to Ald. Gainey, Mayor Duncan admitted that this instrument was fashioned to force the property owners through which its flows to keep the Downie street creek free of obstructins in order that it may carry off the Spring freshets instead of spilling it over the neighboring gardens and into cellars and back kitchens.

The by-law set out that property owners must keep their parts of the creek clear, that notice be given to those who fail to comply with this regulation, and as a last resort, in the event of persistent refusal, that the Council may order the work to be done and may recover the cost by assessing the property of the unamenable property owner.

Cottage Cheese Sausage.

An Amherst Mass., farmer is doing a good business selling cottage cheese sausage, which resembles in flavor that made from pork, is made from cottage cheese, bread crumbs, and nut meats and is seasoned with herbs. Its food value is nearly equal to pork sausage. This appetizing substitute for meat was originated by the Dairy Division of the Department of Agriculture to further the use of cottage cheese.

JUST CURIOSITY?

There seems to be an unusual interest in the express rates from Montreal coupled with a deep curiosity as to when peace will be officially proclaimed.

FAMOUS PEOPLE.

There are varying degrees of fame. Some men are being mentioned as likely members of the new Ontario cabinet and others as probable starter in Peterboro's Mayoralty race.

TAKING CHANCES.

Judging by his notice of motion proposing to include unmarried women of twenty-one years and over in the poll tax. Ald. Crowe is not counting on the women vote when he has to face the election.

THE ONLY WAY.

The Governor-General took the only way of making sure that Parliament would observe the two minutes silence requested by the King, for this morning by proroguing the House yesterday.

UP TO PETERBORO.

Ontario is asked for another one hundred millions for the Victory Loan. That is a challenge to Peterboro, for we must take care of our fair share of the increased allotment. Get together for the new objective.

AUSTRALIAN GRATUITIES.

Those who advocate the gratuity of larger gratuities to Canada's soldiers and who claim that the assistance so far given by Canada to her returned men falls below the Australian standard must be at a loss to understand the reports of the rioting by Australian soldiers as a protest against the treatment accorded them. The cables yesterday brought a story of Premier Hughes' told being attacked by a mob of returned soldiers who were finally driven off by the police after a hard fought battle in which bottles and other missiles were used. If the reports at the size of the gratuities paid by Australia are true, the Australian soldier must be hard to please, for the reported scale of gratuities is considered higher than the Canadian war bonuses.

FREE SKATING RINKS.

The city council has a number of requests before it at the present time from different societies who want concessions to establish open air skating rinks during the coming winter. One organization for example asks for the use of a part of King Edward Park for rink purposes. There are obvious objections to the granting of such a request. It is the intention to charge a fee for the use of the rink and if the city grants one society the privilege, there would be no valid excuse. In refusing if other organisations came along and asked for the same concession either at King Edward Park or some other city property. The Examiner believes that any rinks that are constructed in King Edward Park or on any of the other public parks or city lots should be constructed by the council and should be absolutely free to the youngsters of the city. Free civic rinks have been in operation for a number of years. They have been a source of great enjoyment to the children at a comparatively small expense. There should be more of them than ever this winter and any sites that are available, such as the one now under discussion at King Edward Park should be used for the purpose of building free public rinks, not handled over to organizations who intend to operate them on a commercial basis. Far little attention has been paid in the past to such questions as free swimming beaches, playgrounds and skating rinks for the use of young Peterboro. The advantages to be gained by a liberal policy alone these lines is only just becoming apparent. Thanks to the Playgrounds Association we have had supervised over grounds during the past few summers and through the persistent efforts of a number of public citiatns. A good stand has been made in the providing of proper bathing facilities. The operating of an adequate number of free skating rinks in different sections of the city this winter would be another onward step. A better Peterboro for the youngsters is a motto that is well worth adopting.

A YEAR AGO TO-DAY.

Who has forgotten a year ago today? The long drawn out whistles of the factories, the merry chiming of the church bells, the shriek of the syren of the fire department, motor trucks, and that indiscribable mixture of sound that suddenly shattered the stillness of the early morning, must still ring in the ears of those who heard it twelve months ago. Has any body for gotten either the momentary wonder at the unwonted clamour as one slowly awakened from slumber, and then the glorious realization that flashed across the mind that this bellowing of whistles and clang of bell could mean but one thing—that the terrible war was over, that the enemy was beaten, that the menace that for over four years had hung over the world had been lifted, that Peace at last had come? And then the world joy and excitement that made the day's work impossible that called for noise and music and cheering and parades and fireworks with which to express themselves. It was the happiest day that Peterboro has ever known and no one who took part in the rejoicing will forget it while life lasts.

THE TEMPERANCE AMENDMENT

There seems to be considerable misunderstanding in regard to the amendments the Canada Temperance Act passed by the House of Commons on Saturday night. For some reason or other the impression has been created that the order-in-Council preventing the importation of liquor has been lifted. That is a mistake. The order-in-Council stands and it is still illegal to import liquor into Ontario. The amendments to the Canadian Temperance Act merely provide the machinery by which the provinces may adopt bone-dry legislation if the majority of the electors so vote. It is provided that if the legislature of Ontario for instance passes a resolution of preventing the importation of liquor into the Province, the Federal Government must within three months submit a referendum to the people of Ontario upon the question of importation. If the majority of electors expressed themselves as being in favour of the prevention of liquor importation that would settle the matter and no liquor would be allowed to be brought in.

At the present time the Federal order-in-Council against importation is still effective. How long it will remain so is a matter that presents a number of legal angles that may have to be interpreted by the courts. The order was to have been operative for a year after the proclamation of Peace, an event that has not yet taken place. Many authorities however agree that having been passed under authority of the War Measures Act it will cease to be effective as soon as the War Measures Act is repealed which means as soon as peace is proclaimed. Just what date will be accepted as the proclamation of peace is also a matter of doubt. For instance no peace terms have been agreed upon with Bulgaria or Turkey as yet and it may be held that the order-in-Council prohibiting importation will remain in operation until peace has been officially arranged with every country with which Canada was at war.

In that event the present dry spell would be prolonged, perhaps long enough to allow of a refendum being taken which would make Ontario bone-dry. The probabilities are however that the order-in-Council will be repealed before the Ontario Legislation has a chance to ask for a referendum and that for a certain period at least importation of liquor would be allowed.

A $5.00 START.

The Victory Loan is one form of investment in which the wealth have not a monopoly. It is open to everyone who has a $5.00 bill, for $5.00 will pay the first instalment on a $50 bond and make you an investor in Canada's loan. The other payments may be made in easy stages. Thousands of Canadians purchased 1917 and 1918 Victory Bonds in this way and all of them are happy because they made the preliminary investment that started them upon the way to thrift.

Many people do not realize the importance of the present campaign. They fail to appreciate the fact that the failure of the Victory Loan may mean the loss of a position for themselves. Yet this is by no means an exaggerated statement. The situation is that to obtain orders from Great Britain our best customer and the countries which absorbs the greater part of our surplus products. Canada must extend credits, for Britain cannot at the present time pay cash for what she buys from us. Our foreign trade therefore depends a great extent upon the Victory Loan and many firms who depend upon orders from abroad are likewise dependent upon the success of the drive.

Workers should consider these factors and decide to take advantage of the splendid facilities provided for purchasing Victory Bonds.

Put a pinch of soda in the water in which turnips or cabbage are cooked and the smell will be dulled.

TAXES OR MATRIMONY?

With the boom of the franchise extended to them the fair sex will not only have to bear their share of the responsibility of selecting governments, but will also if Ald. Joseph Crowe has his way, have to contribute to the city taxes. The newest member of Peterboro's Council, braving the possible indignition of an aroused female electorate and ignoring Kipling's theory that "the female of the species is deadlier than the male" gave notice of motion last night at the next meeting of the city council he will move that unmarried women of twenty-one years or over shall be liable to pay poll tax. Ald. Crowe has not yet explained the purport of his motion, so that Peterboro will have to wait until the next council meeting to learn whether his object is to increase the city's finances or to promote matrimony.

A penalty of five dollars a year for remaining single would probably prove a stimulus to the matrimonial aspirations of the fair sex that would cause them to be doubly dangerous. And with the coming of Leap Year, the poll tax that would be collected from the women would hardly be large enough to warrant the trouble.

Ald. Crowe's motion, if it is feasible and is adopted by the council should earn him the gratitude of the clergymen of the city even if it is not received with joy by the women voters.

WANTED TO BE HANGED.

Extraordinary Reasons Why Murderers Have Killed Their Victims.

Perry, who confessed to the murder of four people at Forest Gate, made the extraordinary statement that he did it "because they twitted me," in other words, they teased him. To wipe out four people for such a flimsy reason may seem beyond belief to many people, but many a murderer has killed his victim for reasons even more flimsy.

A man named Martin Brown, who killed another named Baldey, near Lewes, calmly confessed that he had killed the wrong man by mistake, and his only regret was that he was caught before he could get the right man.

A carpenter named Burton, who killed a boy at Brompton in London, walked into the police station after he had committed the deed, and confessed to it. In the confession he stated that he was tired of life and was too much of a coward to commit suicide, so he had decided to kill somebody because he was anxious to be hanged.

Dobell and Gower, two young men working in a factory at Tunbridge Wells, killed a man named Lawrence because he reported them for bad time-keeping, while Frederick Mors, a lunatic asylum attendant, chloroformed eight of his patients to death because he did not like to see them suffer!

Perhaps the most extraordinary reason of all given for committing murder was that given by Thomas Wainwright who gave as his reason for killing one woman that her ankles were too thick! While a Wimbledon tram conductor killed his wife because she had not sufficient money to pay for a Christmas tree!

BAB DISCHARGES THE SERVANTS AND TELLS ROBERT

CHAPTER CXIII.

The next morning I took Robert to the public school in our district. The teacher was very kind, and when I told her he had always been a private school pupil she congratulated me because of my making the change.

"Not that I woud say anything against private schools," she said, "but I think boys work harder, grow more manly when they mix with all sort of boys, instead of just with those of their own class. But I am a public school teacher, and one who taught in private schools might not have my views."

I felt quite happy about him when I left my boy in her charge. Perhaps it would be the best thing for him after all, this mixing with boys of middle class and poor parents, instead of the sons of wealthy fathers who indulged and often spoiled some of them.

I talked with Neil over the telephone, telling him what I had done, and how happy both Robert and I were about it. He appeared depressed and did not respond with any enthusiasm. I wondered how affairs were going, then recalled Mr. Frederick's promisfe to keep me informed, so tried not to worry.

As I look back at this time in my life I can see how Mr. Frederick's efforts smoothed away many difficulties which but for him would have been almost insurmountable. But then my mind was too confused, I was too anxious about Neil to appreciate all or even a small part of what this dear friend was doing to help us—me. That was what it was, helping me. Yet even so I could not, I would not refuse that help because I knew it was Neil's salvation. And I loved Neil.

We women are often like that. I was no exception. We will take offerings from those who care for us simply to further the interests of those we love.

Mr. Frederick called me up and told me everything was going as well as could be expected, and that I was not to worry. I told him how Neil's indifference to Robert's school change had made me anxious; and he reassured me.

"Don't expect him to think much of anything until we get him out of the woods. I have taken all the necessary papers and books from the office, and put a man in there to attend to the mail."

"What of his stenographer and bookkeeper?" I asked.

"Discharged them both," laconically I couldn't help a little rush of gladness, unworthy as it was. It is true. I believe, that something which in any way belittles us, we are anxious to avoid those who know of it. I never had felt uncomfortable about those two, since my trip to Neil's office during his absence when I intended to surreptitiously look over his mail, altho I never had seen either of them since.

You will keep the office going?"

"For the present, yes. Mail may come for some time. Those circulars have had a wide distribution."

How I hated the mention of those glowing circulars. The extravagant language, the promises they contained. Promises they believed would be fulfilled, but which the men. Neil among them, knew never could be. I pictured men and women pouring over them, figuring how much they would make if they sent certain amounts to be invested, the interest they would receive. Ifancied many they would receive. I fancied many scrimping their living in many ways to buy the worthless stock, then looked around at my luxurious home, expensive, beautiful, and all bought with their money ,and for the first time I hated it. Hated all this luxury I had so loved, hated the thought that I had selected each piece of furniture, each hanging, each bit of bric-a-brac. I longed to be rid of it all, to leave.

"Have you put the advertisement in the paper?" was my question.

Vaguely I knew, as I thanked him and hung up the receiver, that he was coming so that he might help me, so that I might not be embarrassed. Surely no one ever had so considerate a friend. As I walked slowly upstairs I said to myself: "Were it not that I loved Neil so dearly I might have cared for you."

WHEN IT RAINS FLOWERS.

Floral Festival the World Over.

In Britain, flower festivals are comparatively modern institutions. Rose Day, June 23 ,dates no further back than the summer of 1912, and Primrose Day only from the death of Lord Beaconsfield in 1881.

In many other places, however, floral fetes have been held regularly for centuries. Malta, for instance, holds a floral festival every summer in memory of the expulsion of the Turks by the Knights Hospitallers in 1565. While it lasts all works is suspended, and the streets of Valetta are filled with flower-bedecked crowds, who pelt one another with blossoms until the whole city is carpeted with them.

In Sicily, on Easter Monday, red roses are worn by all, and houses and churches are bedecked with crimson bloom. This custom has been kept up annually for more than six hundred years, in memory of the great uprising of the islanders against the French, known to historians as the Sicilian Vespers.

Honoring the Fallen.

Tradition has it that a bride on her way to church was insulted by some drunken soldiers, and that in the course of the resultant disturbance she was accidentaly killed, the white roses of which her bridal wreath was composed being stained red by her blood. Hence the custom!

Decoration Day, May 30th, is America's national flower festival. Originally instituted in honour of those who fell in the Civil War which broke out in 1861 between the Northern and Southern States over the question of slavery, its scope has been extended by degrees so that now, on this anniversary, every grave in the land, stately or mean, named or unnamed, is decorated with voluntary offerings of flowers.

WANT NO PADDED SPEECHES

No trimmings Allowed in Public Distribution of Committee Report.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—When the House of Commons met Hon. J. A. Calder moved that the report of the committee on Soldiers' Re-establishment bill be embodied in the records and also that 1,000 copies in English and 250 copies in French be printed for distribution.

Mr. J. A. Robb said that the report should go out just as it was made. It should not be padded b ythe addition of any speeches made in its favor by members.

Mr. Calder assured him that there would be no padding, and the motion carried.

MAY BE SENT TO FIUME

General Guiseppe Garibaldi, grandson of the famous Italian Liberator, will likely be appointed commander in Fiume. His brother, Captain Garibaldi, said he had received assurance from a reliable source. "The Italian government is being pressed by the Allies to solve the problem as soon as possible," continued the captain, "and the solution will be to send my brother, General Giuseppe Garibaldi, to Fiume with twenty thousand regular men of the Italian army to replace D'Annunzio."

Questioned about the possibilities of a clash between D'Annunzio's volunteers and the men under the command of General Garibaldi, Captain Garibaldi said his brother inspired the confidence of the D'Annunzio volunteers as greatly as did D'Annunzio himself, and that the volunteers will join Garibaldi at once.

A RAG MELODY AT THE GRADE

The waggon of Mr. D. Florence refused to mount the grade on Saturday on the right of way bridge into the McAllister mill property from the Hunter Street Bridge construction. The horse with its load of rags nearly reached the top, when the rear of the waggon toppled over the edge, pulling the horse back and depositing the rags on the ground.

No damage was done. The rags were left there until this morning, when they were carted away.

THE JOY STICK.

In a "Talk on Aerial Tactics," which appeared in the publication "National Service," Canada's famous Ace of Aces, Col. William A. Bishop, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., D.F.C., describes some effective methods employed in aerial fighting:

"To those who have never seen a war machine," says Col. Bishop, "I would explain that to control one the pilot has to manipulate but a single lever, which we call the 'joy stick.' It is very much like the lever with which you shift gears on an automobile, but it moves in four directions. If you should want your machine to go down, the instinctive move would be to lean the body forward. Therefore, the fighting airplane is so rigged that when the pilot pushes the 'joy stick' forward the nose of the machine points down. In the same way, if he pulls the 'joy stick' back the nose of the machine goes up and the machine climbs at the angle he wants it to. In turning it is necessary that the machine is not bank too much. This is one of the first things a pupil is taught when learning to fly. The 'joy stick' also controls the banking. By moving it to either side you can tilt up whichever wing is desired. At his feet the pilot has a rudder bar which controls the horizontal direction of the machine. If he pushes his left foot forward and banks slightly, the machine turns slowly to the left. To go to the right there is only necessary a push with the right foot and a slight bank. The pilot thus has both feet on the rudder bar, holds the 'joy stick' with his right hand and with the left controls the engine of the machine by holding the throttle. He is always able to do anything he wishes either with the engine or the machine itself.

When firing the gun he simply moves his thumb slightly along the 'joy stick' and presses the lever which pulls the trigger. To be able to fight well a pilot must have absolute control over his machine. He must know by the 'feel" of it exactly how the machine is, what position it is in and how it is flying, so that he may manoeuvre rapidly and at the same time watch his opponent or opponents. He must be able to loop, turn his machine over on its back and do various other flying 'stunts.' Not that these are actually necessary during a combat, but from the fact that he has done these things several times he gets absolute confidence, and when the fight comes along he is not worrying about how the machine will act. He can devote all his time to fighting the other fellow, control of his machine coming instinctively. Thus the actual flying, although perhaps the hardest to train a man for, is the least important factor in aerial fighting. A man's flying ability may be perfect. He may be able to control the machine and handle it better than anyone, but if he goes into a fight, risking his life many times, perhaps, to gain the right position for a good shot and then fails to hit the mark, he is useless.

"If unable to bring his opponent down he must further hazard his life in order to get out and away from the enemy. For this reason I consider aerial gunnery the most important factor in fighting in the air.

"Tactics are next in importance, because by the proper use of the right tactics it is easy to eliminate risks and also to put the enemy at a great disadvantage. Surprise is always to be striven for, because if you can surprise the enemy and get into the proper position to shoot before he is aware of your presence it simplifies matters tremendously, and there should be no second part to the fight."

The Red Cross Approved of Black Jack

If you want to know who likes Adams Black Jack Gum, ask the Red Cross. Millions of packages of Adams Black Jack reached the soldiers through the Red Cross. And in war days there wasn't cargo space for anything but essentials.

The soldiers liked the old-time licorice flavor in Adams Black Jack.

The Red Cross liked the benefits which come from the use of Adams Black Jack—it promoted clean teeth when clean teeth were vital—it gave better digestion where meals were not too regular—nerves were relaxed where nervous strain was greatest—throats were eased and refreshed, thirst quenched, by the soothing licorice.

The blue package is sold everywhere—5c.

ARMISTICE DAY IN LAKEFIELD

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD IN THE CHURCHES.

Lakefield, Nov. 10. — Armistice day was celebrated in the Lakefield churches on Sunday and references were made to the watchful waiting felt by the entire civilized world at this time last year.

The Methodists had no evening service in their church to enable their members to attend the anniversary services in the Presbyterian church. Capt. (Rev.) James Rollins preached at both services which were well attended and a generous thank offering was taken up.

In St. John's church at the morning service Rev. Walter Archbold, D. D., preached a sermon suitable to the occasion. He spoke of the sacrificial love which is after all the nearest approach to the divine love which suffered and died for the sins of mankind. Those of us who saw the picture play of the life of the Great Nelson last week would well remember the thrilling scene when Nelson had hoisted that immortal signal, "England expects this day every man will do his duty."

The battle of Trafalgar was won, and the British have ruled the waves ever since—even now after the greatest of world wars.

When in August, 1914, when the news sped round the earth that the Old Motherland had declared war, the same spirit which answered Nelson's appeal in 1805, stirred the hearts of Britons the world over, and thousands and hundreds of thousands responded, even knowing that it would probably mean their death, and when peace came, won by Britain's soldier and sailor sons, thousands of whom had laid down their lives that we might live our lives in freedom, one's thought reverts to those who have fallen in the cause, and to those who have returned even after risking their all in the great conflict.

The King has asked that on Tuesday at the 11th hour when the armistice was signed a year ago that for two minutes all activity should cease and in silence we lift our hearts to God to commemorate our brave heroes who deemed the sacrifice as nothing compared to freedom.

The bell of the church will ring on the stoke of the 11th hour as a reminder.

Suitable music was also including Kipling's Recessional and "Land of Hope and Glory" was played by the organist. The National Anthem was sung at both services.

GERMAN MUSIC IS HEARD IN PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 8.—German music barred during the war, has again appeared on the programmes of orchestra concerts and is being heard at some of the theatres. A referendum taken recently at a large concert resulted in an almost unanimous vote favoring the return of German music. One newspaper, commenting on the subject, asks: "Why not take advantage of the music of a vanquished foe, considering it one of the spoils of war?"

"Lest We Forget"

Whoever you may be, go into your room to-day and sit quietly for a few minutes. Canada asks you for these minutes in Meditation upon Her Immortals.

Their spirit, the spirit of devotion to duty, of love of Canada and of home that illuminated their lives and made glorious their death, still lives. May it live in you and in me. May we be so inspired that from now onward, constrained by the love of Canada, we may ever advance her interests, ever work for a greater and more glorious Canada.

To-day is a day of memory, of thanksgiving, and to-day Canada has indeed the right to require from you a thanks offering. But no such demand is made. Canada simply asks you to the fullest extent of your capacity to advance her trade, production, and prosperity, and by so doing help yourself, protect your family, increase your income and all without risk.

PROPOSES POLL TAX FOR WOMEN, AND ELECTIVE POLICE COMMISSION

SUBSTANCE OF TWO NOTICES OF MOTIONS BY ALD CROWE AT SPECIAL MEETING OF COUNCIL—WILL REFUND POLL TAX TO SOLDIERS WHO HAVE PAID IT.

Notice of a motion to the effect that all women of twenty-one years and over be required to pay the poll tax was given by Ald. Crowe at last night's Council meeting. Lacking enlightening comment it is not evident whether Ald. Crowe would indirectly encourage matrimony or whether this is proposed as a price of the franchise into the full enjoyment of which women were admitted at the recent elections.

He gave notice of another motion to petition the Ontario Legislature to abolish the present system of appointing the Police Commission and to make it an effective body.

Value Lot at $500

Mayor Duncan reported that Mr. W. J. Hoare, city assessor, had valued at $500 the property sought by the Peterboro Lumber Company near the junction of the extensions of Crescent and Rink streets.

Ald. McIntyre stated that there was some likelihood of this factory locating elsewhere. This was one of the city's oldest companies, it was a benefit to the local building trades, and it deserved encouragement, he said.

Ald. Edgar remarked that the company had agreed to pay the sum at which the lot would be valued by a disinterested valuator.

It was decided to refer this question to the Manufacturers' Committee in order that another conference with representatives of McDonald Company may be held. In the meantime Ald. McIntyre will be out of the city for three weeks. He moved seconded by Ald. Edgar that Ald. Gainey be chairman of the Committee for that period

Return Poll Tax.

The bylaw exempting returned officers and men from the 1919 poll tax was given its three readings.

Ald. Gainey said that some of the returned men had already paid this tax, and he asked how they could be compensated.

Ald. Phelan moved seconded by Ald. Crowe, that the poll tax be refunded to those soldiers who have already paid, on their production of proper proof.

Ald. Gainey suggested that a man's discharge papers should be sufficient evidence of his service.

Exempt G.W.V.A. Club.

Another bylaw formally exempted the G.W.V.A. club for ten years from all taxes except those for local improvements and school purposes.

Will Be Considered Again.

The clause in the Property Committee's report recommending that no action be taken on the request of th Alert Bible Class of St. James Church for the use of part of King Edward Park for a skating rink was struck out and referred to the Boad of Works.

In the casual discussion of this question Ald. McIntyre said he thought the Bible Class should get some consideration. He could see no reason why they shouldn't.

$1985 TENDER FOR PAINTING FACTORY

J. J. GROSE AWARDED CONTRACT FOR WORK ON NASHUA COMPANY'S SHOPS.

The contract for the painting and whitewashing of the Nashua Gum and Coate Paper company's factory at the corner of Lake and Aylmer streets, was awarded by the Council last night to J. J. Grose, whose tender of 1985.00 was the lowest of the three tenders received for the work. Ald. Edgar presided in the absence of Ald. Hamilton at the meeting at which the tenders were opened. They were as follows:—

W. D. Thomas $2450.00; J. J. Grose $1985.00 Coleman Brothers $2040.00;

Ald. Crowe moved seconded by Ald. Garside that the lowest tender be accepted and that the work be carried out under the supervision of Mayor Duncan and Ald. Hamilton. This recommendation was approved at the meeting of the Council which was held immediately afterward. The only tender previously received was Mr. Grose's bid of $2640, which was considered too large.

Mayor Duncan remarked that the accepted tender seemed satisfactory

HOT DRINKS FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

INNOVATION AT NOGIE'S CREEK SCHOOL—DISTRICT NEWS.

NOGIE'E CREEK, Nov. 10.—Miss McGahy, the local teacher, persuaded her pupils to bring cocoa and coffee to the school. She has a kettle in which hot water is brought from her boarding house and she superintends the hot drink at noon. The children bring milk and sugar.

Mrs. John Crowe last Sunday morning presented her husband with a little daughter.

Mr. Jas. Bordeau, who has been under treatment for some time for spinal trouble in Toronto, was called home on account of the illness of his mother. He will soon return to take up more of the treatment, as he feels a deecided improvement.

We have had very rough, changeable weather for along time. November may bring better weather.

Mrs. T. Northey has returned home after being absent most of the summer, visiting friends.

Mrs. D. Bardeau, who suffered a severe paralytic stroke about three weeks ago, is still alive, although the doctors give no hope of her recovery.

Mr. Jas. Humphries of this neighborhood, has bought a farm in South Verulam and intends moving there in the spring.

Mrs. Nathan MacInmoyle and her daughter, Reta, have been to Kippawa, Que., visiting Mrs. Wilmot, her daughter. They returned home a few days ago, accompanied by Mrs. Wilbert MacIlmoyle and her baby.

Mr. Henry Parker, who was in Lindsay hospital, has recovered and returned home.

MILESTONES

THE STABILIZER.

Advertising is a great stabilizer.

Whether or not we all agree with the New York City Fair Price Committee and that city's Federal Food Controller that advertising from competing dealers regulates prices better than any temporary "fair price list," experiences show that it does tend to equalize supply and demand.

And, in the long run, that means to establish prices accurately based on conditions.

Far be it from us to claim that advertising will do everything in the world without assistance.

But it WILL be a big factor in adjusting the clash between the Public Wish and the Facts of Trade.

For its strength is the strength of unlimited publicity, and in the last analysis the public governs.

Both dinner and evening gowns have sleeves which are hardly more than cuffs.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF THE NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL

TOWNSHIP ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD ON NEW YEARS DAY.

The regular monthly meeting of the North Monaghan Council was held at the Court House on Saturday. All the members were present.

A by-law was passed providing for the holding of the township elections on New Year's day.

Application was received from Mr. Harry Brown for the position of tax collector at a salary of $200 a year, and was accepted.

F. W. Panter wrote asking that an approach be built immediately to his property at 623 Chamberlen street. Council decided to take no action on the ground that it had never built an approach to any man's property.

Walter McKee was appointed Road Commissioner for the Smith boundary, and Mr. John F. Clark was appointed Commissioner for Road division No. 3.

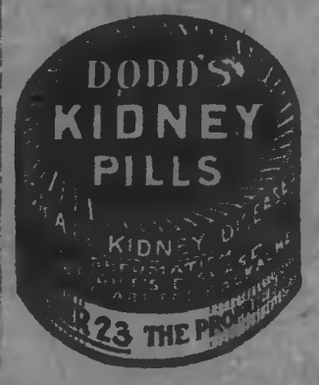
The following accounts were ordered to be paid:—

Peck, Kerr and McElderry, re Stinson's claim, $17.50; P. Hamilton Co., repairing grader $12; Peterboro Hardware Co., shovels $5.25; Geo. Leggott, repairing water trough $1.00; N. Stenson, repairing trough $1.00; G. W. Green Co., repairs $1.15.

The following sidewalk accounts were ordered to be paid:—

J. W. Fitzgerald, engineer $33.40; R. Byers, team and man $9.00; T. Rehill, cement $161.20; A. Patterson, gravel $150.00.

These accounts were for the sidewalk on the south side of Chamberlen street between the Monaghan Road and High street.



Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and dizziness of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, wavy and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

TO THE MANHOOD OF PETERBORO

MEETING TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY EVENING.

A great gathering of the manhood of Peterborough will be seen at the meeting of the United Brotherhood's in Trinity Methodist church on Thursday evening of this week. The fact that Ex-Controller McCarthy comes to Peterborough to speak is itself enough to insure the filling of the building.

It is not intended that only those churches having brotherhood organizations should be represented, but every man from every church, and those who do not attend any church have an equal welcome awaiting them.

Days of Transition.

In these days of transition anyone who makes a contribution toward the uniting of the force of manhood is a benefactor to the community. Those who are sincere in their desires to bring about a bttter understanding among the different classes will be anxious to hear every word that may be spoken on the subject of Brotherhood. There is absolutely no expense to those attending, not even the making of an offering.

The music will be furnished by, a choir of men.

ARMISTICE WITH THE BOLSHEVIKI

DELEGATES OF THE BALTIC STATES HELD A SESSION.

(Canadian Press.)

DORPAT, LIVONIA, Nov. 11. — The delegates of the Baltic states were summoned to meet here and held conferences on Sunday and Monday.

The first general meeting with representatives of Finland, the Ukraine and Poland in attendance was held on Monday afternoon. White Russia was also represented.

So far there has only been an exchange of views on the question of an armistice with the Bolsheviki and the formation of a border state league.

Investigation has shown that wherever the labour of women approximates that of men, the death-rate of women rises.

FARMERS ARE ORGANIZING IN THE WESTERN PROVINCES

Agricultural Council in Session are Considering Invading the Federal Field.

(Special to Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 11. — The Canadian Council of Agriculture will open a very important three day session here to-day.

Following the recent political successes in the Federal bye-elections, as well as in the Provincial Legislatures of Ontario and Alberta, the Organized Farmers through their central organizations will now consider the problem of forming a national political movement which not only shall link up the farmers' organizations in the different provinces but shall invade as an independent force the cities and the towns as well.

Reports of political developments in the provinces of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be heard by the council of Agriculture, from its representatives from these provinces.

The question of future policy will then be discussed and the proposal to hold a national political convention under the auspices of the present farmers 'platform will be debated.

JOURNALIST GIVES $20,000.

SICK HEADACHES CONSTIPATION

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried doctors and all the remedies you ever heard or read of, without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, such as sick and bilious headaches, biliousness, specks floating before the eyes, water brash, heartburn, jaundice and the painful, troublesome, abnormal bleeding or protruding piles, etc., then don't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels in a good healthy condition and prevent disease from gaining a foothold on your system.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mrs. Malcolm McDermid, Cranton Station, N.S., writes:—"I have been sick for a number of years with sick headaches and constipation and tried all kinds of doctor's medicine, but none did me any good. I tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and after using four vials I am completely cured and would heartily recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF MR AND MRS. MILLER

To-day is the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Lieut.-Col. J. W. and Mrs. Miller, 212 McDonnell street. The event will not be celebrated for about a week pending the arrival of absent members of the family.

How to Remove Wrinkles Quickly

If the average woman only knew it, it is not at all difficult to preserve the youthful contour and velvety smoothness of complexion. Every woman hates to see her face wrinkled or baggy, and practically every one has experimented with some sort of patent remedy in the effort either to remove such condition or ward it off.

As a matter of fact, the most effective remedy in the world is one that any woman can easily make up herself at home, in a moment's time. Let her take one ounce of pure powdered saxolite, which she can purchase at any drug store, and dissolve it in a half pint of witch hazel. Apply this harmless and refreshing solution to the face every day for awhile. The results are surprising, to say the least. Even after the very first application a marked improvement is apparent. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a comfortable, smug feeling if firmness that is most delightful.

IRISH "TOOK THE CAKE."

London—Brigadier-General Travers, in presenting 1,914 stars to demobilized soldiers at Skibbereen, said that of all the regiments in the British army in France during the war, the Irish Guards "took the cake" in fighting, discipline and everything else.

AN INDICATION OF AGE

The ducking and peering which some women do in order to put off wearing bi-focal lenses by continuing to wear their old single vision lenses is as much an indication of age as the bi-focals which they dread.

As a matter of fact some bi-focals are so made that it is almost impossible to detect that they are two vision lenses.

We would be glad to show them to you.

"OBLIGING CITIZEN" TURNS OUT TO BE LICENSE INSPECTOR

WINDSOR, Nov. 10.—"Carry your grip, sir?" said License Inspector M. N. Mausseau, to Albert Gagnon, of Montreal, whom he suspected of carrying "wet goods" in from Quebec.

The inspector, however, did the "calling" and Gagnon was given a free ride to the police court, where he was fined $250 and costs for violation of the Ontario temperance act.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back Its Color and Lustre With Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it ad draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

15 YEARS SUFFERING FROM PILES

Mr. J. McEwen of Dundas, Ont., writes:—"For fifteen years I suffered with Piles and could get no permanent cure until I tried Zam-Buk. Perseverance with this herbal balm resulted in a complete cure, and I have not been troubled with the painful ailment since."

Mr. Henry Fougere of Poulamond, N.S., says:—"I suffered terribly with Piles and could find nothing to give me relief until I tried Zam-Buk. This cured me. I consider Zam-Buk the finest ointment on the market."

The above are specimens of the many letters we are constantly receiving from men and women who have ended their suffering by using Zam-Buk. Why not do likewise?

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, blood poisoning, ulcers, sores, cuts, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send this advertisement with name of paper and one cent stamp for free trial box.

HORSE RACE FROM PETERBORO TO PORT HOPE

Local horsemen might be a little surprised to learn that on February 19, 1881, a horse race was held from Port Hope to Peterboro and return. There were three starters from Port Hope. W. Mackie's "Dolly Varden," D. Scott's "Tom," and Jas. Eakin's "Cattle Hunter."

At 9.00 a.m. they reached Bewdley, at 9.40 o'clock and the Huffman House, Peterboro at 11.10 a.m. All three horses were abreast.

Returning they left Peterboro at 11.21 a.m. and reached Port Hope at 1.55 p.m., making the round trip in 4 hours and 53 minutes.

"THE GIRL FROM OUTSIDE," REX BEACH'S CROWNING TRIUMPH

"The Girl from Outside" belongs to the new order of moving pictures, with swiftly moving story running smoothly on from point to point in steady climatic order. It tells its own story without much need of titles. Gone are the days of jerky stories as far as Rex Beach is concerned.

The movie fan goes to his theatre now to see a good story as much as to look at the stars. He used to be amused and fascinated by quickly changing scenes. In slap stick farces that is still part of the fun. But when face to face with people going through a strong emotional scene, he wants to live through the event for all its worth.

That is why in "The Girl fom Outside" the audience enjoys so many strong moments to the full. You get to know the girl and the Curly Kid and the gang of scalawags and the smiling chinaman. You live through every moment of the great struggle of the Kid to destroy the evidence against the man the Girl loves. You thrill as you face the Chinaman revenging on the villain the injury to his friend the Kid. You go from ship to beach, from restaurant to hotel, with inceasing interest in the people and what happens. In the "Girl from Outside" you get to know characters you will not soon forget. That is what makes a photo-drama worth while, worth seeing twice. It will be shown at the Allen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, and the management regards it as one of th efew hundred per cent. pictures.

HEART FLUTTERING EASILY CORRECTED

GOOD ADVICE TO FOLKS BOTHERED WITH PALPITATION, WEAKNESS, ETC.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion, may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable ,there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

Some Symptoms of Weak Heart.

Nervousness,	Palpitation,
Trembling.	Dizziness,
Sinking Feeling,	Heart Pant,
Short Breath,	Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says:

"I was weak and miserable.

"I was subject to heart palpitation and dizziness.

'As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations.'

"Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigor to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great rebuilder."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it, 50c. per box, or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any good druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change — nerve tension disappears ,vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:— White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

WOODMEN OF THE WORLD HELD A VERY SUCCESSFUL MEETING

CHIEF OFFICER OF THE LODCE PRESENT—SEVERAL CANDIDATES ADMITTED TO MEMBERSHIP.

The officers and members of the Woodmen of the World Society met in their hall last night to welcome the Chief Officer, Head Consul Clair Jarvis of London. Candidates were initiated and the work of the local officers highly commented upon by Mr. Jarvis and also by the members seeking membership.

Initiation ceremony over, the Head Consul Commander was then called upon to address the meeting.

Good Membership.

Mr. Jarvis, in his opening remarks, said it was a pleasure to him to again visit the city of Peterborough, and especially to see so many members present. It showed beyond doubt that Woodcraft in this city was progressing. He assured them that loyalty on the part of the members in assisting the officers of a Camp was greatly appreciated and that the membership was bound to increase. He gave fact sand figures whereby any member could go out and approach any business men in this or any other city with a sound and actuarial rate for Woodmen of the World insurance; also explained at length on the privileges now existing in a Woodman policy, viz., 5-year term.

Personal interviews were quoted of old members and concessions which have been granted to them during the present year, and they were more than satisfied with the results.

Financial Standing.

Then he dealt with the financial standing of the Order, and it compared favourably with any straight line company doing business to-day.

During the past year in which so many death claims had to be paid owing to the terrible war and of the scourge with influenza, all claims were paid promptly, and a sum of $23,000 was also added to the surplus fund. Mr. Jarvis was anxious to speak on other important questions, but with the initiation ceremony taking up so much of the time, he concluded by thanking the members for their attention, and wished every success to the Peterborough Camp. (Applause).

Consul C. Graham, on behalf of the officers and members of Sherwood Forest Camp 50, thanked Mr. Jarvis for his visit and his splendid address, and assured him that we should give him more invitations in the future.

Deputy J. W. Plowman, Toronto, also spoke on organization work and appealed to the large number present for their support.

H. C. C. Jarvis met the officers at the close of the meeting and definite terms were laid down, and after careful consideration, the officers have everything in good shape for a large increase in membership before the close of 1919.

APPLICATION FOR AN INCCEASE IN TELEGRAPH RATES

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—The Railway Commission commenced sessions this morning in the hearing of the application made by the telegraph companies for a twenty per cent. increase in rates. F. H. Phippen, who represented the C.P.R. and G.T.P. Telegraph Companies, told the commissioners that if the companies could not be put in position to obtain money to keep lines in repair and make necessary extensions, the government might as well take the wires over.

Collars and narrow girdles are both made of flatly pleated silk bound at both sides.

NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL REGULATIONS

TORONTO, Nov. 11.—"Catch-as-catch-can" methods of thrashing Public school pupils are to be barred if the suggested draft of new regulations to govern corporal punishment is approved by the Toronto authorities.

Radical changes are embodied in the draft which is to be considered. Only female teachers are to punish girls. Rubber straps are not to be used on girls or boys under twelve. Pointers and private straps are positively barred. In fact, everything possible is done to cut down corporal punishment. The teacher is told that frequent use of the strap will be regarded as a sign of his or her own inefficiency.

Try Other Means First.

Principals are to use every endeavor to reduce all forms of punishment to the minimum compatible with the welfare of the pupils and the school, and are not in any case to inflict or to allow to be inflicted corporal punishment until other methods have been tried sufficiently and have failed.

Principals are held responsible for all corporal or other punishment, but they are allowed where they think it necessary to delegate during pleasure the power to inflict slight punishment.

Two straps, a rubber strap and a leather strap, provided by the Department of Supplies, and authorized by the Board, shall be used for the purpose of inflicting corporal punishment. The rubber strap shall not be used in the case of any boy under twelve years of age, or in the case of any girl.

When an assistant entrusted with the power of inflicting corporal punishment has need for exercising that power the assistant must obtain from the principal the appropriate strap and the discipline register.

After inflicting the punishment the assistant shall enter the details and shall sign the record. The strap and the dicipline register must then be returned to the principal, who will initial the entry. If the punishment is inflicted by the principal the details of the case must be entered in the discipline register and the entry signed by the principal.

The principal must secure that throughout the school corporal punishment shall as far as posible be avoided in respect of delicate or nervous pupils.

In the event of any person breaking any of the regulations in regard to the infliction of corporal punishment the principal is required to report the circumstances immediately in writing to the chief inspector. Any breach of the regulations shall be regarded as a most serious offence.

Reduction of 32 Per Cent.

A recent report by Chief Inspector Cowley showed that in the past five years there had been a reduction of 32 per cent. in the cases of corporal punishment. In the period of eight months, in the last school year, there were 5,263 cases out of a roll of 67,000 pupils, while for a similar period five years ago out of 52,000 pupils there was 5,068 cases. The classification of the past year's lickings, showed that 19½ per cent. of them were administered to kiddies under eight years of age, 37 per cent. to pupils between nine and eleven, and 40 per cent. to youngsters between eleven and fourteen.

DISAPPROVES OF FACTORY BONUSES

ALD. GAINEY GAVE NOTICE OF MOTION TO ASK LEGISLATURE TO ABOLISH THEM.

That the Provincial government be petitioned to repeal the legislation ermitting municipalities to bonus manufacturing industries was the substance of a notice of motion given by Ald. Gainey last night.

A request from Neil F. Porter, of Park street Baptist church, that the Council consider a request for the flooding of a rink at the corner of Lake and Park streets, which a Sunday school class intends to conduct this winter, was referred to the Board of Works.

Mr. S. Whatley, representing the G.W.V.A., asked the Council whether it was possible to declare a holiday for the anniversary of the armistice. If no other action was possible, he suggested that a half holiday be given the school children.

"The King proclaimed only two minutes, and if it were necessary he would have proclaimed a holiday," was Mayor Duncan's comment.

Ald. Crowe stated that a holiday would disrupt work just now. Production was wanted, and it would not be long until the Christmas and New Year's holidays were here.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan, that the Council recommend to the Board of Education and Separate School Board that they give the children a holiday in the afternoon.

WEDDING BELLS

WELBOURNE—WEESE.

A marriage of interest to many in Peterborough and elsewhere took place in Belleville on November 5th, when the Rev. A. S. Kerr united in marriage, Mrs. Gladys Weese, of Rossmore, and Mr. Williard Welbourne of Peterborough. Mrs. L. Gerow attended the bride, while Mr. L. Gerow ably supported the groom. The bride was well and favourably known here, and will be greatly missed as she was a general favourite, both with old and young, while the groom is connected with the Bell Telephone Company, Peterborough, he having held a prominent position with that firm for the last 15 years.

Atlantic Flight

Wonderful Example of the Value of OXO

Interesting letter from Captain Sir J. Alcock, K.B.E., D.S.C.

"You will be interested to learn that OXO was a great "help to us during our Trans-Atlantic Flight; it sustained "us wonderfully during our 16 hours' journey.

"We had found out what a good thing it is when flying "in France, and so decided to carry it with us on this "occasion, and we can assure you that hot OXO is most "acceptable under such cold and arduous conditions. "OXO was the only article of its kind which we carried."

J. ALCOCK, Capt., D.S.C.

OXO steadies the nerves—keeps the brain alert—gives extra warmth to resist cold and exposure—extra strength to fortify against fatigue, and yields an abundance of energy out of all proportion to the amount taken.

Prices same as before the war, 10c., 25c., $1.15, $2.25.

The State of Washington is thirty years old to-day, having been admitted to the Union on Nov. 11, 1889.

King Victor Emmanuel III., who led Italy to victory in the world war, celebrates his 50th birthday to-day.

By legislative act or gubernatorial proclamation more than half the States will observe Armistice Day as a holiday.

In Canada Armsitice Day is to be widely celebrated under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association.

Armistice Day is to be celebrated in France by a military pilgrimage, over which the Archbishop of Rheims will preside.

The President of the French Republic and Mme Poincare are to arrive in London to-day as guests of King George and the British nation.

Orchard and garden products of many States will be placed on display in Des Moines today at the opening of the annual Mid-West Horticultural Exposition.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws is to be conferred on General Sir Arthur Currie by the Unisity of Toronto at a special convocation to-day.

Georgians are to hold a "cost of living" conference at Atlanta to-day, with A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney-general of the United States, as the chief speaker.

Must Win Baronetcy to Get $1,250,000 Estate.

Lonton—Captain C. W. Wallace is endeavoring to have set aside in the Chancery Division a condition in the will of his father, the late Charles William Wallace, a wealthy India merchant, which provides that the son must attain a baranetcy or higher honor to inherit the $1,250,000 estate left by the merchant. If the son fails, the will declares the estate is to go to the British and India treasuries.

"I do this," the merchant stated in his will, "because I hold the view that subject to the right to make adequate provision for my children, all possessions, great or small, if acquired through the people as mine were, should return to the people."

Justice Eve, in a reserved decision, declared that in determining whether the condition is valid or void, the court ought to ascertain whether its fulfillment reasonably involved any act or conduct against the welfare of the state. If it did not, it was valid. He could not, therefore, hold it invalid.

DURING the last few years people have had to be content with many lines of goods that were inferior in quality to those procurable before the war.

To-day, people are demanding the better grades again. Those who from a mistaken idea of economy tried to be satisfied with common teas are coming back to Red Rose Tea. They realize that they cannot be satisfied with anything less than Red Rose Quality.

And Red Rose probably will cost them no more than common tea, because Red Rose not only tastes better—it goes farther.

Consisting chiefly of Assam teas—the richest and strongest grown—three teaspoonfuls of Red Rose goes as far as five of ordinary tea. A brewing will prove it.

Sold only in sealed packages.

STORY OF SOME FAMOUS RELICS

M. Clemenceau's practical mind d dislike of show will not allow the blic to gaze upon his famous per- ated coat and waistcoat in one of Paris museums.

There have been some very curious venirs of the kind, apart from the l-smoked cigars of royalties, which treasured by Americans and oth-

Most curious of all undoubtedly Lord Anglesey's "leg." Lord An- ly lost a leg at Waterloo, and it buried in the garden of the villa which he was taken. In after rs he used to recall how parties people visited the spot "to view grave."

A relic of another kind was George famous coat, and it was a pleas- trait in the fiery little King that squeezed himself at Dettingen in- the coat he had worn years before Oudenarde.

Horace Walpole's "researches" er Queen Mary's comb. Wolsey's hat, the pipe which Van Tromp oked during his last sea fight, and spur which King William struck the flank of Sorrel" are famous. Curiously enough, Peru celebrates precisely similar custom; but theirs far older dating from soon after Spanish conquest. All graves e are decorated including those pons and Indians, individuals lit- regarded in Peru at all events, ring life. In the evening the popu- gives itself over to feasting and merrymaking. This particular flower festival is held annually on November 1st.

Cherry Blossom Time.

In certain of the Swiss cantons there is held every year the "Feast of the Love Garlands." On the mornnig of the eventful day the young unmarried girls gather flowers, which they weave into garlands and throw at dusk into houses wherein reside the young man whom they respectively fancy. The gallants are not slow to respond, and the day ends up with dancing and merrymaking.

Of all floral festivals, however, Japan's Feast of the Cherry Blossom is the most generally observed by the people it concerns. Practically every town and village throughout the land has its own particular cherry tree for honoring on this great occasion, but the most famous of them all is that at Kyoto.

Here, early in April, is to be seen such a sight as can be witnessed nowhere else in the world. There are seldom fewer than half a million people present, who gather fom all parts of the empire. Everywhere is feasting, dancing, and merrymaking.—Tit Bits.

PROPHECY ON DEAD MAN

London—"Those who say or read this prayer never die a sudden death, either by drowning or by poison, nor will they be overcome by their enemies."

This statement, accompanying a copy of a prayer which was said to have been sent by the Pope to Emperor Charles, for his safety as he was going into battle, was found on the body of a dead man whose body was recovered from a Grimsby dock. The body has not been identified.

SNAKE WITH FEET.

Waynesboro, Pa.—A copperhead snake with two well-formed feet was found and killed by Ira Kastzel at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains, south of here recently. The snake was two feet four inches in length and three and a quarter inches in circumference. The feet are located about six inches from the tip of the tail. Each leg is a little more than three inches in length.

BABY NAMED AFTER HAIG.

Liverpool—Victor Haig McDonald is the name of a Liverpool peace baby born a few minutes after the signing of peace. Thefather, Private MacDonald, of the 2nd South Lancashire Regiment, asked the Lord Mayor to suggest a name. With his congratulations the Lord Mayor sent a silver mug

A 14-BOTTLE PARSON.

London—The remarkable capacity for consuming liquids of the Rev. A. R. Ward, formerly of Cambridge, is recalled by his friend C. I. Thornton, in the Times. "At a big dinner in Cambridge," said Mr. Thornton, the parson drank 12 bottles of Apollinaris, two bottles of champagne, and one bottle of port. It had no deleterious effect on him at all."

A RAIN OF HERRINGS.

London—A waterspout which burst about Tobermory spread a shower of herrings over the town. They fell in heaps on pavements and roofs. The gulls were quickly gobbling them up, and later hens, ducks and cats ate the fish. People were awakened by the screaming sea birds

35 SING SING PRISONERS TAKEN TO CLINTON PRISON

SING SING, N.Y., Nov. 10.—Thirty-five prisoners, some of them considered the most "hardened" in Sing Sing Prison, were removed to-day to Clinton Prison to prevent overcrowding. Among the prisoners was Jordan Murphy, sentenced to life imprisonment from Brooklyn recently as an habitual criminal.

Harry Cohen, released to-day from Sing Sing Prison after serving a term of one and a half years for grand larceny, from New York, had about fifteen seconds' liberty when he was arrested by a Philadelphia detective who had extradition papers to take him to that city, where he is wanted on a charge of robbery.

Loyalty Basis Of All Civilization

Every City Owes Moral and Legal Obligation To His Government

Same In Community Life

People Have Duty to Their Home Town Which Is No Less Binding Because It Is Not Fixed By Law

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

Loyalty is the foundation upon which the whole structure of civilisation rests. Loyalty to one's country, loyalty to one's state, loyalty to one's city, loyalty to one's business associates, loyalty to one's friends! Loyalty is essential to the ordinary progress of the world. Without it the world must be chaos.

There would be no stable government in the world were it not for the loyalty of the people to their government. There would be no successful business enterprise on the face of the globe were it not for th loyalty of the men and women who are connected with it. No church could exist for a month were it not for the loyalty of its members. The sacredness of the home would be a myth were it not for the loyalty of the members of the family group.

The loyalty of a people to its government is based partly upon sentiment and partly upon the recognition of an obligation that a people owes to its government. A people that has the benefit of good government owes a duty to that government. Those who do not recognise this duty and perform it voluntarily are compelled by law to do so. The man or woman who is protected by the government in the pursuit of life and happiness, must contribute in money and service toward the support of the government. The man or woman who, under the protection of his government which preserves law and order, is able to accumulate property, must pay taxes on that property to help maintain the government which has protected him or her. In time of war the government has the right to call upon its citizens to take up arms in its defence.

Loyalty Moral Obligation.

In governmental affairs these things are regulated by law, and the man who receives the benefit of orderly government is required to fulfill the obligation which that entails, but in the ordinary affairs of life, loyalty is a moral rather than a legal obligation. There are laws which prevent a man from stealing from his employer or his business associates, but there is no law that require him to be loyal to them. The success of a business institution, however, depends more upon the loyalty of its employees than upon the laws which prevent them from stealing its money. Likewise the stability of a government depends more upon the loyalty of its people than upon the laws which compel them to fulfill their obligation to the government.

It is equally true that the prosperity and growth of every individual community is dependent upon the loyalty of the people who live in it. Every citizen owes an obligation to his community, and the obligation is a moral as well as a legal one. The good citizen pays his taxes cheerfully and willingly. He serves upon the juries which administer the laws of the community. He fulfills every legal obligation that is imposed upon him by his government, but there is a moral obligation which is of still greater importance to the community. This moral obligation consists in doing everything that is in his power to promote the prosperity and happiness of his community. The man who is enabled to make his living in any community is under a moral obligation to spend his money in such a way as to help his community.

Prosperity Worth Protecting.

A thing worth having is worth protecting, and if the prosperity of a community is worth anything to the people living in it, it is worth protecting. If the chance for a man to earn a good living, to live well, to give his children a good education, is worth anything, it is worth protecting.

There is just one way to protect the prosperity of a community, and that is to keep the community from being drained of its cash—working capital. The only way to do that is for the people of the community to keep their money at home. Every time the citizen of a community sends money away from home to a mail order house instead of spending it in his home stores he is disloyal to his community. It is disloyalty to the merchants only indirectly. It is disloyalty to the community of which the merchants are only a small but a very important part.

This is the moral obligation that every citizen owes to his community, just as the payment of taxes and the loyal support of his government are his legal obligations. Disloyalty of a large body of the citizens spells disaster to any government and disloyalty of any large part of the people to their community is followed inevitably by the downfall of the community. Self-interest, if nothing else, should convice every citize of the advisability of fulfilling his moral obligation to his community.

HOME BUYING PROMOTES HOME PROSPERITY

But few shoppers in Peterborough realize the fight being waged by our merchants in behalf of the pocket books. This is the time of year when the buying public should stick to their town and refuse to be tempted to buy away from home. It is the time to have confidence in the reputation and goods of our reliable merchants—merchants whose integrity and methods of honest merchandising is well known to all.

A great man once said:—"I don't know muc habout the tariff, but I do know that if my wife buys her cloak in America we get the money and the cloak, and that American labor is paid for manufacturing it. If she buys her cloak abroad. We get only the cloak, the other country gets the money, and foreign labor receives the benefit."

This same argument is applicible to local buying.

'This is the season of heavy buying —the closer home you keep your dollar the quicker it will get back to you.

GREAT MANITOBA LIBERAL DEAD

Judge Mickle Had the Distinction of Never Losing an Election.

Special to the Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Nov. 11.—The death occurred at Minnedosa last evening of Hon. Charles Julius Mickle, County Court Judge in the Northern Judicial of Manitoba, aged 77. Owing to ill-health the late Judge Mickle was about to retire from the bench last summer. He went to Rochester for treatment, and though slightly improved, was not given hope of a cure. The late Judge Mickle was for many years prominent in Manitoba politics, having held the portfolio of Provincial Secretary in Greenway Government, and when Greenway retired, became House Leader of the Liberals in Opposition. He had the distinction of never losing an election. He was first elected to the Legislature of the Province in 1888, and subsequently at all general elections to 1903. The late Judge was born at Stratford, Ontario.

THE PERPETUAL YEAR CALENDAR

Special to the Examiner:

KINGSTON, Nov. 11.—The cable from Rome, Italy, that Rev. Francesco Scatigna, of the town of Locoretoude, in the Province of Bari, had discovered the "perpetual calendar" which has baffled scientists for centuries, was read with interest at Queen's University, as over thirty years ago Nathan F. Dupuis, professor of mathematics in this University, made such a calendar by which the correct day, week and year might be obtained for any time in the past or future. This calendar invented by Prof. Dupuis was similar to that one described as having been discovered by the Italian Father.

Voice O The People

To the Editor:— Yesterday's Examiner contained two replies to my letter of some days ago, and as Mr. Stock pointed out there must have been some mistake when a four pound loaf was quoted instead of three pounds. As we have no information to the contrary we must conclude that Mr. Stock is correct when he states that the prices quoed in St. Catharines for bread are for a three pound loaf and not four pounds as stated in my letter. I appreciate the information that was supplied in yesterday's two letters.

Thanking you, I remain,
Yours truly,
REGINALD SMITH.

PRINTERS' STRIKE IN PARIS AND NO PAPERS PUBLISHED.

United Press:

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Paris newspapers were tied up by the printers' strike to-day. Only one, the Chicago Tribune's Paris edition, was able to publish independently. Other dailies were considering a plan to get out a single combined newspaper, to be known as "La Presse De Paris."

Orange blossoms were adopted for bridal wreaths because the orange branch bears fruit and flowers at the same time—a sign of plenty.

Good For Young And Old

Amongst foods none can compare with the delicious, stimulating pasteurized milk from the Peterboro Creamery. None can be used so often, in so many ways. None so economical for young and old. Milk cuts down "the high cost of living".

Prof. Rosenam of Harvard says you would have to buy and prepare 3-4 lb. of beef, or 8 eggs, or 2 lbs of chicken or fish to get nourishment contained in a single quart of milk.

Milk should be part of the meal—used plentiful in every course, from soup to pudding.

Begin to-day. Double your regular milk order And be sure of getting milk that is extra rich in cream that comes from the finest farms in Ontario, that is made safe by scientific pasteurization in the best equipped dairy in the country.

Pasteurizing makes raw milk safe. When you drink our milk and see the rich creamy ring left in the glass, you know you are getting REAL clean milk All sediments and dangerous impurities are removed. You are protected against contamination from infected cows, as well as other dangers liable to arise from raw milk.

Miners Return

SOME OF THE MEN ARE RETURNING TO WORK TO-DAY—NORMAL PRODUCTION WILL BE DELAYED.

THE COAL STRIKE

By J. L. O'Sullivan.
(United Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 12.—Coal miners who have been on strike since Nov. 1 were expected by officials of the United Mine Workers of America to start returning to work today. Normal production of coal, union leaders here believed, will not be reached for some time. A few miners may even stay out until the negotiations, to open in Washington Friday, are completed, leaders said. Several district leaders were evidently dissatisfied with the action of the meeting in complying with the demands of the United States district Judge A. B. Anderson that the strike order be rescinded. "I'm fine physically, but sore mentally," Alexander Howatt of Pittsburgh, president of the Kansas district, said. Howatt and Frank Farrington of Illinois, are known to have taken the lead in the fight to defy the court's order. At a meeting late yesterday the union heads agreed to give the scale committee a free hand in negotiating an agreement at the Washington conference, it was reported. The miners by rescinding the strike order, believe their case now rests with the government and expect Secretary of Labor Wilson to see that the operators make concessions in compensation and hours of work.

(United Press.)

BISMARCK, N.D., Nov. 12.—Governor Lynn Frazier to-day moved to operate the mines of North Dakota through the State Government. Although Frazier declared martial law, it is not believed troops will be put into action, either to operate the mines or guard them, unless serious disorder is threatened.

Reports Slow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12. — Reports on the number of men returning to work are slow in reaching International headquarters of mine workers here, chiefly because the order rescinding the strike call of October 15 has not yet been received in many districts, and because many local unions will hold meetings before deciding whether to return to the mines. Despatches received up to this time, while not clearly defining the attitude of the men as a whole, believed to indicate that workers will continue on strike only in isolated cases.

Women From Rural Districts Meet

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—Four hundred women representatives from rural districts all over the province met in the first session of the nineteenth annual convention of the Provincial Women's Institute this afternoon, in the auditorium of the Technical School. Miss Church, sister of Mayor Church, opened the proceedings with an address of welcome. She was answered by the President, Mrs. W. Todd, of Orillia. Greetings from Great Britain were given by Mrs. Alfred Watt, M.B.M.E., which included a telegram from H.R.H. Princess Louise, wife of a former Governor-General of Canada, as well as letters with greetings from several counties in England. Other greetings were given from Nova Scotia, Alberta and British Columbia.

LAKEFIELD PRESENTED WITH VICTORY FLAG LAST EVENING

HIS HONOUR JUDGE HUYCKE MADE THE PRESENTATION—HOW LAKEFIELD CELEBRATED ARMISTICE DAY.

THE SPEAKERS

Having passed her Victory Loan objective of $150,000, by $11,000, Lakefield last evening was presented with an honour flag. His Honour Judge Huycke and Mr. Frank Whitehouse, of Peterboro, were present at the event.

Mr. Whitehouse said it was a pleasant surprise to many that Lakefield and Douro could raise so much, but the objective of $130,000, has not only been reached but has been passed and is still going strong.

Judge Huycke followed Mr. Whitehouse and expressed his pleasure at being in Lakefield and congratulated the village on their new hall, now nearing completion, which would be a credit to the village now and for all time. He said he is often in the village but few of the citizens turn out to see him (applause and laughter) and so he can note the progress of the village along many lines. The war is over and won but the results of the war are not over by any means and the Victory Loan is to give credit to this country to carry on business in the reconstruction—when about half a million men who had been more or less producers were removed from their homes and shipped overseas they became non-producers and became consumers. Thousands too left their normal occupations and worked at munition making and other branches of war work, so that the producing class of the necessities of life became still further reduced. Now we must borrow money to keep afloat.

Lakefield's Response.

Lakefield responded nobly to the call for men and has responded nobly to the call for money. Now make a long pull and a strong pull and a pull together and make the total even greater and win a crest for the flag. The Prince of Wales' flag which has been given to each municipality who attained its objective, has been fairly and honorably won by Lakefield.

This gallant gentleman has as his motto as Prince of Wales, "Ich Dieu"—"I serve"—and let us serve even as he has done. In his career so far he has followed in his father's footsteps and those of his honorable namesake and grandfather, King Edward, the Peacemaker, and his great grandmother, Victoria, the Good.

Reeve Moore.

Reeve Moore was called forward and presented with the flag as the representative of the people of Lakefield and Douro.

Mr. Moore made a suitable reply. Mr. Rogers of Peterboro, being called in to make a speech, protested, as he was acting as ballast in the car and not as a speech maker. However, Mr. Rogers said a word about the Victory Loan, pointing out that in the past we have borrowed from Great Britain whenever we needed money, and now Britain has been nearly bled white, and we can no longer turn to her, and there is no place else we can turn for money at a reasonable rate of interest so we are borrowing from our own people, and after all it is the best place to borrow: it is patriotic and decidedly a good investment.

Mr. Rogers declared the pleasure Lakefield's success has given him and expressed the feelings of the Peterboro people who were also delighted.

Mr. J. A. Porter spoke on behalf of his fellow councillors and announced that he was pleased to be a citizen of Lakefield to-night when Lakefield has gone over the top so splendidly but this is not the first time that Lakefield went over the top, as our sons did so nobly when the call went out for men to leave home and kindred and journey far away overseas.

Mr. Whitehouse congratulated Messrs Sherin and Braden on their good team work in the campaign which has been so successful.

Mr. Fry and Mr. Blackadar, who were unable to come up from Peterboro, sent regrets.

Mr. Sherin said a few words about Lakefield's previous Victory Loan

CUT THE CORNER WAS FINED $13.10

Is the Cause of Most Accidents, Says the Magistrate.

James Conway, Bridgenorth, cut the corner with his car on November 7 at Hunter and Water Streets and a pedestrian was nearly run down. The fine was $13.10 this morning.

"Cutting the corner is the cause of most of these auto accidents," said Magistrate Dumble as a reason for the heavy fine.

Beads on evening gowns are often strung and arranged in clusters of loops.

Another Strike

NEARLY FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND MACHINISTS VOTING TO-DAY ON STRIKE ISSUE.

A STATEMENT

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Three hundred and seventy-five thousand union machinists throughout the United States were voting to-day on a general strike in connection with the railroad situation. "The vote is returnable late this month," said Wm. E. Johnston, President of the International Machinists' Union. "The question directly before the men is whether they shall strike if Congress passes the anti-strike and compulsory arbitration legislation now before it in connection with settling the railroad problem. If I know the machinists, they will hit the streets the minute this legislation passes—if it does. One hundred and twenty-five thousand of the union machinists are employed in railroad shops. As provided in the strike ballot instructions, they would be the first to go out. Later, union machinists in all industries would be called out to support them in a simultaneous strike if necessary."

The machinists' vote is being taken at a time when members of two of the four great Railway Brotherhoods are conferring with Rail Director Hines and pressing their demands for immediate wage increases to make their earnings conform with the increased cost of living. These two brotherhoods are the trainmen and the conductors.

VON CAPELLE ON SUBMARINE WAR

HUN ADMIRAL APPEARS BEFORE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE.

Canadian Press:

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—Vice-Admiral Von Capelle, former Minister of Navy, was bombarded at the National Assembly sub-committee investigating into the war with questions as to why the submarine campaign was not avoided and why more submarines were not built. Forty-five submarines were built before the war, the Admiral told the committee, and 778 during the war, of which 570 were ordered by Von Capelle during his two and a half years of office the latter part of the war. Asked whether the submarine campaign was planned with the purpose of crushing Britain or merely compelling the agreement to a tenable peace, the Admiral said, "We believed we could force England to a usable peace in five months."

OLDER OFFICERS OF 57TH REGT. RESIGN

TO FACILITATE REORGANIZATION OF PETERBORO'S BATTALION.

At a meeting with Major-General Williams at the Armouries yesterday, all the older officers of the 57th Battalion tendered their resignations in order that the stage would be entirely cleared for the reorganization of Peterborough's battalion. Col. Mills stated that his resignation was included with the rest, and that it was hoped that the plans for reforming the local Militia unit would be carried out this winter. A complete statement of the results of yesterday's conference with the Commanding Officer of the Third District will be given out later.

STATE TROOPS PATROL CITY

VICTIMS WERE ACTIVE IN SUPPRESSING RADICAL ACTIVITIES.

(Canadian Press.)

CENTRALIA, WASH., Nov. 12. — State troops to-day patrolled this city where during armistice day celebration four members of the American Legion were shot and killed, by men said to have been members of the Industrial Workers of the World. Britt Smith, secretary of the local branch of the Industrial Workers was hanged by a mob.

The reason for the attack had not developed to-day fully but it was said evidence had been obtained that it was premeditated.

One of the 20 men arrested in a sweeping search for the I.W.W. following the attack, was said to have confessed that plans were made some months ago to "get" Warren Grimm and Arthur McElfresh, two of those killed, and William Schales and Capt. David Livingstone. The four had been active in suppressing Radical activities in this community.

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAMS ADDRESSED THE CADETS

CADET CORPS NO. 13 HAD A VISIT FROM THE DISTRICT COMMANDING OFFICER.

GENERAL IMPRESSED

This morning at 11 o'clock Cadet Corps No. 13, comprising the boys of the Collegiate Institute was addressed by Major-General V. A. S. Williams, comanding officer of Military District No. 3, in the Collegiate Assembly Hall.

In opening Major-General Williams complimented the Corps and its instructor, Capt. C. E. Jamieson, upon its high standing not only among the Cadet Corps of this district but among those of the Province. It was his first visit to the School and he expressed himself as greatly impressed by the building and the general tone of the institution and particularly by the photographs of ex-pupils who had paid the supreme sacrifice which adorned walls of the corridors. He considered the school's war record a splendid one.

The Honor Roll

Of its ex-pupils 298 had enlisted for active service and 58 of these had paid the supreme sacrifice.

Turning to a consideration of the Cadet Movement he stated that the boys like those before him were the backbone and sinew of Canada and the Empire. It was a movement which was doing much good for the boys physically and morally. It was developing not only their bodies but it was teaching them respect and obedience to superiors, initiative, self reliance, and co-operation. The boys should not look upon it from the standpoint that it was a "playing soldier" matter but rather an important part of their school work.

Likes Peterboro.

Major-General Williams dwelt for some time upon the pleasure which it always gave him to visit Peterboro especially as it was in the vicinity that he had spent much of his school days, he having been a pupil at the Grove School, Lakefield, and at Trinity College School, Port Hope. He complimented the city upon its being the first city of the Province to win the Prince of Wales' Honor Flag in the Victory Loan Campaign.

In Conclusion

In closing he wished the Cadet Corps the best of luck and suggested to Mr. H.R.H. Kenner, the principal that a half-holiday for them might be welcome. Mr. Kenner, however, stated that in such a matter he was under the thumb of the Board of Education and had not the power to grant a holiday but he would keep the suggestion in mind.

CONFERENCE WITH RUNNING TRADES

MAY BRING ABOUT CLOSER CO-OPERATION WITH ORGANIZED LABOUR.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 12.—The joint schedule committee of trainmen and conductors, which is negotiating with the C.P.R., was addressed yesterday by Ald. Ernest Robinson, secretary of the Trades and Labour Council, to pave the way towards closer co-operation between the running trades and the rest of the labour movement. It is proposed to bring this about by affiliation of the local lodges of railroad orders with various trades councils. Running trades unions have never affiliated themselves in the past with labour councils nor have they been affiliated at headquarters with the American Federation of Labour, although they have often co-operated with each other in legislative programmes. Grand Lodges of the Big Four, as running trades are called, have recently undergone a change of mind in regard to participation in American Federation of Labour and it is said that there is a feeling among the rank and file of membership in favour of a greater degree of co-operation with the rest of organized labour.

DEATH APPEARS IN A NEW FORM

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 12.—Death has come to Winnipeg riding in a new chariot. Two deaths and at least six cases make up the present toll, which physicians lay to a disease which has never before made its appearance here. Sleeping sickness is the popular term for the epidemic. "It is here and it is the real thing," said Dr. Gordon Bell, provincial bacteriologist.

Dr. Bell has conducted two post mortem examinations of "sleeping death" victims in Winnipeg and has under observation a living sufferer from the disease. Physicians have tried to arouse the victims by tickling the soles of their feet when patients were so far sunken in coma that they showed no signs of life when prodded with a hatpin.

YOUR EYES DESERVE GOOD CARE.

It's a mistake to abuse your eyes and expect them to be just as strong. Each eye possesses so much natural nerve strength; after that is used up, it means artificial aid for the rest of your life. Why not attend to your eyes before they reach this stage? Glasses for a while will probably restore them. Consult W. H. VICTORY BONDS

While you are urged to buy Victory Bonds as an investment it has its uses as a sheet anchor out to windward in a time of adversity. It is something to snub to, to rely on and is accessible in a pinch. It places the owner beyond the necessity of applying to some friend to endorse his note, or to ask the dealer for an extension of credit. Take this illustration of its merits and uses.

During the unemployment, very general at the earlier part of the year, a capable housewife apologized to her grocer for not being able to pay his so promptly as usual. She had dealt with the merchant for several years. The grocer was not anxious about the validity of the account and appreciated the hesitation of the customer to ask for a futher credit.

She said that her husband had not had work for several weeks and that what money they had saved had been exhausted. All that was left was a Victory Bond for $80.00, and that she supposed could not be used. To her surprise the grocer at once offered to take the bond, pay the interest up to date and give financial market price for the bond, it not being subject to income tax. Having the bond solved the difficulty. A due bill was at once arranged, the arrears paid, and until the balance of the face of the bond was exhausted the housewife had no anxiety as to the immediate future. She said, proudly and feelingly, that if the bond had not been taken and paid for that the money could and probably would have been used for something not so necessary as the foods required, and that it was a lucky investment for herself and husband that they had bond.

Not only that, but she told others, similarly situated, and several staved off the prospect of going into debt for household necessaries by bringing funds and doing likewise.

We know [illegible] should have been held [illegible] when pressing need comes in, it might be better to part with the bond than have the embarrassment of running into debt, and which in the way indicated could be avoided.

A WOMAN'S HEART.

A woman's heart is a savings bank
Where the love you deposit lies,
Gathering interest day by day
From the sunshine of the skies.
There isn't a safer place, my lad,
To bury the treasure you'd keep
Than down in its beautiful vaults of dream
Where the tenderest blossoms sleep.
A woman's heart is the place to hide
Whatever you'd treasure best;
For she'll give it back as the years go by
In a love that's more than rest.

A woman's heart is a storage vault,
Where nothing breaks in to steal,
Except the honour, you fail to pay
And the love you forget to feel.
A love you have placed there once remains,
And you may forget, but she
Will give it back if you want it so,
And smile as she hands the key.
Smile, but never forget, my lad,
That a smile is the saddest thing
When it's over the ashes of something dead
And the heart is a broken wing!

A woman's heart is a fortress strong,
Where your foes may never come,
With prancing steeds and glowing sword
And the rat-tat of the drum.
For that which you treasure she will defend,
And loud as the guns may roll,
She'll stand in the breach to the very end—
And then she'll fight with her soul.
A woman's heart—I would rather trust
My all unto that, I know,
For love in the keeping of such a place
Will grow as the blossoms grow.
—Selected.

God's bookkeeper makes no errors and up there credit is given where credit is due.

A neat appearance about the house is a woman's chief attraction, if she but knew it. So many of them, after a few months of marriage, become so careless of their personal appearance. And there is nothing more ruinous to a man's love for his wife, or to his disposition, than to come home after a hard day's work and find her just as carelessly attired as he left her in the morning, only a little more so, due to her work during the day. There is no reason why a woman need ever be anything but neat. In these days she has very little dirty work to do, and if she will be careful there is no reason why she should spill something of each dish she cooks, on her dress. There is no reason why she cannot have a clean face and her hair well combed. It takes just as long to twist the hair up carelessly, as to twist it up neatly. It is all a matter of habit, and if she would but form the habit of dressing neatly in the morning she would always present a neat appearance, even if she kept the same dress on all day. Wives owe this to their husbands. To be sure, the husbands owe the wives a good many things, too, but they will be more apt to play the game squarely, if they see that their wives are doing likewise.

Young people, each and every one of you, hold in your own being the key of success or failure. And if you desire your life to be regarded as a success, before God and man, make it so. Do not give up the ideals of your youth. You may have to fight for them against great odds — the world may laugh you to scorn—but fight and you will win and gain strength with the battle. "He that wrestles with us, strengthens our nerves and sharpens our skill. Our antagonist is our helper."

How many times we see about us men and women who are failures at thirty-five—who are willing to give up the struggle and own themselves beaten—and just at the time when they are best equipped by nature and experience to win great things. Their failure, you will find, is always due to one of two things; either they have forgotten their dreams and their minds wander about in a sea of half-tried enterprises, or remembering their dreams, they do not care enough to put their mind and heart into their work and stick. The best word in the vocabulary of any young person is that word "stick." If you stick to your ideals, you will win—give them up and lie down on the job and you will lose your chance of success and your self-respect, which is man's greatest asset next to his love of God.

Trouble, in a way, is a blessing in disguise, for it develops us forally, mentally, and physically. There are a few people in the world who have never had any trouble. They are all good people, but mighty uninteresting, unsympathetic and without real friends. And you never can tell where they are going to stand when trouble does come. It's the people who have met trouble in hand to hand combat and come off victors who are the dependable ones. Each new trial simply adds to their strength to fight the next and their determination to win. And they usually are much more happy and cheerful than others. They are learning how to live and their metal is being tested in the fiery furnace of life's storms. When the test is over, they will find a rich reward in store for them.

Do not excuse the house, furniture, or table you set before your guests. It is fair to suppose that their visits are to you, not to your surroundings.

CHINESE GIRLS CHOP FINGERS FOR AN IDEAL

NATIVE PHYSICIAN DECLARES HER PEOPLE ARE NATURALLY VERY COURAGEOUS.

NEW YORK.— Chinese boys and girls are chopping off their fingers to dark blood with which to write their pledge to boycott Japan, Dr. Ida Kahn, Chinese physician, says.

"Do you think the Chinese are not brave?" Dr. Kahn asked, adding:

'Do not be deceived. They are very friendly and peaceful, but they are as brave as any other people on earth. And if Japan succeeds in straddling China she will convert the 300,000,000 Chinese from friendship to hatred of America. Then watch out! These are the kind of people who have the fortitude to chop off their fingers for an ideal."

Educated in Michigan.

Dr. Kahn is one of the surplus Chinese daughters whose family found her "one too many" and offered her for adoption.

"My mother had six daughters," she said, with a laugh, "and didn't want me. So an American missionary and his wife adopted me. They sent me to Ann Arbor, in 1880, a time when hardly any other Chinese girl had attempted anything so [illegible] as the study of medicine.

Chinese daughters, Dr. Kahn said, frequently mutilate themselves in the hope that by so doing they may speed the recovery of a parent who is ill.

Speaking of Courage.

"Isn't it courageous for a girl to cut off a piece of her flesh to cure her sick mother?" asked the woman surgeon, and went on:

"It happens in China. You see, among our lower classes there is a superstition that if a daughter secretly cut off a piece of her own flesh and prepare a broth from it, and feed that broth to the sick patient, a cure is promised by the gods. Of course, it is a deplorable custom and the very description of it may be repugnant to Christians, but what about the courage of the Chinese—wouldn't they make good daughters?"

There are more than 25,000,000 widows in India.

THEIR NAME LIVETH EVERMORE.

Their name liveth evermore,
And eloquence will fail to give
And clarion note will fail to sound,
The praise of those who cease to live,
Who lie beneath a grassy mound.

Their name liveth evermore,
And history's page can ne'er reveal,
Nor time destroy undying fame,
Their deeds to every heart appeal,
Emblazoning deep their every name.

Their name liveth evermore,
What though a space of time we pause,
To mourn a voice forever stilled.
We feel 'twas for a righteous cause,
It ended thus, its mission filled.

Their name liveth evermore,
What if the sun its flood decline,
To light their tombs of mother earth.
Their glorious deeds would still outshine
All else and prove their mighty worth.

Their name liveth evermore,
And wild flowers crest each grassy mound.
When winter's snows have passed again
Each budding flower in speech profound
Will say, 'He died, but not in vain.

Their name liveth evermore,
With heads all bared, an empire stands.
With honouring praise our hearts outpour,
While Freedom's Flag flies o'er our land.
Their name liveth evermore.

OH, FELLOW TRAVELLER!

See all your sins on Jesus laid.
The Lamb of God was slain.
His soul was once an offering made
For every soul of man.

For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3, 16.

Stop, thirsty traveller, stranger here,
And stay thy soul's intensity.
Oh, muse a while and shed a tear
For Him who tasted death for thee.
For thee flowed out the crimson tide,
For thee the Prince of Glory died.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 12TH, 1919.

LITTLE TIME LEFT.

The time is getting short. Have you bought your Bond yet?

ONLY THREE MORE DAYS.

You'll have to hurry if you want to lend your money to Canada. The Victory Loan campaign ends on Saturday night.

HOW ABOUT YOU?

Peterboro's reputation is safe. The city's Victory Loan objective has been left far in the rear. But how about your own? Have you done your part in the campaign?

THEY'LL ALL AGREE.

General Williams agrees with Sherman's version of War. And a poll of the Canadian Army would make the vote unanimous.

THE SENATE'S OBJECTION.

Some of the Senators object to the vote of $60,000,000 for further assistance to Canada's soldiers. What would the Upper House have said if the Flynn billion dollar gratuity scheme had been sent to them for approval?

STILL ——.

There are people who claim that Mr. Burnham's fears of an increase of illegal whiskey manufacturing are all moonshine.

WRITE MR. O'CONNOR.

We regret we are unable to answer the inquiry of "Anxious Reader", "Subscriber", "Pro Bono Publico" and other worried correspondents as to whether or not the Board of Commerce has any jurisdiction over the price of liquor.

FIRMNESS WON.

It is evident that the United States Government has not a wishbone where its backbone ought to be. Its firm stand in the coal strike has been triumphantly successful.

A LOST REPUTATION.

The "Dumbells" little joke in regard to the United States Rainbow Division "always turning up after the storm is over" has completely spoiled the reputation of the well-known division locally at least. When a picture of part of the Rainbow Division was thrown on the screen at a local picture house last night everybody laughed.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

Premier Hughes of Australia is between two fires says the Hamilton Herald. He has earned for himself the bitter hatred of all slackers on account of his denunciation of them; and now he has been mobbed by returned soldiers because he has not consented to do as much for them in the way of gratuities as they went done. But Hughes is a fighter, and not to be daunted by enemies of either class.

AN IMPRESSIVE GUEST.

The brotherhood of a common bereavement that brought together people from all walks of life in an impressive and soul stirring gathering was an outstanding feature of the function under the auspices of the Peterboro Board of Trade in the G.W.V.A. Hall yesterday at which certificates were presented to the relatives of Peterboro soldiers who fell in the great war. It was the first occasion on which those upon whom the heaviest blows of the war had fallen were assembled together and the sight of the hall crowded with the parents, widows, children and brothers and sisters of Peterboro's glorious dead was one that will not soon be forgotten. The magnitude of the price that this city paid to keep to save the world from the menace of Prussianism was perhaps for the first time seen in its true proportions yesterday as name after name of the long list was read out and in response a bereaved relative stood up proudly but sadly to receive a certificate. It was an occasion that will be historical for perhaps never again will those who have lost loved ones in the war be brought together as they were yesterday. In carrying out this public recognition of the sacrifices made on behalf of the Empire by Peterboro's soldiers, the Board of Trade has performed a splendid service. "It was well worth doing" remarked one of the officers of the Board at the conclusion of the ceremony and the public will agree that it was.

MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAMS.

During his present visit to Peterboro Major-General Williams the general officer commanding No. 3, Military District has strengthened the hold he gained on his previous appearance here on the affection and esteem of the citizens generally. General Williams not only possesses the reputation of having been a very gallant soldier overseas but he is known among the men of the Canadian Army as a humane and democratic officer whose doctrine is a square deal for all ranks. His appointment to his present important command was a popular one and his recent promotion to the rank of Major-General was acclaimed as a merited advancement. General Williams is especially popular with the returned soldiers and he is sure of a warm welcome at the G.W.V.A. Hall to-night when he is to be the guest of the Great War Veterans at an informal gathering. The veterans are to parade in his honour at 7.30 o'clock and escort him to the Hall.

THE LESSON OF YESTERDAY.

In the assembly hall of the Great War Veterans Association yesterday there was a gathering of a nature that Peterboro has not seen before, a coming together of hundreds of people who had been bereaved in the war. Those men and women and children had paid a big price and made a great sacrifice in the winning of the conflict. In every home from which they came stands a vacant chair. A familiar and dear face is missing and only a photograph, and perhaps an enlistment certificate is left to remind the bereaved relatives of the one who went forth to fight for the Empire and died gallantly.

Compared to the sacrifice made by those who formed that impressive assemblage yesterday, the obligation that Canada asks of her citizens now is but a slight one. When the price that they paid is considered, can anyone remain dead to the appeal to lend to the limit of his resources to Canada so that pensions can be paid to the widow's and dependents and to the disabled soldiers? It is surely a little thing to do in the face of the great sacrifice made by the men who fought and fell.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

There are varied opinions about the desirability of the daylight savings scheme which Peterboro has experienced for the past two summers, but the majority of the urban dwellers undoubtedly approve of the plan and would be glad to see it in operation again next year. There is little chance of the daylight saving measure being accepted either on a Dominion or Provincial basis in view of the steadily growing power of the agrarian movement and the hostility of the farmers to the scheme but there is nothing to prevent cities and towns from adopting daylight savings through local by-laws. Many cities across the line will carry out this plan and there will undoubtedly be a agitation in Canadian cities next spring for a similiar action on the part of the municipal authorities. The local City Council would be well advised to consider the question in the near future and to give the people an opportunity to state their views by means of a plebiscite at the January elections. Such a vote could be taken then at very little expense and the question could be satisfactorily settled. Otherwise there will be a demand for daylight saving next year and the Council will be placed in a very awkward position.

THE GOVERNMENT'S WEAKNESS.

The weakness and helplessness of the present government of Canada has been well demonstrated during the past two weeks, when the discussions on the Grand Trunk Railway Bill and on re-establishment took place. On both of these subjects the government took the stand that defeat of their proposals would mean a change of administration, and thus they whipped into line their followers. They took advantage of their present numerical strength to force through legislation which was distasteful to many of their followers. These followers, rather than have the government go to the country for an expression of the public sentiment on these subjects, meekly went into the division lobbies at the behest of the party whips. The government is saddled with a tremendous expenditure, while in the other the recognition of the claims of the veterans, by the parliamentary representatives will bring about the resignation of the government.

What, then, is the use of wasting any time in debate? The government followers, knowing the sentiment of the public at the present time, dare not risk an appeal to the people. Therefore, they calmly submit to having their own personal conviction submerged in the commands issued to them by their leaders. Such is the love of power, irrespective of the wishes of the people, that we are threatened with a continuance of the present government for two or three years more, in spite of the fact that the sentiment of the people of Canada is strongly against the Union government to-day.

This is one of the great evils of the present system of government. When the government refuses to have its legislation and its proposals considered absolutely on their merits, but makes each move a matter for endangering the life of the government, then we do not have representation of the people of Canada. We have only representation of the slaves of those who were elected in 1917 for the purpose of carrying on the war to a successful conclusion. The mandate certainly included the making of every possible provision for the veterans who suffered in the war, but it did not include the forcing through of schemes for railway purchase which have never been before the people. The recent by-elections showed clearly that an appeal to the country would mean the defeat of the present government, so that the Unionists whips, by inserting in every matter discussed the threat of resignation, can always rely upon the old party hacks to toe the mark, and enable them to hang on to office long after they have lost the support of the majority of the electors of Canada.—Kingston Whig.

THE WAR ON WANT.

Belgium set the world an example of valor and vigor in war, and is setting another example of the same sort in the war after the war, the war on want. Work is the best remedy for want and the surest road to plenty, and the gallant Belgians have started early in the race for prosperity. Belgium has Socialists, like the rest of the world, but the Belgian Socialist leaders "have played an essential part in discouraging "strike tendencies," as our cable dispatch reports. The Government rivals the Socialists in activity in industry rather than against it, particularly the Minister of Railways. The Belgian railways were ruined with German thoroughness, but already the Belgians have mutiplied the number of their working locomotivs fourfold and increased the tonnage moved by an amount which is small as we figure such matters, but which in proportion surpasses our records, although we never have had such obstacles to overcome as the Belgians. But it is fair to add that the Belgians are not so handicapped by Government opposition to railway prosperity as ourselves. It seems incredible that only fifty kilometers of railway are now out of commission in Belgium, although every station and bridge was blown up in the western half of the country. Belgian coal mines are now producing a larger poportion of prewar output than the mines of any other country, and the sugar industry is beating its peace maximum.

It is easier to say "Bravo, Belgium" than it is to applaud what it is prudent to remark, that Germany follows hard after Belgium, Germany too, has its Socialists, but they have been cured of the prevalent ideas that the general strike and revolution and domination of highroads to fortune. We have silenced although we have not convinced the Germans in war, but they will prove even tougher customers in the commercial competition, which now will be all the harder because Germany will be in greater need of it, but rather for emulation, if the Germans are able to undersell us by industry, thoroughness, discipline, the consultation of customers wants and ways, and other methods of successful produciton and salesmanship. It was German buying of a half million bales of cotton which sent our prices up to 40 cents the other day, while England is discouraged by exchange difficulties much smaller than Germany's. We must take care that Germany trades fair, and then we should be ashamed if she should beat us in either our own market or the world's market. But striker's agitation, and slackened production will handicap us terribly in the competition.

SCOTSMAN'S PLAN WAS TO SHOOT THE KING.

DANGEROUS LUNATIC COMMITTED TO THE ASYLUM.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—A Scotsman, with a police permit to buy a revolver and one from the military to import explosives, has been arrested in Dublin because he said he intended to assassinate the King. He was charged in the Dublin Courts yesterday with being a dangerous lunatic. His name is Henry Ferguson, of Waterford. He described himself as the manager of the Ardmore Mines, which were worth £500,000,000 to Ireland.

On Saturday afternoon, according to the evidence, he was at the College Green and told the constable who arrested him of his intention to go to Buckingham Palace and shoot the King. He also said he had a taxicab waiting to take him to Kingston, where he intended to shoot the manager of the Royal Marine Hotel and his assistants. He was committed to the Richmond Asylum.

To Make Potato Flour.

Arrangements have been made in Great Britain for the establishment of mills for the production of potato flour which it is hoped will be on a large scale. Although this industry has been established on the Continent for several years, it is a new one in Great Britain. Before the war there were 500 potato flour factories in operation in Germany. The present estimate is that there are now over 2,000 there. The British Ministry of Foods has for some time been conducting experiments in potato flour, as there has been an over-production of potatoes, and the flour will provide a means for the consumption of the over-supply.

The Promoter's Wife

BY JANE PHELPS

A REPORTER CALLS UPON BARBARA

CHAPTER CXIV

The bell rang. I shivered as I had every sound since I had been lone. This time with reason.

"A man down stairs says he must e you, ma'am." Cook came up and ld me. "I tried to tell him you asn't well—like you told me to—t he acted like he didn't believe e, and said he would wait and then t down on one of the elegant ush chairs like he was going to ay all day."

"Tell him I wil see him. Take m into the library."

"Very well, ma'am. But he ain't ite your sort, ma'am .Not quite."

I knew it was a reporter. It was ard for me to dissemble, always ad been. But I must not let him et anything out of me. I recalled r. Frederick's warning to be "as upid as possible." I would be stu-id.

When I saw the youngish man th a rusty overcoat, and heavy lasses I understand cook's "not ite your sort." Yet he had a nice ce, and he looked kind.

"You wished to see me? I am rs. Forbes," I said as he rose.

"Yes. The morning Argus would e to know how you feel about your usband's —trouble," he had hesi-ted just a moment before the word nd where he is at present."

"I don't know anything about any-ing," I replied wondering if that ere a stupid enough answer.

"But surely you know where your usband is?"

"Surely I don't. He never tells me ings. He just went away." I felt didn't know exactly where he was t then, so was not telling a very oss untruth. By the expression on y interviewer's face I knew I was ing "stupid" all right. I was almost sterical as I saw it.

"Do you know this man Scott "

"Mr. Forbes never brings men me with him. He knows I don't e them."

"Will you tell me why?" A gleam satisfaction in his face. He evi-ntly thought he was now going to rn something.

"Why I just don't like to have them here, that's all. I can't talk business. I don't know anything about it, I like people to come to see me that I can talk to. People like—oh, well my society friends." He looked disappointed but persisted.

"Shall you go on living here?"

"Why not?" I opened my eyes wide at him.

"Oh, I thought perhaps because of all this trouble you might have to give up this," his gesture embraced the entire house.

"I don't know anything," I repeated, allowing a note of impatience to creep into my voice, and changing from one foot to the other. We were both standing, altho he had asked me if I would not prefer to sit.

"Will you tell me, Mrs. Forbes, if your husband contemplates going on with his business? Is he coming back? a cunning look in his eyes.

"You know just as much as I do. I am not very well to-day. I have a headache. If I have told you all you want to know will you please excuse me."

"Certainly madame. And I will also give you the compliment of saying you are very clever. For a bright clever looking woman you are about as stupid a one as I ever have come across." Stupid because you want to be, or have been told to be.' '

After he left I laughed and cried hysterically. It had been so funny, like a bit out of play, yet it had also been hard to act the part. I wondered if he would have something in his paper about the "financier's stupid wife," and if he would print replies to his questions.

I also felt rather proud of the report I should have to give Mr. Frederick. I surely had said nothing which could make any trouble for anyone. Little did I realize the resourcefulness of reporters.

The next morning I sent cook out to buy an Argus. I recoiled with horror when I say in bold type on "An interview with Mrs. Forbes. Her story wil interest our readers. etc."

Voice Of The People

Peterborough, 10th Nov., 1919.

itor, The Examiner.

ir,—Would it be too must to ask n for a little space in your paper I might suggest a few of the as of the average returned soldier. year ago the eleventh of Novem-, at the eleventh hour, as you all w who read this, the great war, ich had been raging for over four rs, ceased. Shouts of joy from ry corner of the civilized world re raised, and men who had never own what prayer meant since they t left their mothers' knee, breathed silent "Thank God!"

At that never-to-be-forgotten moment I stood at the "present" with my battalion on the Grand Place at Mons, while the streets still bore the marks of the recent fighting. In fact, one of my comrades, the last one of my company to pay the supreme sacrifice, was still lying on the street, covered with flowers by the civilians, while we were being decorated with flags and streamers of national colours.

Just a year has gone by, and the majority of us are back into civilian life once more. The first anniversary of the Armistice which delivered our fair Dominion and all the Allies from the throes and purge of war, is to be celebrated. And how? Firstly, by the usual daily routine. Secondly, by the clanging of bells and hooting of whistles to warn everyone that it is nearly eleven o'clock. Thirdly, by total silence for two minutes, in which time we all commemorate our thoughts to the dead. And lastly, we continue the regular routine again, as if the affair were a regular every-day occurrence. We can't afford to be having holidays all the time, but surely this day could be proclaimed as such even if we had to give up one of the others—this the day which meant Peace, and happiness restored, Homes no longer violated. The safety of the British Empire secured and Christianity and civilisation once more dominant. The remembrance of which is to be crowded into two minutes! And why? Does the fate of the nation depend on one day? Perhaps it did in those ghastly days of war, but not now.

Let us take the case of a loving father who is working at something which demands a great deal of concentration, and who lost a son, perhaps an only son, the last two or three days of the war. Can he continue at his work again after that two minutes? No. Decidedly no. At least, not with the same assurance of accuracy. If he loses an hour's time or makes an error in his work, what is the result? He either loses the money for the time lost or loses his position . With the memory of the two minutes fresh in the mind of the employer or firm, are they willing to overlook his first case of negligence? No. Principles of their business. As Brutus said when he joined the conspiracy against Caesar, "Not that I love Caesar less, but Rome the more." So, I believe, it is too often the case these days: "Not that I love victory less, but my pocket the more."

Would not the above quotation be applicable also to some of our representatives in the House of Commons who were such strong supporters of the Soldiers Re-establishment Bill until they were convinced that it would have to go to the country? They knew what the result would be in that case. Disappearance from public life, and the loss of an easy income. "Not that I love soldiers less, but myself the more." And you know what Mark Anthony said in his address to the people over Caesars dead body, "for Brutus is an honorable man." How can the returned man put any confidence in anything those men tell him again? How can they ask him for his support in the next election when they voted in the House to kill his chances? Is a man who is such a weakling, and who is afraid to turn to his electors at a critical moment, as to betray his pledge in order to make himself secure, fit to represent a community in the House of Commons? Ask yourself that question.

In conclusion I wish to ask one question. Do you think that these Members who have spoken such an infinite deal of nothingness in favor of the soldiers will or have been able to think in silence for two minutes in memory of the fallen ones? Let us examine ourselves closely and see if we are what we would have the public believe and I believe the result would be "How many are covered should stand bare."

Thanking you I am
Yours very truly,
A. E. WELLMAN.
Returned Soldier.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

CERTIFICATES PRESENTED TO THE NEXT OF KIN OF CITY AND COUNTY SOLDIERS BY GEN. WILLIAMS

"WAR IS HELL," DECLARED GEN WILLIAMS IN A STIRRING ADDRESS--CERTIFICATES WERE PREPARED BY THE BOARD OF TRADE

"War is Hell" declared Major-General Victor A. S. Williams adopting the famous expression of General Sherman who gained his military experience at Gettysburg and other fields of the American Civil War, all less gruelling than those on which General Williams fought and bled.

It was a memorable occasion, an occasion which was at once one for celebration for pride and for sorrow. For celebration because it was the first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice by the Germans; an occasion for pride to think that their sons and husbands had fought and died for the Empire which always as history shows fought for the weak on the side of right; a cause for deep mourning because their sons and their husbands would never return to their arms again but were buried in "Flanders Fields, where the poppies grow." The seats in the G.W.V.A. Hall were filled with mothers, husbands and sweethearts who with pride in their eyes listened to the heartening address of General Williams who fought with those they loved so well and who was taken prisoner by the Germans and in Germany suffered all the torments that the despicable Hun inflicted on their unhappy captives.

The Certificates.

It was the occasion of the granting of certificates by the Board of Trade to the next of kin of the boys from Peterboro city and vicinity who gave their lives "over there." They are not expensive momentos but simply lithographed cardboards bearing on their face the draped British flag the name of the next to kin and the soldier who has fallen. They are of little intrinsic value but nevertheless something which will no doubt be handed down from generation to generation and pointed to with pride by sons and grandsons and great-grandsons as evidence that they had a relation who fought in the Great War.

On the platform with General Williams was President Harvey Staunton of the local branch of the Great War Veterans, Major McCamus, A.D.C., Mayor G. H. Duncan, Dr. McNulty, Lieut.-Colonel T. J. Johnston, Ald. Phelan and Ald. Edgar. President J. J. Turner of the Board of Trade was Chairman. Mr. Turner reviewed the events leading up to the Great War, the "scrap of paper," the invasion of Belgium and how Canada rallied to the defense of the Empire. He told how the War Memorial Committee of the Board of Trade came into being and how the certificates were approved of. Mr. Turner stated that the certificates were not intended to interfere with any other memorial or certificate which may be presented by the city or county.

Mayor George Duncan.

"I feel the solemnity of this occasion," began the City's Chief Magistrate. It brings vividly to our minds the loss this community sustained in the Great War by the number of its gallant sons who crossed the ocean to fight for the liberties of mankind, and who did not come back. The number who enlisted from the City and County was large, and the loss sustained was proportionately large. The Canadian Soldiers won for themselves a name for bravery and for sterling fighting qualities, and the Peterborough soldiers did their full share to win that name and to sustain the reputation of the Canadians. We cannot do too much honour to the memory of the fallen. They sacrificed everything for us. And we remember this afternoon the families and friends of those who made the great sacrifice. We honour the dead; we cherish their memories as a priceless possession. You also honor them and cherish their memories, but we know that you do so in a way, and with a depth of feeling and affection, that we cannot emulate. I am exceedingly glad that the Board of Trade has taken this way of recognizing the sacrifices you have made in giving members of your families to the great cause. Every person in the community joins in that recognition most heartily, and so long as civilization endures, so long as history is read, the heroic deeds of your honoured dead will be remembered with gratitude and pride."

Rev. F. E. Malott.

Rev. F. E. Malott, President of the Ministerial Association payed tribute to those who layed down their lives in the cause of liberty. He said that the war had brought a consciousness to the Canadian people of their greatness and the surprising thing to other nations happened. "This Canada gave to the world evidence that her sons were among the bravest in the world. We must put in the very forefront the work of those men who fought for us and died for us."

Lieut.-Col. T. J. Johnston.

The commander of the 93rd. Battalion, Lieut.-Colonel T. J. Johnston was heartily cheered as he rose to speak and said that in his opinion the best type of Canadians were present in the building. "The women of the country have contributed most to the winning of the war."

"I wish to say something about gratuity" continued the Colonel. "They are forgotten. In many cases they need it and in all cases they are deserving of it. ("hear, hear," from all parts of the hall). "I regret that a speaker here and a former officer of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces said that the returned soldier had all that was coming to him. But I think he was sincere. Colonel Johnston gave as an example a man who while laying in hospital having a bone taken out of his foot as a result of his war activities was in receipt of a pension of $5 a month.

General Williams.

"Now I want you to look on the bright side of things" said the General in prefacing his remarks.

"We have all suffered to a degree but you have suffered the most, more than we soldiers have. Always look what you have done for your country and the world at large by your sacrifice."

The General denounced the Germans in bitter terms and admonished his hearers to never have anything to do with them "those Germans who call a sacred treaty a scrap of paper."

"I was wounded and made a prisoner at the battle of Ypres" continued the General "but I refrain from telling my experiences but I may say that on many and many occasions I prayed that I should die. I could give you instances of men crippled for life by the Germans so that when they returned to their own country they would be of no further use. But let us look on the bright side of things. I know how you have suffered and how you are suffering but in your husbands and sons hadn't taken up arms see what would have taken place. The sacrifice that you have made is everything. No person suffers more in this world than I do with you. This occasion is a great credit to the Board of Trade.

Looking After Graves.

I am looking after the graves of those who have died in Canada. I am personally making it my bounden duty to see that the military graves in this country are upkept with a cross and a suitable inscription. It is my honour and pleaure to do this and I assure you that it will be done." General Williams spoke of the "Cross of Sacrifice" which he said that he hoped it would be his honour to present to the mothers here.

Beware of the Hun.

"I have been talked to for saying harsh things about the enemy" continued the General "but I've seen too much to forgive. I feel that it is my duty. I can tell you just to beware. We must look after the returned soldier. I am looking after him and I want to look after your interests. During the time that I was with my brigade we (the men and I) always worked together. I never sent a man anyplace where I wouldn't go myself.

"War is Hell."

"War is Hell," and it certainly is, where men sit down and take their medicine like men and cannot move with shells bursting around them all the time. But, they fought so well because they always thought of home. I want to pay my respects to the women. We could not have lived in Germany if the women of this country had not sent parcels of food. We always looked forward to Sundays when we got a little piece of horse flesh extra from the Germans."

General Williams congratulated Peterboro on having such an energetic Board of Trade president and also the splendid way Peterboro came forward in the Victory Loan.

"I like to haul that Victory Loan flag up myself" he declared. You will see very much of me here. I'll be in the city at least once or twice a month."

A Canadian Gentleman.

Then this Canadian gentleman who holds the highest rank in the Canadian army except that of Lieut.-Generals Turner and Currie expressed his intention of taking the certificates down the aisles himself and presenting them to those to whom they are designated. True democracy is born in him. Born in the town of Port Hope of a famous military family he followed the family bent and at the outbreak of the was was Adjutant-General at Ottawa with the rank of Colonel. After the outbreak of the conflict he was promoted to Brigadier-General and appointed Commander of the Canadian Mounted Rifles Brigade. At the second battle of Ypres he was badly wounded and captured at the same time that Major-General Mercer was killed. He was a prisoner of war for many months and was only released on account of ill health. His father, Lieut.-Colonel Williams was killed in the North-West Rebellion and the body brought back east for burial.

The names of the soldiers killed in action were read from the certificates by President Turner and handed to the General who presented them to the next to kin as they rose when their names were called.

After the singing of the National Anthem as the mothers and wives were leaving the Hall General Williams again shook every one personaly by the hand.

Veterans Present.

Returned soldiers were there aplenty many with ribbons of medals won on the field or for long service. Peter Robinson Chapter Girls, in their uniforms of white with the red band, acted as ushers.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York.—Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly, and who are seemingly healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will-power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh, and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is hurried, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or snuff to quiet your nerves you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, irrespective of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the danger. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note.—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in the city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY COMES IN CONTACT WITH MANY SERIOUS CASES OF NEGLECTED CHILDREN

LURID TALES RELATED AT YESTERDAY'S MEETING OF THE SOCIETY --ACCOUNTS PRESENTED.

In a thoroughly appropriate setting, lights totally out and members gathered about the board table, somewhat lurid tales of the Peterboro under world were told at the regular monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society yesterday afternoon when a committee, appointed to inquire into the activities of some of the parents of children in whom the Children's Aid Society were interested, reported what had transpired during the month. Dr. D. King in a summary of what he had learned about one of the women in question said that recently a patient who had come to him for alcohol for medicinal purposes had asked him to send the alcohol to a hotel and upon being refused gave the address of one of the woman he was investigating, with directions to send it there. This the Doctor refused to do. In one of the cases the matter of returning the children to their mother was left to the discretion of a small committee which will find out if the woman is in a position to undertake the care of the little ones, her mode of living having been fairly proved to be commendable, and report back to the board .. No action was taken in the second case.

Pitiful Condition.

Mrs. H. Reid the superintendent of the Shelter reported the case of a litle boy who was taken away by a farmer to the country who when he sold out the farm returned the child in a pitifully destitute condition, his little clothes hanging about his body in a threadbare condition. Upon motion of Ald. Edgar it was decided that when children must be furnished with clothes Mrs. Reid is authorized to do so and present the accounts to Mr. G. W. Powell, the agent who will present them to the Board.

Annual Meeting

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the society next month on the day of the regular monthly meeting.

Authorized to Pay

Mr. Powell was authorized to pay each of the newspapers $10 for publicity given to the annual tag day.

Members Present

The board members present were E. A. Peck in the chair, Rev. C. J. Phelan, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Stocker, Adjt. Bunton, Dr. D. King, Alderman J. Edgar, Mrs. Kimberly, Mrs. Evans, Mr. Joseph Wearing, Mrs. W. A. Sanderson and Mr. H. B. Cowan.

Agents Report.

Mr. G. W. Powell reported 9 applications received 3 children brought in (not wards), 2 returned to parents, 20 involved during the month, 2 wards placed out and 2 wards returned to the shelter. The agent reported that since he has held office in the society no child has been sent to the Industrial School.

Amounts Presented.

Dawson Bros., $3.25; J. N. Edwards 10.20; A. Davidson 33.59; J. Nasmith 1.99; Wilfred Brown 12.00; Wm. Stock and Son $26.69; Turnbulls 25.74; Dicksons (Dry Goods) 7.65; Campbell Flour Mills 5.25; Thos. Hooper $1.60; Telephone $14.10; G. W. Powell $12.40; Total $154.56.

Tag Day.

The agent reported that $1512.90 was the total collected on Tag Day.

30⅜c TOP PRICE FOR CHEESE TO-DAY

LAST MEETING OF THE SEASON— NEARLY ALL THE FACTORIES CLOSED UNTIL SPRING.

The Cheese Board concluded its session this morning when T. Thompson and G. A. Gillespie divided the offering of 917 cheese at 30 3-8c and 30 5-16c respectively.

"Do we meet next spring at the call of the president or Mr. Cowan," was W. S. Cook's jibe at the proposed co-operative cheese company, news of the conception of which yesterday appeared to have reached the buyers bright and early this morning. In fact there were several flings at the active promoter of the United Dairymen Limited, as the latest rural co-operative project may be known.

campaigns. This is the third year he and Mr. Braden have done this work. The first year Lakefield got 50 per cent more than the objective. Last year they won the honor flag with two crowns, and this year they are going forward fully expecting to win one or more crests.

Mr. Braden told of having had calls to go to people even this evening and said that would lose no time calling on anyone who wanted to invest. They had been canvassing pretty thoroughly but had some more to do in the remaining time.

Judge Huycke thanked the owner of the theatre for granting them the use of the theatre, and Miss Hunter, the pianist ,for her courtesy in playing for them.

Armistice Day.

The first anniversary of the signing of the armistice passed quietly in the village but the command of the King for the cessation of activities was obeyed of course most loyally. The bell of St. John's church gave the summons at the stroke of 11, and Lakefield paused and silently saluted the honored dead. The High School flag which flew all day was lowered to half mast in memory of the Lakefield High School boys who lie in Flanders' Fields.

In the evening the younger people had a torchlight parade and burned the kaiser in effigy.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disapointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

LOCAL FARMERS LAUNCH A CO-OPERATIVE CHEESE CO.

TENTATIVE PLANS FOR SCHEME THAT CONTEMPLATES CONTROL OF DAIRY INDUSTRY OF ONTARIO—PROVISIONAL DIRECTORS APPOINTED—OTHER COUNTIES SAID TO BE EAGER FOR CO-OPERATION.

H. B. COWAN EXPLAINS IT

Representatives of ten of the cheese factories in Peterboro county at a meeting in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon unanimously decided to form a branch of a proposed provincial co-operative company for the control of the cheese industry throughout Ontario. The suggested name was the United Dairymen Limited, and if the farmers of the other dairy districts are as enthusiastic for this new co-operative scheme as were those who attended yesterday's meeting, the dairy industry in this province should soon undergo a transformation the benefitial effects of which the promoters hesitate to predict.

The provincial directors of the Peterboro branch were appointed as follows, Messrs. J. E. Galvin of Lakefield, J. J. Breckenridge of Westwood and W. H. Crough of Ennismore. Mr. M. E. Smithson was chairman of the meeting, which it was confidently stated would eventually be regarded as historical by the dairymen of this province.

Mr. H. B. Cowan of "Farm and Dairy" who has inspired this movement and assiduously assisted the farmers who have welcomed it and all the opportunities of which seems pregnant, explained the details by which it proposed the farmers shall break away from the old disorganized methods in the dairy industry and bring it under their control not only in the manufacture of cheese but also of other dairy products, and beyond that in the selling and possibly the exportation of the various products, which are now handled by different middlemen who form the links between the producer and consumer.

This co-operative scheme is patterned after the highly successful Co-operative Creameries Company Limited in Saskatchewan, and it was remarked yesterday that what the west can do the farmers in the east can do just as well if not better. One of its expected results is the rejuvenation of the entire dairy industry in this province, the improvement in the quality of the products, a new encouragement to cheese and butter makers, and possibly the establishing of milk condensing plants which will be included in the charter the United Dairymen Limited will apply for.

The factories represented yesterday included the following:—Westwoow, Oakdale, Norwood, Villiers, Warsaw, Lang, Myrtle, Maple Leaf, Warminster and Ormonde.

Mr. Smithson briefly explained the purpose of the meeting, which he said followed a similar meeting held last spring. He was heartily in favour of this movement, and remarked that it was perhaps fitting that on the anniversary of Armistice Day the farmers should strive to put a great industry on a sound basis.

Mr. Cowan's Address.

Mr. Cowan prefaced his minute explanations of the project by referring to the accomplishments of the Grain Growers' Association in western Canada. On the same co-operative plan the Saskatchewan creamery men three years ago launched their company, and viewing their success Mr. Cowan had wondered why the farmers of Ontario could not unite their dairy interests. There were 1,000 cheese factories and 70 creameries in this province, he said. Mr. Ruddick of the Dominion Dairy Commission, Mr. Publow, the leaders of the United Farmers of Ontario and others had all agreed that this scheme was a good one. Farmers in Peterboro, Hastings and Prince Edward Counties had approved of the plan, but action was purposely carried along slowly in order that the farmers would have every chance of considering it.

The scheme comprehended a central provincial company which would absorb all the factories. The procedure for any factory would simply be to call a meeting of the patrons who would decide whether or not they would identify themselves with the central company. If the patrons approved of the co-operative scheme the factory would be valued by three arbitrators, one appointed by the patrons, another by the Central Company, and probably the Government might appoint the third. The patrons and company would both have a chance to say whether they were satisfied with the valuation. The shareholders would be given a chance to dispose of their stock and obtain stock in the Central Company. Each stockholder would be entitled to only one vote. If some farmers did not wish to enter the new company other farmers in the vicinity would have an opportunity to subscribe. Each factory would have a local committee. Shareholders would hold an annual meeting and appoint a director to attend the annual meeting of the Central Company. In Saskatchewan there were three hundred local meetings and 314 directors attended the annual meeting of the Central Co-operative Company.

Benefits of the Company.

Mr. Cowan referred to the advantage which would accrue to the farmers from co-operative production. They would save thousands of dollars, he said, in the purchase of supplies. The Saskatchewan company saved $5,000 in cream cans and butter paper alone.

There would be a decided saving in the commissions to local salesmen. The company would probably handle their own cheese at Montreal, their own officials would inspect and weigh it, might auction it or arrange for its exportation, following the system of the western farmers.

"We are not blazing a new trail of our own" said Mr. Cowan. "We have the example of the west to follow." Ontario factories at present were disorganized, he continued. Their cheese was sold on the local boards to the buyers from the commission houses, and the control of the product passed from the control of the farmers. Few of the factories pay any dividend and most of them are run down and poorly equipped. In the United States the cheese factories were condensaries the cheese factories were crowded out. The farmers let their factories go and eventually the prices were depressed by the condensing companies.

Mr. Cowan declared that there would be no difficulty in financing this co-operative project. The Molson's bank has assured him that they were prepared to carry it. The farmers were ripe for an extension of the co-operative idea. The success of the U.F.O. in selling their cattle in Toronto proved what could be done. If the company was formed it would have to operate under the Ontario Companies Act, but Mr. Cowan said he was confident that it amendments were necessary the new Legislature would provide them. No expenses had been accumulated up to the present. The company would begin with a clean slate.

Mr. Cowan said he was anxious that the farmers should realize that this co-operative scheme was their own, that it had to be approved and accepted by the members of the factories when organized if its success was to be assured. Its soundness and its potentialities.

Mr. E. N. McDonald.

Mr. E. N. McDonald, M.P., said—"I am with you in every co-operative movement that is for the welfare of the people. Mr. Publow showed us last spring that hardly any of the factories were fit to put out the best products. Many of them lack cold storage facilities, and they have to sell their cheese often when it is desirable to hold it for a better price. Our cheese would be more called for in the European market. This summer when the U.S. cheese was sold in New York for 30 cents our cheese brought only 25 cents in Montreal. A buyer recently told me that farmers would not buy stock in our company. That's what they have been saying to every co-operative movement we have begun. It was the same in handling of our livestock. Buyers of course lost money as a result. But they were well paid and had their day. Now don't let any of these men influence us. When we go into co-operative movements we have to step on somebody's toes. I believe we will have no trouble in starting this company and that the farmers will see its advantages."

Mr. Wallace Anderson.

Mr. Wallace Anderson of Dummer, said that Mr. Cowan had worked hard to find out all the details of this co-operative dairy movement. It was due to his efforts that the plans had been so carefully prepared. "I believe our cheese industry is falling far short and I think that a movement such as this will have a great effect in restoring it."

D. R. Wren of the De Laval company presented estimates of saving that could be made by the co-operative buying of dairy supplies.

"Co-operation is not a wonder-worker in securing higher prices" said F. C. Hart of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. He strongly recommended the co-operative movement, but added that the improvement of the quality of the product should be the sole basis of co-operation.

Some other speakers were J. B. Flood of Ennismore who said he was eager to turn over to his patrons the Myrtle fatcory; W. C. Pickins of Ormonde factory, J. B. Moore of Hastings, and J. E. Galvin.

SUFFERED IF SHE WALKED A BLOCK

MRS. SMITH WAS IN A RUN DOWN, NERVOUS CONDITION BEFORE SHE TOOK TANLAC.

The list of testimonials in behalf of the merits of Tanlac grows daily as new tests of its powers are made. Mrs. A. F. Smith of 614 South 8th St. East, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in relating her experience with the medicine, recently said:

"For the last three years I have suffered from indigestion, gas on my stomach, nervousness and constipation and, as I had used many different kinds of medicines and kept getting worse, I was beginnnig to think there was no help for me. I had gotten in such a run down weak and nervous condtion that I could not walk a block without suffering intense pain and was in no shape to do anything.

"But I am feeling different now and I want to tell the people that it's all because of what Tanlac has done for me. It has helped me just like those statements I read in the paper said it helped them. I had not finished my first bottle until I was feeling better in every way. I have used four bottles now and my stomach is in condition to where I can eat just anything without an uncomfortable feeling afterwards. My nerves are in better shape than they have been in years. Before taking Tanlac I could not rest well at night, but now I can sleep like a child and that tired worn out feeling has left me. Tanlac certainly s a grand medcine and I never lose an opportunity to recommend it to my friends and neighbors."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by

A RECEPTION TO HASTINGS VETERANS

AN ADDRESS OF WELCOME AND A LOCKET FOR THE BOYS.

HASTINGS, Nov. 12—A large audience assembled in the town hall last week to do honor to eight of the boys who have recently returned from service overseas. The town band was in attendance and rendered several selections. Addresses were given by the resident ministers. A group of school children gave a couple of choruses. Pte. N. Scriver gave a fine selection on the bagpipes, and Messrs. J. Wilson and Capt. Walter Thomson each rendered a vocal solo. At the close of this part of the programme the chairman, Dr. Hess, called Mr. Alex. Wilson to the platform, who read an address, and presented each of the boys with a handsome engraved locket and a copy of the address. Following is the address:

Address of Welcome.

In the urgent need of our country you gave your services gladly and freely, taking your stand for truth and freedom, for the protection of our homes and our liberty. You have nobly upheld the honour of the land we love and you have merited our enduring admiration and gratitude.

We welcome you back with proud and glad hearts, acknowledging God's gracious hand in sparing your life and we wish you every blessing God may bestow upon you, and all the good our country may be able to give you.

Our earnest prayer is that you and we may be enabled to live worthy of the great and heroic sacrifice you and others have made for us and for all humanity.

As a small token of our regard and esteem for you and yours, the people of Hastings desire you to accept this locket, suitably engraved.

Presented on behalf of the municipality.

A PIMPLE REMOVER THAT NEVER FAILS

DR. HAMILTON STANDS BEHIND HIS FORMULA

Bad blood is always responsible for pimples, blackheads and humours.

Pimples, eczema and boils are the common result.

For putting life into sleepy organs for forcing out every kind of waste and foreign matter, for making health-sustaining blood, where can you find such efficiency as in Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

In a thousand cases I have demonstrated that Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure facial blemishes and skin diseases.

I look upon these pills as the best blood purifier and system builder of the age, and guarantee they will cure every complaint having its origin in a weak or debilitated blood supply.

If Dr. Hamilton's Pills will not cure that tired rundown condition, if they will not change lack of force into energy and vim, then nothing will.

By creating an abundant supply of rich, nourishing blood they maintain that standard of health so much desired by those participating in the strenuous life we live to-day.

CORSETS ARE SHORTER; MAY BE WORN LONGER

NEW YORK.— Corsets are going to be very short next spring; short in supply. Whether the shortness of supply will induce shortness in length or whether corsets will be longer as well as shorter, and perhaps worn longer as the result of the situation, is a question on which manufacturers are rather at sea. Another complication lies in the fact that corsets are lower, though higher.

Certain it is that brocade leads in demand as corset material, and the supply of brocade is short, with the mills sold up heavily in advance. Some corset manufacturers have enough raw materials in stock to warrant their quoting prices now for future delivery. Others have not.

Further to upset the dope, a vast number of small concerns have been attracted into corset manufacturing, which until recently was pretty well stabilized among several large manufacturers.

Meanwhile the manufacturers are hunting about for some substitute for brocade that will wear as well.

For many years there have been no Tuesday brides in Madrid, as the Spaniards consider Tuesday an unlucky day for marriages.

THE LIFE OF FIVE ... ONE GIRL

(Never was a w... placed in such delicate positio... never did the ...le it more ...; "The Girl ... Beach's story ... be shown at the Allen theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, had five men at her feet and each one was a crook. One was a stick-up man (he had set her up in business.) One was a cheap and deaf confidence man. One was a forger they called him Spencer because of his excellence in handwriting. One collected shining souvenirs from his explorations into vest pockets. And one was a "handy" man.

June, "the girl from outside," landed in Nome, Alaska, when the gold-fret and fever was at its height and when only "one type of woman" was known to the neighborhood. June was young, pure, sweet and blonde; and her father had died on the trip north, leaving her an orphan. She meets up with "The Curly Kid," chief-of-all and leader of the five scalawags who made loyalty to the kid a fetich. June did not know his business. He explained that he received an allowance from his "aunt"—but did not tell her that he usually cashed in that good lady's checks in the middle of the night with a gun.

Through "The Curly Kid", his companions were brought into contact with June and one by one they fell in love with her. Chow was the chinese cook of the five scalawags. He had an affection for all of them, but principally for "The Curly Kid." "Him a friend of mine," he explained gently to Denton, who had murdered the kid and drew a knife from his flowing oriental sleeve. "Him a friend of mine," he said again, viewing the corpse of "The Curly Kid," whom he had avenged.

This is but one of the situations in "The Girl from Outside" which will amuse and thrill the theatre-goers who see the production. All through the teeming seven reels a dozen interesting characters weave and interweave the plot strings to produce fine entertainment.

You Don't Give— You Lend

In deciding how many Victory Bonds you will buy, remember this important point—you are not giving—you are lending to your country!

You are lending at a good rate of interest.

You are lending on the highest security. You are lending to maintain your own and your country's prosperity.

In your own personal interest you should make strenuous efforts to buy as many Victory Bonds as you possibly can.

You want to save money—everybody does.

It's your duty to lend.

Take the proper view of this Victory Loan.

Say to yourself: "I am going to buy all the Victory Bonds I can pay for now and in the next ten months." What if it is an effort to pay for them.

Look ahead a little.

Think of what you will own when your Victory Bonds are finally paid [illegible]

Every cent you pay on your Victory Bonds you LEND to your country—you save!

BOWLING AT THE Y.M.C.A.

In three very good games in the Y. Five Pin League the Big Five won two from the Busy Bunch Monday night. The teams were well matched so much so that only a lead of 6 points gave the first game to the Busy Bunch. Nicholls for the Big Five chalked up the high score for the night in the last game making 7 strikes and a total of 242.

The second game looked bad for the Big Five but they pulled together in the last frames and won out by 40 points. Having started the Big Five were hard to hold and in the last game won out by a big margin. The next League game will be played to-night at 7.30. Rollers vs. Centrals.

57TH CHAPTER I.O.D.E. DANCE

Peterborough's "four hundred" concluded the Armistice celebration yesterday evening by a successful dance and card party given by the 57th Chapter I.O.D.E. in The Great War Veterans Hall. The entire interior of the building, which was reserved for the occasion, was beautifully draped in flags of the allies and Union Jacks.

The hall in which the dance was held was one maze of loveliness with the stunning costumes worn by the hundred and fifty ladies present and the floor and music, the latter furnished by Moher and Fitzgerald three piece orchestra, left nothing to be desired.

FARMERS MAY DRIVE RIGS ON HAMILTON HIGHWAY.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Nov. 12.—Reports have been circulated around stating that farmers could not drive rigs along the Hamilton Highway because of the wheels not being rubber-tired. When questioned this morning as to the truth of the report, the Toronto-Hamilton Highway Offices said: "The report is incorrect. Farmers may drive on the highways at any time with their rigs, but they cannot run tractors on the road, because it has been found that they dig up the concrete."

Beets, parsnips and carrots should be covered with sand and stored in boxes for the winter.

FARMERS' CLUB ROOMS IN PETERBORO FOR USE OF FARMER AND HIS WIFE

ANNUAL REPORT OF MR. R. B. ROGERS, PRESIDENT OF THE WEST PETERBORO UNITED FARMERS, CONTAINS SOME SUGGESTIONS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

At the annual meeting of the West Peterboro United Farmers held in the Sons of England Hall on Monday evening, the following presidential report was read by Mr. R. B. Rogers:

"On entering upon the third year of our existence as a club I think we may congratulate ourselves on the measure of success that we have attained.

We have endeavored to improve our knowledge of the methods of farming and to better the conditions on the farm by holding meetings at which we have invited experts to address us on different subjects pertaining to farm interests and I can safely say that we have greatly benefitted thereby. Both the Dominion and Provincial Governments are only too glad of the knowledge they possess and the benefit of the information they obtain from the numerous experiments they are constantly making. We have not availed ourselves of this great opportunity in the past to the extent we should have but we have learned by our experience during the year which have just ended. What a great fund of information is available for the asking, and it is hoped every advantage will be taken of these opportunities in the future.

Co-operative Buying.

We have also taken advantage of the benefit derived from co-operative buying and selling the produce of our farms. The selling of our live stock by our own agents through the United Farmers' Co-operative Company, has been a great success and we have profitted considerably by selling in this way.

Our membership has now reached the membership of one hundred and seventy-five, being perhaps the largest in Ontario. We hope our membership will include every farmer in this district. I might add that our district takes in the corners of the townships of Smith, Douro, Otonabee and Monaghan within a radius of six miles. We have sold about $60,000 worth of hogs and a considerable number of cattle and lambs on all of which we have received increased prices.

You all know that after subscribing for over 400 shares of stock in the United Farmers' Co-operative Company they are about to open a branch store in this city which is expected will be a great convenience to all the members of the club. It is expected that this store will be the Headquarters for the members of the club and it will be a convenient way of buying what we require and also disposing of our butter, eggs and other truck of the farm. The stores that the Company have opened in other places have proved a great success.

We have not neglected the social side of life which is perhaps the most important function of the club.

Annual Banquet.

We held a most successful banquet in the "Empress Hotel", the first I may say of its kind ever held in Peterborough, and, which it is proposed to make an annual event. We had a number of brilliant addresses made by prominent members of our organization and a most enjoyable social evening was spent.

We also held a most successful assembly in Victoria Hall at which many of our older members, who had long ago laid aside their dancing pumps again donned them and vowed they would never again neglect them. We were also pleased to see a large number of our city friends who assured the committee that they would certainly not miss our next annual dance.

We also held an excursion down the river at which the crowd was so great that the gates had to be closed before seventy-five of the would-be excursionists were abroad. Those remaining had to get other means of transportation such as yachts and autos to carry them to Wallace Point where the excursionists disembarked. Though a heavy shower dampened the feet and clothes of some of the excursionists it did not dampen the spirits of any. We had a number of splendid addresses by prominent members of U.F.O., including Mr. Burnaby of Jefferson, President of the U.F.O. Co-operative Company, Mrs. Webster of [illegible] Mr. Smith, editor of the Farmers' Sun and others. We agreed that they would be present at our next annual excursion on which occasion it is proposed to engage all the boats available for the occasion. While on the question of social side the question of extending it much further and having such meetings as will include our wive-and daughters.

Farmers' Club Rooms.

Why not consider the question of having farmers' club rooms at which we could have light refreshments and a comfortable place to meet together when we and our wives come to town and also a place to put our horses in and a place to park our cars. It would not cost very much and by meeting together once or twice a week we would become better acquainted with each other and help to take away some of the monotony of farm life. This opportunity of meeting together could also be taken advantage of by having addresses given by prominent members of the different woman's organizations, also while on this subject why should we not have a branch formed here of the woman's organization. There are a number of womens clubs in the Western part of Ontario and at the last annual meeting of the U.F.O. they took a very prominent part in the meeting.

Regarding the programme for the meetings to be held during the coming winter I would suggest that the incoming directors get in communication at once with all those whom we desire to address us and have a list printed giving the programme for the whole season so that every member will know at the beginning of the season what he can expect for the whole year.

As you know we have had an election and the result shows what can be accomplished by organization. I am sure we wish the new Government every success and that they will govern the Province in the best interests of the people as a whole.

QUEBEC "LAST REFUGE FOR POLITICAL SENSE."

Dr. Andrew MacPhail Makes This and Other Startling Statements.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 10.—"The Province of Quebec is the last refuge in America for political sense, good order, freedom and civilization," declared Sir Andrew MacPhail, in his address at noon to-day before the Canadian Club of Montreal, when he took as his subject "The Conservative."

The safety of the future lay, he said, in a resurgence of the Conservative spirit, a severance from business, a recovery of its purity, and a determination to follow not men, but principles.

In conclusion, the speaker described Quebec as the last refuge in America of political sense, good order, freedom and civilization.

SENATOR NICHOLLS DOESN'T OPPOSE PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

OTTAWA, Nov. 11.—While Senator Sir Frederick Nicholls' vote in the Senate was against the acquisition of the Grand Trunk by the Government, a reading of his speech, as recorded by Hansard, shows him not opposed to the principle of public ownership.

Hansard reports Senator Nicholls as saying: "Our national debt at the present time is approximately $2,000,000,000. We are now undertaking to add to this vast sum an additional $500,000,000, making it $2,500,000,000, as against a total invested capital of $16,000,000,000. I do not say that it is too large in proportion. Each one of you is able to form your own estimate just as intelligently as I am; but the point that I am trying to make is, not to argue against the purchase of the Grand Trunk Railway System by the Government. It may be a perfectly proper thing to do in good time, but I am arguing and do urge that there is no desperate hurry as to make it necessary to close this matter, which has been before the public for only three weeks.

"If we are to do justice to ourselves and to the country we ought to take ample time; we ought to give ourselves the benefit of the doubt; and when we do reassemble for the purpose of casting a vote regarding the proposed purchase, we can do so intelligently, feeling that we have acted according to our best judgment, and have not been hasty in supporting an enterprise injudiciously hurried, an which may mean that not only ourselves, but more particularly future generations, will have to bear such a burden of taxation as will tend to restrict further national development.

"I am not opposing the principle of public ownership, but I submit that it is unwise and injudicious for Parliament, and more particularly for this honourable House, to come to any hasty conclusion on inconclusive evidence; and, therefore, I think it would be the part of wisdom for us, before committing the country to an expenditure of half a billion dollars, which, when once done, cannot be undone, to stop to look and to listen."

WOMEN WILL BE ADMITTED INTO REPUBLICAN FOLD

United Press:

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A detailed plan of organization which will provide for full participation of Republican women in the affairs of the party was adopted by the Republican National Committee at an informal meeting. The plan adopted was recommended by the Republican National Women's Executive Committee, of which Mrs. Medill McCormick, of Illinois, was chairman, appointed a year ago to work out a practical method by which women could take an active part in the party management. In putting this plan into effect the committee created a woman's division of the Republican National Committee and elected Mrs. John G. Smith, of Frankfort, Ky., chairman. There will be a representative of the women's division in every State.

In addition there will be a National Women's Council of one hundred, the personnel of which will be announced soon.

NINE PATIENTS IN ISOLATION HOSPITAL DURING OCTOBER

SALARY INCREASES FOR MATRON AND NURSE - SEVEN CASES OF DIPHTHERIA DURING THE MONTH —LIST OF ACCOUNTS THAT WERE ORDERED TO BE PAID.

Seven patients were admitted to the Isolation Hospital during October. The month opened with two cases of diphtheria receiving attention; five other diphtheria patients were admitted during the month, and one with smallpox and one scarlet fever. This made a total of nine patients cared for during October. Five were from the city and four from the country. One was discharged, two died and six were still in the hospital on November 1st. Four of these were diphtheria patients, one scarlet fever and one smallpox.

Increases For Nurses.

On a motion of Mr. H. Morgan, seconded by Mr. Jas. Murty, the salary of Miss Price, matron of the hospital, was increased to $65 a month, and that paid to Miss Kincaid, as nurse, was raised to $50 a month.

Dr. Morgan, acting Medical Officer of Health, stated that these nurses of the Queen Mary staff could easily earn more money in general work than they had received at the hospital. Members of the Board expressed a desire to make the wage acceptable and also to show their appreciation of the services of Miss Price and Miss Kincaid. The increases are made effective on November 1st.

The salaries for October, including extra nurses, amounted to $366.92.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"BRINGING UP FATHER."

"Bringing Up Father in Society" was a genuine surprise to theatregoers last Saturday. Contrary to expectations it was not a converted production rehashed for consumption a second time. It was entirely new from start to finish. Jiggs (Mr. Two-step in society) was there with his shagreen waistcoat, and Mrs. Jiggs, who would like to be the mother of a female baron, aired her views on "cheap detectives" and the desirability of getting into society. Jiggs had his own little private stock of wet goods. The butler took the house by storm, both in his roles as private valet to Jiggs and Baron Maloney. He was a human step-ladder, with all the characteristics of a jelly-fish and his unmasking by "the cheap detective" was relished.

The trio of saxophone players were artists in their line, and their leader amused everybody by his skillful responses on the violin.

All around it was educative, showing how sudden acquired wealthy may make us ridiculous.

TORPEDOED!

Don't blast your Liver and Bowels, but take "Cascarets."

You men and women who can't get feeling right— who have headache, coated tongue, bad taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach and colds.

Are you keeping your liver and bowels clean with Cascarets, or shocking your insides every few days with Calomel, Salts, Oil and violent pills?

Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Cascarets never gripe, sicken or cause inconvenience and Cascarets cost so little too.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured by B.B.B.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, caused by the uric acid in the blood. It manifests itself by pain and lameness attacking the muscles and joints of the body, which often swell and become hot and inflamed.

Anyone who has suffered months after months, and perhaps year after year, with rheumatism, and who has tried remedy after remedy in the hope of relief, and without success, should not give up hope.

Burdock Blood Bitters, by invigorating the digestive organs and eliminating the uric acid from the system, will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. D. Barry, Purlbrook, Ont., writes:—"I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit my husband derived from using your Burdock Blood Bitters. He had been suffering for the past two years with inflammatory rehumatism. He tried many medicines but got no better. A friend advised him to take B. B. B. He did so, and after taking five bottles he felt like a new man, and was able to go to work the same as ever."

All members of the G.W.V.A. are asked to meet at the hall at 7.30 o'clock in uniform to march to the Empress Hotel to act as escort for General Williams. The parade will be headed by the G.W.V.A. GERMANS AT WORK IN KITCHENER

WANT TN CHANGE THE NAME OF THE CITY BACK TO BERLIN.

(Special to The Examiner.)

KITCHENER, Nov. 12. — The Trades and Labour Council last night went on record as being opposed at this time to any effort being made to change the name of the city, especially to that of Berlin. They were of the opinion that the peace of the city would be badly shaken and the commercial interests would be seriously affected. It is now an open secret that a campaign is in progress throughout the city to change the name back to Berlin, and the "would-be-changers" openly state when opposition is shown, Oh you changed it before, and we are going to change it back." The fat is on the fire and nothing but the most strenuous opposition will save the day.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Ohio Woman.

Portsmouth, Ohio.—"I suffered from irregularities, pains in my side and was so weak at times I could hardly get around to do my work, and as I had four in my family and three boarders it made it very hard for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me. I took it and it has restored my health. It is certainly the best medicine for woman's ailments I ever saw."—Mrs. SARA SHAW, R. Mrs. Shaw proved the merit of this medicine and wrote this letter in order that other suffering women may find relief as she did.

Women who are suffering as she was should not drag along from day to day without giving this Famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. PETERBORO WINS CREST

CITY SUBSCRIPTIONS TO THE VICTORY LOAN WILL EXCEED A MILLION DOLLARS BY TO-NIGHT.

All Canada $379,111,782
Ontario 219,284,050
Peterborough City 986,000
XCity and County 2,089,850
XIncluding specials of 804,000

The first crest for the City's Prince of Wales flag has been won, and to-night will see the City subscriptions to the Victory Loan, exclusive of specials, over the million mark, and the totals for all Peterbrough, from all sources, well above two millions. With three more days to go, a new and determined effort will be made to break all percentage records in the city, as well as in the county.

Ennismore has reported 51 p.c. of the township's objective and promises of plenty more. J. K. Galvin has charge of the campaign there and headquarters are confident that the final result will be well up with the top-notchers.

The county is cutting some swath this week and attracting considerable attention. The northern townships district not only won their flag, but have added two crests, which knocks the spots off the city. And as a further indication of the drive's progress, Mr. W. Weir of Otonabee, reports a $8,000 subscription from a party who, when first canvassed, refused to have anything to do with the Loan.

ROUMAN REPLY UNSATISFACTORY

WILL NOT RESPECT ALLIED COUNCIL.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 12. — The reply of Roumania to the Allied Note, recently presented, in which it was again demanded that Hungary be evacuated is regarded in Peace Conference circles as wholly unsatisfactory.

The Note, which was taken up for consideration by the Supreme Council this morning, is characterised as extremely evasive.

The Roumanians indicate their willingness to retire to the River Theiss, but they decline to respect the original Armistice lines, and also decline to comply with the Allied request that they name a member of the Inter-Allied Commission to compute the value of the goods seized in Hungary by the Roumanians, so that this amount could be deducted from the total of reparation due to Roumania.

CANADA LABOR FIGHTS CLAUSE

Delegates at Washington Take Exception to Unemployment Assurance.

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Canada is preparing a keen fight against the obligatory provisions in the draft convention on unemployment now before the International Labour Conference. The cause to which exception is taken by the Canadian delegation refers to reciprocity in unemployment insurance. It provided that States signatories of this Convention which have established systems of unemployment insurance shall make arrangements whereby workers belonging to one such State and employed by another shall be admitted to the benefits of such insurance upon terms to be agreed upon between the States concerned.

Canada takes the position that there should be no obligation to extend the benefits of unemployment insurance to workers of any other country, that the clause should be optional. When the draft convention came before a sub-committee on unemployment, Senator C. Robertson, Minister of Labour, declared that the Dominion Government could not assent to any such obligatory provisions as were proposed. There were at the present time [illegible] over three hundred thousand [illegible] in Canada over the age of 16.

Dr. E. V. Frederick, of the Peterborough Clinic, is in Hamilton today, attending the annual Surgical and Medical Clinic of the Hamilton Medical Association.

The estate consists principally of bank and mining stocks in Canada.

ARMISTICE DAY PARADE ENDS IN BIG RIOT

Radicals Kill Four Veterans—Militia Called Out.

United Press:

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 12. — Centralia was quiet early to-day while troops guarded the jail and patrolled the streets, following the attack yesterday by Radicals on the Armistice Day parade of the War Veterans here which resulted in the killing of four veterans and the lynching of an alleged I.W.W. Until Company "F" of the State Militia arrived from Tacoma at midnight, it was feared the small police force would be unable to protect the nineteen prisoners in the jail, as the mob, estimated at 2,000, swarmed about the jail crying "lynch them." The mob did not disperse till nearly daybreak.

HEART SO BAD

WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: "I feel that I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines, and took several different kinds but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them. Before I had taken more than two boxes I could see that they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me and I advise anyone troubled with their heart to try them as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A NOTE FOR ROUMANIA

ALLIED REPLY WILL BE VERY FIRM--ROUMANIAN NOTE REGARDED AS EVASIVE.

POINTS AT ISSUE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 13. — The Supreme Council to-day discussed the note to be sent to Roumania in response to Roumania's recent note. The allied reply, it is forecast, will be very firm in tone, the Roumania note being regarded as evasive and unsatisfactory, notably so as concerned the demand for the evacuation of Hungary by the Roumanians.

The allied note was not completed to-day but it will be put into shape very shortly and forwarded to Bucharest within two days.

THIEVES ACTIVE ACCORDING TO A MONTREAL REPORT

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Nov. 13. — Five of Montreal's most modern fire proof structures have been visited during the past two weeks by thieves, whose manner of entrance has not yet been clearly established, and at least twenty firms have lost thousands of dollars by damage to their property. The burglars secured little money. With a pipe wrench as the only weapon, they pried off combination locks and gained admittance to many offices, took what loose change was in sight and left the building. Not a single clue to the perpetrators has been discovered, though the burglars visited the building three times and another office. The buildings visited were the Board of Trade, the Corlstine, the Royals, Bank of Toronto and Reford Building.

Douglas and Ross were Australian entrants in the reliability flight from England to Australia for the Australian government's prize of £10,000. Several English aviators also have entered the contest. The conditions of the flight are that the distance of 11,500 miles must be covered within thirty days.

DECISION WAS BASED PURELY ON PERSONAL AFFAIRS---INTERVIEW WITH MR. NICKLE.

MET THE PREMIER

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, November 13. — Mr. F. Nickle, has refused the position of Attorney General which was offered to him last night by Premier Drury. In an early interview this morning he gave the reasons that had influenced him in his decision. They were entirely reasons connected with his private affairs.

"Mr. Drury offered me the Attorney-Generalship," Mr. Nickle said, "and after giving the matter careful consideration from every angle I was driven by personal circumstances that would not yield to immediate readjustment, to decline. I think that I would say that I have been impressed with the desire of Mr. Drury to promote efficiency and economy while at the same time to advance the interests of the people at large. He is endeavoring beyond doubt to gather about him a group of men similarly moved. From communications that have reached me since my name had been mentioned for Attorney General and from conversations I have had with people from various parts of the country, I believe that there is a wide spread desire that the government should be given ample opportunity to work out its policies free from captious criticism or obstructing opposition. After that it must be judged by its works."

In answer to a question Mr. Nickle stated that he had nothing but sympathy and good wishes for Mr. Drury. "His presence is very prepossessing," he said, "I had never met him before. He is self-evidently honest, genial and free. I think that his absolute transparency impressed me most."

Questioned again, he emphasized that his decision was purely connected with personal affairs — not that he feared that the government would have a transient career, the same reasons that prevented his continuing in the Federal arena were operative still.

Mr. Nickle's visit had also other reasons for its motive. He came to attend a meeting of the Soldiers' Aid Commission and at the same time is enjoying a visit with his two sons, Major "Billy" Nickle, perhaps the youngest major in Canada, and Flight Commander Douglas Nickle, who enlisted a year younger than his brother, when he was 17.

CHARGED WITH STEALING PIGEONS

SMALL BOYS UP IN POLICE COURT THIS MORNING.

A new trade has been entered on the Police Court records. Three boys ranging in years from 13 to 16, appeared before the Magistrate, charged with stealing 28 pigeons on 5th November, valued at $60.00, from an Edinburgh Street resident. They were mildly surprised at their arrest, and seemed to think it no offence. The Act says that anyone who kills, wounds, or takes any pigeon is liable to a fine of $10.00 over and above the value of the bird, besides the onus of theft.

The boys were remanded until next Thursday.

WILL ENFORCE THE PROHIBITION ACT

THIRTY-THOUSAND OFFICIALS WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE ROUND-UP OF BOOTLEGGERS.

By Ralph F. Couch.
(Special to The Examiner.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—An army of more than 30,000 officials will spring to attention Monday, when John F. Kramer, the newly appointed Federal Prohibition Commissioner takes charge of the battle to make the country alcohol tight under the enforcement act for war-time and constitutional prohibition. More than 500 arrests have already been made under the act, it was unofficially estimated to-day, but few formal reports have yet been received by the Internal Revenue Bureau. To-day officials were in the midst of a last minute rush of perfecting the temporary machinery that was set up October 28, when the enforcement act went into effect over President Wilson's veto.

FOUND DEAD IN APARTMENT

Mr. William Ryrie, Well-Known Toronto Business Man and Prominent Mason, Dies.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—Death came with unexpected suddenness to Mr. William P. Ryrie, one of the most prominent members of the Masonic Order in Canada and one of Toronto's best well-known business men, who was found dead yesterday morning in his apartments at 755 Yonge Street, having succumbed to an attack of heart failure after attending a reception given in his honour by the Masonic Order the previous night.

AN ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE THE PREMIER'S CHIEF

(Canadian Press.)

BORDEAUX, Nov. 13. — An attempt was made early this morning to assassinate Georges Mandal, Premier Clemenceau's chief confidential secretary, who is a candidate on the Nationalist ticket for the Department of Gironde.

At two o'clock this morning as Mandal was entering his automobile at the conclusion of a public meeting his car was surrounded and he and his friends were assaulted with canes and sticks. A revolver shot was fired at Mandal, shattering the door of his automobile. Mandal escaped unhurt.

BOLSHEVISTS SEEK ANOTHER ALLIANCE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 13. — Nicolai Lenine, the Russian Bolsheviki premier, has sent a letter to Turkestan Communists in which he says that restoration of communications between Bolshevist Russia and Turkestan opens the way for a struggle against universal imperialism, headed by Great Britain.

The success is interpreted here as a drive of revolution in the direction of British India.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 13. — Sedition cases against eight strike leaders will probably go before the Grand Jury Friday, A. J. Andrews, one of the Crown counsels stated to-day. True bills charging intimidation were returned against Matilda Russell, Helen Armstrong and John Olson, strike leaders.

Will Not Negotiate With the Bolshevik

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE WILL CALL AN INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE AT AN EARLY DATE TO DISCUSS RUSSIAN SITUATION.

WASHINGTON VIEW

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 13. — Premier Lloyd-George declared in the House of Commons to-day that no person at any time, on his behalf or with his knowledge, had interviewed Bolshevik representatives in order to learn whether negotiations for Peace might be opened.

The Premier announced that it was proposed to call at an early date an International Conference, at which the problem of Russia might be discussed.

The Premier further offered to give the House an opportunity on Monday next to discuss the Russian situation, but he pointed out the dangers of a public debate on such a delicate subject. Meanwhile, he assured the members that the Government would not inaugurate a new policy or burden the country with any fresh commitments.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH LADIES' AID SOCIAL

MR. RUTHVEN MACDONALD'S SINGING WAS THE FEATURE OF THE EVENING.

George street church Ladies' Aid were the hostesses of a most successful entertainment yesterday evening in the basement of the church, and each of the 400 persons present were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the splendid tea served and concert which followed.

The tables upon which the sumptuous repast was served were prettily decorated with flowers and the menu served left nothing to be desired. The ladies in charge had arranged every item in so systematic a way that there was no needless delay and every one was well looked after.

The Concert.

After a short prayer by Rev. Mr. Ross, Dr. E. E. Harvey, chairman of the evening, made a few appropriate remarks and introduced the well-known singer, Mr. Ruthven MacDonald, who interspersed the addresses of Rev. A. J. Thomas, Rev. B. Greatrix and Rev. Mr. Chapman, with much appreciated solos, for which, upon the insistent applause of the audience, he gave most generous encores.

NO COMPROMISE.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.— There is to be no compromise with the Bolshevik Government in Russia by the United States, and no movement is contemplated which could be considered as offering to confer with Bolshevik element in that country, it was learned to-day at the State Department.

This country's attitude is the same now as it was last year when Secretary of State Lansing appealed to the civilized nations of the world to declare the Bolshevik as outlaws.

ONLY THREE DAYS MORE

Saturday, 15th November, is the closing day of the Victory Loan Campaign. There are still many Canadians who have neglected to become possessors of Victory Bonds.

They are grateful for Victory, which crowned the valiant efforts of Canadian arms. They have shared in the good times which have been the good fortune of Canadians in the period following the war. They wish prosperity to continue; but they have omitted to do their part in ensuring that there will be jobs and prosperity for all in the days to come.

They should not let another day pass—or another hour—without discharging their debt to the soldiers who died that they might live; to the warriors who are being restored to civil life.

Let the slogan of the last days of the campaign be "Clean up the war job once for all."

The most you can scrape together is the least you can afford to subscribe to the Victory Loan.

$5 RAISIN WHISKEY

LATEST VICTIM IN DETROIT OF BOOTLEG BRAND DIED SMILING.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 13. —Alarmed by the increasing number of deaths due to bootleg liquor, Coroner J. W. Rothacher issued a warning against homemade and other substitutes.

Raisin whiskey is a brother of deadly wood alcohol, the Coroner said, while he listed either whiskey, juniper gin, Jamaica ginger, hair tonics, "drops" and extracts of various kinds under the same head.

Since the first of the year there have ben sixteen deaths, according to Wayne county morgue records, due directly to these preparations. In addition, there have been numerous cases of paralysis, insanity and blindness due to liquor substitutes.

As a safety measure, Dr. Rothacher advises avoidance of all this "ersatz." Unless the present craze subsides, the Coroner believes there will be many more victims.

Six of the sixteen victims are listed as having died either of acute or chronic alcoholism. Most of these died through the product of amateur distillers.

With regular whiskey at $15 a quart, demand for raisin whiskey has increased to such an extent that there practically is a raisin famine in Detroit. Despite efforts of Government operatives, the various stills are turning this out in great quantities, and peddlers are disposing of it at $5 a quart

MUST WAIT

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—Persons who are desirous of re-stocking their wine cellars and wish to import liquor for that purpose would be well advised to wait for the formal proclamation of peace before doing so.

Although to all intents and purposes peace has been concluded, it was said at the Justice Department today that it would not be safe to assume that the prohibition order in Council had lapsed. The Canadian statute provides that war shall be deemed to exist until formal proclamation by the Governor-General in The Canada Gazette. This will follow, in all probability, the proclamation of peace by his Majesty the King.

When His Majesty will issue this proclamation is not known, but as three of the great powers and Germany have now ratified the treaty it should not be long delayed

DEATH PENALTY IS SOUGHT FOR REDS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.— Demand that the death penalty be sought for the Reds, held here for trial on criminal anarchy charges, is made by the Law and Order Union in a letter to the Senate Judiciary committee. Hearing on the cases of James Larkin, Irish agitator and Benjamin Gitlow, former New York Assemblyman, was scheduled to continue to-day. Evidence has been obtained of the publication of 16,000 copies of the 'Revolutionary Age,' containing the Communist manifesto urging the overthrow of the government. Larkin and Gitlow are specifically charged with editing, publishing and distributing this Communist organ

FINAL PLANS FOR THE CONFERENCE

HOPEFUL OUTLOOK TO THE COAL MINERS' STRIKE.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.— Final plans for a conference of coal operators and miners in Washington tomorrow, in an effort to reach an agreement over their differences were being made to-day by Secretary of Labour Wilson, who holds a hopeful outlook on the situation.

VICTORY FLAG FOR THE PACKERS

CANADIAN PACKING COMPANY EMPLOYEES WENT OVER THE TOP IN GRAND STYLE.

Peterborough added further to its laurels to-day at noon, when the Canadian Packing Company were presented with a Victory Loan banner. The employees crossed the line in fine style, making 25 per cent. above the necessary objective, which entitles them to a crest.

Mr. Joseph Wearing presented the banner to Mr. Gordon Matthews on behalf of the employees at 11.45 to-day on the "fo'castle" on the roof. A large Victory Loan flag donated by the company was hauled to the masthead by Mr. Gordon Matthews in full sight of the employees on the roof and numerous passers-by as they streamed out of the shops and offices at the noon hour.

Mr. Wearing, in presenting the banner, complimented the employees on winning this emblem of honour. He was followed by County Organizer Fred. Mr. G. A. Gillespie stated that they had always done their part in war as well as in peace, and he was sure they would continue to do so.

Three hearty cheers were then given for the company, followed by three cheers for Mr. Gordon Matthews.

THE VETERAN'S ASK MERCY FOR ZALUSKI

PETITION TO BE SENT GOVERNOR-GENERAL IS LARGELY SIGNED.

At the smoker of the Great War Veterans' Association last night, copies of a petition which will be sent to the Governor-General asking for clemency in the case of Samuel Zaluski, the returned soldier sentenced to death, were circulated among the members and were signed by all those present. Similar petitions are being circulated in other branches of the Association. Zaluski is one of the five Russians who have been sentenced to hanging for the murder of Philip Varnell. The petitions ask that the sentence in his case be commuted to imprisonment.

VICTORY LOAN NEWS

Once again Peterborough did it. Besides reaching the million mark in Victory Loan subscriptions yesterday, the city canvassers had $74,800 to spare at the end of the day's toil. The prospects appear to be that the city will double its objective by Saturday night. It's a long way to go, after the three weeks' drive, but it's not too big a job. Peterborough has a good chance of being able to make the best showing in percentage in the province, and the feat is worth striving for.

The Victory Loan of 1919 will be the last. That is certain. It will be the final opportunity for the people to lend their money at 5 1-2 p.c., with the Dominion of Canada as security, and such being the case it would appear that the time to act is the present moment. Monday next will be too late.

The Big Hop.

The big Loan hop being arranged for to-morrow night will be another record-breaker. The idea has caught on fine. Everybody wants to help and the committee in charge of the affair are having a hard time to please all. A request has come in for the privilege of selling hot dogs. Imagine tripping the light fantastic to the music of the Veterans' Band and a weinie and a bun for refreshments!

To add brilliance to the scene an effort will be made to flood Simcoe street with Hydro-Electric until it looks like a daylight saving eve. The effort will be put in first-class condition; other details are being worked out with the sole object of providing Peterborough folks with a big night's fun. The Victory Loan organization appreciate the manner in which the citizens have subscribed to the Loan and it's their treat to-morrow night. Let's go.

A Youngsters.

This morning's mail brought the following letter and application to headquarters:

Hall's Bridge, Nov. 11th, 1919.

This application is from John Maxwell Shearer. He is a babe 8 weeks old, his mother signed for him. I rather think he will be the youngest applicant on my list.

(Signed.) ROBT. SHAW.

No wonder Mr. Shaw has his Prince of Wales flag and two crests, with another sure one for to-day.

NEW CABINET HAD A FULL SESSION THIS AFTERNOON

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 13. — Premier E. C. Drury at noon to-day, following a morning's rest, which he is believed to have well earned, announced the personnel of Ontario's first coalition government, and the first administration to take charge of the affairs of this province which is not composed of members of either of the recognized traditional political parties—the Liberals or Conservatives.

His office this morning was deserted except for the clerical staff.

Shortly after 12 o'clock, R. H. Grant, F. C. Biggs, Beniah Bowman, H. C. Nixon and Manning Doherty, arrived at the premier's quarters at 2 Canadian Mortgage Building No. 10, Adelaide street East, awaiting their chief at 12.30. Mr. Drury arrived and was met at the door of the building by the five ministers.

"This is my first appearance today," said Mr. Drury. "I conferred with W. F. Nickle until after midnight last night. He stated that he could not see his way clear to wind up his business to take the Attorney-Generalship. W. E. Raney, K. C., has been chosen for the position."

"When will your government be sworn in?"

"To-morrow; I cannot say what time. We have yet to make arrangements."

A full session of the new cabinet has been called for this afternoon at the Premier's office. It will be the first meeting of all the ministers and the last one before they will have taken office. It will also mark the last occupation of his present offices by the new premier, who moves out to-morrow from the rooms from where he has created a brand new government for his native province.

RETURNED MEN OF COURT STANLEY A.O.F. BANQUETTED

WARM FRATERNAL SPIRIT MARKED VERY ENJOYABLE EVENING AT THE EMPRESS---GENERAL WILLIAMS WAS A GUEST AND MADE FELICITOUS ADDRESS.

A BRIGHT PROGRAMME

The fact that Major-General Williams is a member of the Ancient Order of Foresters was unknown to the officers of Court Stanley, Ancient Order of Foresters, when they invited him to address the assembly at the highly enjoyable banquet and reception tendered by the local Court to its returned soldier members at the Empress Hotel last night. It was an exceedingly agreeable surprise to the gathering when General Williams, after expressing the pleasure it gave him to participate in any honours paid to his comrades of the great war, casually remarked that he had joined the Ancient Order of Foresters years ago in Winnipeg. This happy circumstance evoked redoubled cheering, and the deep fraternal note that had warmed the evening's proceedings was accentuated by General Williams' tribute to the Order and his passing recollections of former days with the Foresters of Winnipeg.

"I feel absolutely at home again with my old lodge" he said, "and not among strangers."

Naturally the success of the reception was heightened by the unexpected visit from General Williams, whose address bespoke for the returned men the honours they richly deserved, and it included a reference to the spirit of unrest from Canada would be preserved, he said, by such citizens as the members of the Ancient Order of Foresters and the other soldiers who had known what it was to "go over the top."

The banquet itself was a credit to the Empress cuisine and was thoroughly satisfying. The toasts were marked by bright speeches and the musical entertainment was an indication of the wealth of talent Court Stanley carries in its membership. Messrs. John L. Smith, Robert Hendry, Frank Pratt and H. Farr were generous with their songs, the accompaniments of which were played by Mr. A. Nicholls and Mr. Robert Haddow.

As toastmaster Mr. G. R. Record acquitted himself well. The other Past Chief Rangers at the head table were Messrs. James Hendry, Andrew Brotherson, Frank Pratt, also T. E. Parkes, S. C. R., Dr. King and Dr. Moir, medical officers, A. Day, secretary, T. Hendry, P.D.C.R., J. C. Hamilton, S.B., R. J. McWilliams, P.C.H. S.W., and Hugh McWha, treasurer.

The Toast List.

The toast list was as follows:—

The King—proposed by Mr. Record.

Our Guests—proposed by T. Hendry, and responded to by Mr. Parkes and Mr. Dainton.

Our Departed—proposed by the chairman and responded to by Mr. McWha.

Our High Court—proposed by Mr. F. Pratt and responded to by Mr. R. J. McWilliams.

Court Stanley—proposed by Mr. A. Day and responded to by Mr. A. Brotherson.

The Press—proposed by Mr. Robert Hendry.

Court Stanley's Record.

In proposing the toast to Court Stanley, Mr. Day stated that forty per cent. of its membership had enlisted. "We are very proud of that record," he said. "I don't think there is another society around Peterboro with such a splendid record. During their absence from Canada our members were kept in good financial standing in the order by those brothers who were left to carry on. This is a splendid testimony to the loyalty of our members."

Mr. Day said that it was essential that all the meetings be largely attended. "We need new members for the Order we are so proud to belong to. The A.O.F. is for the benefit of the members, and surely it will be a benefit to your friends and neighbours."

Proud of Soldiers.

Mr. Record remarked that not only was the occasion a reception to the returned members from overseas, but it was also the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the Court. "We are proud of our returned members. They not only gained honour for themselves, but they handed down honour to the Order. They were overseas with thousands of Foresters from all parts of the globe. Twenty-seven per cent. of the Order's members enlisted and we are proud of their conduct. We welcome you back and we are glad you went. You nobly upheld the honour of the land we all love. It is wonderful to belong to a society that is world wide. This is only a formal welcome, but we hope that it will stand out as a red letter occasion in your experience. Your duty is not all done. Come along with us even more regularly than before. Assist us in our lodge work. Assume some of the responsibility. It is necessary that you should be there and take your share."

300,000 Foresters Served.

In proposing the toast to the returned members, Mr. Thomas Hendry said that 300,000 Foresters had joined the ranks and fought for freedom. Of that number 17,000 had paid the supreme sacrifice, among them 425 Canadians. Many of them had come home with medals and other distinctions.

"We extend to you the hearty appreciation of this Court for the services you have given the Empire and we hope that you will now take up again your duties as citizens and as members of this great Order of which you should be justly proud."

Mr. Parkes and Mr. Dainton thanked the Court for their fine reception and also expressed their gratitude for the payment of their fees during their years of service overseas.

"The best way we can remember our brothers who have fallen is to perform our duties here as they did in France," said Mr. McWha. "They gave their lives for principle. They showed they were loyal subjects. They fought for right as against wrong, and we should endeavour to follow that right in our own lives. It seems to me that we should devise some means in addition to our honour roll in the lodge room to perpetuate the memories of these brothers." Mr. McWha stated that of the Juvenile branch of the Court, four enlisted. One was sent back as too young, two went overseas and the fourth died at Kingston.

The High Court.

The Ancient Order of Forsters was one of the oldest benefit societies in the world, Mr. F. Pratt said. It was established in Leeds in 1790, and the first court was organized in Montreal in 1841. It lasted a short time, and the next Court was formed in Toronto in 1871. Now there are Courts of the A. O.F. all over the world.

At the first meeting of the High Court there were 36 delegates, Mr. McWilliams responded, and briefly outlined the benefits of membership.

Speaking of Court Stanley, Mr. Brotherson recalled that it was established thirty years ago. Of the twelve charter members only three survive. They are Dr. Scott, H. Williams and A. R. Ringer. Sixty members of the Court enlisted and eight paid the supreme sacrifice. During the past five years owing to the war, there has been no attempt to secure new members. Mr. Brotherson urged that every effort be put forward to increase the membership. Court Stanley had initiated altogether 279 members, and has 145 on its roll now. The others are scattered far and near.

A toast to the Medical Profession was proposed by Mr. James Hendry and responded to by Dr. Moir and Mr. King.

General Williams.

Court Stanley's luck was with them when they invited Gen. Williams to join them upon his return to the hotel from the G.W.V.A. club, where he had spent the early part of the evening with the Veterans. It was then eleven o'clock, and in an address that was as informal as an after dinner chat, General Williams delighted the Foresters by his affability and friendliness and deep sense of brotherhood that had a special warmth for the returned men.

"I am delighted to know that you are honouring my comrades by entertaining them," said General Williams. "When you are entertaining the boys who did their bit you are entertaining me. I belong to the A.O.F. myself, hence it is a double pleasure to be with you. A fraternal society adds in many ways to a man's comfort in life. He knows he has friends in trouble."

General Williams said he always liked to visit Peterborough. He recalled that 20 years ago when he lived at Lakefield, he used to be quite a runner, and many times covered the road from the village to Peterborough and back. He spoke of the part Canada had played in the great war, and remarked that in the re-organization of the militia he would work tooth and nail for efficiency. He didn't believe in militarism, and said that surely no person did, but making use of the lessons the war had taught, efficiency was essential.

Gen. Williams was tendered a hearty vote of thanks by Court Stanley, and in conclusion it was decided to hold an annual banquet.

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN WHEREBY INSOMNIA CAN BE SAFELY AND QUICKLY CURED.

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find any things so efficient as Ferrozone?

Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep, or break down, but if you'll use Ferrozone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep, you'll get well quickly.

Ferrozone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or deilcate woman can use.

Take it for a month, take it for a year —no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

It's a food tonic, a dealer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless — sold in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

DROPPED REQUEST FOR CONCESSION

THE MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE MET LAST EVENING.

Representatives from the McDonald Lumber Lumber Company asked the Manufacturers' committee last night for fixed assessment in view of the extension of their plant in the near future. The committee were sympathetic, but informed them that it would have to be submitted to the electors in he form of a by-law. The Lumber Company will consider the matter before taking action.

The Public Utilities Commission of Kingston wrote to the local Council in respect to a uniform rate for Hydro-Electric rates in Ontario. The Ontario Municipal Electric Association also wrote on the same matter and asked the Council to pass a resolution in favour of it.

PREPARE APPLICATION FOR FIVE RUSSIANS

Mr. G. N. Gordon and Mr. B. W. Essery of Toronto, solicitors for the five condemned Russians, who are awaiting execution at the county jail for the murder of Philip Yanoff, held a long conference with the condemned men yesterday.

From them they obtained detailed history of each man, including place of birth, relatives and early life.

These statements will be included in an application for the commutation of the sentences to life imprisonment which Mr. Gordon and Mr. Essery will lay before the Minister of Justice in a short time.

Chief Jusice Mulock sentenced the five Russians to be hanged on January 14, 1920 ,but the Jury recommended them to mercy in each verdict of guilty.

GOUIN STAYS AT THE HELM NEXT SESSION

But Soon After Prorogation Will Resign, and Go on European Tour.

QUEBEC, Nov. 13. — The Quebec Provincial government has decided at a Cabinet meeting to call the House in session for December 10 next. Sir Lomer Gouin will remain at the head of the Government during the coming session, but shortly after prorogation will abandon politics and leave for Europe where he will travel for a few months.

It is a fact known to all well-posted politicians that Sir Lomer Gouin intended to leave the helm of the Quebec government before the coming session opened; the idea was to put in the chair of the Premier the Hon. Joseph Edouard Caron, present Minister of Agriculture.

UPPER SILESIA ELECTIONS VOID.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference today decided to notify Germany that the elections in Upper Silesia are void.

The Council also decided to notify Roumania of the consequences in case she fails to comply with the Allied demands regarding her occupation of parts of Hungary.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS QUICKLY CURED

It is very hard to keep the children from taking cold. They will run out of doors not properly dressed —play too hard and become overheated—get their feet wet—kick the bed clothes off at night.

There is nothing so good for children's coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough or bronchitis as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. It is so pleasant to the taste the youngsters take it without any fuss, and at the same time its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm and healing the lungs and the bronchial tubes are such that the cough is checked before any serious trouble can possibly develop.

Mrs. Harold Acker, Lake Pleasant, N. S., writes: "I have three children, the eldest eight years old and the baby ten months old. They all had a bad cough. I knew of quite a few persons who had used Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup with good results so I got three bottles. I am glad I did so as it is a sure cure for coughs and colds. A home where there are children should never be without it. I highly recommend it to those who need a quick cure."

Price 25c and 50c at all dealers. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

And if our souls be hurried hence
May they be found with God.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1919.

HURRY UP.

Get in before its too late. Buy your Victory Bonds tomorrow.

THE FLYING PARSON.

Lieut. Melvin Maynard the United States aviator who won the transcontinental contest is the fastest preacher on the continent.

PORT HOPE'S FACTORY.

Port Hope is to have a new industry—a cigar factory. Appropriately enough too the smokes are to be manufactured in the old fire hall.

SLEEPING SICKNESS.

Sleeping sickness has made its appearance in Winnipeg. It has been epidemic in Lindsay for a long time but the type in the neighbouring town while chronic is not dangerous.

KNOW A GOOD THING.

Up in the Northern townships they are not too busy chasing deer to appreciate the value of Victory Bonds as an investment. Bob Shaw's territory are setting the pace for the whole of Peterboro County.

KINGSTON WINS AGAIN.

Apparently Kingston cannot be kept out of the Ontario Cabinet. The electors of Kingston allowed General Ross to be returned by acclamation to accept a position in the Hearst Cabinet but Oct. 21st put an end to his brief term of office. Now Premier Drury comes along and selects W. F. Nickle as Attorney-General.

THIS YEAR'S CROP SURPLUS.

The estimated value of Canada's field crops for the year 1919 is approximately $1,510,000 in round figures, though the Government experts will not be in a position to give the exact figures for some weeks yet. By a coincidence Canada's war debt to Canadian holders of Victory and other bonds is almost precisely the same amount. That is to say, Canada in the present year, which has not been one of phenomenal crops, has produced enough in grain, roots, and other products of the field to pay off her entire debt to her own people up to the present time, if the entire bulk of it could be devoted to that purpose. This, of course, excludes live stock production which would help to swell the total: and if we were able to add the value of our mineral output, our fisheries, and our factories this year, the agregate would be enormous.

Such figures go to show why foreign investors regard the current issue of Victory Bonds as such a sure thing. Of course, so great a production signifies a vast surplus over the amount required for our own needs; and to get rid of that surplus on profitable terms we must cultivate the foreign market by international credits. That process can only be achieved by a splendid over-subscription to the Victory Loan. The days are slipping away. You have only until Saturday next to decide what you are going to do about it: and no one that can buy bonds should hesitate for a moment longer.

A TRIUMPHAL CAMPAIGN.

Peterboro's Victory Loan campaign is winding up in a blaze of glory. The City of Peterboro has won its Honour flag, has already captured one crest and is well on its way to another. Up in the northern townships Mr. Robert Shaw's efforts have resulted in the objective being left far behind and in the running for the Prince of Wales flag and two crests. Lakefield and Douro have gone over the top in splendid style. The county has passed its combined objective with four days to spare and the chances are that by Saturday every unit in the county will have triumphantly passed the amount alloted to it. A remarkable showing and another indication that while she may not do as much talking about it as some of the other districts Peterboro can be definitely counted upon when any natural or patriotic movement is to the fore.

The results in Peterboro have been achieved without any of the "stunts" the Victory Loan Committee in other centres have found it necessary to employ. The Peterboro organization decided upon a consistent newspaper campaign and upon the energy and driving power of its canvassers to produce results and the splendid total is an indisputable testimony to the effectiveness of the tactics used.

The newspapers have done what they could to push the campaign to a successful conclusion and in this they have been given every assistance by the hardworking press committee, more particularly Messrs. Charles E. Curtis and F. H. Dobbin, who, being former newspaper men themselves know how copy should be prepared and moreover know that a communication can only be called news when it is fresh. Furthermore they have realized the value to a newspaper of an early receipt of copy and it has been a pleasure to Peterboro's newspapers, to co-operate with them in keeping the Victory Loan before the public.

THE CHRISTIAN GUARDIAN.

The ninetieth birthday number of the Christian Guardian, the oldest religious weekly published in Canada, is a most interesting volume, rich with references to the early days of the Guardian' existence and full of brightly written special articles and musical pictures. The Guardian's existence dates back to 1829 when Dr. Egerton Ryerson was its first editor. The launching of this paper which for nearly a century has been bringing its message of inspiration and comfort to its readers was an enterprise the boldness of which under the circumstances was striking. To quote from the Guardian itself, as one thinks of what the Canadian Methodists of ninety years ago did in establishing this paper and of the courage, faith, an enterprise and sacrifice required for doing of it, he finds a very positive feeling of admiration and pride stiring within him. To start a church paper when as yet religious journalism was almost an uncharted sea; to inaugurate such an enterprise when already their hands were full of pressing duties and empty of the money and resources that seemed so necessary to success, showed that they were men of a virile faith and a broad courage, men alert to the opportunities and needs of their day.

To Peterboro's readers the Guardian's birthday number is of especial interest by a reason of a very interesting article by Jean Blewett on "Pioneer Women of the Pen" in which there are sketches of a number of well-known Peterboro county writers of the last century including Mrs. Susannah Moodie, author of "Roughing in the Bush," her sister Mrs. Catherine Parr Traill, who wrote "The Backwoods of Canada," "The Canadian Crusoes" and a number of stories of pioneer life in Ontario and Isabella Valancy Crawford, the poetess who for a number of years resided in Peterboro.

THE KINGSTON VETERANS.

The returned soldiers of Kingston are represented by the Army and Navy Veterans and the Great War Veterans Association have adopted a progressive policy in regard to civic government that promises to exercise an important effect upon the coming municipal elections. Their action is a more advanced step than has been taken by any other soldier body and with the veterans unanimously subscribing to the policy adopted by the two organizations definite results can be expected. The Kingston platform is embodied in the following resolution.

"Believing that the solider who has rendered every service and sacrifice for Canada, has a perfect right to take every interest in the Government of every part and portion for which he fought particularly the part in which he and his family live, the Veterans' Association of Kingston have formed themselves into a Veterans' Municipal Committee for the purpose of endeavoring to give the city of Kingston the best possible and most efficient system of municipal government, combined with reasonable economy, and without distinction of class, creed or original nationality. Feeling this to be our duty we intend taking a part in the coming municipal election in an effort to secure the following benefits.

"Capable men as aldermen for every ward.

"No acclamations by arrangements or 'slate making.'

"A representation in the City Council of the Veterans of Kingston without seeking to create a privileged soldier class.

"City Government and administration for the whole of the people.

"The selection of the best possible material for the Board of Education and the Board of Health.

"To see that every nomination centre of the city is properly manned on nomination day so as to make impossibl such acclamations as may result in placing incompetent men in the City Council or the Board of Education.

"To co-operate with all classes of citizens for the purpose of establishing and maintaining an efficient and creditable municipal Government of keeping with the requirements of our city.

"To secure the appointment and maintenance of an Industrial Commissioner whose entire time and energy shall be spent in seeking and securing new and profitable industries for the city of Kingston.

"To have the City Council take advantage of existing Federal legislation and establish a "Fair Prices" committee to prevent unjust inflation and exaction in all things essential to decent living.

"To stand for fair, honest and equitable assessment of all property, so that the burden of taxation shall be equally distributed, and to ask from the Dominion Government reimbursement for all losses in taxation on Government property, following the treatment of the city of Ottawa in this particular.

"To favor any practical and possible scheme which will provide homes for our needs and provision for a greater growth in our population.

"To secure the co-operation of the public press in every effort to awaken the public conscience to the need for a bigger and better city, which we feel confident is possible."

VICTORIA COUNTY CHEESE FACTORIES WILL REMAIN OUT

(Lindsay Warder.)

The cheesemakers of Peterboro County have formed a company with $1,000,000 capital and will take over and operate all the cheese factories in Central Ontario, starting with perhaps 150 of them.

In connection with the above it might be well to state that none of the cheese factories in Victoria County are affected, the cheesemakers in this section having decided not to enter the company, which has been organized along the lines of a co-operative society. Many claim that the factories can do better to remain out of the above company.

In conversation with Mr. H. S. Johnston, of Flavelles, Ltd., he stated that the movement had been under process of organization for some years past, and he had not heard that final organization had been completed.

"Some of the most prominent men in the cheese industry were opposed to the idea," said Mr. Johnston.

Chemille dots are frequent in fashionable veilings.

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

Not since the pre-Confederation days has the political life of Canada been surcharged with so much uncertainty.

Great events in Canadian politics are about to take place. The reorganizing and rehabilitating of great political parties is in progress. New leaders are appearing.

The order is changing. All things are becoming new.

THE next two years will be a momentous period in the political life of the country. Reconstruction is a greater task than Confederation.

How will you take your place in the affairs of the nation? What opinions will you form? How will you cast your ballot intelligently if you do not keep in touch and inform yourself on the great questions of the day by reading a daily newspaper national in viewpoint and international in scope?

This is the task and responsibility of The Globe—to give all the news, progressive views, and space for opposing opinions. Such was the threefold purpose of George Brown. His ideal was a Great Family Newspaper with a place in every home. That is The Globe's ideal to-day.

It is not a party organ, but a medium for the development of public opinion and an advocate of reform. It is the servant of the people from whose needs it draws its inspiration.

To be informed of the progress of events, you should avail yourself of The Globe's great news gathering organization. For an analysis of these developments, and clear, sober thought upon them, read its editorial discussions from day to day. They are written by close students of economics, politics, industry, commerce, social reform and religion.

And further, what The Globe has been in the past is a sure guarantee of what it will be in the future. The personality and ambitions of its founder ever dominate the activities of its publishers.

Therefore, nothing will be left undone to make The Globe the newspaper that George Brown would have it be and to earn a place for it in every Canadian home.

PARIS IS GAYER NOW THAN EVER BEFORE

DURING LAST TWO MONTHS EXPENSIVE HOTELS OPENED.

PARIS—With the gradual removal of war-time restrictions, Paris is becoming more and more her old self, the gayest European capital. Since the armistice the people have gradually been throwing off the depression caused by the war and today Parisians are dance crazy and more eager than ever before for pleasure. Never has Paris known greater enthusiasm for amusement than she knows today.

Many private dancing clubs, to which admission is gained only by card, have been running more or less under cover. At these clubs one may dance until six o'clock in the morning, and usually they are crowded all night. A new decree by the prefect of police has still further removed, but not entirely taken off, the restrictions on restaurants and cafes insofar as hours of bufness are concerned. The result of this will be to make midnight one of the busiest hours in the boulevards.

Many persons who made fortunes during the war are trying their best now to spend a large part of their gains in Paris, and while pleasure and revelry were never so expensive here as they now are, the demand is far greater than the supply.

Despite the coal shortage Paris is the best lighted city in Europe. Standing at the Arc de Triomphe on any night, one may behold a long line of bright lights stretching down the avenues as far as they ever did in pre-war times, creating a radiance that was a part of the old splendors of the city.

Maximum of Luxury.

During the last two months several expensive hotels have opened, offering a maximum of luxury at prices never before heard of in Paris. They are all crowded and have long waiting lists. Scores of luxurious tea rooms and restaurants are being opened in side streets in the centre of the city. These little places are decorated elaborately and brilliantly lighted. In them one may see costly silk divans covered with silk cushions and from dainty little tables may eat the best of French food and drink rare wines. Needless to say, they are expensive.

Every theatre—and there must be forty of them—is playing to capacity houses. Tickets to theatres must be purchased a week in advance. Motion picture theatres are prospering and many new ones were opened this fall. American films are shown in most of these places, but no Americans who attend the "movies" here it means seeing for a second time pictures they saw in the United States months and even years ago. Indeed, Americans need no longer wonder what becomes of their films after they see them at home. These films are sent to Paris.

All the race tracks near Paris are crowded, and any day one may see there thousands of well dressed men and richly dressed women, who place large bets.

BERGER IS BARRED.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Victor L. Berger, Socialist, of Wisconsin, was excluded from membership in the House by a vote of 309 to 1. Representative Voigt, Republican, of Wisconsin, voted to seat him. So far as the attitude of members is concerned, the sole question in the Berger case was asserted to be his loyalty to the Government, and the decision was against him. It was stated in the debate that it is the first time since the civil war that membership in the House has been denied because of disloyalty.

WOMAN'S HAIR REACHES TO KNEES

A Year Ago Was Threatened With Baldness. Tells How She Made Her Hair Grow.

Mrs. Esther Emery, now visiting friends in the city, is the fortunate possessor of marvelously beautiful hair, which, when loosened from its coils, falls to her knees. Moreover it is of soft, silky and fluffy texture and in colour a glorious, glossy gold. Yet just one year ago she was threatened with baldness. Urged to tell how she had obtained this wonderful growth in so short a time, she said:

"Twelve months ago my hair, which then reached barely to my shoulders, was falling out at an alarming rate and growing very thin, actually exposing the bald scalp in several spots. It was dull and lifeless in colour, turning grey in patches, and very dry and brittle. My head was covered with dandruff and itched like mad all the time. I tried fully a dozen different hair tonics, but they never did me a bit of good. One day I chanced to read in my home paper of a simple home prescription to make the hair grow that was recommended by a well-known physician. It is said that by taking Ordinary-Lavona de Composee and mixing with Bay Rum and Menthol Crystals and applying to the scalp each night with the finger tips that new hair would grow very rapidly. I decided to try it and had my druggist mix 2 ounces of the Lavona de Composee with 6 oz. of Bay Rum and 1-2 oz. of Menthol Crystals, and started to use it. My how quickly my hair did grow. First the hair stopped falling, the itching ceased and the dandruff disappeared. Then tiny little hairs appeared all over my scalp. These grew and grew as though nothing would ever stop them. They are growing yet and, while, of course, I have used the treatment steadily and expect to continue it ,at least until my hair reaches the floor, I might have stopped and been perfectly satisfied at the end of three months. I think that any woman can get long, thick, beautiful hair by using this prescription as I have recommended it to several friends and all are delighted with the result. The prescription is very inexpensive and any druggist can fill it."

Those who use it should be careful not to get it on the face or where the hair is not desired.

Keep the Wheel of Prosperity Spinning
MACHINERY spins and roars in our factories.
Smoke ascends from our foundries and mills.
In the fields the threshers hum.
All Canada is alive with the activity of production and distribution.
There's a demand for what we make.
There's a market for what we grow.
The wheel of prosperity is spinning.
But it dosen't turn itself.
We—You and I—must help to keep it turning
The driving force of the wheel of Prosperity is the Victory Loan.
It will keep up the foreign market for our surplus agriculture and industrial products.
It will help finance our National undertakings and expenditures.
It will keep the Wheel of Prosperity turning.
Do you realize what it would mean to have the Wheel of Prosperity slow up and stop?
It would mean loss of employment and agricultural and industrial stagnation. It would result in loss to you and each and every one of us.
So get behind the Victory Loan.
There is only one way to keep the Wheel of Prosperity turning—that is to

The Promoter's Wife

BY JANE PHELPS

MR. TEARL BUYS HOUSE AND CONTENTS

CHAPTER CXV.

Under the flaming caption there followed such a garbed version of what I had said as left me gasping I had been represented as saying my husband never confided in me, that I knew nothing of him, and his business, but in such a way as carried the impression that Neil and I were not congenial. Then to my horror a reference was made to Mrs. Orton, veiled, but none the less plain. It spoke of a handsome widow'; of Neil's acquaintance with her of the fact that he had been seen with her often. It was a horrid article, scurrilous, in its insinuations, yet never saying a word for which the paper might be obliged to give satisfaction. From that time I have had a hateful admiration for reporters.

Mr. Frederick came that afternoon bringing Mr. Tearle to look at the house. I asked him in, if he had seen the Argus. He let me know that he had, and that he would remain and talk to me about it—after Tearle went. He saw my distress, and smiled reassuringly.

Tearle was delighted with the house and in his rough way so expressed himself.

"My wife couldn't begin to fix up a ranch like this," he told me. "She ain't that kind. She's a rancher's daughter. She can ride a hoss a mighty sight better than she could buy gimcracks like these even if she had all the money in the world. It's most too fine, but I guess as long as I have made up my minds to be a swell like other folks, the best ain't none too good. I've worked like a dog all my life and I'll be damned—beg your pardon ma'am—if I ain't earned the right to throw my money away if I want to."

"It's a good investment Tearle. Dirt cheap at the price I offered you."

"There won't be much investment to these duds inside when my boys and girls get here. They can play rough house with anything in the world."

"Four of them. The huskiests, liveliests four you ever set eyes on. There ain't a one of them can't ride a broncho, and do stunts that would frighten a city youngster most to death to look at. They're a fine bunch if I do say it," fatherly pride in his tones, and on his face.

"There'll be room for them all," Frederick told him.

"There would have to be. They'd bust the walls if there warn't. No cooping them youngsters up in two by four rooms. They are used to all out doors you know. They don't think a house is good for anything only to eat and sleep in."

Before he left he had given Mr. Frederick a check for the house and furniture. He also had said that I was to remain rent free for the two months which would pass before he could bring on his family.

"That is very kind of you", I stammered, almost overcome. Surely there was good in everybody. This man whom I had refused to receive was doing me a great kindness, helping us more than he realized.

After he had gone Mr. Frederick turned to me.

"Tell me," he pointed to the paper, "Did you mention Mrs. Orton?"

I repeated my conversation with the reporter word for word as nearly as I could remember. I told him of the expression of surprise on the man's face at my answers to his questions, and that he had seemingly gone away disgusted because he had been unable to get any information from me.

"Those fellows can make a story out of nothing," he grumbled after laughing at what I told him. "The idea of your telling him you 'didn't know anything about anything.' If I had said that it would have been all right. He saw thru it tho, or he wouldn't have called you clever. He knew you was talling him."

"But this is awful to have it published—things like this things I never said. Is there nothing I can do? Is one obliged to submit to it?"

"Under the circumstances, yes. Should you make a fuss it will only bring more notoriety. And that we can't afford to have at the present stage of the game." He then told me of the progress they were making in listing the creditors, and brought me a copy of the letter offering to settle which he had drafted. When he left I felt really encouraged to believe that someway we were going to get out of the terrible tangle all right—because of his help. He was very pleased at getting rid of the house so easily.

"Tearle's check will go a long way toward satisfying a lot of small investors," he said as he left me. Neil he told me, would be able to return to me in a day or two.

Girls! Your hair needs a little "Danderine"—that's all! When it becomes lifeless; thin or loses its lustre; when ugly dandruff appears, or your hair falls out, a 35-cent bottle of delightful, dependable "Danderine" from any store, will save your hair, also double it's beauty. You can have nice, thick hair, too.

After Severe Sickness

Nothing Hastens Recovery Like Vinol

Sickness usually leaves the patient with poor, devitalized blood, and so nervous and weak that it often seems as though strength never would return. Vinol creates strength by promoting a hearty appetite, pure blood, sound sleep, thus builds up the weakened, nervous, depleted system to health.

Here is Proof that Vinol Creates Strength

"The Influenza left me all rundown and so weak I could not work. Nothing seemed to help me until my daughter brought me a bottle of Vinol and it accomplished wonders for me as it built me up and restored my strength quickly. I cannot praise it enough." — Mrs. Albert Boutilier, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

"I was sick for months. I had no appetite and could not seem to get my strength back. I told my doctor I was going to try Vinol, and he said it was fine. I found it gave me a good appetite and I rapidly gained in strength." — Mrs. W. J. Nixon, Vankleek Hill, Ontario.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

SAYS POLLUTION OF OTONABEE RIVER RESPONSIBLE FOR LOSS OF THE FISH

DR. J. D. DEYELL CLAIMS THIS KILLS MORE THAN THE SAWDUST AT THE BOTTOM OF THE RIVER—DR. DEYELL MAKES A FEW OBSERVATIONS.

Dr. J. D. Deyell V. S. of this city stated this morning that the statements of Tris Speaker regarding fish nets in Rice Lake and Otonabee River were not gill nets but were hoop nets, and were set by men of authority paying a license of $50 for the season. They are set for the purpose of catching cat fish, suckers and eels, which are destructful to the game fish of those waters by destroying the spawn. Dr. Deyell further said that the fish and game inspectors were well aware of their existence and whereabouts, as they are quite alert at all times, for which they are paid too low a salary under present living conditions.

The Sawdust.

Referring to the sawdust in the river bed Dr. Deyell said it had nothing to do with the selling of fish compared with the present condition of the river and lake.

"The present condition of filth in the Otonabee River destroys hundreds for one that sawdust ever destroyed. As the river was full of game fish at that time which I am well aware of this matter should be looked into," contended the doctor, "and if regulated, we require no hatching to replace the fish destroyed by the present condition of the water. I for one would like to see the inspector's paid a living salary for the work which they perform, and perform faithfully. One inspector, I am sorry to say has left the service of one of the best fishing grounds in Ontario, because he was not getting sufficient salaty to live on. The waters of which he was inspector has become a No. 1 fishing ground, due to his faithful duty, also for producing quarters because he prevented the illegal practise of killing fish and fur bearing animals in closed season. Our present member for the Ontario House has already referred to the present condition of the Fish Department, and I hope that he will see that the matter will be attended to and the money which would be spent in producing a hatchery is paid to the inspectors. If that were done these matters would not require any hatcheries whatever. I hope Mr. Speaker's letter will have no effect in the eyes of the public with reference to our inspectors as they are performing their duty perfectly."

License Fee.

Dr. Deyell mentioned that the license paid by an American for a fishing season is $2, and these fish are shipped out of the province. Dr. Deyell remembers when twenty-four bass, ten large were left to rot on the banks of the Otonabee River by Americans.

"Mr. Speaker says that every Canadian subject fishing should be taxed $2 for the protection of these fish, probably fishing once in the month, while these people are allowed to come in here and fish all summer steady for $2.00, and our people paying the cost of the protection of the fish. Would there be anything fair in this?" Dr. Deyell asked. "While we quite appreciate their presence here, we want nothing more than what is fair."

"I would suggest that the fee of fishermen coming from outside the Dominion should be raised from $2 to $25, and that this to the public protecting the fish is only a fair measure in my opinion."

LIVER TROUBLE AND HEARTBURN

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile, and serve as one of the filters of the body, cleansing it from all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body.

Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or billous headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful protruding, internal or bleeding piles.

Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N. B., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to anyone suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I tried other remedies but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all sufferers as I think that they are a valuable remedy."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PETERBORO CASE OSGOODE HALL

Fruit Company Wins Appeal.

Before Meredith, C. J.; Riddell, J.; Latchford, J.; Middleton, J.—Russ v. Atlantic Fruit Co.—F. D. Kerr (Peterboro') for defendant. W. A. Boys, K.C., for plaintiff. Appeal by defendant from judgment of County Court of Simcoe of 6th February, 1919. Action to recover $370.71 damages for good (bananas) bought by plaintiff from defendant alleged to be damaged. At trial judgment was given plaintiff as asked with costs. Appeal allowed with costs and action dismissed without costs.

The above case is a decision of considerable importance to all shipping by railway, the Court of Appeal deciding that the purchaser of goods to be shipped by railway must look to the railway company for any damage sustained en route, and must accept delivery, even if the goods are in a bad condition, provided they were delivered to the railway company in a proper condition, and the Court further deciding that this applied to fruit and other food stuffs.

FEAR A LARGE VESSEL MAY HAVE FOUNDERED IN GLACE BAY VICINITY

SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 12.—Four horses and a quantity of beef drifted ashore at Glace Bay Beach. One of the horses was still alive and swimming when it reached land, but died soon after being removed to a stable for treatment. The arrival on shore of a live horse has given rise to the fear that a large vessel has foundered in a recent storm somewhere in the vicinity of Glace Bay. The local storm damage at Glace Bay is placed at $40,000, mostly in government breakwaters, crib work and buoys displaced or destroyed.

NEW GOSPEL OF EMPIRE TRADE

LONDON, Oct. 21.—It is not easy to suggest new and constructive ideas regarding Empire Trade, but Mr. Lloyd Harris, chairman of the Canadian Trade Mission in London, has accomplished that difficult task and got the ear of London's leading men and newspapers on the eve of his departure for Canada.

What he said on October 17 at a luncheon given him by the Associated Livery Clubs of London, representative of many trades and callings, may fittingly be termed the New Gospel of Empire Trade. His exceptional success as a business man in Canada and his intimate knowledge of world-trade conditions obtained through his work as chairman of the Canadian Mission in Washington in 1917-1918 and his more recent and still successful endeavours as chairman of the Canadian Trade Mission in London for past year make his words authoritative. He knows what he is talking about.

In a word, his matured suggestion, born of actual experience in Empire trade, is that an Empire Trade Council should be established in London. It should be made up of Trade Commissioners composed of practical business men, appointed by all countries within Empire, and associated with trade representatives appointed by the Government of Great Britain.

Such an Empire Trade Council could ascertain what raw material and cocmodities are needed within the Empire and how these requirements can be best secured within the Empire. It could arrange for their transfer from all parts of the Empire to any other.

To his mind, an Empire Trade Council so constituted would create the best possible League of Nations; a statement that was greeted with cheers by his audience, and it is rather difficult to make a London gathering cheer over trade matters.

He confessed that his experience was that knowledge of the British Empire was not widespread among the citizens of the Empire. But if the Empire was to be knit more closely together information regarding its natural resources should be more widely diffused. The Empire possessed ever known natural resource, and because it had every kind of climate could produce every material and commodity needed within the Empire. His belief was that the tie of trade was the strongest bond with which to bind the Empire together.

The paramount need was to ascertain what the requirements of the Empire were and then to secure them from those parts of the Empire that produced them. He regretted that in the past when Great Britain wanted raw materials, she went anywhere but within the Empire for them. It was the custom of Great Britain when she wanted iron ore to go to Spain or Sweden. But Newfoundland, the oldest British colony, had the largest deposits of iron ore in the world and could produce it more cheaply than any other country. Why not trade within the Empire?

In influential circles, Mr. Harris' address has been received as an important contribution to the reconstruction of the Empire and is being commented on favourably by prominent Imperialists. One Member of Parliament who was at the luncheon said to me that he considered Mr. Harris a Canadian Chamberlain, who had improved the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain's dictum of think imperially, by making it concrete in the form of trade imperially.

I am in a position to state that plans for closer co-operation between the Canadian Trade Mission in London and the Department of Overseas Trade for the benefit of Canadian trade are in the making, as a result of Mr. Harris' pronouncement on Empire trade.

William Hamar Greenwood.

ALLEN ANNIVERSARY, CHAIN OF 42 HOUSES

FOUR MORE IN CONSTRUCTION IN TORONTO AND SEVEN IN OTHER CITIES—RECORD OF SUCCESS.

This week the largest motion picture exhibiting organization in the entire world is celebrating thirteen years in business. This organization is not in New York or London, but in Toronto—the Allen Theatre Enterprises, owning and conducting more principal theatres than any other organization on earth. By coincidence, the Allen Theatre, Toronto, is also two years old this week.

To-day they have in actual operation forty-two houses spanning Canada. They have under actual construction four theatres in Toronto, and houses in Windsor, London, Montreal, Halifax, St. Catherines, Winnipeg and Vancouver. Definite plans have been made for the immediate erection of other houses that will result in their owning the finest theatre in every important city in the Dominion. In addition to this, they started their invasion of the United States three months ago, by beginning the erection of houses in Detroit and Cleveland that represent an investment of four million dollars.

Thirteen years ago they started their activities in Brantford. Only in Montreal and Toronto were motion pictures then being regularly shown. But B. Allen and his two sons, Jule and Jay J., saw the opportunity. One of the biggest factors in their success has been their vision of the future. At the time when nearly everyone believed that the motion picture was only a fad of the hour, they sensed that it was a real business, and on that foundation they built. With the opening of this first house in Brantford, the Theatorium, they adopted two basic principles—that they would show none but clean motion pictures and that every patron must leave the theatre satisfied, no matter the trouble or expense.

Theirs was the success from the first day. Soon there was a second house in Brantford, and then they built up a string of theatres through Western Ontario. At that time everyone bought their films direct from agencies in the States, but again the foresight of the Allens came into service and they began the distribution of pictures. They saw greater opportunities in the Prairie Provincies and moved their headquarters to Calgary. But at the same time they did not lose sight of the exhibition side, and there soon sprang up in the West a chain of Allen Theatres, with the Allen in Calgary, then the finest theatre in the Dominion, as a nucleus.

Their success in the distribution of pictures was so great that they were compelled to seek the centre of Canadian activities, and so moved their headquarters to Toronto, where they have since remained. Shortly after coming here they organized the Famous Film Service controlling the Canadian rights to one of the biggest American producing concerns and the Monarch Film Company, handling independent and British pictures. Their move to Toronto did not diminish their interest in theatre aconisition, and so there followed the splendid Allen Theatre on Richmond street, the Beaver, the Royal, the Bloor Street, and the Danforth, the latter having been opened in August and representing the greatest development in moving picture house construction. Soon to open are the St. Clair, Beach, Parkdale and College.

A mere list of the theatres shows the right for the Allen Theatre Enterprises to be called the greatest organization of the kind in the whole world. Under operation now are theatres in Peterboro, Cobourg, Hamilton, London, Windsor, Nanaimo, Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Calgary, and Brandon, two in Quebec, two in Montreal, two in Ottawa, two in Edmonton, two in Victoria, three in Regina, two in Kitchener, five in Winnipeg, and four in Vancouver.

In addition their activities in the distribution of pictures continues, and they maintain film exchanges in St. Johns, Montreal, Toronto, Calgary, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

In recent years Mr. B. Allen has largely retired from business, leaving the vast interests in the hands of his sons, Jule and Jay J. The latter is now in Europe, where he has gone to arrange for the better distribution of British-made pictures in Canada. In the meantime Jule Allen is supervising the increasing business and laying the plans for new houses, with the result that there is forthcoming nearly every week an announcement of some big enterprise.

Toronto need not fear comparison with any other city in regard to motion picture theatres when there is to-day being celebrated the birthday of the largest concern of the kind in the whole world.

SUCCESSFUL BAZAAR AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

OVER $200 WAS REALIZED—HALL PRETTILY DECORATED.

Under the auspices of the Church Woman's Association of St. John's Church, a bazaar and tea, planned on most unique and attractive lines, was held in the Sunday School yesterday afternoon and evening. The booths were arranged to represent the different rooms in a home, and were prettily decorated. In the hall and on the platform, little tea tables, decorated with a colour scheme of white and yellow, with tiny silver candlestick with yellow shade, were arranged.

The Conveners.

At the daintily arranged central tea table, upon which vases of yellow chrysanthemums gave a cheerful touch, Mrs. C. C. Abbott, Mrs. A. L. Killaly, Mrs. Evans, and Mrs. Fred Roy were in charge, and were assisted by a number of girls. Mrs. G. S. Cameron, Miss Maud Rush, Mrs. Albert Stratton, and Mrs. Linton had charge of the candy table; Mrs. J. C. Davidson and Mrs. R. J Devey of the living-room booth; Mrs. C. L. Brewer and Miss G. Denne the nursery; Mrs. D. Mulholland and Mrs. Morphet, the bedroom; Miss Margaret English, Mrs. R. Heiderman, Mrs. C. E. Jamieson, and Mrs. Rattenbury, the dining-room; Mrs. Deyman, Mrs. Howden, and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, the kitchen; and the choir boys, the fish pond.

Mrs. Seels, president of the association, spared neither trouble nor ingenuity in superintending the arrangements for the bazaar, and is responsible in no small way for the general success of the affair.

The Receipts.

The receipts from the afternoon and evening totalled well over $200.00.

NO POLL TAX FOR WOMEN IN HAMILTON

CITY FATHERS SAY IT'S SMALL TOWN METHOD OF GETTING MONEY.

The decision of the Peterborough City Council to collect poll tax from all women of 21 years and over does not meet with much favour on the part of Hamilton city officials.

"It might be all right as a means of raising a little extra money for small municipalities which are hard up, but it is altogether too small an idea for adoption n iHamilton," said Controller Jutten. "In my opinion the majority of women, especially those who have to earn their own living, find it quite hard enough to exist on their present incomes without the imposition of a poll tax."

"Rotten," declared Mayor Booker. "That's what I think of such a scheme. It's too small to even discuss."—Hamilton Herald.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. his famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

AN INDICATION OF AGE

The ducking and peering which some women do in order to put off wearing bi-focal lenses by continuing to wear their old single vision lenses is as much an indication of age as the bi-focals which they dread.

As a matter of fact some bi-focals are so made that it is almost impossible to detect that they are two vision lenses.

We would be glad to show them to you.

LONG AND BITTER COLD WINTER INDICATED IN NORTH AMERICA

LARGE PACKS OF WOLVES HAVE MADE THEIR APPEARANCE CLOSE TO THE SETTLEMENTS, AND PTARMIGAN HAVE ALSO BEEN SEEN.

THE PAS, Man., Nov. 12.—Large packs of wolves are roving throughout the North in search of the caribou herds, say incoming trapers. Though not ravenous, the packs follow dog trains for a long distance without seriously menacing the teams.

At Herb Lake a pack of thirty-five was seen on the trail of the moose, and trappers gave chase and got seven of them at Slit Lake.

The Indians report that they have killed sixty of them on the outskirts of The Pas. Small packs of eight to sixteen have been seen.

The Indians and old-time trappers believe that the presence of so many wolves close to the settlements indicates a long and bitter cold winter in the North for the first time since 1915. Ptarmigan are seen about The Pas, and this is accepted as a sign of extremely cold weather.

The thermometer in 1915 went down to 54 below zero, and the weather throughout that winter was severe.

German Gas Alarm

The weird sound of a German Gas Alarm which Sergt. Webb had brought home as a war trophy, was heard in the early hours of the morning and awakened the people from their peaceful slumbers.

It not only proclaimed the anniversary of Peace Day but vividly recalled to the minds of many the awful horrors which Our Boys were called upon to experience while fighting for Fredom, Home and Country.

At 9.30 the school children and High School pupils assembled at the school and from there paraded to the main corner where around a bon-fire, they formed a square and sang "The Maple Leaf Forever." "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall" "The Land of the Maple", Rule Britannia", etc.

At one o'clock the banquet was given in the Council Chamber to all the returned men and parents of the boys who made the supreme sacrifice.

A public reception was held at 3 o'clock. In connection with this there was a programme consisting of choruses by the school children, quartettes, etc., and two folk dances, "The Dixie Girls" and "Thanksgiving," by the high school girls.

The Norwood brass band furnished music during the day and the orchestra from Toronto, which the Veterans had engaged for their dance in the evening, treated the audience to several selections in the afternoon programme.

Mrs. Cook of Toronto, rendered two delightful solos which were well received and gratefully appreciated.

Judge Huycke of Peterboro, was present and delivered a most interesting address.

During the afternoon several of the returned boys whose return had not been previously recognized were presented with suitably engraved signet rings by Mrs. B. W. Squire, Regent, and Mrs. J. Weir, Treas., in behalf o fthe local Chapter of the I. O. D. E.

"SLIM" SALLEE UNSUNG HERO OF SERIES; TAUGHT OTHER HURLERS ALL HE KNEW

MOULDED PITCHING STAFF OF REDS—WORKED LONG AND HARD WITH REUTHER, RING AND ELLER AND SHOWED THEM HOW TO ACHIEVE CONTROL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press.

NEW YORK.— World's series bouquets have been passed around galore. Pat Moran, boss of the world's champions, has been crowned king of the "miracle men" and has received recognition from the club owners with a $5,000 bonus check. Each of the Reds who distinguished himself on the field has had his greatness heralded from the housetops of baseball.

Tribute has been paid to all the heroes, but one of them has not received his just dues. When he won the second game of the series, Slim Sallee, the veteran southpaw, was the man of the hour with the rabid baseball populace of the Ohio city. When he was knocked out of the box on his second attempt, the fans kicked down the pedestal upon which they had elevated him and immediately proceeded to forget.

Hod Eller and Jimmie Ring occupy the niche that Cincinnati hearts have set aside for heroes. They are ranked as holders of the master degree of picking art. In their enthusiasm fans give little thought to the "power behind the throne," the man who made these young hurlers, who schooled them and taught them the kind of baseball that enabled them to go out and set back the dangerous hitting White Sox.

Pat Moran master catcher of his day and an artist in handling pitchers, has been credited as the man who took a squad of cast-off, erratic pitchers and moulded them into the best all around corps of moundsmen in years. The ruddy faced Red leader deserves all the credit that has been given him, but old Slim Sallee must come in for his share as a lieutenant, who perhaps had more to do in bringing these youngsters up through the kindergarten of their pitching education.

Early in the season Sallee became a self-constituted godfather to Reuther, Ring and Eller. He worked with them, gave them tips on fooling batters that he had picked up in twelve campaigns through the majors. He painted their chances of success so rosy that instead of warming the bench at every opportunity they were out hurling balls over improvised pans at anyone who would receive them, seeking that which Moran most insisted upon—control.

When they stared the drive for the pennant, the veteran increased his vigilance. From the dugout he coached them over the rough places until they had learned enough to fight their own battles. But he remined as the "confidential adviser." When they warmed up previous to their world's series starts, Slim was at their side and when they went out and distinquished themselves they were no more pleased than was their old teacher.

Some say that the old veteran's baseball days are over. But it is safe to assert that his services with Moran will not cease even after the old trusty left arm has shot its wad. Slim has earned a life-time berth with the Red leader if he wants it.

THINKS BOB MARTIN IS HEADED FOR WORLD TITLE

(By Jimmy Dunn, who Piloted Kilbane to the Championship.)

Bob Martin is a wonder. He is ready to whip any man in the heavyweight ranks excepting Fred Fulton and Jack Dempsey. In a couple of more bouts he would be ready for Fulton. After he has waded through the present list of heavyweight aspirants he will be ready for Dempsey and when these two get into the ring I want to be there.

Martin is the fastest heavyweight I ever saw in the ring. He's faster than Dempsey. He's as fast as a lightweight.

Of course Martin needs ring experience before he can take on Dempsey and he will give a good account of himself at that time.

Martin's work against Bonds was wonderful. I thought beforehand he likely would outpoint Bonds, but I didn't think that he would overwhelm him as he did. Bonds is clever, but Martin was so fast he made Bonds look like a bum.

Lots of folks don't give Martin the credit that is due him. He's a great fighter right now.

He has two hands and he knows just what they are for. He hits hard with either. Bonds took a terrible punishment but then Bonds is a tough bird and hard to knock out.

Martin was on ice of his man at the time. There was never a let up. He was as fast in the 11th as in the first and that shows remarkable condition. I think that he could have continued at top speed indefinitely.

He took no wild swings. His aim was good at all times. And when he attacked you could not tell which hand was going out first. He strikes in such a manner that a blow for the head or a blow for the body looks the same.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC WELCOME TO MAJOR-GENERAL WILLIAMS

OFFICER COMMANDING NO. 3 MILITARY DISTRICT THE GUEST OF HONOUR AT ENJOYABLE SMOKER HELD BY THE PETERBORO GREAT WAR VETERANS.

A SPLENDID PROGRAMME

Major General Victor Williams was given an enthusiastic reception at the smoking concert held in his honour by the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans in the G.W.V.A. Hall last night. The Veterans, headed by their band, escorted the guest of the evening from the Empress Hotel to the Hall shortly before 8 o'clock. There was a large turn out of members and the evening was a thorough success, featured by an enjoyable programme and by the warmth of the greeting extended to Major-General Williams.

President H. J. Staunton acted as chairman, and on the platform were Major-General Williams, His Honour Judge Huycke, Col. T. J. Johnston, Capt. McManus, A.D.C., Col. Ackerman and Secretary S. Whatley.

The Great War Veterans' band, under the direction of Bandmaster Walter Hughes, was in attendance and delighted the gathering with a number of selections during the evening, the band receiving some well-merited congratulations from General Williams and Judge Huycke.

After the gathering had stood with bowed heads for one minute in memory of their fallen comrades, the band opened the programme with a snappy march.

Lieut.-Col. Johnston, in a brief address, expressed the pleasure of the Peterborough veterans at having General Williams as their guest. When they said they were glad to have the G. O. C. present they meant it, declared Col. Johnston. The speaker referred to the comradeship arising out of the war and remarked that one of the lessons that had been learned was that the hearts of the people of the present day were as warm and hospitable as were those of the people of olden times.

Bandsman Everett contributed a solo, "The Sunshine of His Smile," with band accompaniment, that was highly appreciated, and as an encore sang "The Rose of No Man's Land."

Mr. Frank Clarke was heard to advantage in a banjo selection and had to respond to an encore.

His Honour Judge Huycke, who spoke with his usual eloquence and effect, next addressed the gathering. In beginning he paid a compliment to the G.W.V.A. band which, he was certain, was better each time he heard it. Judge Huycke extended a graceful tribute to Major-General Williams, referring to his gallant father, the late Col. Arthur Williams, who led the Midland troops to victory at Fish Creek and Batoche in the Northwest rebellion. General Victor Williams had proved the worthy son of an illustrious sire. To the Veterans the speaker said that he envied them their heritage. Others may have read about the war and worried about it and been obsessed over it, but they had actually been engaged in the conflict. He was glad to be present with them, because of what they were and where they had been and what they had done.

Comrade Walter Farr sang "When the Bells in the Light House Ring Ding Dong," in excellent voice and had to respond to an encore. Col. Ackerman was his accompanist.

Major-General Williams.

When Major General Williams was called upon to speak he was given an ovation. The applause was deafening and the climax came with a round of cheers that rattled the windows.

General Williams, who was visibly affected by the heartiness of his welcome, gave a soldier's address that added to the esteem in which he is held by Peterborough's veterans. He expressed his heartfelt thanks for the reception tendered him and for the escort which had accompanied him. It was an honour, he said, that he would not soon forget. The Peterboorugh Veterans were to be congratulated upon their magnificent building. Major General Williams remarking that were he a resident of Peterborough they would not be able to keep him out of the G.W.V.A. quarters. The speaker added his congratulations to the G.W.V.A. band and to Bandmaster Hughes upon the remarkable progress they had made since he first heard them play last spring.

To the Veterans General Williams said that his earnest endeavour was to be the friend of the returned soldiers, and he put himself entirely at their service to do everything that lay in his power to assist them. They were never to hesitate to call upon him.

One duty that he was determined was to be carried out was that proper care was to be taken of the graves of members of the C.E.F. who were buried in Canada. General Williams pledged himself to see that this sacred trust was looked after.

In referring to the address of Judge Huycke, the speaker reminded the gathering that His Honour had done his bit in the war, a statement that was enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. Jack Primeau delighted the audience with a recitation of one of Dr. Drummond's habitant poems and had to give an encore, so insistent was the applause.

Messrs. Leonard Brothers sang a duet in excellent style, and they too had to respond by giving a second number.

Another solo by Bandsman Everett was thoroughly enjoyed.

Before the smoker was brought to an end by the singing of the National Anthem, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Major General Williams and to the artists who so kindly contributed to the programme on motion of Comrade M. J. Clancy, seconded by Comrade Canon Davidson.

W. E. RANNEY ACCEPTS CABINET POSITION

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Nov. 13. — W. E. Raney K. C., the well known prohibitionist, and social reform lawyer, has been offered and has accepted the post of Attorney-General in the Drury, U.F.O.-Labor Provincial Government.

This announcement was made today shortly after W. F. Nickle, K.C., had declined the position.

HAD TWENTY-SEVEN REPLIES TO ONE AD.

Twenty-seven replies to one little classified advertisement in The Examiner, in which the advertiser sought to sell a stove! "That's going some!" as many would say, using the 1919 vernacular. It is an everyday occurrence, so far as The Examiner is concerned, and only serves to emphasize the pulling power of an Examiner classified advertisement. The advertiser in the above mentioned case was more than pleased with the results, and stated that he had inquiries from both the city and the country.

"It pays to advertise, and it's good business to state the price of the article you are trying to sell," said this satisfied advertiser.

Stew raisins and prunes together—it is a great improvement over the latter cooked alone.

"EXPERIENCE"

"Experience" ran for nine months in New York, playing at the Casino Maxine Elliott, and Manhattan Opera House. It then came to Boston and played five months at the Shubert Theatre, Boston Opera House and Ye Wilbur. It was the first attraction in a decade to play three theatres in Boston in one season. "Experience" then had a run of eleven months in Chicago, followed by a five months engagement in Philadelphia. Its two previous engagements at the Majestic Theatre proves that, like history, "Experience" repeats itself. The big City Company will be seen at Grand, Thursday evening only.

The story of "Experience" is a really fascinating one, and tells the adventures that befell "Youth" —the average young man of to-day—when he left his home in the country and went to the big world to seek Fame and Fortune. Characters are called by the various vices and virtues Youth meets on his journey. "Youth" renews the character in the person of D. Sterrett Scanlan, a grand nephew of "Billy" Scanlan.

ALICE HEGAN RICE'S "MRS. WIGGS" PICTURIZED WITH MARGUERITE CLARK

When "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," written by Alice Hegan Rice, was published some fifteen years ago, the beauty of the story created a profound impression. It speedily asserted its superiority and is to-day looked upon as one of the best sellers in the literary world.

In "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," Miss Clark portrays the role of Lovey Mary, a monitor in an orphanage in whose care is placed a child, of whose parents she is ignorant, and whom she loves as a brother.

MARGUERITE CLARK
as Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.

This child subsequently is the central figure of an interesting story, the development of which provokes many dramatic situations, and of which Miss Clark makes the most.

Miss Clark is splendidly supported by Gareth Hughes playing opposite her as Billy Biggs; Mary Carr is Mrs. Wiggs, and Vivian Ogden has the role of Tabitha Hazy. Little Lawrence Johnson will be seen as Tommy.

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be shown at the Allen Theatre on Friday and Saturday in conjunction with a splendid balancing bill of good pictures.

"FLIRTING PRINCESS"

"The Man you all Know", said a New York paper recently referring to Harry Bulger, who is to star in Mort Singer's delightful musical comedy "The Flirting Princess", which comes to the Grand Opera House, Thursday, December 11th. This sensational musical comes to this city with a record run of one solid year at the LaSalle Theatre in Chicago where it had Chicago holding its sides with laughter. "The Beauty and the Beast", "Mother Goose" "Woodland," "The Man From Now" and the Cohan and Harris Revue are a few of the attractions in which Mr. Bulger has scored hits in the star roles. One of the features of "The Flirting Princess" is the famous chorus of young misses which the management announces as "twenty in their teens". It is said to be the prettiest, merriest and girliest of all musical comely choruses.

A FRIGHTFUL DEATH, SUFFOCATED BY ASTHMA

The Dread of Such an Unhappy End Oppresses Every Sufferer.

Every sufferer from Asthma knows the terror, the abject fear that overcomes them when struggling for breath. The old-fashioned remedies may relieve, but never cure. Best results come from Catarrhozone, which cures Asthma after hope is abandoned. It's because Catarrhozone kills the asthma germ that it cures. Choking spells and laboured breathing are relieved, suffocating sensations and loss of breath are cured. Every trace of asthma is driven from the system, and even old chronics experience immediate relief and lasting cure. Equally good for Bronchitis, throat trouble and Catarrh. The large one dollar outfit includes the inhaler and lasts two months, sold by all dealers or from the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

MUTILATE BOOTS TO SELL AS SCRAP

MILITARY OFFICERS SAY THERE IS NO LOSS IN SUCH ACTION.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 13. — Commenting on an article appearing in an Ottawa paper charging extravagant waste of leather goods from militia stores by mutilating them beyond further use, the officials of the Militia Department this evening stated that while there had undoubtedly been some unnecessary mutilation neither the government nor the purchaser had lost any money thereby.

The leather goods were sold as scrap leather and as such had to be put in such condition that they would not again be introduced into the military service. Col. Hallick, Director of Ordnance Stores, stated that there apparently had been a misconstruction of orders in the Calgary unit, from which most of this scrap came. It was sold to J. M. Wilson and Sons of Ottawa and on arrival here they found that pouches, girths, etc., had been badly cut up.

Col. Hallick stated that he had taken the matter up with the officer responsible and also issued a departmental order calling the attention of all units to previous departmental orders urging the need of conservation and ordering them to save everything possible for further use.

The only matter in which the Militia Department can dispose of obsolete leather equipment is as scrap, said Col. Hallick. This material we sold as such so that the buyer has lost nothing. He said that he regretted that there had been unnecessary mutilation, and was taking all possible steps to see that such did not occur again.

PRESENTED A SOUVENIR TO THE PRINCE OF WALES

Just before leaving Canada en route for Washington, where the Prince of Wales is now the guest of President Wilson, a little lad named John Joseph O'Rourke, formerly of Peterborough, presented the Prince of Wales with a beautiful souvenir of farewell greeting, printed in purple on an artistic card with a portrait of the Prince of Wales attached to it. The inscription reads as follows:

May it please your Royal Highness:

"I love your father, his most illustrious Majesty the King, I have an admiration and respect for your Royal Highness as a great conqueror. Goodbye my dear Prince of Wales, God bless you."

This touching incident gave the Prince of Wales a pleasant surprise, and he was indeed pleased to receive it and thanked the boy for his thoughtful and sensible gift.

It will be remembered that the lad used to live in Peterborough for some years past, until the family moved to Ottawa to reside permanently.

EAST PETERBORO UNITED FARMERS HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTED OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

MR WILLIAM DAVIS ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY—WARSAW NEWS OF INTEREST—A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

WARSAW, Nov. 11.—On Wednesday evening, Nov. 5th, the Farmers' Club held their annual meeting for election of officers etc. The meeting was well attended. Mr. Wm. Davis is president for the ensuing year, and Mr. Jas. Hawthorne secretary.

It might be well for people bringing cattle home to count them carefully. Last week one man went to bring his cattle home and was minus one steer. The whole surrounding country was scoured, but no trace of it was found. He took the others home and on Monday set out to see other herds that had pastured at the same place. The first place he visited he did not think of finding the animal simply thought these people might have seen it, but they asked him to inspect their herd, and there was the missing animal. When it was examined it showed different ear marks from the herd it was with, and a steer, still unclaimed, on the ranch had the proper ear marks. The two animals were very much alike, and but for the ear marks, they could be easily mistaken. Failure to examine these marks made the owner lose a great deal of time, also gave the man who had made the mistake another trip to the ranch.

....Convention Report. ....

Before the Presbyterian Sunday School formed into classes on Sunday, Mr. Hawtohrne read Mrs. Turriffe's report of the S. S. convention, held in Toronto, Oct. 21-24 inclusive. The keynote of which was Forward.

Rev. Hugh Brown taught the Bible class usually taught by Mr. Watts.

There were the usual services in the Baptist and Anglican churches All services are partially depleted of men, as many are back at the hunt.

At the beginning of the Sunday School service in the Methodist Church, last Sunday, a tablet bearing the names of Percy Cooper, Clayton Selkirk and Stanley Thompson was unveiled. These three young men who fell at the front, had at various times attended that Sunday School. There was a short service and no addresses. Messrs Edward Dewart and John Moore, unveiled the tablet.

The Election.

On Friday evening the Referendum committee held a post election meeting. This township's share of expenses for election were $137. A tag day gave $16.00 and a meeting in the Town Hall gave some more. There is still bout $100 to raise. It was decided to ask the different churches in the township to endeavour to make it up. As it is likely that this is the last time just such an appeal will be made, it is hoped that it will be rewarded as a thank-offering and that our township will pay it's share of expenses.

Narrow Escape

Mrs. David Miller had a narrow escape on Sunday afternoon. She was driving to see one of her Sunday school pupils, who was ill. In passing an auto her horse, for some reason took fright and went to the side of the road. Though the road side was not steep, the buggy tipped and Mrs. Miller was thrown out. She escaped with a few slight bruses on her face, and a slightly strained neck. The horse swung quickly to the road and was caught at Mr. MacIlvena's blacksmith shop. He had a few little cuts around the feet. One wheel of the buggy was completely wrecked.

Dermatologist Gives Complexion Secret

"The great secret of keeping the face young is to keep off the dead cuticle," says Dr. J. Mortimer Mitchell. "It is well known that the surface skin is constantly dying, falling off in imperceptible particles, except in some diseased conditions, when the same appear like dandruff. But the particles do not all drop off immediately they die, being held for a while by the live skin.

"To have the dermatological surgeon peel off the entire outer skin at one time is a painful and expensive operation. The same result is obtained by applying ordinary mercolized wax, as you would cold cream, allowing this to remain on over night, then taking it off with warm water. One ounce usually suffices. The process is both painless and inexpensive. The wax, which is procurable at your drug store, hastens the natural shedding process. It gradually absorbs the dead and half-dead skin, revealing the new, healthy, youthful-looking skin underneath."

STORE ON CHURCH LAND.

LIVERPOOL.—Harrods, Ltd., have bought the St. Peter's Church island cite in Church Street for $1,250,000, and intend to spend $5,000,000 on a large store on the site. The ground covers an acre and a half.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Voice Of The People

The Peterborough Examiner,—

With reference to motion of Alderman Crowe, Labour Candidate to levy a tax on young ladies, I wish to draw his attention to the fact that girls have been imposed upon long enough. They pay the same fare on railroads, restaurants and places of entertainment as men and draw one third of the income of a man.

Hereafter when Alderman Crowe is making a motion it would be better for him to confine himself to matters of interest to the general public and not to class legislation.

Yours Truly,
G. W. Ball.

LATE STRAWBERRIES

Five delicious strawberries were presented to the Examiner this morning as an advance Christmas box. They were tastefully enclosed in a match box and covered with choice tissue paper. They were grown by Mr Mark Edwards of Warsaw and were picked yesterday and offered as evidence that the equator must be moving farther north.

FINED FOR WEARING AN UNAUTHORIZED UNIFORM

Will Anyone Else Do?

IN placing a Long Distance telephone call, users sometimes ask to speak to a particular person in the distant city, whereas it would serve their purpose equally well to talk to anyone else at that person's telephone or in his office.

"Particular person" long distance service takes from 2 to 5 times as much circuit time as a call from telephone to telephone, and the operating labor is much greater.

Oftentimes of course, "particular person" service is necessary. We suggest, however, that where possible when placing a long distance call you tell the operator that "anyone at that number will do."

CENTRAL EUROPE IS NOW BANKRUPT

DEBTS ARE BEYOND THE COUNTRIES' PRESENT POWER TO BUY.

NEW YORK—Among the passengers who arrived aboard the Baltic was Benjamin Guinness, senior partner of Ladenburg, Thallman & Co., bankers, who spent three months in conferences with British bankers over the situation in Europe. He came to the conclusion, he said, that tremendous efforts would have to be made to save the countries of Central Europe, as well as anarchy ridden Russia in order to safeguard the future prosperity of all the other nations of the world.

"Central Europe and Russia are commercially bankrupt," said Mr. Guinness, "Their debts are beyond their present power to buy. They may be said to be financially solvent but commercially insolvent. Their assets, that is, their railroads, mines, manufacturing plants, &c., are far greater in value than their debts.

"Leading to Disaster."

"There is also in every great nation an asset other than its tangible wealth, which is the commercial organization of a people trained to production. This asset is often greater than all of the nation's material wealth. It is that great asset that is being slowly destroyed in the stricken countries, leading to inevitable disaster. The one supreme need of the nations that are the great producers of raw material, food, coal and iron, including England, is to provide credits for the stricken countries, including Germany and Austria, to enable them to import raw materials necessary to set commercial organization in motion, give profitable employment to their peoples and create the means with which to pay their debts.

"These temporary credits will have to be on a scale so large that they cannot be financed by bankers without the creation of securities suitable for the public of the investing countries. Such securities cannot be created without the co-operation of the governments of the leading nations."

INFLAMED GUMS— A CAUSE OF LOOSE TEETH

Pyorrhea is undoubtedly a vital danger to both gums and teeth. Tender gums indicate it, and with it comes loosening teeth. Imperceptibly, at first, the gums recede from the normal gum line. They inflame. They present many tiny openings for millions of bacteria to attack the unenameled tooth base. Tooth-base decay quickly follows. Even if the cavity be filled and the tooth saved, the gums continue to recede. Remember, too, that inflamed and bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Against this Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) ordinary tooth-pastes are powerless. Yet Pyorrhea attacks four out of five people who are over forty, and many under this age. But Forhan's—if used in time and used consistently—positively prevents Pyorrhea. It is a scientific tooth cleanser as well. Brush your teeth with it. See how promptly bleeding or gum tenderness ceases and how your teeth are kept white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. OMEMEE NEWS OF INTEREST

OMEMEE, Nov. 12.—A celebration was held on armistice night, Nov. 11th, when a grand torch light procession made up of Indians, negroes and characters too numerous to mention, followed by the family mourners of the never to be forgotten "Kaiser," and an amateur band, was held. The main street was thronged with people from early evening, who came from near and far to visit the village and participate in the big night with the youths of the countryside.

The boys had collected about $35 in cash, which was mostly spent in powder and shot, so one may readily guess the reports, which could be heard for miles, from the guns as well as the cannon.

About 9 p.m. the parade started up the main street and down George to the river, where the "Kaiser" was drawn, guarded by two soldiers, and after being placed on a pile of boxes, was burned to the ground, once more in Omemee, and it will long be remembered by many who witnessed it.

NOW IS THE TIME of the year when it is necessary to start fires in the furnace and range, the same to be kept up for the next six months, day and night, whether you are on hand to look after them or not. It is important to see that everything is kept in good condition to avoid accidents which may occur, and also more important to see that your fire insurance is in force and in a good company. Do not delay to get your policy made out and in your possession. You never know when or where a fire is going to break out. Be prepared for it at all times even if it never happens. The cost of maintaining a good policy is very small if you let us write it. But your protection will be perfect, and your loss, should one occur, promptly settled. Unwise To Delay

Every indication points to an unexampled holiday buying this year. This buying, if it should follow the precedent of other years, would be largely concentrated in the weeks just preceding the holiday.

But it will be very unwise to delay holiday shopping this year. Conditions are abnormal. Holiday gifts of the right kind are not as easy as usual to obtain, and will be less easy later on. Neither will it be easy to supplement our sales force during December.

Therefore, we must strongly urge the necessity of doing the ordinary holiday shopping so far as possible in November. We have done our part by assembling our holiday stocks several weeks earlier than customary.

Holiday Shopping in November will mean larger and better assortments to select from, and the best possible individual attention and service

The more exacting the taste the more certain you are of finding the article that will please here.

As a further encouragement to easy shopping, we will lay aside any article selected for those who wish to arrange their purchases in this way. Shop in November is the new watchword.

INSPECTED THE LOCAL FACTORIES

INSPECTOR GIVES A HINT TO EMPLOYERS OF DOMESTICS.

Breaking a rigid custom of never being interviewed by reporters Mrs. A. B. Reddick, provincial inspecor of factories who has been in the city for the past few days of her semi-annual tour of the Peterboro factories, this morning, discussed conditions as she finds them in the city wih a representative from the the Examiner.

"As a general rule," Mrs. Reddick said "she has found things in a pretty fair condition and Peterboro factory conditions easily to be compared with any of the other cities she comes in touch with although in some instances improvements might easily be made for the betterment of the workers." Among the well run factories she particularly mentioned The Quaker Oats Company plant where she stated conditions are nearly ideal.

Having in her fifteen years of factory inspection come in close touch with the manufacturers Mrs. Reddick knows factory life thoroughly and said tha without a doubt the eight hour system of working works out for the benefit of the employers as well as the employed and that manufacturers have repeatedly told her that they get more efficient service from the girls on that schedule.

"When the housewives make housework as attractive as the work in factories there will be no dearth of domestics," she stated. "You can't blame a girl not wanting ot remain in domestic service when she is not only made to feel her menial position but never given set hours and likely to be called upon at any hour for the most menial work. Again when a young man m.. ires he rather shuns than seeks the domestic and seeks the factory girl in preference."

Mrs. Reddick said that she finds great improvement constantly in conditions at the factories and in the girls themselves who are almost invariably a most clean healthy class. She admitted that the increased wage was no doubt responsible for the cleanliness and tidiness. She emphasized one thing that girls working about machinery must learn to keep their hair discreetly pinned close to their heads to avoid accidents.

TORONTO STOCK MARKET SAFE

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—Local brokers smile derisively when asked if there was any danger of Toronto market copying the example of Wall street and indulging in a spectacular break.

"Why on earth should it be?" said one this morning, whose views were typical of others. "Our people haven't been speculating on the local market for ages —that's the reason why we brokers are mostly driving our old cars. There's been no pyramid of paper profits built up in our market, and consequently there's no topple to be expected.

"We will have selling, of course," he added. "Some Toronto people have been speculating on the Montreal market and some perhaps a good many, in the New York market, and they will sell wherever they can get a market and raise margin money if they're called. Our market has had some of this selling, and it will have more. I think you will probably see local stocks decline, but you won't see any drastic break. You won't see any panic. We haven't got the basis for one."

FINNS WILL AID ANTI-BOLSHEVIKS

Canadian Press:
HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 14.—The Baltic States Conference at Dorpat has been advised that Finland has decided to aid General Yudenitch with thirty thousand volunteers in a new attempt to take Petrograd within the next few weeks. This development may seriously interfere with and perhaps speedily bring to an end the efforts of the Baltic States delegates to reach an agreement with the Russian Bolsheviki.

BOMBING PLANE STARTED TO-DAY

WILL ATTEMPT A NON-STOP FLIGHT TO CHICAGO.

Special to Examiner:
MITCHELL FIELD, Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 14. — A Handley-Page bombing plane, attempting a non-stop flight to Chicago, took off here at 7 o'clock this morning. The plane, which flew from Parrisboro, N.S., several weeks ago, carried Rear-Admiral Kerr of the British Navy, Major Brackley and seven machinists. Its cargo consisted of 3,600 pounds of express matter. The flight was undertaken to demonstrate the feasability of airplanes as freight carriers. The start was to have been made at 3.30 a.m. but was delayed by the sudden freezing temperature which chilled the four engines. The wind was blowing forty miles an hour when the machine got away.

BOLSHEVIKS ADVANCING

THE REDS HAVE HAD A WEEK OF ALMOST CONTINUOUS SUCCESS —MANY PRISONERS CAPTURED

LINE PIERCED

United Press:
LONDON, Nov. 14.—Russian Bolsheviki armies have had a week of almost continuous success, the British War Office indicated to-day. Since Monday, the statement said, the Red forces have advanced over a front of 200 miles, and in the east an average depth of 50 miles. Admiral Kolchak's forces are reported to have lost a large number of prisoners. On the western and southern fronts the Bolshevik forces have continued their drives vigorously over fronts of approximately 200 miles in each district. The Soviet armies have pierced the anti-Bolshevik lines in some places, pushing ahead an average of 40 miles. In the south Red cavalry detachments penetrated General Denikene's lines south of Kromy, capturing Poniury and Fatezh. The White army counter-attached and succeeded in closing the gap. The Red forces were reported to have been surrounded.

FIVE NEW CASES OF SLEEPING SICKNESS

(Specail to The Examiner.)

ZION, OTONABEE, FARMERS' CLUB

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR—PRESIDENT SMITHSON RESIGNS.

The annual meeting of the Zion Farmers' Club, Otonabee, was held in the Foresters' Hall, Zion, Tuesday evening, Nov. 11th, when the year's business was reviewed and auditors report received. The report showed a large volume of business done, both as to purchasing supplies and selling live stock.

The president, Mr. M. F. Gamble[illegible], asked to be relieved of his position because of appointment as director and Mr. [illegible] secretary, on account of pressure of business. The club decided in agreeing after expressing their appreciation of their work on behalf of the organization and voting the secretary a substantial recognition of his very efficient services.

The election of officers for the ensuing year being: President, Jno. Lancashire; vice-president, Joseph Crowley; secretary, Leonard Clancy and directors, E. Dixon, R. Nurse, E. Kent, J. Fitzgerald, W. Fitzgerald and James Jackson.

The club is a very strong one and is planning a development of the social part of it for the winter.

SAD TIDINGS FOR TOPERS

PETERBORO TOPERS WILL HAVE TO LICK THEIR LIPS AND LIVE IN ANTICIPATION.

LATEST ORDER

Sahara or not? The news from Ottawa a few days ago gave the wets in Peterborough a hope which gradually expanded until it exploded this morning, when the express companies sent out official notice forbidding their agents to accept liquor for shipments to Ontario points. The old topers had visions of foaming schooners of real beer and their sleep was a real pleasure, with bottles of Scotch once more before them at a dime a throw. The declaration of peace was looked forward to when the liquor which receded east on the passing of the O.T.A., and effectively dammed, by the recent referendum, would flow back in an uninterrupted stream. Oh joy, but—this order to-day—. They dreamed of Montreal's ten liquor vendors working day and night, but now the vision changes to $5 raisin of squirrel whiskey or dirty Scotch bought at an exorbitant price from a bootlegger. And there is hair tonic, which is as good for the throat as the head. It costs you 10c. extra to get your hair wetted with a tonic now.

Those who voted "yes" four times see nothing but misery ahead of them and $200 fines. The Sahara is still dry.

FINED FOR LEAVING HIS HORSES UNTIED.

He didn't tie his horses when he went into the office of the Canadian Packing Company some weeks ago, and this morning the Magistrate asked him for $5.10. Mr. Charles Moore, of Bridgenorth, president of the West Peterborough Conservative Association, didn't like the law, as he thought it was not impartially enforced.

Interviews With Cabinet Ministers

"LET THE DEEDS SPEAK," SAID ONTARIO'S NEW MINISTER OF EDUCATION—MR. RANEY DOES NOT INTEND TO BE A STANDPATTER.

HAS THE POWER

Special to the Examiner:
TORONTO, Nov. 14. — "Let the deeds speak." That is what R. H. Grant, of Carleton, the new Minister of Education, says when he is approached for an interview. If his deeds are as numerous as his words are few, and as promising as his past record of cautious sanity and service, then a proud record will be established by him in his new office, which came to him very unexpectedly. "It all came upon me very suddenly," said Mr. Grant in a rare moment of expansion. "I had not anticipated standing for election, let alone being appointed as Minister of Education," he added. He simply put himself entirely at the pleasure of Mr. Drury, he said, willing to be of service to the new Premier and the Province in whatever way was decided he could be of the most use. Mr. Drury decided personally that the member for Carleton should be Minister of Education, and that is about all, for so far as Mr. Grant is concerned, he is willing, and the Premier decrees, he will be Minister of Education and try to be of service in as economical, as broad, and as efficient a manner as he can conceive. If Mr. Grant is inclined to over-emphasize discreetness, it is due partly to his determination of anything that smacks of egotism. "Why do they want to know anything about me?" is his question. "None of your egotism, remember, whatever you say make it plain, without embroidery," to be absolutely plain then.

Mr. Grant is a farmer, whose farm is situated at Hazle-Dean, in the centre of a fertile and highly improved farming community, in about the exact geographical centre of Carleton County. "I was born a farmer, am a farmer, and am nothing else. My farm has been my principal attraction and comfort, despite the other activities of my life." Mr. Grant's farming career began in 1880, after an education at the Ottawa Collegiate, the College at Guelph and at Toronto University.

Special to the Examiner:
TORONTO, Nov. 14.—"Let not him who putteth on his armour boast as he who taketh it off" is the motto with which William Edgar Raney, the new Attorney-General of Ontario, assumed his heavy responsibility as a Minister in the United Farmer Government. Mr. Raney is modest. He refused absolutely to indulge in any braggadocio as to how he would tear the lid off evils in Ontario which he, as counsel for moral reform forces, has been fighting for years. When he was interviewed this morning, the reporter ventured to ask him to disclose his intentions regarding the Ontario Temperance Act, race track gambling, the Lord's Day Act, and other matters, but Mr. Raney replied, "If I said anything about that it would sound too much like boasting. I prefer not to say anything." This is in itself a good indication that the Attorney-General will not go to sleep at the switch, that he will be on the alert every minute, and that law-breakers, public and private, may beware of the long arm of British justice. Mr. Raney starts out with a clear conception of his duties, and he did not mind telling what he conceived them to be. The reporter referred to the traditional attitude of Attorney-Generals, who followed the dictum of Sir John Gibson in the days of yore. "I am not a policeman." Mr. Raney does not believe that he should wait until an evil has become so flagrant that there is an outcry from public opinion before an attempt has been made to redress it. He regards himself as being clothed with the necessary powers to proceed against offences on his own initiative.

CAR DEMOLISHED A FIRE HYDRANT

Someone took a sudden dislike to the hydrant near the Greene Music Store on Charlotte street either yesterday or last night. The hydrant was broken completely off, likely by some heavy motor truck, and only the pressure of the water on the spindle prevented the whole street from being flooded. Men were at work putting in a new hydrant.

NEW AGREEMENT WITH SHOPMEN

MEN WILL WORK A FORTY-FOUR WEEK—INCREASE IN WAGES.

(Canadian Press.)
MONTREAL, Nov. 14. — A new agreement arrived at between the Canadian Railway Board and representatives of Shopmen's Union provides that men engaged in locomotive work are to receive an increase of four cents per hour and men in car repair shops an increase of nine cents an hour. Changes in hours of labour particularly affect men in the shops. Under the new agreement they work a forty-four hour week, eight hours for five days and four for Saturday. Hours of men in round houses remain at 8 hours a day, six days a week. The agreement stands for one years from November 1, 1919.

THE WEATHER

About this date we may confidently look for weather changes. Nov. 15th is usually the date when we have our first foretaste of winter, our first hard frost, and frequently a fall of snow. Copditions for all the above are favorable at present. It may be of interest to readers to know that our old friend, Dan Whetang, of Chemong, who has a reputation as a weather prophet, foretells a mild winter. He bases his forecast on wild animals, trees, etc., and is more to be depended on than many who are publicly exploited. His forecast of last winter was a fair example of his accuracy. W. P.

GIRL SUES POSTMASTER FOR WITHHOLDING LETTER

QUEBEC, Nov. 14. — Because he withheld from her a letter that had been sent her through the mails of his Majesty, Zailda Allaire, a pretty maid of St. Joachims, a small parish in Montmorency county, near Quebec, is to-day filing suit for damages against Damien Simard, Postmaster at St. Joachim. She claims that her gentleman friend ,one Romeo Picard, sent her a letter which was received at the St. Joachim Postoffice, but that it was withheld from her by the Postmaster. The girl claims that her mother insisted the Postmaster to do so, but on the other hand, she says that the Postmaser had no right to withhold the letter duly sent to plaintiff through the mails of his Majesty. Mr. Justice Lemieux has heard the testimony, and has the case under advisement.

TRAMPS 100 MILES TO CLEAR HIS NAME

Lumberjack Hears He is Murder Suspect and Leaves Work.

QUEBEC, Nov. 13.—Tramping his way through muskeg and forest, across mountains and ridges, over rivers and creeks, walking by forced marches, Joseph Godbout, a sturdy lumberjack of St. George's Beauce, but at present foreman in the camps of the John A. Morrison Co., away up in Maine, arrived yesterday evening in Jackman, Maine, for the sole purpose of proving he had nothing to do whatever with a recent murder.

He said he had tramped his way to civilization just to show himself, and find out who started the talk tha he had somehing to do in connection with the recent murder of Nelson W. Bartley, hotelkeeper at Jackman, who was murdered in the bush.

Godbout had a quarrel with Bartley some time ago, and when the dead body of the latter was found hidden beneath a tree trunk in the woods close to the Quebec border, people recalled the dispute between Godbout and Bartley, and some hinted that Godbout may have had some knowledge of the crime.

Godbout heard of this talk about him, so decided to hike it back to Jackman, starting from the head of the waters close to a hundred miles that he may prove he knew nothing of Bartley's death.

USELESS CARTRIDGES DUMPED INTO RIVER

QUEBEC, Nov. 14.—Three scows laden with cartridges from the ordnance stores were towed into the middle of the river at noon to-day at the order of the military authorities and their contents dumped into he water. The carrtidges formed the larger part of the huge surplus stock on hand, for which no use can be found, now that no training on the rifle ranges is taking place. They are of the .303 variety for use in the Lee-Enfield rifle that was used by the Canadian soldiers overseas following the abolition of the Ross rifle. The dumping attracted great attention among spectators at the wharves and many persons filled their pockets with the clips of five before they were placed on the scows.

M. FINE'S GREATT SCOOP.

For ten days Mr. M. Fine is devoting every energy toward making a host of new friends and customers, by a stirring campaign of cut-rate prices all over his big store, 497 George street. Every garment, every article, is specially priced for this occasion—not to make profit, but to build business and reduce heavy stocks. Absolutely no regular prices will be asked for goods — everything offered at prices that touch the bottom of wholesale markets.

WHICH WILL YOU CHOOSE?

Luxuries for yourself, or Victory Bonds to help those who Fought for you?

A REAL OLD PATRIARCH

Nebraska has a rival for that Kentucky mountaineer who is said to be 131 years old. Nebraska's candidate for the honor of being the oldest man in America, if not in the world, is only 125 years old. But he is 125. There's no guesswork about it. He has the old family Bible containing the record of his birth on January 15, 1794. He has other records and proofs. His age is not a matter of tradition. It is an authenticated fact.

Old Tom Morris, of Westerville, Nebraska, is the man Nebraska puts forward as the oldest man in America. He has live in Westerville 33 years. He lived in Harrison County, Missouri, four years; Streator, Illinois, and Blackstone, Illinois, sheltered him for ten years. He was born in Berrew, Montgomeryshire, North Wales, and he remembers when the Duke of Wellington won the battle of Waterloo from Napoleon.

"The only reason I was not with the English at Waterloo was because of an accident to my foot which made me lame for life," Morris used to say, "I wanted to enlist, but the army wouldn't have me. I was lame."

His Old Sweetheart.

Pathetically the old man used to talk of his sweetheart. He never called her name. To him she was "my girl." He talked of her as though she had died last week. As a fact, his "girl" died more than a century ago. Tom Morris remained true to her and never married. Charles Mytton, with whom Morris lives and with whom he has made his home for 60 years, never remembers hearing the old man speak of any other woman during the 60 years they have been together The "girl" died in 1816—shortly after America's second war with England and the battle of New Orleans. Morris remembers her as if she died yesterday. But he never mentions her name.

The old man is not in good health, by any means. He is blind. Also, he is almost deaf. Blindness came on a couple of years ago. Deafness is approaching. He has been lame for something over a hundred years. He eats five meals every day and smokes his pipe about 16 to 18 hours every day. Before the state went dry he took a drink of whiskey whenever he could get it and he complains bitterly that a thirst he spent more than a century in working up cannot be appeased.

"Anything that a fellow's been doing for a hundred years or more becomes a habit," said Morris some time ago.

For a hundred years Tom Morris has been a shoemaker. He mended shoes in Scotland in 1810, when he was 16 years old. When he came to America in 1871 he brought his tools along with him. He operated a shoeshop in Streator and Blaikstone, Illinois, and in Harrison county, Missouri, before coming to Nebraska.

More than half a century ago Morris picked up a boy in Scotland and took care of him. His name was Charles Mytton. Now Charles Mytton is taking care of the old man.

The record of Morris' birth is contained in the old Morris family Bible, which Mr. Morris brought with him when he came to this country. He is also in possession of letters written from his old home in Montgomeryshire many years ago which corroborate the data in the family Bible.

Old man Morris never was much of a talker, but when he got started he certainly delved into the past. He would tell stories of Wellington, of Napoleon, of George III., and of "big people" to him, but of whom the present generation does not even recognize the name. The American Revolution had closed thirteen years before Morris was born, but stories of that war were still being told and Mr. Morris remembered many of them. He had heard stories of the French Revolution from people who took part in that movement. He talked of Waterloo like a G.A.R. veteran talks of Appomattox.

Mr. Morris has lived in every administration of the United States and was a boy three years of age when George Washington made his farewell address and retired to private life. He lived during the reigns of seven soverigns of Great Britain and he has seen practically all the great inventions now in use developed and made practical.

And he never learned the alphabet. Tom Morris has lived 125 years without learning to either read or write. He has never read a newspaper in his life. He can't even read the captions in the movies. Since his blindness the old man has not attended the movies, but up to the time that his eyesight got bad he patronized the moving picture shows whenever possible.

But he has not called on a woman for 102 years—not since his "girl" died more than a century ago. The old man is failing now, and is looking forward to the time when he will lay down his life and spend eternity with the sweetheart for whom he has waited for more than a century.

PROPOSAL TO FROM EASTERN HYDRO ASS'N

Municipal Representatives Will be Called Soon to Brockville

BROCKVILLE, Nov. 14.—In view of the statement made by Sir Adam Beck that the Hydro-electric Power Commission can, from present sources, no longer satisfy the demands upon it, and that the only source from which an adequate supply of electric power can be obtained to relieve the situation and furnish industries now seeking to establish themselves in Ontario is the rapids of the St. Lawrence River, the Public Utilities Commission of Brockville has taken steps to call a meeting here soon of al municipal representatives in Eastern Ontario for the purpose of forming an Eastern Ontario Hydro-electric Association. The general feeling throughout this section is that Eastern Ontario has not received the recognition to which an important a section of the Province is entitled, and that in view of appeals from many industries seeking establishment, something must be done soon.

Czecho-Slovak Minister Says Course is Inevitable.

PRAGUE, Nov. 14.—The establishment of a Hapsburg monarchy in Hungary is inevitable, in the opinion of Dr. Edvard Benes, Czecho-Slovak Minister of Foreign Affairs, he declared in an address here on the subject of the Peace Treaty and the foreign policy of Czecho-Slovakia. Therefore, although he conceded the desirability of friendly relations with Hungary, he considered it his duty to insist that the decision of the Peace Conference should be final, and that the present Czecho-Slovak frontiers should not be changed.

A NEW SONG HIT.

In a new list of popular songs appears one entitled "Don't Tax the Beautiful Ladies." It is not dedicated to Ald. Crowe.

AN ILLUSION DISPELLED.

The published photographs of the members of the new cabinet utterly destroy the somewhat popular urban conception of the farmers as be-whiskered individuals. A glance over the portraits shows that Mr. Drury had to go outside the ranks of the U.F.O. to get a pair of whiskers, the hirsute appendages being attached to the classical features of W. E. Raney, K.C., the new Attorney-General.

TAXING WOMEN.

Ald. Crowe's proposal to exact poll tax from the unmarried women of Peterboro who are twenty-one years of age or over does not seem to be meeting with much favour locally while it has been the means of giving the city some advertising of a doubtful nature in other centres. Hamilton City officials have denounced the suggestion as a small town way of securing revenue, while Mayor Brooker of the Ambitious City says the scheme "is too smal to be considered." Logic may be on Ald. Crowe's side but so long as women workers are expected to live on a much lower wage scale than are men, the general feeling is that it would be an imposition to levy poll tax on them. Until wage conditions are equalized, Peterboro can get along without collecting $5.00 a year from its women workers. Ald. Crowe's novel suggestion it is hoped will not be pressed very strongly when it comes before the Council.

LABOUR AND SOLDIERS.

In the selection of his Cabinet Premier E. C. Drury has put into effect two changes promised by Sir William Hearst in his election platform. The former Premier made much of the fact that he was going to recognize the claims of labour by organizing a Labour Department with a minister at its head. If the Government had been returned Sir William would have installed a Minister of of his own choice, Controller Robbins. Premier Drury has carried out all that his predecessor promised with the important difference that he permitted the labour interests to select the minister, their choice falling upon Mr. Walter Rollo, the Labour member for West Hamilton. Labour has been the gainer by the defeat of the Hearst Administration.

Another pre-election promise by the late but not lamented Government was to give the returned soldiers of Ontario cabinet representation, General Ross being the Hearst selection. The returned soldiers however are not without their representative in the new cabinet for Mr. Drury has wisely included in his list a very gallant soldier, Lieut.-Col. Carmichael, who saw four years service overseas and who won the D.S.O., for his good work. The interests of the men who fought should be safe in his hands.

BUYING AT HOME.

In undertaking a campaign to educate the people of Peterboro to do their buying at home the Board of Trade is embarking upon a much needed educational movement. There is a steady outflow of Peterborough money into the mail-order houses of Toronto that should be spent with local merchants. The habit of buying through mail-order catalogues is increasing and people who make their money in this city are helping to build up business elsewhere. There is little wisdom in the practice. There is nothing in the catalogues that cannot be bought in Peterboro and by purchasing at home people have a chance to see what they are buying, an advantage that should in itself be sufficient reason for patronizing the local merchants. Peterboro cannot be developed into a progressive up-to-the-minute city as long as her citizens, ignoring the claims the local merchants have upon them, choose to do much of their buying in other cities. The Board of Trade is showing a lively appreciation of its responsibilities in deciding to conduct a "Home Buying" campaign.

The Board in doing so however, must be sure that among its own members there are none who are doing the very thing that the movement is destined to prevent. The effect of the campaign would be spoiled if the Board of Trade members are not a unit in practising what they preach. It is presumed that none of them are offenders, however, for they have shown themselves public-spirited and progressive in what they have already undertaken.

A STRONG FINISH.

To-morrow is the last chance to invest in Canada's Victory Loan; probably the last opportunity the people of this country may ever have of making an investment that conbines such a high rate of interest with such an absolute security as that offered by the Victory Loan. Peterboro has made a glorious showing in the present campaign. The first objective of $750,000 has been surpassed by more than 50 per cent. and nearly 3,000 Peterboro people, one in every seven of the city's population have subscribed to the loan. Peterboro can well take pride in such figures but splendid as they are they can be bettered before the campaign ends to-morrow night. There are people who can afford to take more of the Loan than they have so far done; there are others who have not yet invested at at all who are in a position to do so. To both of these classes, the final appeal goes out to invest in the Victory Loan to the limit. The canvassers may not be able to see you all personally to-morrow but the matter is so important and the time is so short that you should not delay until the last moment waiting to be canvassed. To-morrow is your last chance. You can make your investment at any of the banks or at Victory Loan Headquarters or do not hesitate to stop a canvasser if you see one on the street. The main point now is to buy your Bonds somewhere to-morrow. Put Peterboro so high over the top that the city will be advertised from one end of the Province to the other. The pioneers who invested at the beginning of the campaign won for Peterboro the honour of being the first city in Ontario to win the Prince of Wales flag. Now it is up to the "Mopping Up Squad," the last minute investors to put the city at the top of the Ontario list in proportion to population. All together, everybody. It is a great cause, a great investment and a great incentive.

THE NEW CABINET.

Ontario after several weeks of conjecture and guesses, many of which were wide of the mark knows at last the identity of the cabinet which is to preside over the destines of the Province. Premier Drury has at last officially announced his list, the majority of the names on which are comparatively unknown to the people. It is impossible at this stage to make a very close analysis of the cabinet. Like the Government itself it will have to be tried on its actions, but the people are prepared to give the New Administration a fair chance to make good. They know that the members of the Cabinet, with one exception are without Parliamentary experience, but they realize that the new ministers are assuming the responsibilities of their offices, resolved to use their best endeavors to give the Province an honest and progressive government. As long as this resolve is maintained, the Drury Government will have no reason to hope that the good wishes of the people are not with them.

Several well-known names are included in the New Cabinet. The choice of Mr. Manning Doherty as Minister of Agriculture will it is fancied be generally recognized as a wise one. Mr. Doherty is regarded as one of the most enterprising and capable members of the U.F.O., a man of education and vision and withal a practical farmer whose appointment to the important Portfolio of Agriculture should result in a much needed improvement in that department. Although the decision of Mr. W. F. Nickle, K.C., to refuse the offer of the position of Attorney-General will be regretted by those who have admired he independent and fearless stand the Kingston man has taken on public questions. The appointment of Mr. W. E. Raney, K.C., of Toronto in his stead will be well received. Mr. Raney is a brilliant lawyer, and has been an out-standing figure in public service in Toronto. Moreover, he is an ardent prohibitionist and his appointment is a further guarantee that the Drury Administration can be depended upon to carry out the wishes of the majority of the people of the Province in regard to the important issue of temperance.

The other members of the Cabinet have their reputations to make. They will be judged by their deeds and they can count on public support just as long as they want that support by showing that they are endeavoring to govern in the interests of the whole Province and not for the benefit of any particular class.

LORD JELLICOE'S VISIT.

Admiral Lord Jellicoe, who was sent out by the British Government to confer with the Governments of the Dominions on the subject of naval organization, has studied the question in the Australian Dominions and on Saturday last arrived at Vancouver. By the time he reaches Ottawa he will have had a colonial experience which will probably leave little room for doubts as to what he will find to be the best naval policy for Canada.

Ten years ago, after a full consideration and discussion, the Canadian House of Commons unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the begining of a Canadian navy, to be constructed on lines approved by the British Admiralty, to be controlled as other things Canadian were by the Canadian Government, but available for service as a part of the Imperial navy in event of war. Unfortunately, the unity of action that marked this movement did not last long. Party politics was allowed to enter into the subject. The scheme of a Canadian navy was condemned by some of those who had been among the foremost in supporting it in 1909, and nothing further was done.

That at the outset of the discussion of such a question the British naval authorities should look with doubt on naval schemes of a local character, and prefer the concentration of effort and money in a central Imperial navy, was not a matter of surprise. Such views would naturally be taken by Imperial naval officials who saw little beyond the technical side of the subject. But naval officers who served in Australia and had the opportunity of seeing how public opinion was affected by what occurred there frankly acknowledged that the policy of centralization could not succeed. Admiral W. H. Henderson and Admiral E. R. Freemantle in public letters warned the British authorities against attempting to enforce such a policy.

During the war the Australian navy, merged into the British navy as it had been intended the Canadian navy should be, rendered splendid service. Questions as to future policy were, of course, laid aside during the war. Now that the war is over, such questions arise again. Hence Lord Jellicoe's mission. From Wellington, New Zealand, to the London Times comes a summary of Lord Jellicoe's conclusion respecting New Zealand's part:

"After quoting the Admiralty memorandum to the conference of 1909 favoring a single navy, the report says that this ideal is not obtainable, and adds:

"The House is of opinion that, under the present constitutional relations between the mother country and the self-governing Dominions, the payment of regular and periodical contributions to the Imperial treasury for naval and military purposes would not, so far as Canada is concerned, be the most satisfactory solution of the questions of defence.

"The House will cordially approve of any necessary expenditure designed to promote the speedy organization of a Canadian naval service in co-operation with and in close relation to the Imperial Navy, along the lines suggested by the Admiralty at the last Imperial Conference, and in full sympathy with the view that the naval supremacy of Britain is essential to the security of commerce, the safety of the Empire, and the peace of the world.

"The House expresses its firm conviction that whenever the need arises, the Canadian people will be found ready and willing to make any sacrifice that is required to give to the Imperial authorities the most loyal and hearty co-operation in every movement for the maintenance of the integrity and honour of the Empire."

With all the obligations they are now called on to bear the Canadian people are not likely to be anxious to plunge into any large naval expenditure. But it is safe to say that as far as any naval operations are to be undertaken they will be along the lines of the resolution of 1909. Lord Jellicoe's work in Canada will thus be easy.

'Experience has shown abundantly that responsibilities in regard to naval defence are far more cheerfully recognized and shouldered if the result of the effort is apparent to those making it—in other words, if the ships provided are self-made by the people paying for them and are manned by their own kith and kin.'

"The general principle of the proposals is that New Zealand should co-operate in the naval defence of the Empire, and assist Great Britain financially, by paying for, manning and maintaining a certain proportion of the Far Eastern fleet and all vessels required for harbor defence of New Zealand, and also providing such portions of the personnel as practicable.

The view expressed in the above is so natural and logical that the only wonder is that any contrary policy could have been seriously proposed. Lord Jellicoe will find the best Canadian policy defined in the resolution of the Canadian House of Commons adopted unanimously in 1909 as follows:

"This House fully recognizes the duty of the people of Canada, as they increase in numbers and wealth, to assume in larger measure the responsibilities of national defence.—Journal of Commerce.

BALFOUR WRITING A BOOK.

LONDON. — Arthur Balfour has been a regular visitor to the House of Commons recently, though he has taken no part in the debates. The former Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs finds relaxation after his labours in Paris in the change of work. Day after day he has spent several hours in the library of the House, in the seclusion of one of the easily upholstered arm chairs in a remote corner of the room, absorbed in the task of writing copious notes on a small pad which rested on his knee. He has been the synosure of all members who passed to and fro, for it is an open secret he is now addressing himself to the task of preparing materials for the volume of reminiscences he has in contemplation.

FREDERICK SUGGESTS BAB AND NEIL LIVE IN THE COUNTRY

CHAPTER CXVI

Neil was back home with Robert and me. But he was a changed Neil. At times so quiet, so depressed I scarcely knew him; at others feverishly planning to make good so that he might win back the respect of people, business men and me my place in society.

I pointed out to him that all that must be given up. That not for many years could we hope to regain any sort of social position. One night I said something of the sort when Frederick was with us. The business was not quite settled, and he often came ot the house to talk it over with Neil.

"It may not take so long as you think," he replied. "It will depend entirely upon you—" he looked at Neil.

"I am a pretty poor dependence," Neil spoke moodily.

"As I said it will depend upon you."

"Tell us just what you mean?" I begged. I thought I had detected something encouraging in his voice and manner.

"If Mr. Forbes will accept it I shall offer him the position of Eastern Manager for me. I have contemplated a change for some time. What do you say, Forbes?"

Tears rushed to Neil's eyes. He tried to speak but couldn't altho his lips moved. By a great effort he calmed himself, then said:

"Do you mean it, Frederick? It doesn't see possible a man would do so much for a down-and-outer as you have done for me. And Frederick, would it not be bad for you, your business, ot have it known that I was handling it after all this notoriety?"

"I surely mean it Forbes. It may be hard sledding at first ,and I don't deny that I may lose a little business because of what has happened. But that is my affair. I'll start you at a fair salary and commission. Then it is up to you. Will you take it?"

"Will I? Yes, and thank God every day of my life for such a friend as you have proved yourself to be. I will do my best—my level best to prove my gratitude." He rushed from the room to hide his emotion.

"You are wonderful," I said very low to Frederick when we were alone.

"No, not wonderful. Just anxious to help the woman who is, always will be the one woman in the world to me. Anxious not only to help her, but to help those she loves. But don't think I haven't weighed the results of my act. I am pretty good judge of men, a fair business man myself. Your husband is a keen, quick-witted young man. That he used his keenness in the wrong direction, doesn't prove he cannot use it right if he is persuaded it will be just as profitable. I am putting all moral questions aside, altho I really believe that now he would do right because it IS right even without financial returns. But he will make good for himself and for me too, so do not think you must be overly grateful."

"No one else would give him a chance."

"Perhaps not—not right away. But he couldn't be kept back long, he is a born financier. And not much over thirty." Then he changed the subject as Neil returned by asking if we had decided anything about a home. 'The days were passing and soon we would have to make way for Tearle and his noisy brood.

"I have looked a little, but am almost discouraged. Rents are so high."

"Why not take a little place down on Long Island where you can have a garden and the boy a place to run in. I was down there with some friend the other day, and I inquired something about rents etc., with you in mind."

"I should like to get out doors and dig in the ground once more. That is if Bab would like it," Neil said a light of pleasure at the prospect in his eyes.

"Like it! I'd love it land Robert would go wild. He never has had a place ot run."

"Well suppose I take you downy in my car next Sunday. We can look at two or three places. Our cars had been sold to Tearle.

"May we take Robert?" I asked.

"Of course, the little shaver will enjoy the ride," so it was settled, and the first step in making a new home taken.

HE'S BACK AGAIN

(FARMER JOHN)

(By Joseph Begley)

As that old girl I call my own
And I sat by the fire,
I'd been to town, we had our tea,
And just dismissed a buyer
"Now Jane," says I quite boldly,
"In town things are not the same
Us farmers are the leading lights
And referee the game.

"Our city rulers have left us ruin,,
And a whole lot to repair,
Our leader wants a helping hand
And expects us to be there
Abraham Lincoln could have done much more
But in good men he was lacking
The American war would have not not been much
If he had Drury's backing."

Then up spoke my bonnie better half
As she never spoke before
The cat went through the window
And the dog made for the door,
"I could understand this nonsense
John
Before the town went dry
When you took in a load of wheat
And brought back a load of rye

You speak about the change in town
And how you should be there
I seen some change was needed
When I was at the fair
You are not the one to make this change
John Henery this I know
For you believe in knee cut skirts
And necks are not too low.

You would be ruled by fashion plates
And followers of the fads
A woman knows just what is real
And what is only pads
You had better stay at home dear
John
And I will go instead
And make it safe for poor weak men
Who cannot keep their head."

WONDERFUL LACE VEIL MADE FOR BELGIAN QUEEN.

The Queen of the Belgians has received from the lace and embroidery works of Belgian Flanders a marvellous veil. Surrounded by all the misfortune and misery of war, these loyal subjects have toiled in secret for four long years to produce a unique piece which they offer in homage to their Queen.

Such is their devotion to their sovereign.

A French publication describes the veil—designed by the most famous of Belgian artistes and executed by the most expert workmen, perfect in every detail of mesh and motif.

Twelve thousand hours were required in workmanship, for the veil contains no less than 12,000,000 points. It displays the almost unknown art of light and shades, a difficult effect, and one of rare beauty. It solves for the first time, perhaps, the question of perspective. The entire piece weighs but four and one-half ounces.

In the centre of the veil are the Belgian arms, and in the four corners of the central panel the arms of the cities of Ypres, Nieuport, Poperinghe and Furnes. The four side panels represent the industries of weaving, fishing, hop picking, and dairying

CAPTAIN OF LAST SHIP TO LEAVE ARCHANGEL SAYS INHABITANTS WERE IN DESPAIR.

NEW YORK—Captain William, Prothero of the Cunarder Royal George, which sailed last night for Havre and Southampton with passengers and mails after being twenty-four hours in port, was in command of the chartered Russian steamship Czar carrying American and British troops from England to Russia.

The captain made his first trip to Archangel in May, 1918, when he had to break his way through twelve feet of ice and the Czar was the last ship to leave Archangel on Sept. 27, 1919, carrying the remainder of the British naval and military forces.

"When we left there," said the Captain, "Archangel was like a city of the dead and the inhabitants, with a look of utter despair in their eyes, were the mourners. The Russians said that the Allies had forgotten the steam roller which had saved France and England from being overwhelmed early in the war by the enemy and were leaving them to their fate. We left them plenty of ammunition dumps, guns, motor cars, artillery, aeroplanes and stores of all kinds with which to carry on the war against the Bolsheveki and they said that they would do it, but the enemy outnumbered the Russians three to one, so that the chances were very much against them.

"The feeling against the Allies was so intense when the Czar left Archangel that General Ironsides, the commander of the allied forces, gave orders that the bridge and steering appartus of the transport should be protected by sand bags in case the Russians opened fire upon us in their despair at seeing their last hope for protection vanish . Hundreds of the sorrow-stricken inhabitants were at the piers to see the ship leave, but not a gun was fired.

"In spite of the charges that the Allies had deserted them, the Russians did not help the Allies in the fighting in the north when they arrived, and had they done so the Bolsheviki might have been driven out of that section of the country. The British troops who came back with us to England on the Czar, numbering 2,000 with the naval contingent, had to fight their way, foot by foot, from the Dvina River to the coast and many lives were lost. We brought the American troops to Brest on the previous trip."

COST $2,000 TO SPANK HIS BIG DAUGHTER.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Nov. 12. — The litigation between Miss Carrie M. Dunton and her father, John B. Dunton, a furniture dealer, in which damages of $10,000 were sought for whippings which Miss Dunton received at the hands of her father, ended Monday, as did also the case of the State against Mr. Dunton, who was charged with a breach of the peace by mistreating the girl.

Mr. Dunton had a bill of $1,000 against the girl for care and money advanced, and he cancelled the bill and paid his daughter $2,000 additional.

The daughter charged that Mr. Dunton whipped her repeatedly with a razor strop and imprisoned her in his house. Mr. Dunton entered a plea of nolo contendre in Windham County Court at Newfane Monday afternoon in the State case, and the court, after statements by counsel, imposed a fine of $800 and costs which Mr. Dunton paid.

LAKEFIELD EPWORTH LEAGUE HELD A SUCCESSFUL RALLY

A LIVE INSTITUTION—LAKEFIELD NEWS OF INTERESTS.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 13.—The Epworth League of the Methodist Church held a successful rally in the School room of the church on Tuesday evening. There was a good attendance and a spirit of enthusiasm prevailed throughout the program. The rally was in connection with the movement in the Methodist church all over Canada to stimulate religious activity among the Young People of the Church. The object is to secure new Sunday School teachers, new church members, new members for the Young People's Society. Also to get pledged intercessors, pledged workers, Christian stewards and volunteers for life service. This is the thirtieth year of the Epworth League Movement and a fitting way to celebrate it would be a substanial increase in the spirituality of the Young People.

The Lakefield branch of the League has always been a live one in the life, both of the church and of the community and, it is expected that they will do their part in this campaign. They supplied the C.E.F. with a goodly number of their young men and have contributed at least one recruit for the ministry.

Among their mottoes are the following: "Look up, Lift up." "Millions of gallant young men have fought for the new world. Hundreds of thousands have died to establish it. If we fail to honor the promise given them ,we dishonor ourselves." —quoted from one of the speeches of David Lloyd George.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR WEEK

November 16, 1919.

Witnesses of Christ's Glory. Luke 9:28-36.

Golden Text. This is my beloved Son. Hear ye him. Mark 9:7.

1. Verse 28. On what method did Christ likely conduct this prayer meeting?

2. Why did Jesus need to pray?

3. Verse 29. Would you say that Peter and John and James had audibly prayed before Christ's triumphant prayer.

4. When a person in prayer is truly conscious that he is talking face to face with God what effect does it have upon his facial expression?

5. Verse 29. How do you account for the glorified appearance of the garments of Jesus while he was praying?

6. Verse 30. What effect if any does a face to face talk with God have in these days upon our realization of the presence of our departed friends?

7. What difference is there if any between this appearance of Moses and Elias to Jesus and his three disciples and the claims of modern spiritualism? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the Club.)

8. Verse 30. If the so called dead could appear and talk to the living in those days why may they not do so in these days?

9. Why were Moses and Elias delegated to meet with Jesus and his three disciples out of the millions of citizens of the "eternal city?"

10. Verse 31. What was the special mission of Moses and Elias and what was the subject of their conversation?

11. Verse 31. Was Christ's "decease" a necessary or a contingent event at this time, or from the beginning of his ministry?

12. Verse 32. Seeing the witnesses who must have reported this transfiguration scene were "heavy with sleep" during a part of the time, what is the evidential value of the narrative?

13. Verses 33-35. Was this scene objective? or subjective? or subjective only to the persons who witnessed it? Would a collie dog for example if present have seen Moses and Elias and heard the voice that came out of the cloud?

14. Verses 33-35. Have you ever witnesses any similar experience to this transfiguration scene and do you think that any others have done so in this dispensation?

15. If men to-day were as intently spiritual as God would like them to be would such experiences be possible?

16. With what kind of a voice does God speak to his faithful children to-day?

17. What measure of practical confidence may we place in what we think God speaks to us to-day about everyday things?

18. Verse 36. What is the difference in our everyday experience and the sensations we have when under exalted spiritual illumination?

19. May we act with the same certainty on the "aught" which we feel in our souls in our everyday experience as on the convictions we have when under great spiritual illumination?

20. Why ought we or not to tell our great and unusual spiritual experiences?

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 23, 1919. Jesus corrects John's Narrowness. Mark 9:33-42; 10:13-16; Luke 9:51-56.

An Osage, Ia., girl of 16 befriended an old tramp nine years ago and gave him a $2 bill. The tramp later turned out to be a prosperous farmer and willed her $65,000.

CITY DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION IS PROPOSED TO THE COUNCIL

ARE EAGER TO HELP

The movement for a definite programme of city planning which the Board of Trade has been cultivating advanced a step last night when the members of its City Plan committee interviewed Mayor Duncan and a number of the Aldermen, and proposed the formation of a City Development Commission, which would be invested with some civic standing but would carry on largely in an advisory capacity without infringing upon the Council's powers and duties.

Dr. Harvey, chairman of the committee was accompanied by Mr. Wm. Sangster, Mr. C. E. Sisson and Mr. Ryerson Ritchie. The Council was represented by Aldermen Edgar, Taylor, Phelan and Morrison. It was the Mayor's intention to hold a special meeting, but the "whips" failed to round up a quorum.

That the Board of Trade's committee is not discouraged at the hesitancy that has been shown toward this project, but rather hopeful of accomplishment, was indicated by the enthusiasm with which its members have set themselves to the survey of their opportunities. Dr. Harvey, chairman of the committee, said that Mr. Sangster was making a study of street paving and Mr. Sisson was applying himself to a study of parks.

"We are getting a great deal of pleasure out of this work" said Dr. Harvey, "and our committee is enthusiastic and eager to be of service to the Couhcil and to the city. We will get our pay out of seeing our city grow."

Need a Commission.

Mr. Thomas Adams of the Town Planning department of the Dominion Conservation Commission had stated in his recent visit to Peterboro that he would be glad to give assistance to any programme that might be undertaken here but explained that the city must have a Planning Commission with which the Government could come in contact.

Dr. Harvey did not go into the details of any scheme but he mentioned as an example that better plans should be evolved for the preservation of the water front. "We should preserve for the city what we can easily preserve out."

"We wouldn't usurp the Council's power" said Mr. Sangster, "We would come forward to you and lay certain recommendations before the Council." The advantages of planning the city would be brought home to every citizen. "I was impressed by Mr. Adam's statement that a man likes to go home knowing that his wife and chilren have decent homes and surroundings."

Mr. Sisson said that Mr. James White of the Commission of Conservation who attended the engineers' meetings had told him that the Commission feared that they would lose Mr. Adams, who was offered $100 a day in the United States to go over and plan cities for them.

Mr. Adams had declared that the attractiveness of a city was an absolute asset in bringing in industries. Mr. Adams would like to give attention to Peterboro because of its natural advantages.

Mr. Ritchie added that Mr. Adams had a high reputation in England and in the United States, but that it seemed he was not fully appreciated in this country. The city should be anxious to avail itself of the interest and abilities of Mr. Adams.

Mayor Favorable.

Mayor Duncan thanked the Board's committee for their suggestions and promised to call a special meeting of the Council in a few days at which this project could be explained to all the members. He also said that the Board of Trade had been of assistance to the Council this year. "As far as I am concerned I would like to see a Commission formed along the lines proposed to-night" said Mayor Duncan.

WHEN WEIGHTS ARE WEIGHED

STANDARD WEIGHTS GROW HEAVIER WITH AGE.

Among offences committed by tradesmen there are few so sharply and swiftly punished as the use of incorrect weights or measures.

A curious case of the kind was dealt with recently when a Welsh draper was fined beacuse an assistant had used his walking stick with which to measure ribbon. The stick, reputed to be a yard long, turned out to be only 35 1-4 inches.

British weights and measures are in the keeping of the Stewards Department of the Board of Trade, the officials of which have in their charge not only the Imperial standards, but also models of all the weights and measures that may be used in trade. The Weights and Measures Act of 1878 requires that all local standards shall be sent to the Standard office to be verified, the weights not less than once in five, and the measures at least once in ten years.

It's a queer thing, but a weight sent up for verification is frequently found to weigh more at the end of five years than it did when it was made. This is probably due to the action of moist air and a certain rusting.

Only One Changeless Metal.

There is only, one metal known which will not so change. It is an alloy of iridium and platinum, but is far too costly to be employed for all the thousands of weights required by local authorities.

The administration of the Weights and Measures Act is in the hands of the County and Borough Councils, and by these are employed some seven hundred inspectors who are constantly at work all over the country.

Some idea of the work that falls upon these inspectors may be gathered from the fact that in one year they verify and stamp well over ten millions of weights, measures, spring balances and the like.

Very little error is allowed and that must be on the right side so far as the customer is concerned. For instance, on a four pound iron weight the maximum error permitted is only twelve grains.

SAYS WAGES ARE INFLATED

LONDON, Nov 13.—The Misses Girdler and Pott, delegates appointed by the Overseas Settlement Committee to inquire concerning openings in Canada for women from the United Kingdom, presented a long report, which was laid before Parliament.

They spent four months in Canada and admit they had to omit visiting many districts. Regarding domestic service they speak of the mischief caused by agents in England telling intending emigrants that labor-saving devices are in universal use in Canada, which, they say, is a complete mistake. The restlessness among domestic workers here is accentuated in Canada by their misstatements. There appear to be legitimate means of counteracting this tendency.

Wages are Inflated.

Wages are abnormally inflated and afford no assured basis for future guidance. British women would do well to realize the opportunity of work as rural school teachers. Although the life presents hardships and difficulties, the teacher will invariably meet with friendliness and kindness. No extensive demand was found for women stenographers, nursemaids or milliners, but there is a considerable demand for first-class dressmakers.

ST. JOHN MAN HAS GAINED 28 POUNDS

H. F. ROLLINGE IS SURPRISED BY RAPID IMPROVEMENT—TROUBLES END.

"The best proof I can give that Tanlac is the right thing for me is the way it is building me up," said H. F. Rollinge, of 62 Flower Hill, St. John's, Newfoundland, recently. Mr. Rollinge has been employed as carpenter by Reeds Newfoundland Railway Company for ten years.

"At the time I began taking Tanlac," he continued, "I only weighed one hundred and twenty-two pounds, but now I weigh one hundred and fifty pounds—have actually gained twenty-eight pounds—and am picking up, both in weight and strength.

"I had been in the worst kind of a fix for some time and could get nothing to do me much good, if any. My appetite went back on me and my stomach was in such a bad fix that I could not eat meats or any of the more substantial foods at all. I had severe headaches and was so run down and weak that I couldn't do justice to my work. I would get so weak, faint and dizzy that I was actually afraid to mount the scaffolds. I was very nervous and nearly all my strength just seemed to be gone. One day while crossing the railroad track I felt one of those dizzy spells coming on me. I managed to call for help but I fainted dead away, and the next thing I knew I was home. I could never get a good night's sleep and that tired, worn out feeling was with me all the time.

"My improvement since I began using Tanlac has certainly surprised me. My appetite returned after the first few doses and by the time my first bottle was gone I could eat and digest anything. Then I commenced to pick up my lost weight and strength and get rid of that tired worn out feeling. The headaches, dizziness and nervousness have all left me, and I sleep so soundly that I have to be woke up in the mornings. My appetite is so big that I can hardly get enough to eat and I never have the least trouble with my stomach any more, and when it comes to work I can keep up my end with the best of them. I am convinced that Tanlac will help anyone who tried it and I am glad to make this statement for what it may be worth to others."

TRY TO KILL TIGER'S SECT'Y.

Car Surrounded by Angry Mob and Revolver Shot Fired.

Canadian Press:

BORDEAUX, Nov. 14. — An attempt was made early yesterday morning to assassinate Georges Mandel, Premier Clemenceau's chief confidential secretary, who is a candidate on the Nationalist ticket for the Department of Gironde.

As M. Mandel was entering his automobile at the conclusion of a public meeting his car was surrounded and he and his friends were assaulted with canes and sticks. A revolver shot was fired at M. Mandel, shattering the door of the automobile. Mandel escaped unhurt.

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How To Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind, and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first step of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents thus, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc. but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's sparkle in her eyes, rose tint in her cheek and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has rounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings as this!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragging down by weaknesses of her sex—the eyes sunken, black circles around the eyes—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the use of Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. She changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable, contains no alcohol.

GENERAL SIR EDMUND ALLENBY'S ARAB ALLY

REMARKABLE STORY OF EMIR FEISAL OF DAMASCUS

The public career of Emir Feisal has been brief but eventful. He is the second son of King Hussein, the Sheriff of Mecca, and he traces his lineage back to Mahomet. Until quite recently Prince Feisal led a quiet life at the court of his father, but when Colonel Lawrence gathered together the Arab forces, with a view of co-operating with General Allenby's Army, it was he who volunteered to lead his faithful Moslem followers to whatever might be in store for them.

Emir Feisal was not slow to seize his opportunity, but not only did he lend the tremendous weight of his moral support, but he actually directed military operations in the field.

He set forth with an unbounded faith and in the most adverse circumstances. His only means of communication with the Egyptian Expeditionary Force was by airplane, and a broad strip of country held by the Turks divided him from the British forces. His regular army numbered only 80 horsemen, but he believed in the justice of his cause and hoped to gather support on his journey northward. His task was hardly lightened by the fact that Col. Lawrence was known to be with him and tht German authorities had placed a price of £20,000 upon his head.

There was only one course open to him, and that was to harass the enemy by means of a persistent guerilla warfare. The men under his command, fired by the enthusiasm of their royal leader, were admirably suited to the task; while mounted on native ponies they travelled quickly and raided the railways and other places of importance without mercy. By the time the Turks had collected an adequate force to deal with the new invader, Emir Feisal had planted his gaily-coloured standard in the security of the hills.

As time progressed and the Arab forces had increased to some 10,000 men, the prince made more ambitious and very daring attempts to cut off a portion of the Turkish army and join hands with the British Allies in the Jordan Valley. The task proved too great, and on two occasions he had to retreat with his men, whose hopes and patience were being severely tested.

300 Miles Away.

Damascus, the crown of their brightest dreams, was still some 300 miles away, and the prospect of any territorial conquet seemed more and more remote. The tenacity of the man was clearly revealed in those days of waiting, and his faith in ultimate success did not waver for a moment. He used to say, "The British cause is just, and o is ours, and therefore we will win."

Early in October, 1918, he set out to strike his final blow. Gen. Allenby outflanked the Turks on the west and Emir Feisal marched as rapidly round the Eastern flank. According to plan, the Arab forces were to meet a British cavalry division at Deas, the most important railway junction east of the Jordan, on the 26th of October. As the division reached the top of the plattau on which Deas was situated, they witnessed a never-to-be-forgotten sight; the sun had set, but the junction was a beacon that almost turned night into day. It was the first act of the Turkish forces who had arrived early and set fire to garrison.

Damascus Entered.

The distance from there to Damascus was quickly covered, and Emir Feisal entered the ancient city of Saladin's tomb in triumph. Having quickly organised a temporary Government, he began an extensive tour through Syria, in the course of which he visited Beirut, Moallaka, Baalbeck, Homs, Alleppo, from whence he returned to Damascus again via Tripoli and Beirut.

It was generally expected that he would settle down there and attend to the affairs of the new Arab kingdom, but with great discretion he realised the futility of such an attempt. His boundaries were not yet defined, nor did he know exactly to what extent he could count on the diplomatic as well as the active support of Great Britain in the future, and he meant to know.

Emir Feisal saw plainly the heavy task that lay before him, a task he knew to be too great unless he had the guarantee of foreign support, and with the simple directness that characterises him, he stated quite openly that he would prefer to return to Mecca and leave Damascus in the hands of the Allies than to ruin his dearest hope of re-establishing Moslem rule there permanently, by attempting to hold the reins of government without the knowledge that the necessary power was forthcoming to establish his position.

Sails for France.

So, with a view to ascertain the precise state of affairs, he sailed to France with a two-fold purpose in December, 1918. He went, as he said himself, firstly to fit himself to receive and be received by the crowned heads of Europe, and their representatives, and secondly, to do all in his power to obtain personal and political assistance from the country whose administration of Mohammedan territory he admired so much.

Emir Feisal, in appearance, is a man who combines the intense picturesqueness of the East with a dignity too superb to have any special locality. His features are strong and simple, and expressive of the sincerity of his faith. He moves with a supple quiet grace, never jostled or jostling in anything he does, but for all that he seems possessed of a certain leonine agility. One feels sure that he can leap into a saddle with the same ease with which he performs the ritual of his daily prayer. He is, of course, a total abstainer.

Emir Feisal is a man whose heart is as generous as his hand, who desires to serve the best ideals of his race irrespective of any idea of personal gain; a man whose standard of living cannot but serve as an inspiration to all who come in contact with him, whose kingly appearance is but a shadow of the mind within, and a prince who has the heartiest wishes of success from all who have been privileged to know him.

MUSIC IN THE HOME NOTABLE SYMPHONY SERIES AT LOW PRICES.

Two Leading Orchestras Undertake to Popularize Highest Type of Music.

In agreeable contrast to the universal rise in prices are two symphony concert undertakings, one in New York and the other in Seattle, which aim to popularize the democratize this type of music by bringing it to the people at the remarkably low charge of 25 cents. In both cases a splendid series of programs is announced, to be given by a leading orchestra.

In Seattle, where the concerts will be given by the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, the small price has been made possible by the removal of the orchestra to Meany Hall, at the University of Washington. A series of ten symphony concerts will be given here, together with nine of the popular sort. The only difference between the two series is that one will be entirely symphonic, while the other will contain the lesser works of the masters, including however also one or two of the more ambitious numbers.

In New York six concerts will be given, beginning the middle of November, under the auspices of the Music League of the People's Institute, by the New York Symphony Society, Walter Damrosch director. The orchestra will take up its quarters for the series in three high schools, in each of which two concerts will be held. The schools have been selected for their good auditoriums and their location in the poorer and more congested districts.

PITY THE P.M.G.

The Postmaster-General Gets Many Funny Requests.

Some people seem to regard the Postmaster-General as an oracle. Scores of letters are addressed to him every week from all parts of the country, desiring advice on anything from mushrooms to matrimony.

Rather amusing was the request made him a short while ago from a soldier convalescing at one of our military hospitals.

"Dear sir," he wrote, "Will you please put me in touch with a nice London girl, 5 feet 2 inches in height, with fair hair and blue eyes. I feel I should like to marry a London girl and I am sure that you will know somebody suitable for me. My own height is 5 feet 3 inches."

An old lady wrote:

"Dear Sir, — I wish to tell you that yesterday I caught the postman who visits our house kissing the cook. As I object to such proceedings I would be glad if you will see that this young man is given another district."

A few weeks ago strange missives began to arrive at the G.P.O. addressed to the Postmaster-General. They contained long sheets of foolscap covered all over with strange hieroglyphics. Each one bore the same postmark—it was of a Midland town—and there was attached to the foolscap sheets a small note demanding "the prize."

So many of these mystery packets arrived that inquiries were forwarded to the local postmaster. The explanation was found in the following announcement inserted in a provincial paper by some practical joker:

"Prizes will be awarded to the persons sending the largest list of motor-car numbers to the Postmaster General, G.P.O., London."

Needless to say the P.M.G. refuses to shell out!

ACT PROMPTLY.

When you hear a motor horn, make up your mind immediately what to do. Either stop or proceed, but do not hesitate. The chaffeur reads your intentions by the first move you make. If you then change your mind, an accident is very liable to result.

LIGHTS ALL ASKEW IN THE HEAVENS

MEN OF SCIENCE MORE OR LESS AGOG OVER RESULTS OF ECLIPSE OBSERVATIONS.

LONDON.—Efforts made to put in words intelligible to the non-scientific public the Einstein theory of light proved by the eclipse expedition so far have not been very successful. The new theory was discussed at a recent meeting of the Royal Society and Royal Astronomical Society. Sir Joseph Thompson, President of the Roya Society, declares it is not possible to put Einstein's theory into really intelligible words, yet at the same time Thompson adds:

"The resultsof the eclipse expedition demonstrating that the rays of light from the stars are bent or deflected from their normal course by other aerial bodies acting upon them and consequeptly the infereuce that light has weight from a most important contribution to the laws of gravity given us since Newton laid down his principles."

Thompson states that the difference between theories of Newton and those of Einstein are infinitesimal in a popular sense, and as they are purely mathematical and can only be expressed in strictly scientific terms, it is useless to endeavor to detail them for the man in the street.

"What is easily understandable," he continued, "is that Einstein predicted the deflection of the starlight when it passed the sun, and the recent eclipse has provided a demonstration of the correctness of the prediction.

"His second theory as to the anomalous motion of the planet Mercury has also been verified, but a third prediction, which dealt with certain sun lines, is still indefinite."

Asked if recent discoveries meant a reversal of the laws of gravity as defined by Newton, Sir Joseph said they held good for ordinary purposes, but in highly mathematical problems the new conceptions of Einstein, whereby space became warped or curled under certain circumstances, would have to be taken into account.

Vastly different conceptions which are involved in this discovery and the necessity for taking Einstein's theory more into account were voiced by a member of the expedition, who pointed out that it meant, among other things, that two lines normally known as parallel do meet eventually, that a circle is not really circular, that three angles of a triangle do not necessarily make the sum total of two right angles.

"Enough has been said to show the importance of Einstein's theory, even if it cannot be expressed clearly, in words," laughed this astronomer.

Dr. W. J. S. Lockyer, another astronomer said:

"The discoveries, while very important, did not, however, affect anything on this earth. They do not personally concern ordinary human beings; only astronomers are affected. It has hitherto been understood that light traveled in a straight line. Now we find it travels in a curve. It therefore follows that any object, such as a star, is not necessarily in the direction in which it appears to be astronomically.

"This is very important, of course. For one thing, a star may be a considerable distance further away than we have hitherto counted it. This will not affect navigation, but it means corrections will have to be made."

One of the speakers at the Royal Society's meeting suggested that Euclid was knocked out. Schoolboys should not rejoice prematurely, for it is pointed out that Euclid laid down the axiom that parallel straight lines, if produced ever so far, would not meet. He said nothing about light lines.

Some cynics suggest that the Einstein theory is only a scientific version of the well-known phenomenon that a coin in a basin of water is not on the spot where it seems to be and ask what is new in the refraction of light.

Albert Einstein is a Swiss citizen, about 50 years of age. After occupying a position as Professor of Mathematical Physics at the Zurich Polytechnic School and afterward at Prague University, he was elected a member of Emperor William's Scientific Academy in Berlin at the outbreak of the war. Dr. Einstein protested against the German professors' manifesto approving of Germany's participation in the war, and at its conclusion he welcomed the revolution. He has been living in Berlin for about six years.

When he offered his last important work to the publishers he warned them there were not more than twelve persons in the whole world who would understand it, but the publishers took the risk.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as antitoxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial?

Peps is the discovery!

Peps are little tablets, containing certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

AND PROVED IT.

In a cetain battalion an Irishman received an urgent invitation from his brother to be present at the latter's wedding. According, he asked for and obtained forty-eight hours leave.

A week however, and Pat had not returned to barracks. On the ninth day he returned, but in a very sorry plight. His face was covered with sticking praster, one arm hung in a sling, and he limped badly. He was brought at once before the C. O.

"What's the matter?" he was asked.

"Well, sir, it was like this," he began. "When I reached my brother's house I saw a man standing at the door dressed in a white waistcoat, and I says, 'Who may yau be?' Says he, 'I'm the best man.' And—and begorra h was too sir."

RICHARD HALL & SON

SAYS PRIVATE OWNERSHIP SUPERIORITY DEMONSTAATED IN THE WORLD WAR

E. N. Hurley, who served throughout the war as chairman of the United States Shipping Board, was asked if he would tell what in his job had impressed him most.

"The efficiency of private ownership and operation as compared with public ownership and operation," was the answer, "and I believe this lesson, as it is brought home more emphatically to the American people, is to prove one of the greatest benefits we derived from the war.

"As new facts about the conduct of the war come out, as our experience in many fields of production is appraised, they will point, I predict, more unerringly to this same conclusion—the superior efficiency of private ownership. All production centres on the cost—you can't get away from that. Shift responsibility for the cost, for the best possible result under a given set of circumstances, and you shift the responsibility for efficiency. That is what we did on the Shipping Board, under the pressure of war's necessity, when the question of cost was forced into second place. We shifted this responsibility from private shipbuilding concerns to the Government.

"With the shifting of responsibility of cost to the Government, that keen interest in results which follows private initiative was gone. There you have the whole problem as between public ownership and private ownership stated. No way has been found to instill in public ownership the incentive that possesses private ownership to improve conditions of production.

"The cost-plus-percentage system was a great mistake, and from the start had a bad effect on the workmen and the management. No private concerns could have operated and paid their way on the wages paid under that system. On the basis of cost they could noe have borrowed money from the banks. The whole proposition of government ownership is fine in theory; in practice the push of individual energy is missing.

"I don't know of a government-owned plant that produces more than two-thirds efficiency. When the manager has no dividend to strive for when the toll is paid, the slowing up is sure to follow. In the years to come some way may be found to keep incentive to best endeavour in men under government ownership, but until that is discovered that system may be classed as a failure."—Electrical news.

PULVERIZING COAL OTHERWISE USELESS

CANADA'S PECULIAR FUELS COULD BE UTILIZED WITH SUCCESS.

It has been pointed out by engineers many times that Canada will never be able to utilize economically her vast resources of fuel until our present apparatus for burning fuel has ben improved to met the peculiar burning qualities of Canada coal, which is not as adaptable to the coal that is imported from the United States.

Canada possesses immense coal reserves. Unfortunately, much of it is unsuitable for locomotive purposes, owing to its tendency to spark, also, owing to its high moisture content, it rapidly disintegrates on exposure to the atmosphere. Again, at the mines, both below and above ground, in mining the coal and in handling it, a vast amount of slack is created, which, up to the present, has been considered as waste.

A process for utilizing this slack coal as well as run-of-mine coal, has for some time been under development. By this method the coal is pulverized until aproximately 85 per cent. will pass through a 200- mesh screen and 95 per cent. through a 10--mesh screen. After the coal has been pulverized, it is fed from the bins by screw conveyers and blown into the furnace.

Good results have been secured by cement plants, by the metallurgical industries, and on locomotives. In the heating of large buildings the use of pulverized coal has proved an economical fuel.

The Commision of Conservation, Ottawa, has issued a report on "Pulverized Fuel: its Use and Possibilities," by W. J. Dick, M. Sc., which explains in detail the use of pulverized coal and its advantages.

Greedy for Wasps.

The common green frog has been discovered to possess an insatiable greed for wasps. This extraordinary appetite does not seem to be in the least checked by an occasional sting. The protecting color of the frog, which lies motionless upon leaves, no doubt deceives the most wary of insects into a sense of security.

If all women who look back were turned into salt pillars the streets would be lined with statues.

ANOTHER EPIDEMIC OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA

A great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after effect such as weak heart, shattered nerves, improvished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.

If you are run down, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.

If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad effect Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will bring you back to health and strength.

Mrs. C. C. Palmer, Keppel, Sask., writes:—"I wish to inform you of the great good Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. After a bad attack of the Spanish Influenza my heart and nerves were left in a very bad condition. I got two boxes of your pills and must say they are the best I ever used, and I have taken a great many different kinds. I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in the house."

If it weren't for the poor little microbes the doctors would have to fix the blame elsewhere.

VICTORY LOAN NEWS

The City of Peterborough, by being first in attaining its objective in the present Victory Loan campaign, made a wonderful name for itself. The accomplishment was the talk of the Province. Do the citizens of Peterborough realize that a still more notable achievement is within their grasp in the attainment of 200 per cent. of their objective. From last night's figures we are about $350,000 short of the necessary one million and a half. If the Peterborough citizens will rise to the occasion and double their objective, it will almost surely be a record for Ontario, and possibly for the cities of the Dominion.

From a purely advertising standpoint, Peterborough should not miss this opportunity. The campaign organization for the city is doing its utmost to reach the new figure, but it is absolutely up to the citizens. There is absolutely no excuse for any person with at least $50.00 in the bank not buying a Victory Loan Bond; in fact in the final analysis any person who has good health and a reasonable assurance of steady earning capacity for the next few months should buy a Bond.

From the patriotic standpoint, it is the duty of every citizen to buy a Bond. This is the last great war drive, and everybody should be in on it. There are numbers of citizens in this city who, since the close of hostilities one year ago, have measured up their own war effort in comparison with others, and especially with the splendid men who suffered and died. These must surely have felt that their part in the great struggle was very very small indeed, in comparison with what they should have and could have done. This is the opportunity of such people.

There are business men in the community who have subscribed and others who have put in a subscription, but in a nominal amount, feeling that they will require the money in their business. These men overlook the fact that Canada is their business and that her prosperity is their prosperity. These men should go the limit, as the banks are quite willing to give them anything in the way of loan accommodation that they may require in connection with their subscription. There are young men in the city who are passing up the best opportunity they will have for some time to save money, overlooking the fact that they "can measure their own capacity for success by their ability to save."

On the other hand, there are citizens who are mortgaging their future for months to come to support the Loan, and it is to their credit that the Loan has been as successful as it has. The city campaign is still short by 1,400 subscriptions under its record of last year. We must secure these 1,400 subscriptions to-day and to-morrow.

Let us show this country and the whole world that the morale of our people is as high in peace as in war, that we are prepared to do our part under any conditions for the prosperity and welfare of Canada.

A BIG NIGHT ON GEORGE STREET

THE OLD TOWN WILL RING—HOT DOGS ON THE PROGRAMME.

To-night's the night!

It has been arranged with the weatherman that the snowstorm in prospect be held up until 11 o'clock to-night when Peterboro's big Victory Loan Community Dance will have passed into history. The festivities open at 8.30 p.m., on Simcoe street between George and Water streets.

All arrangements for the "hop" have been perfected.

The Peter Robinson Chapter I. O. D. E. will have charge of the "floor" and will sell refreshments, and the Business Girls' Club also will have something for the hungry and thirsty. The Veterans' Band will supply the music, the organizations giving their services free.

Souvenir programes, contributed by the Belmont Club, will be distributed to the dancers and the spectators.

Everything is wide open to the public and the citizens are invited to join hands and have a good time. The Business Girls of the city are behind winding up their war wor kthis evening and will commeroate the event by dispensing "hot dogs" to the

There is only one thing that men can pack as well as women, and that is a theatre with a burlesque sign in front.

SEEKING AN INVESTMENT

The happy family, when father has some money to invest, prepares to buy Victory Bonds.

CREDIT OUTLOOK CONSIDERED GOOD

BREAKING OF NEW YORK MARKET NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Toronto reports to Bradstreets that the breaking of the New York market caused heavy losses to many Canadians. No failures occurred locally through the breaking. Apart from the losses incurred through this severe shake-up, business in the past week has been very satisfactory. Full activity in nearly all lines is greater than that of a year ago.

Credit houses report a very satisfactory condition in payments. Many say that obligations are being made with unheard of promptness. Credit associations, however, do not care to express themselves on the outlook until after the first month or so of the coming year.

CHEAPER MILK OFFERED TO CITY BY PHILANTHROPIST.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A wealthy New York woman has approached Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Health Commissioner, with a proposal to organize a company to distribute milk in this city at a much lower price than the present one, according to a statement made here by Dr. Copeland. The name of the author of the proposal, which involves an offer to form a corporation with a capital stock of $10,000,000 or $12,000,000, cannot be revealed yet, said Dr. Copeland.

In view of the fact that Nathan Straus, noted for his distribution of free milk among the poor, was present at the most recent meeting of the Fair Price Milk Committee, it was rumoured that he might be the mysterious philanthropist, but Mr. Straus could not be reached to affirm or deny the rumour.

Dr. Copeland said that the man who made him the offer is fully capable of carrying out the plans.
